This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Cantabile .....Cesar Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Almighty God, in Thee is our only hope. Increase in our own, and in every nation the spirit of truth and justice, peace and Godly Love. Turn the hearts of all men unto Thee, and so hasten the blessed time when the kingdoms of this world shall become the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ; in whose name we offer these petitions, even the same Christ Jesus Thy Son our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 143 .....National Hymn

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

Psalm 105:1-22, Page 470

The First Lesson: I Samuel 17: V. 17

Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Matthew 10:32-39

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #644, Hymnal

The Anthem: Light of the World, We Know Thy Praise .....Elgar

Light of the world, we know Thy praise the angels and archangels raise, and all the host of heaven; more worthily than our faint hymns whose jarring sound that glory dims, which God to Thee has giv'n. But Thou didst not disdain to take our low estate, or e'en to make the tomb Thy resting place; so Thou might bring into our night the dawn of Thine eternal Light, to shine upon our face. Nor death, nor Hell nor sin, is Lord, but Thou O Son of God, Thy Word is now our Sovereign Law. Therefore we thank Thee, and we pray Thy Light may shine unto the perfect day on us forever more.

The Sermon:
"THE PEOPLE WITH THE WITHERED HEARTS" .....The Rector

Offertory Hymn 382 .....Tallis Ordinal

Recessional Hymn 393 .....St. Catherine

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Gertrude B. Nagle in memory of her mother, Mrs. Grace E. Bridgman; by Mrs. Howard D. Weir in memory of her husband; and by Mrs. Mary E. Varallo in memory of Sister and Brother, Anna and Joseph Frascone.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. David L. German, III.

LIVING YOUR PART

"There are no small parts", Stanislavski once said, "only small actors."

Now Stanislavski should know, for he was probably the greatest Russian actor and producer of plays. It isn't the number of lines an actor has that counts. "Nine-tenths of an actor's work lies in feeling the role spiritually, in living it."

A great many people think that they have a small part in life, so they think small, they dream small, they love small, they live small. The one-talent man in Jesus' Parable thought he had a small part, and Jesus rebuked him severely for it. Jesus was saying that God gives no small parts to His children on earth. Every life has wondrous possibilities.

Abraham Lincoln's mother could easily have thought that she had a small part in life, the wife of a poor and not-too-intelligent pioneer, struggling to feed a family of the frontier. Yet, because she believed that being a mother is really important, she had the big share of shaping our greatest American.

You see, God thinks in big terms. And He thinks that way for every life born on this earth. Only a few people live in a big spirit, in a city, or on a lonely road or in a wheel-chair. Stop and think for a moment and you will remember people like this—a young woman, crippled by polio, who showed her daughters and all her friends that faith can overcome a terrible handicap; a man who went to prison for a while, more than twenty years ago, who with God's help has lived a new life all these years as a hard worker and a faithful husband; a mother of eleven children, whose face is young and beautiful today, because she believes God gave her children that she might love them wisely; an R.F.D. carrier who drove his long, tough route faithfully and with great care for people's letters, in spite of poor health; a vice-president in a country bank who quietly and graciously opens the way into financial security for many hard-pressed people . . . only God can judge the greatness of these "humble" lives; for they live greatly, and pour their treasures into other people.

Stanislavski explains that many people are afraid of "letting go", of really living their part. So many good people, who go to Church and live decent, small lives, discover that they do not have to stay small—they can let the Spirit of Jesus Christ into their hearts, and let go, and be the glorious, valuable person He meant them to be. If they simply forget themselves, and let Him live in them, people even get a glimpse of Jesus Christ in them. Could there be a bigger part in the drama of life than that!

God gave you a big part to play, friend, right where you are. Play it!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Ten years ago when we were in great trouble a friend asked your prayers for our dear son and his wife, both stricken with polio. Now, my son, though still crippled, leads a normal life, and his wife recovered entirely. You can imagine how grateful we are.—M. D. B. (Downingtown, Pa.)

CONFIRMATION CLASSES

The Rector's Confirmation Classes meet on Sundays at 10 A.M. beginning on March 7th. Although these classes are designed primarily for those persons who wish to be confirmed, they are also open without obligation to all those who want to learn about the life and faith of the Episcopal Church. Confirmation is scheduled this year on Sunday, April 25th. Anyone who wishes to be confirmed but who cannot attend the scheduled classes should notify the Rector to make special arrangements.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

Prelude: O God Gave Mercy ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Strengthen our hearts, O Lord, that we may rise to our full stature as Thy faithful sons and daughters. Make us brave. Give us courage —courage to think clearly about the meaning of life, even though understanding means bidding farewell to cherished illusions; courage to blaze the way for new truth, even though acceptance shatters the pleasant little world of make believe; courage to love the right, even though that love means sacrifice and service and ceaseless longing; courage to fight the wrong, even though battle means wounds and weariness and heart-aches. So fill us with Thy Spirit, O Lord, that we may be more than conquerors through Him who loves us and gave Himself for us. Amen.

The Anthem: I Waited For The Lord ..... Mendelssohn

I waited for the Lord, He inclined unto me, He heard my complaint. O bless'd are they that hope and trust in the Lord.

The Sermon: "THE LOST ART OF DEVOTION" ..... THE RECTOR

Offertory Hymn 304 ..... Beecher

Recessional Hymn 263 ..... McKee

Dear Dr. Price: I requested your prayers last Summer for Tommy, who was near death from a virus diarrhea. The doctor had given him up. Two days after your prayers began he regained consciousness. He is now completely well. God bless you in your work, always, and in all ways.—David I. Lewis (Newark, N.J.)

ASH WEDNESDAY

The Rector will conduct the Litany Service at 10:30 A.M., and celebrate the Holy Communion at 5:30 P.M.

Bishop DeWitt will preach at the 12:30 P.M. Service.

The Rev. John R. Hart, Ph.D., of Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge will be the Noonday preacher on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 4th, 5th and 6th.

ADVENTURE OF LENT

Lent can be exciting. It can be an adventure as rewarding as climbing a mountain or having a baby. Or it can be as dull as dish water. You choose!!

If you choose the adventurous way, then hoist to your mast-head a banner—"This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." Winning battles isn't dull!

The Master showed us the wonderful way of Victory. He was feeling the pressure to take man's short-cuts to success. He could dangle before people a hook baited with "bread"—He could promise them prosperity if they obeyed Him. Or He could so dazzle them with sensational deeds that they would blindly crowd around Him without any change in their hearts. Or He could follow the world's way of power, organizing a strong government and a powerful army, and compel people to obey Him.

Jesus was as human as we are. He was really tempted, as we are. The Bible clearly states that He was as human as that! He truly craved to build a Kingdom of God quickly, using the ways that the world considers successful. It took Jesus nearly six weeks to wrestle against this temptation, and win out. He promised us that we could win out as He did.

Each one of us has our special temptations. Some of us have tried His way of love a bit, become disheartened, and have slipped back into the world's way of "myself first." Some of us have become so hungry for "enough money" that we have begun to cheat a little. Others have been "shut-in" so long that we have begun to doubt God's power to give us Life right where we are. Some are far from home, and lonely, and feel that "nobody loves me"—instead of remembering responsibility to love others.

Suppose we dare to go into Lent, welcoming the Living Christ in our hearts, and tackling our battles under His leadership. One man has joyfully written:

I cannot do it alone, the waves run fast and high,
The fogs close chill around, the lights go out in the sky.
But I know that we two shall win at the end, Jesus and I.

Coward and wayward and weak. I change with the changing sky,
Today so safe and brave, tomorrow too weak to try.
But He never gives in, so we two shall win, Jesus and I.

(Dan Crawford)

CONFIRMATION CLASSES FOR INQUIRERS

When did the Episcopal Church come to our country? Did Henry the VIII really found the Episcopal Church? What does the Church teach regarding "Confession"?, Repentance, Forgiveness?" Where did our Prayer Book come from? How can we participate better in the services of the Church? These and many other questions will be answered at the Confirmation Instruction Lectures held on Sundays at 10 A.M. in the Rector's Study.

HEALING SERVICES during Lent will be conducted on Thursdays at 1 P.M. and 5:30 P.M. Holy Communion will be celebrated every Friday at 1 P.M., and on Wednesday at 5:30 P.M.

THE OLD TESTAMENT SERIES OF FILM STRIPS will continue on Sunday, Feb. 28th with the story of the Exilic Daniel, Man of Courage. Coffee and donuts will be served at 12:30 in the Community House, preceding the showing of the film. ALL ARE WELCOME.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: O Sacred Head Now Wounded ..... Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Lord God, out of the mystery we have come. Across this little landscape of our life we wend our way. We come to Thee in utter sincerity, as eager questing spirits, that in this holy hour some revelation may be given. Make radiant the darkness, kindle our hearts with a flame of love, send us forth into the future in confidence and hope, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 273 ..... Te Deum

Kyrie, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: O Redeemer Divine ..... Faure

O Redeemer Divine, our one hope of salvation, eternal Light of the earth and the sky, we kneel in adoration, O Savior, turn on us Thy loving eye! Send down on us the fire of Thy Grace all consuming, whose wondrous might dispersed the powers of hell, and rouse our slumb'ring souls with Thy illum'ning radiance, that they may waken Thy mercy to tell! O Christ bestow Thy blessing on us, we implore Thee, who here are gathered on penitent knee, accept the hymns we chant to Thine eternal glory, and these Thy gifts, we return unto Thee!

The Sermon: THE KEEPING OF LENT ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 337, tune Hymn 219 ..... Hamburg

Sanctus, Hymnal 711 ..... Willan

Communion Hymn (Kneeling) 410 ..... Burford

Gloria In Excelsis 739 ..... Old Scotish Chant

Recessional Hymn 55 ..... Heinlein

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. William F. Machold, to the glory of God and in loving memory of Roland Shippen Morris and his wife, Augusta; and their son Edward Shippen Morris and his wife, Leslie Hun Morris. Also by Mrs. Cyril Berger in memory of her husband; and by The George Sinnamon Fund in memory of Dr. & Mrs. George Sinnamon.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Edwin S. Heins.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

Dear Dr. Price:—We brought Douglas Coley, my grandson, to your office when he was a baby, three years ago. He was a mongoloid baby who, according to the doctors, would never walk, talk, feed himself or be toilet trained, and he had an added difficulty of crossed eyes. You prayed for him and had the laying-on-of-hands at the Altar also. He now does all these things mentioned above. He, as yet, doesn't talk in sentences which can be completely understood, but he says some words very clearly. He is coming along fine. I praise God for this miracle of his healing.

—Mrs. Sterritt Fuller (Marengo, Ohio)

HE GAVE THANKS

In the night in which He was betrayed, "He took bread, and gave thanks!" In the night, He gave thanks!

Jesus' ministry began under sunny skies. The crowds poured out, wherever He was, and "heard Him gladly." The disciples were eager to learn. He was invited by the Church authorities to stand up and teach in the Synagogue services.

Then, little by little, the sky darkened. The Church authorities grew hostile as Jesus pointed out that they laid heavy burdens on the people's backs, rather than giving them strength to carry the loads they already had. Some of His disciples thought that He was claiming too much when He said that He was the "Bread of the world", so they "no longer walked with Him." As the hatred of His enemies for Jesus grew more grim and determined, Jesus set His face toward Jerusalem, to meet them face to face, to challenge them.

Now, on the final evening of His life on earth, Jesus was having His Last Supper with the Twelve. His earthly career was ending—death and defeat awaited Him, and even one of the Twelve had sold His life for a handful of cash. Yet, in the night in which He was betrayed, He gave thanks. How could He?

Only in the blackness of the night do men see the stars. Only in utter helplessness and defeat do men really see the light of God's love and compassion. When it is broad daylight and our affairs prosper, we walk confidently, with too much trust in ourselves and too little dependence on God. But when life knocks us down, then we remember God, and His promises. I believe that Jesus, in the early days of His ministry, hoped that men might accept the Kingdom, that even the power-loving Church authorities might listen to Him, as Nicodemus did. In those early days there had been gayety in Jesus' company, like that of a wedding party. But, on the night in which He was betrayed, there was no gayety, for the sky was black. Still, He could give thanks because, in the darkness, His Father was with Him, and His Kingdom would come!

Perhaps your sky is darkened by loneliness, or grief, or sickness, or despair. Look up into your black sky, and you will find God's unfailing promises shining, sure and clear. You can guide your feet by those stars of hope. Look back, and you will recall all God's goodness to you in the years behind. Look up and you will find the continuing assurance of His goodness.

In the night, like your Master, you can give thanks!

THE SERIES OF CATHEDRAL FILM STRIPS continues on Sunday, March 14th at 12:30 in the Community House, with coffee and donuts. The Conversion of St. Paul will be shown. All Are Welcome.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

The Annual Appeal for contributions to the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches is now at hand and a special envelope is enclosed herewith. The Council is responsible for a high degree of co-operative services and programs that no single Denomination or Church is able to perform. The Council includes five departments through which forty services and programs are managed. Many present services need to be extended and other needs await further Christian co-operation. Your generous response is solicited.

We extend a hearty welcome to Bishop Herbert Spaugh of Charlotte, North Carolina, who will be our Lenten preacher Monday through Friday, March 8th-12th.

We welcome also our Saturday preacher, The Rev. Eugene Lefebvre, Rector of St. Timothy's Church, Roxboro, Philadelphia.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH?

The Christian Church needs you and every other person in an active relationship today. She is being asked what she can contribute toward the creation of a better world. Obviously the strength of her answer depends in part upon the number of persons who belong to her fellowship. The Church needs you, and you need the Church.

Confirmation Instruction Class is held in the Rector's Study every Sunday at 10 A.M.

THE I. SMITH RASPIN FUND

We wish to express our appreciation for these additional contributors to the I. SMITH RASPIN Memorial Fund: Miss Margaret Tappen, Mrs. Marie P. Berger, Mr. & Mrs. Elmer S. Carll, Jane S. Macleod.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volumn control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE CONFIRMATION CLASS

The Confirmation Class meets on Sunday mornings at 10 A.M. in the Rector's Study. If you want to be a communicant member of this Parish, you should attend the Confirmation Class and be presented by the Rector to the Bishop when he comes for his annual visit. Confirmation is an opportunity for instruction in Christian belief and practice, as well as a public affirmation of Christian loyalty.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I have received so many blessings through prayer, with the help of your Prayer Fellowship and your healing services, I feel as though I must write and acknowledge them. 1. My sister's hands healed after an allergy outbreak. 2. My mother's recovery after a month's severe illness. 3. Relief from acute and painful discomfort due to stomach disorders. I pray for all of you.

—Wanda Bates (Camden, N.J.)

JEFFERSON HOSPITAL

The Rector is anxious to recruit a number of men who will go to Jefferson Hospital Sunday mornings at 10:30 A.M. and bring some wheelchair patients from the Rehabilitation Clinic to our 11 O'Clock service. If you are able to do this service, please get in touch with the Rector.

LOOK FROM THE TOP

In the White Mountains of New Hampshire, when Summer comes, it is interesting to watch people start out on the trail that leads up one of the mountains. Some step out alertly, and take up a steady pace. Others saunter, or plod—and you know that some of these will only go part-way to the top. The main difference between these people is that those who step out are the ones who are already seeing the mountain-top, in their minds, with its far view across forests and lake and to the horizon.

Amy Carmichael, in "Edges of His Ways", points this out, from our everyday living, as she quotes "look from the top", from the Song of Solomon. "This is a splendid word for a busy day with its crush of work of all sorts. If we get caught in the crush and push down, so to speak, the next thing we know . . . things are on top of us; and we are not on top of anything. So the word comes, "Look from the top."

"In everyday life simply means, look from everything up to the Lord Jesus Christ, who is our Peace, our Victory, and our Joy, for we are where we look. From below, things feel impossible; people seem impossible (some people, at least) and we ourselves feel most impossible of all. From the top we see as our Lord sees; He sees not what is only, but what shall be. He is not discouraged, and as we look with Him, our discouragement vanishes, and we can sing a new song."

Look from the top! Once a husband became very tired with his wife, and he wondered why she had to be so difficult. He became more and more resentful over this exasperating wife of his—until, at last, he prayed to God, "Help me to think as You are thinking about her, and see her as You are seeing her." A most curious thing happened. Instantly the Lord put into the husband's mind the recollection of three very recent incidents where the husband had been selfish, and his wife had been loving and considerate. This really rocked the husband. Suddenly all resentment was gone, and he was humble and realistic again. He had looked from the top.

This can be a most exciting Lenten adventure—to let God train us to look from the top, to think His thoughts after Him, to let Him think and love in us. You may be weary, but if you look from the top, and see as God does, the spring comes back into your step, and you can stride forward on His business.

Try it — look from the top.

EMILY K. CAMPBELL

Occasionally God sends a rare and choice spirit to walk the earth with grace and beauty, to gladden the hearts of loved ones, and to lift friends and acquaintances into new appreciation of the possibilities of gracious living. Such a spirit was Emily K. Campbell.

For many years she was the Treasurer of the Memorial Flower Fund of St. Stephen's Church and a valued member of the Burd School Committee. She was in her ninety-second year and retained her faculties until her final illness. She never really grew old, for she had a marvelous sense of humor. We have lost a faithful and generous member.

A Memorial Service was held in St. Stephen's Church on Friday, March 5th at 11 O'Clock. "May she go from strength to strength, in the life of perfect service."

Mr. Peter V. Decker has been elected to fill the vacancy of Mr. I. Smith Raspin on the Vestry of St. Stephen's Church. Mr. Decker lives in Barclay Farms, Haddonfield, N.J. and is a Trust Officer in the Girard Trust Bank. We welcome him to this important responsibility.

The Rector will speak to the Senior Students of the Eastern Baptist College on Wednesday evening, March 17th.

We extend a hearty welcome to Bishop Crittenden who will be our Lenten preacher Monday through Friday, March 15th-19th, at 12:30 P.M. The Rev. Thomas S. Logan, Rector of Calvary Church, West Philadelphia, will be the Saturday preacher on March 20th.

Our grateful thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Miss Barbara Bolton, Mr. Spencer Erwin, Mrs. Muriel B. Griner, Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, Mr. Alexander D. Kerr, Rev. Eugene Lefebvre, Miss Louise F. Leupold, Mildred Maxham, Mrs. Marie E. Person, Mrs. John Pratt, Mrs. F. Schuh, Mrs. Bertha B. Tillotson.

CHRISTIAN DIALOGUE:—Dr. Martin Niemoller and Dr. E. Carson Blake will present in Dialogue fashion "What the Spirit Saith to the Church in Philadelphia." The meetings are from Monday to Friday, March 15th-19th, in Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square, from 5 to 6 P.M. nightly. The congregation is invited.

THE SERIES OF CATHEDRAL FILM STRIPS continues on Sunday, March 14th at 12:30 in the Community House, with coffee and donuts. The Conversion of St. Paul will be shown. All Are Welcome!

Dear Dr. Price:—Just a few lines to thank you for your daily 'round the clock prayers which I requested. I am happy that my request has been granted; and I am healed. Just received a report from my doctor that the test was negative. God is so good and has completed the healing, and I am so thankful.

—Amis M. Seneca (Inverness, Florida).

Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mrs. Charles A. Rice in the passing of her husband on March 8th.

ADVENTURE OF JOY

In the picture-story of the Vine and the Branches, Jesus points out that we must grow "in Him". In other words, we must let Him graft us into His Love so securely that we can draw from Him the sap of His strength, His vigor. When we do that, something like Him grows in us, because He has taken up residence within our hearts.

He concludes this wonderful Passage, "These things have I spoken unto you, that My joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full." Lent can be an adventure of joy!

How do we get that way, that joyful way, so that we even look radiant to other people? Down the ages pagans have been able to identify Christians by their joyfulness. Pagans don't have very much to be joyful about, whereas the Christian who lets his life be grafted into Christ's life is constantly being renewed by the in-flowing strength and compassion and courage of Christ.

How do we get that way? Simply by practicing the Parable of the Vine. In Phillips' translation it reads, "You must go on growing in Me, and I will grow in you. For just as the branch cannot bear any fruit unless it shares the life of the vine, so you can produce nothing unless you go on growing in Me."

It's really amazing to find that one has the limitless resources of God coming into one's inner life. And this actually happens, IF we grow in Him — If, through each day, we turn toward Him, and are quiet; find out what He wants us to do about some puzzling situation, and then draw on His strength to do it. IF we truly are trying to do His will, we can do it in His strength. As a result, miracles take place, through God's working in us. Another person's life is charged. Despair turns into hope. The clouds of self-pity are blown away,, and we live again in His sunlight. People wonder how we ever got so full of joy.

Jesus did not come to teach us to be "good" — He pointed this out, Himself. He came to teach us to be joyful and loving, growing in Him. We don't achieve this by strenuous straining and struggling. We simply work at the discipline of constantly turning to Him, growing into His Presence.

This takes rugged determination, eager and repeated practice. Little by little we become amazed at the richness of life in Him. We begin our days with a special quarter-hour in His Presence, and we have more and more minutes of His Presence through each working day. Then someone asks you, "What's happened to you?" Because you look radiant to them. This is the adventure of Joy!

The Rector will preach in the Presbyterian Church of Chestnut Hill on Sunday, March 21st at 8 P.M.

THERE ARE TWO WAYS to become a member of this Parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church, you become a member of this Parish by asking the Rector of the Parish where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia. The Second Way is by confirmation. Classes of Instruction for adults are now being held at 10 A.M. on Sundays in the Rector's Study. Confirmation will be held in St. Stephen's on Sunday, April 25th at 11 A.M.

I. SMITH RASPIN MEMORIAL FUND — We wish to acknowledge these two additional contributions to the Fund: Woman's Aid, Episcopal Chapel for the Hard of Hearing; and Mrs. Catherine Fuerst.

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS: Our sincere thanks to these subscribers: Mrs. C. Fuerst, Mrs. Callie M. Harris, Mr. Lynn S. Martin, Nan E. Pincin, Mrs. M. Renne, Mrs. Gerard B. Street, Mrs. Edith N. Sykes.

NO LITTLE PEOPLE

One of the most devoted women in our congregation said to me at the door one Sunday, "What can a little person like me do?" I am going to try to answer that question. In the first place, let us remember that nobody in God's world is little except the person who permits himself to be little. The human soul has in it the same kind of almost infinite possibilities as the atom. We can draw ourselves in by selfishness, or we can expand with human caring, almost infinitely. Perhaps our first step is changing our thoughts about ourselves. I do not mean letting our heads swell. I mean letting much greater thoughts fill our heads about our own possibilities, because of God's infinite power.

I do not believe that God will want most of us to change our general situation. Most of us are faced with inescapable responsibilities. The woman who asked me the question has illness in her home which means for her a constant care—and one, I may say, which she carries out with the greatest patience and love and dependence on God. The change in most of us needs to come, not so much in circumstances, as in the way we meet them. The great change must come within.—Sam Shoemaker.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volumn control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: Passion Chorale ..... Langlais

THE SILENT MEDITATION: O God, we thank Thee for the sweet refreshment of sleep and for the glory and vigor of the new day. As we set our faces once more toward our work, we pray Thee for the strength sufficient for our tasks. May Christ's Spirit of Duty and Service ennoble all we do. May there be nothing in this day's work of which we shall be ashamed when the sun has set, nor in the eventide of our life when our task is done, and we go to our long home to meet Thee face to face. Amen.

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 15: Verse 11

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #642, Hymnal

The Anthem: Lamb of God (The Passion) ..... Haydn

Lamb of God, surely Thou hast borne our sorrows; with Thy stripes we are healed. Lamb of God, Thou blessest them that persecute Thee, and pray'st for them who despitefully use Thee. Vengeance is Mine, saith the Lord. I will repay. A lamb before her shearers is dumb, so op'nst Thou not Thy mouth. Thou are cut off from the land of the living; for our transgressions art Thou smitten. Thou art oppressed; Thou art afflicted, O Lamb of God. But Thou didst no violence, nor was deceit in Thy mouth. . . . Thou didst no evil; Thou when reviled, revild'st not again, Thou suff'ring threat'nedst not. Thou bearest our sins in Thy body on the Tree, Thou art not overcome, but Thou overcomest evil with good. Reviled, Thou blessest; defamed, entreatest. O Lamb of God.

The Sermon: "ON BEING BORN AGAIN" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 570 ..... Day of Rest

Recessional Hymn 572 ..... Maryton

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. Raymond Winter in memory of Harry J. Hauger.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It has been a month since I asked for your prayers for some friends, Mr. & Mrs. L. I am so happy to tell you that miraculously their domestic problems are being worked out, a new atmosphere of happiness seems to be in their home, and the husband, who has been an Atheist, has been to Church and is beginning to ask questions! Our Lord can, indeed, perform miracles!

—Mrs. G. L. Leamon (Shawnee Mission, Kansas)

THERE SHE COMES!

Dare we believe as Jesus taught us, about death?

This is not easy, for death seems like the end of us mortals. Yet Jesus taught us to think of the life beyond this one simply as a horizon—a point beyond which we cannot see from where we are standing now. He did not attempt to inform us about the nature of the world beyond. He simply stated, "There are many rooms in My Father's House" ("Many mansions"). When a loved one dies, we face the shock of losing the daily sharing of life with the beloved one, and that loss is very real. Can we, as a Lenten Adventure, begin to grasp the Christian attitude toward death?

Yes, it can be done, with God's aid. If you want to adventure, this week, into Jesus' belief about death, set aside fifteen minutes a day for this purpose. Make yourself quiet, and shut out the busyness. Read the glorious passage from St. John's Gospel in the 11th Chapter, 1-46. Then stop, and look back over your years. Begin to see how wonderfully God has cared for you through these years; how He has led you, again and again, into new life, rich and rewarding. After a few days of this recollecting of God's care, you will be amazed to find how care-ful of you He has been.

Then, suddenly, you will find yourself saying, "If I can see His provision for me over the years that have gone, in this life, I can trust Him for the eternity ahead, in the life to come." Then the fear of death begins to shrink toward the vanishing-point, and we welcome these words:

"I am standing upon the seashore. A ship at my sign spreads her white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength and I stand and watch her until at length she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sea and sky come down to mingle with each other. Then someone at my side says: 'There! She is gone.' Gone where? Gone from my sight, that is all. She is just as large in mast and hull and spar as she was when she left my side, and just as able to bear her load of living freight to the place of destination. Her diminished size is in me, not in her; and just at the moment when someone at my side says: 'There! She's gone', there are other eyes watching her coming and other voices ready to take up the glad shout, "There she comes!" (Source unknown).

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, who will be our guest preacher at the Lenten Noonday Services, March 29th - April 3rd, inclusive.

The Rector will preach in Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, March 29th - April 2nd, inclusive, at the Noonday Services.

CONFIRMATION IS A GIFT FOR YOU — such is the title of one of the Forward Movement tracts on the subject. Confirmation is NOT for the children "graduation from Church School", nor is it for adults a sign that they have "learned all that there is to know about their religion", or about our part of the Christian Church. As our Church has received it this "lesser Sacrament" is the completion of one's Baptism; it is the "receiving of the Gift of the Holy Spirit through the laying-on-of-hands by the Bishop", after the example of the Apostles of New Testament times; it is part of the "doctrine, discipline and worship" of our part of the Church; it is our re-affirming the vows we made or which were made for us at our Baptism; it is our public acceptance of Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior; for adults, it casts no reflections on any prior confirmations in another part of the Church, but is an act of witness of their intention to accept the discipline of our part of the Church; in Confirmation we become "full-fledged" members of the Church.

Instruction Class meets on Sundays at 10 A.M. in the Rector's Study. All are Welcome!

We say "Thank You" to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Walter J. Hunt, Mabel Meek, Laura Roddy, Miss Hebe Bulley, James O. Lyman, Edith Oliver.

The Prelude: Come, Sweet Death ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Blessed and Eternal God, who hast bestowed upon Thy servants gifts of heart and mind and spirit, grant us grace, we beseech Thee, to worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. Make us responsive to the atmosphere of reverence, and teach us to hallow Thy name. Sensitize our spirits to a keen awareness of the Father infinite in wisdom, love and power; enrich our minds with the quiet ministries of Thy Holy Spirit; and gladden our hearts with the deep assurance that Thy Son is our Savior. And to Thee shall be the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory forever. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to thank you and your Prayer Group for their prayers for me. Almost immediately the tensions, resentment and self-pity left me. My pulse became stabilized, and my physician remarked about the change in my appearance and attitude. I can now say my prayers and convene with God. I feel that I can now take communion with a contrite heart. I know God has forgiven me for many conflicts . . . May God continue to bless you and your great work.—Bessie Schlegel (Pittsburgh).

THE NON-CONFORMIST

I could not determine whether the person was a man or a woman. It was clear that my indecision was shared by others who were walking down Chestnut Street. Then I heard one man say to another, "What do you know, it's a man!" This points to a curious social phenomenon in our time. The quest for non-conformity is taking strange paths. The off-beat person is expressing social rebellion through eccentricities of dress and hair style. The desire to gain attention has reached absurdity.

The creative person is often a non-conformist. However, non-conformity does not necessarily demonstrate creativity. The mature and responsible person selects the areas where he will exercise his non-conformity. One of the interesting findings contained in recent research is that the creative individual, as a rule, chooses to conform in the routine, everyday matters of life, such as speech, dress and manners. One gets the impression that he simply is not prepared to waste his energy in non-conformity about trifles. He reserves his independence for what really concerns him — the area in which his creative activities occur. This distinguishes him sharply from the exhibitionists who reject convention in those matters that will gain them the most attention.

It does seem to me that in the present revolution of morals and behavior we ought to recognize that here is a kind of sickness. There are many rebels without a cause. This reduces non-conformity to the ridiculous. The historic justification of non-conformity rests upon great moral issues, nothing less. Apart from such justification, we can only conclude that much of what we are now witnessing is the silliness of immaturity.

MESSAGE FROM A MEDICAL STUDENT

As Dr. Price has often told us, when God heals, He repairs the microscopic problem: the cell which manifests itself as human suffering and disease.

We have all seen the power of prayer — effecting this miraculous change. In the past the only way we could convey knowledge of this power to others was through, our own belief. But often, only those who had already seen the truth would believe our words.

Now there is another way. Science has shown us that subtle changes may be seen in the blood immediately following the laying-on-of-hands ceremony. Thus, it is now possible to prove medically that healing by prayer works.

This work can only be done with your assistance. If you should decide to come to St. Stephen's because of a health problem, either physical or mental, you can help show the healing power of God to others. In order to do this, two small blood samples are needed. If you are interested in this mission, please call Benjamin Natelson at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School at 594-8569, and he will meet you Thursday at Church.

CONFIRMATION CLASS

Once a year the Bishop comes to St. Stephen's Church for the Rite of Confirmation, to receive new people into Communicant Membership in the Church. This year his visit will be on Sunday, April 25th. The Instruction Class is held in the Rector's Study on Sundays at 10 A.M.

The Rector will preach in the Lutheran Church of the Prince of Peace, on Wednesday at 8 P.M.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Chester A. Porteus, Rector of Christ Church, Quincy, Massachusetts, who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher Monday through Friday, April 5th-9th. We welcome as our Saturday preacher Captain William C. Phy, of the Church Army.

Miss Beatrice Van Sciver has succeeded Mrs. Emily Campbell as Treasurer of the Altar Society of St. Stephen's Church and will be responsible for the Memorial Flower finances.

The Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on April 25th at 12:15 P.M. A light luncheon will be served and the election to the Vestry will be held. A film strip of St. Stephen, the Church's first Martyr, will be shown. Please put this date on your calendar.

ST. STEPHEN'S WELCOMES TO ALL ITS SERVICES everyone who comes in the spirit of sincerity and truth; especially at this time of year when many who are not closely associated with it are nevertheless reaching out for the assurance of life and hope, it opens its doors to all kinds and conditions of people.

The Holy Communion is for all Christian people, and all those who truly and earnestly repent them of their sins and intend to lead a new life — all are welcome to receive it here.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Chorale in A Minor" ..... Cesar Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, Thou art my Father. Thy will and Thy plan alone matter. I yield myself utterly to Thee that I may know and do Thy will. I thank Thee for accepting me in Jesus Christ, for forgiving all my sins, cleansing me from everything that is wrong, and now filling me with Thy Holy Spirit. I thank Thee for grace and guidance. I thank Thee for power adequate for every task. I thank Thee for Thy love and that Thou art loving men through me. And now with Thee I go forward from victory to victory. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—What a wonderful healing God has given me through the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship. I am so thankful for your prayers during the last month. My shingles did not recur. I pray for you every day and join in your work in this way.

—Kay Harvey (Montreal)

We extend a hearty welcome ot the Rev. Harry Longley, D.D., who will be our Holy Week preacher, Monday through Thursday. And to our Bishop, the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, D.D., we especially welcome to the Good Friday service.

WHAT WILL YOU DO WITH JESUS?

From the moment Jesus began His ride into Jerusalem, through all that dark and terrible week, we keep seeing flashes of His power, the victorious power of Love.

We hear it in the Hosannas of the happy pilgrims, radiant with hope of some immediate triumph. Jesus had no such expectations, for He had wept for the beloved city of Jerusalem, believing that it would reject Him as it had rejected the Prophets. In the end, He would win!

We see that burst of power as, with no weapons save a few pieces of cord and His flaming anger, He drove the money-changers and animal-salesmen out of their place of business in the Temple.

We see it in the fright of the Church authorities, "for they feared Him." They feared Him so much, that later in the week, they pushed through an illegal trial of Jesus by night, and then took Him to Pilate, recommending the death-sentence.

Now Pilate had absolute power over the Province he ruled. Yet this Roman ruler was shaken by the power he sensed in Jesus. The Master quietly told the governor that he had no power over Jesus, unless God gave it to him. This upset Pilate — he was not accustomed to being "told." A note came to him from his wife, pleading that Pilate release Jesus, for she had been having night-mares about this young Prophet. Twice Pilate took Jesus out before the Chief Priests and the crowd, saying that he found no fault in this Man, and would release Him. But the Priests stirred up the crowd into an ugly mood, and Pilate gave in, afraid of the people, and his job as governor. He felt so uncomfortable about letting them have Jesus that he washed his hands, before the crowd, publicly trying to cleanse himself of the dull guilt he felt.

They just did not know what to do with Jesus, alive; so they thought they would be rid of Him by killing Him. People had kept coming to them saying, "We have never seen anything like this before." Every time He spoke, they felt a sureness in His words; He knew what He was talking about; He somehow knew more than they did! Like Pilate's wife, they spent many an anxious, sleepless hour because of the mysterious power they felt in Jesus of Nazareth.

What will you do with Jesus? You can reject Him as the ancient authorities did. You may prosper for a while if you do. Or you can accept Him as your Lord and Master, and His way of Love as your Rule of Life. If you do, you will go through painful and dark hours, as He did, but, within you, will be that mysterious power of Love that wins against all darkness, in the long run.

What will YOU do with Jesus?

TO KEEP IN MIND — ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The Annual Congregational Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 25th, 1965 at about 12:15 P.M.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volumn control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: (a) Christ Lay In The Bonds of Death .....J. S. Bach
(b) Trumpet Tune in C .....Purcell

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord our God, we lift our faces to Thee. We turn from the busy concerns that engage our minds, from the trivial pleasures that fill the passing moment, from the pressing cares that burden our days. And we come to this quiet sanctuary at this holy hour. Subdue the clamor of our hearts, soften every alien note, and grant that in this hour of worship we may hear Thy voice and learn Thy will, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 85 .....Easter Hymn
The Kyrie, Hymnal #708 .....Willan
The Anthem: Lillies of the Dawn .....Marryott
When twilight fell in Galilee, no blossoms gleamed so fair as lillies on the hillside, where Jesus went for prayer. Alleluia! Sadly in the moonlit garden, stately lillies guarded there, bending low to soothe His anguish when Christ wept in prayer. Alleluia! All the larks on Easter morning sang His triumph through the air: "Christ has risen among the lillies, risen to answer prayer."—Alleluia!
The Sermon: THE LIVING CHRIST .....The Rector
Offertory Hymn 91 .....Victory
Sanctus, Hymnal #711 .....Willan
Kneeling Hymn 89 .....Salzburg
Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 .....Old Scotish Chant

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: Due to a birth injury my grandson started to have convulsions. The doctor expected the worst. Then we asked for special prayers at your Church. God heard and answered them. Last week when Alec went to the doctor it was found that a miracle had happened. The damage had been slight and medicine will now control his balance. Thanks to your precious prayers and to God for hearing them, we will have a fine boy.—Mary Elliott (East Lansdowne, Pa.)

HOPE AND VICTORY

Easter has, from the first, been a day of wonder and astonishment. Into the darkness of men's hearts there blazes a great hope—Jesus Christ is alive!

In Masefield's "The Trial of Jesus", Pilate's wife, Procula, is questioning Longinus, the Roman Centurion who had been in charge of the soldiers at the Cross. She asks him, "Do you think He is dead?" "No, lady, I don't." She continues, "Then, where is He?" And Longinus answers, gravely, "Let loose in the world, lady, where neither Roman nor Jew can stop His Truth."

So Love triumphed over hate. So Life triumphed over death. And, up and down the world, the Living, Risen Christ goes, knocking lovingly on the doors of men's hearts. He brings the most powerful weapon of all time, as a gift to all who will live under His command. For Love alone can get rid of enemies. Hate only makes grimmer enemies, by deepening their enmity. But Love has the power to change them into friends—so that they are no longer enemies at all. The British discovered this in India—for Gandhi genuinely loved them as he refused to obey their orders, and the British found themselves honoring and loving their "enemy" so that they could no longer be enemies. You cannot kill Love!

In this strange and stormy world of ours, there come moments when we find ourselves in the darkness of despair. We feel utterly helpless. On Easter Day there comes a knock on the door of your darkened heart, and the Risen Christ asks if He may come in. and be the Master of your heart. He will not force His way in, for Love never pushes. At first you may hesitate, for letting Him in means that He will lovingly rule the household of your heart. He can only dwell where He is Lord.

Are you ready to let go being manager of your life? Do you believe that He can manage it better than you have? If you do, then you will ask Him in—humbly, gratefully. And your darkened heart will be full of shining hope. Your weak little dwelling will become a stronghold that no power can capture, as long as the Lord Christ rules there. Temptations which have overcome you again and again, will lose their strength when they meet the Risen Christ, alive in you. You may have moments when you will try to be manager again, and His power will no longer be there. Then you will remember the greatest Power, and invite Him back again, and live in His strength.

He is "The Resurrection and the Life." In His mighty care are we, and all our loved ones, including those who have gone beyond the horizon of this world. In His care, they and we are safe. In His care there is no despair nor defeat—only Hope and Victory!

The Prelude: I Call To Thee, Lord Jesus Christ ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Most merciful Father, we have done little to forward Thy Kingdom in this world, to foster the brotherhood of man, and to establish love as the law of life. We have allowed self to blind us, pains to embitter us. We have forgotten that whatsoever is done to one of the least of Thy children is done unto Thee. Pardon our shortcomings; forgive our neglect; give us a pure heart intent on pleasing Thee. Help us in all our seeking to seek first THY KINGDOM, and Thy Righteousness. And make us to come, as came Thy Son Jesus Christ, not to be ministered unto, but to minister. All which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: "O Lord Most Holy" .... Franck

O Lord, most holy, O Lord, most mighty; O Loving Father, Thee would we be praising alway. Help us to know Thee, know Thee and love Thee; Father, Father, grant us Thy truth and grace; Father, Father, guide and defend us. Rule Thou our wilful hearts, Keep Thine our wand'ring thoughts; in all our sorrows, let us find our rest in Thee. And, in temptation's hour, save, through Thy mighty power; Thine aid O send us; hear us in mercy, show us Thy favor, so shall we live and sing praise to Thee.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: Over five weeks ago I requested prayer for my brother, Dr. Ralph Johnson, of Dunn, N.C. He had suffered three very serious heart attacks and was trying to decide whether to close his office; for it seemed that he might not be able to work again after the third attack. I am very glad to report that he went back to work a week ago, after seven months of enforced idleness. His wife wrote that he was "as happy as a boy at Christmas." We are grateful to you and your co-workers for your effective prayers of faith, and to a loving God who answers prayer.

—Ethel Johnson (Clayton, N.C.)

Daylight Saving Time advances your clock one hour! It is this week — be sure you remember.

NON-RESISTANCE

This earth has seen two mightty weapons fashioned. They are the great destroyers. Men do not dare to use them.

One of them is the atom bomb. It was made to destroy enemies. It was used only once, by the United States, when no other country had any of these deadly bombs. Rulers, since then, have been afraid to use this weapon, for fear that it will destroy the whole human race.

The other great weapon was revealed by Jesus Christ — the only weapon that is powerful enough to destroy enemies by transforming them into friends. It is God's weapon — the weapon of Love. Those who have used this weapon with courage have always become, in the end, the victors over hate. Hate cannot defend itself against deep, down-to-earth Love.

From the beginning, Jesus had taught His disciples the strength of Love. He had said, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." But He had taught the way of love by action, more than by words. His friends learned love from Him, little by little.

With the power of God's Love at work in them, they were changed from mixed-up, blundering, unimportant men into men of such power that they stood before rulers unafraid. The early Church overcame the proud Roman Empire in less than three hundred years, the Emperor Constantine finally putting the Cross on the shields of his soldiers as the sign of power.

Yet most Christians have feared to put their whole trust in the power of Love, God's Love. There have been the Christian heroes, like St. Francis of Assisi, and wondrous little Christian groups like the Quakers at their best. But most Christians have been afraid to rely on Love, because it is costly. It means being willing to suffer gladly and lovingly. It is more comfortable to depend on money, and cleverness, and force, but these weapons are not strong enough to overcome hate. Hate is the great enemy — for, today, humanity is crowded so close together that hate will destroy us if we do not destroy hate!

Until our day, the only leader who has had the faith to use Love as the weapon in a great political struggle was Gandhi, who taught the Indian millions to practice loving non-resistance. India overcame the powerful British Empire with that weapon. (And Gandhi did not profess to be a Christian!). Today we find the Negro leaders in the United States making a gallant effort to teach their people the weapon of Love, by teaching them non-resistance. If they succeed as Gandhi did, they will win their victory.

Jesus set His face "toward Jerusalem" — He was willing to suffer anything, to keep on loving friend and foe. Are you willing to trust the power of Love as He did?

The Women of St. Stephen's, morning branch, have presented the Church with two Harmony Editions of the Hymnal, and two large Prayer Books in memory of Mr. & Mrs. I. Smith Raspin and Mrs. Emily Campbell.

RASPIN MEMORIAL

The Vestry has decided to use the money donated to the Raspin Memorial Fund to purchase the Standard Harmony Edition of the Hymnal for the pews. In order to have sufficient Hymnals for all our pews, additional memorial contributions will be needed.

Mr. & Mrs. Raspin were Communicants of St. Stephen's Church for more than fifty years. An attractive book plate is being prepared.

Recent contributors to the Raspin Memorial Fund: Mrs. C. Fuerst, Myrtle Higgins, Mr. Joseph Neiss, Mr. J. Stokes Leeds, Women of St. Stephen's Morning Branch, Women's Aid, Chapel for the Hard of Hearing.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 25th at about 12:15 P.M. Twelve Vestrymen will be elected at this Meeting to serve for a term of one year.

Mrs. Keller and her helpers will serve a luncheon. The ladies will appreciate it if those intending to attend will notify the office.

A Film Strip on the Church's first Martyr, St. Stephen, will be shown after the Meeting.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Your Prayer Group helped my Gillespie friends a great deal. Not only is Mr. Gillespie able to carry on his law practice (after a long struggle against a severe heart attack and near death) it seems his wife and children have been helped through the experience.—Dorothy Graebel (Springfield, Illinois)

UNITED THANK OFFERING

The United Thank Offering of the Women of the Parish will be received on May 2nd. This Offering is an expression of gratitude on the part of the Women of the Church and goes to support Missionary objects around the world, touching lives of many whom we cannot help in person. Offering envelopes have been mailed to the Women of the Parish List, and others may join in the Offering by using the U. T. O. Envelopes which may be found in the vestibule.

The Diocesan In-Gathering will be held on May 12th at Valley Forge Military Academy. The Service will be at 10:30 A.M. Luncheon tickets are $2.50. Bus leaves Rittenhouse Square at 9 A.M.

SERVICE OF INDUCTION OF WARDENS, VESTRYMEN AND CLERK OF ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

Prior to the sermon the above officers are called to the Altar Rail and inducted into office by the following ritual:

The Rector Says: In order that these duly elected officers and the whole body of parishioners may better appreciate the importance of the sacred office of Wardens, Vestrymen, Clerk, Treasurer and other special officers of the Vestry, it has been deemed advisable for them to make public acknowledgement of these hallowed duties by a positive declaration. These officers have important responsibilities which will be placed on their shoulders. They are accountable to God and to the members of this parish for the fulfillment of the same.

To the end that they may be true to their trust and humbly and obediently fulfill the requirements of their several duties, we ask them the following questions before God's Altar in His Holy Temple:

QUESTION: Having familiarized yourselves with the duties of your several offices, do you here in the presence of God and this congregation solemnly and sincerely promise and vow that you will reverently and obediently fulfill the same?

ANSWER: I do, the Lord being my Helper.

QUESTION: Do you promise to help, aid and assist with your counsel, prayers and service the Holy Cause in which you are enlisted?

ANSWER: I do, the Lord being my Helper.

QUESTION: Will you manifest by word and act loyalty to your Church, Bishop and Rector while fulfilling the office to which you have been honored by the members of this parish?

ANSWER: I will, the Lord being my Helper.

QUESTION: Will you daily strive to let your light so shine before men that they seeing your good works may glorify your Father which is in Heaven?

ANSWER: I will, the Lord being my Helper.

The Rector then gives to the Wardens their staffs of office. Then he says: Receive these emblems of authority, and faithfully and prayerfully perform the duties of your office.

Prayers follow.

Mr. Hugo Hanson has presented the Church with a very fine tape recorder. We thank him and wish him and Mrs. Hanson every blessing in their new home in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

St. Stephen's Church has been able to supply a number of used cottas, an Offering Plate, and, through the good offices of the Diocesan Altar Guild, a Chalice, for the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, a Mission in Custer, South Dakota. This is a congregation of forty people.

We want to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Walter Boon, Mrs. C. Fuerst, Helen Hish, Rena M. Yeager, E. Lillian Wyatt.

St. Stephen's Church has received a bequest of one thousand dollars for the endowment fund from the Estate of Mrs. Mary S. Roberts, for which we are most grateful.

We welcome Miss Esther Marie Hobson who was confirmed last Sunday into the fellowship of St. Stephen's Church.

The final showing of the film strips on the Old Testament Prophets will be given on Sunday, May 16th in the Community House at 12:30 P.M. Refreshments will precede the film. Request repeats will be shown. Everyone is welcome!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I am reporting on my arthritic condition, as you requested. I am now glad to report great improvement, almost 100 percent. I have not taken any cortizone for a month, or any treatments of any kind. I give all the credit to God Almighty who has had mercy upon my affliction in rebuking the work of Satan in my body, through your prayers.—Sue A. Granger (Homestead, Florida)

KEEP US CLEAR OF EVIL

One of the most puzzling verses in the Bible is, "Lead us not into temptation". Jesus is teaching His disciples how to pray. The rest of the Prayer we can understand without difficulty, but this part confuses us. What did He mean?

Certainly He did not mean that God purposely leads us into a spot when sin will tempt and test us! Jesus never did that, and He is our only true picture of God in human form. Then whatever did He mean?

There are two possible translations of Jesus' words. One—which the old-time translators chose—is "do not cause us to go into temptation." The other (which Phillips uses) is, "Keep us clear of temptation." That sounds like Jesus. It makes sense as coming from His understanding, loving lips.

If we understand Jesus as saying, "Keep us clear of evil," we have clear instruction in prayer. We human beings like too well to skate on thin ice, to play around with evil thoughts. We do this because we do not have a deep enough love of God, and, therefore, no deep fear or hatred of evil.

So, when temptation intrudes itself on our minds, we are to pray, instantly, "keep us clear of evil." The intrusion of evil should be like the fire-alarm to the fireman—to call him to instant action. We ought to turn immediately to God, who alone can save us from defeat. Only His might can deliver us from the power of wrong. If we honestly intend to follow Jesus, then we invite God into the struggle with temptation, and let Him lead us in the battle, as obedient soldiers responsive to His command. It is amazing how swiftly and surely He can lead us out of the reach of the enemy, undefeated, strong in His strength, which is more powerful even than the most attractive temptation.

One of God's wonderful ways to deliver us from temptation is by turning our minds from evil to something strong and beautiful and good. The alcoholic, on the way home with a full pay-envelope, prays, "Keep me clear of evil," and is reminded of his wife and family, waiting at home for the pay which will buy the next week's food and pay the rent. God has the power—if we call on Him, straightway to deliver us from our weakness, our touchiness, our craving for "kicks", our self-pity, our loneliness, our boredom.

What a great God, to Whom we can pray, confidently, "Keep us clear of evil."

NEW HYMNALS

One of the first things we notice when visiting a Church is the condition of the Hymn Books in the pew racks. Their placement and condition often give some impressions about the Church and its people. To a visitor, worn and tattered hymnals and prayer books stand out like the proverbial sore thumb, in an otherwise new and well-kept Church.

For a number of years, quietly and painstakingly, Mrs. Alice Whitson has repaired the broken backs of prayer books and hymnals as she has found them damaged in the pew racks. This has been a most helpful and practical ministry. She was also responsible for the pasting in of the memorial labels in the new Harmony Edition of the Hymnals which were dedicated last Sunday in memory of Mr. & Mrs. Raspin.

Let us keep our books in good repair by replacing them carefully in the pew racks at the close of each service. (We have nine services a week). And, when removing them, to be careful about putting undue pressure on the backs.

PUBLIC EDUCATION is one of the most critical problems of our community life. As Thomas Jefferson saw so clearly, it is an essential of a democratic society. As Jefferson could not possibly have foreseen, it is an absolute life-line to the future for children of this technical age.

Diocesan Convention resolved that the Home Rule Charter Commission's proposals embodied "some of the best viable solutions to some of the most crucial of these necessary changes" to provide more adequately for public education in the City of Philadelphia. It urged Church people to use "their moral leadership and most earnest efforts" to secure ratification of these proposals at the May 18 Primary Elect

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Prelude to 'The Prodigal Son'" ..... Debussy

THE SILENT MEDITATION: O Lord, whose Shepherd care is extended to all Thy children, we praise Thee for the green pastures, the quiet waters, and the restored soul. Preserve us from blundering along paths of disappointment. Lead us in right ways. Guard us from evil. When we walk in valleys of deep darkness, let Thy love be our shield, our light and our salvation. We ask in the name of the Good Shepherd. Amen.

The First Lesson: Ezek. 37:1-14

Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11, Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 24:36-49

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #642, Hymnal

Anthem: The Omnipotence ..... Schubert

Great is Jehovah, the Lord, for heaven and earth testify to His great power! 'Tis heard in the fierce raging storm, in the torrent's loud thundering roar; Great is Jehovah, the Lord, Mighty is His power! 'Tis heard in the rustling of leaves in the forest, seen in the waving of golden fields, in loveliest flowers' gaudy array, 'tis seen in myriad stars of heaven. Fierce it sounds in the thunder's loud roll, and flames in the lightning's brightly quivering flash. Yet clearer thy throbbing heart to thee proclaims Jehovah's power, the Lord God Almighty. Look thou praying to heaven, and hope for grace and for mercy. Great is Jehovah, the Lord!

The Sermon: THE NEED FOR FAITH ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 449 ..... Olivet

Recessional Hymn 542 ..... Duke Street

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Miss Nadia Watson in memory of her parents: Mr. & Mrs. Frederick Watson; and by Mrs. Emily Long in memory of Mrs. Nellie Sailer.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. James O. Lyman.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—You and your Prayer Group have been praying for the recovery from rheumatic fever for my eight year old granddaughter, Donna Crosley. We were very happy today to have the doctor declare an almost complete healing with no heart damage, and she may return to school next week. I thank you with all my heart.

—Mrs. Jessie M. Derry (Danvers, Mass.)

BEFORE THE PLAY IS OVER

Howard Thurman tells of an extremely beautiful and gifted girl in his High School class who contracted a fatal illness. There was nothing the doctors could do for her. He recalls, "The last time I saw her we discussed the whole matter of her imminent death. She said, "Now I'll tell you, Howard, how I feel about it. I feel as I did when I was a very little girl and went to a play at Church with my mother, and we had to go home before the play was over."

How very often this happens—someone whom we know and love, or young President in the full vigor of manhood, has to leave before the story is finished, before they see their dream come true. What does a Christian say when someone has to go home before the play is over?

First, the Christian dares to believe that Jesus told the truth—that life is eternal, that "the play" is never over. There is so much of living to be done that it can never be finished, even in eight or nine decades! There is so much of beauty and adventure that one can only begin to take in a little of it in one human life. We have only begun to understand how to live, when we leave this earth. There must be a chance to do it beyond! It is not difficult to believe in eternal life once one has tasted the wonder of life lived in growing obedience to Christ. Such living is so everlastingly worthwhile that one can believe it to be the beginning, here, of life that goes on forever.

Second, the Christian remembers that the early Christians were known as the people "of the Way"—the people who lived a certain way, the way Jesus lived. They were not the people who had achieved some definite goal, and had "arrived". From the beginning, Christians have been recognized as people "on the Way", traveling a road that Jesus Christ opened before them. He had said, "I am the Way"—follow Me! In the light of Jesus' teaching, the play is never "over." The swift, exciting play of life on earth is over, one day, but we dare to believe that it is only the beginning.

When the Rector was a boy, he loved mountain-climbing. There were certain long climbs, where, suddenly, you came to a far view, over hill and dale, and you paused, drinking in the beauty of it. Then you went on, to another pausing-place, to a still wider view, to distant, pale blue ranges. But there is more ahead, so you kept on to a spot where you looked off more than eighty miles and saw a great city. Then you turned again to the trail and climbed on. There was more ahead. In God's world, along the climbing way, there always will be more ahead!

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Church of the Good Shepherd in Scranton, Penna. on the evenings of May 23rd, 24th and 25th.

DELICIOUS LUNCHEON — AND BARGAIN SALE

On Wednesday and Thursday, May 26th and 27th from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. Luncheon served all day. On sale you will find lovely silk scarfs, beautiful wool scarfs, warm and comfy bed jackets, bric-a-brac that will make your eyes sparkle, lovely china, dresses and good shoes (if you're the right size for them). All these articles are of the finest quality, both new and slightly used. First come, first served. ALL ARE BARGAINS! Bring your friends. They will thank you for your thoughtfulness. The proceeds are for the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing. Chairman: Mrs. R. Douglas Cole; the Co-Chairman: Miss Elizabeth Hawley.

A traveler was marooned in a small town because of a landslide caused by heavy rain, which was still falling in torrents after three days. Looking out of the window of the restaurant, the man remarked to the waitress: "This is like the 'flood'".

"The what?" she asked.

"The 'Flood'" he replied. "Surely you have heard about the great flood and Noah and the Ark."

"Mister", she replied, "I haven't seen a paper for four days."

NEGLIGENCE — I never cut my neighbor's throat. My neighbor's purse I never stole. I never spoiled his home or lands. But God have mercy on my soul. For I am haunted night and day by all the deeds I have not done. O unattempted loveliness! O costly valor, never won!—Marguerite Wilkinson.

The Prelude: "Concerto in D Major for Solo Trumpet and Organ"..Giuseppi Torelli
THE SILENT MEDITATION: O God, with gratitude we remember our Christian heritage; others have labored, and we have entered into their labors. We thank Thee for occasions when we may share the treasury of our love and experience with those in need. We rejoice in Thy good gifts, the tender mercies and loving kindness that have attended our ways. With shame we confess our frequent failure. Often we have withheld service we might have given; often we have passed by on the other side; often we have proved faithless. Accept our penitence. Give us new heart for the new day, fresh stimulus for greater fidelity; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: "Unfold, Ye Portals" .....Gounod

Unfold, ye portals everlasting, with welcome to receive Him ascending on high! Behold the King of Glory! He mounts up through the sky, back to the heavenly mansions hasting; unfold, for Lo, the King comes nigh. But who is He, the King of Glory? He who death overcame, the Lord in battle mighty. Of hosts He is the Lord; of angels and of powers: the King of Glory is the King of the saints.

MR. ROGER BLACKBURN — Solo Trumpet

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Chapter #4 and Unit #4, Military Order of the Purple Heart; and the Philadelphia Chapter, American Gold Star Mothers.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Frederick Schmid, Jr.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I want you to know how much Patrick O'Neill has improved since your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for him. He has had multiple sclerosis since November, 1964 and at a low ebb until recently when he improved to such an extent that he is able to shave himself. Thank you for your wonderful work of healing through Jesus Christ our Lord.—Mary D. Wiemann (Manhasset, N.Y.)

The Rector's daughter, Jean, will be graduated from Susquehanna University on Monday, May 31st.

Remember The Church In Your Last Testament.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day was inaugurated in 1868 by General John A. Logan for the purpose of decorating the graves of Civil War veterans. Years have passed. There have been other Wars. Now the graves of American soldiers are scattered all over the world. Each lonely marker stands as a reminder that all we cherish has been preserved for us at great cost. The words of Jesus touch the heart on such a day as this: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

This week-end will be filled with festivity. There will be picnics. The beaches will be crowded. Many will go sailing. Some will try fishing. Others will play golf. In the midst of these activities, let us find time to remember. Cicero reminds us, "Memory is the treasury and guardian of all things." And let us remember with gratitude, for surely if we are an ungrateful people we are an impoverished people.

Roy L. Smith sets the mood for Memorial Day. "And no man has ever been independent; every man has leaned upon the past. Every liberty we enjoy has been bought at the cost of martyr's blood; every achievement of the race has been made at the cost of incredible toil. There is not a privilege nor an opportunity that modern society grants to us that is not the product of other men's labors. We drink every day from wells that we have not dug; we warm by fires we have not kindled; we live by liberties we have not won; we are protected by institutions we have not set up. Our Churches are built upon the rocks that have been put in place by martyrs of the ages past. Our governments rest upon the foundations cemented in place by the blood of soldiers who tracked their way, bare-foot, through icy battle fields or over burning sands. Our courts are reared upon the bodies of those who died for freedom. No man liveth unto himself; all the past has invested in him."

We wish to express our thanks to these contributors to the Diocesan Campaign for All Saints' Hospital and Episcopal Church Center: Miss Hazel L. Bainbridge, Elsie Dahl, Mrs. B. H. Downward, Mary E. Duffy, Mrs. C. Fuerst, Mr. Clarence Garrett, Frances Tinsley Kalich, M. J. LaBriola, Mrs. J. Ludlow, E. Mangold, Mrs. J. M. Moore, Mr. Joseph Neiss, M. E. Shinn, Mrs. Julia Sioussat, Steelton Lions, Nicholas L. Todd, Miss Beatrice L. Van Sciver. There were 10 anonymous givers.

RECTORY LAWN PARTY

The Women of St. Stephen's, Morning and Evening Branches, will hold their Annual Get-Together at the Rectory on Saturday, June 5th. (Rain date June 12th). The Manayunk train leaving Penn Suburban Station at 11:06 will be met at Cynwyd. Bus 44, along Market Street, will take you near the Rectory. Just ask for directions to 121 Lodges Lane.

STATISTICAL MEDITATION

For the first time since 1940, the total rate of growth of the Episcopal Church, which was 1%, fell below the general population increase, which was 1.4%. So the Church's growth rate last year was 5/7 of the population increase. We need to ask ourselves, Why?, and, what can be done about it.

If we had to single out one particular failure on the part of the Episcopal Church, in our judgement, has most to do with the Church's falling behind in growth, we should have to call it a failure on the part of the Church's members, as a whole — laity as well as clergy — to tell the world what the Lord has done and is doing for them through the sacraments, faith, and fellowship of their beloved Church. Episcopalians do love their Church. But in practice their love seems to take a possessive rather than a sharing turn. Compared to Baptists, Adventists, Mormons, Methodists, Roman Catholics, Jehovah's Witnesses, and almost any other religious body one might think of, Episcopalians tend to be almost as communicative as clams about their religion. We are certain that this fact accounts in large measure for the Episcopal Church's failure to grow as it should.

Evangelism begins at home, in your own neighborhood, your own job. And evangelism is a person-to-person operation; it is Andrew bringing his brother, Peter, to meet the Lord in the midst of His people. On this note endeth our Statistical Meditation.

ONLY ONE WAY OUT

Philosophy says, THINK your way out.
Indulgence says, DRINK your way out.
Politics says, SPEND your way out.
Science says, INVENT your way out.
Industry says, WORK your way out.
Communism says, STRIKE your way out.
Fascism says, BLUFF your way out.
Militarism says, FIGHT your way out.
The Bible says, PRAY your way out.
Christ says, I am the Way.

The Prelude: Sonatina, "God's Time Is Best" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: God of all peace and consolation, who didst gloriously fulfill the great promise of the Gospel by sending down the Holy Ghost on the Day of Pentecost, to establish the Church as the house of His continual Presence and Power among men: mercifully grant unto us, we beseech Thee, the same gift of the Spirit, to renew, illumine, refresh, and sanctify our souls, to be over us and around us like the light and dew of heaven, and to be in us a well of water springing up into everlasting life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 370 ..... Graefenberg

The Kyrie #708, Hymnal ..... Willan

The Anthem: Father of Heaven, Whose Love Profound ..... Willan

Father of Heaven, whose love profound a ransom for our souls hath found, Before Thy throne we sinners bend; To us Thy pardn'g love extend. Almighty Son, Incarnate Word, Our Prophet, Priest, Redeemer, Lord, before Thy throne we sinners bend, to us Thy saving grace extend. Eternal Spirit by whose breath the soul is raised from sin and death; before Thy throne we sinners bend; to us Thy quickning power extend. Thrice holy! Father, Spirit, Son, Mysterious God-head, Three in One, before Thy throne we humbly bend; grace, pardon, life,—to us extend. Amen.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Elmer Carll.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

Dear Dr. Price:—About a month ago I wrote asking prayer for the healing of my husband's eyes. He had glaucoma and cataract. When the bandage was removed he began to see objects and could distinguish colors, and now, this morning, he can see figures in the wall paper. Our doctor in Erie could scarcely understand it. We want to thank your Prayer Fellowship for their prayers. It is indeed a miracle which God has granted.—Mrs. E. W. Lohmann (Ashtabila, Ohio)

THE POWER OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

As you read "Acts", you find that soon after Whitsunday (The Day of Pentecost), the early Christians began to be stand-out people. They had been "ordinary", everyday people, not especially distinguished for anything. Now we find them standing before the angry High Priest, so "blodly" that Annas remembered that "they had been with Jesus." These men actually reminded people of Jesus! Gamaliel advised the council to let them alone—if God was not with them, they would quickly be forgotten; but if God was with them, the council would find itself fighting against God. We find Stephen standing, actually accusing the council of resisting God's Spirit as their fathers had before them. We see Barnabas and Paul healing a helpless cripple so wondrously that the people wanted to worship them as Gods.

Suddenly these "nobodys" had become "Somebodys"! In less than three hundred years, these "nobodys" overcame the mighty Roman Empire without drawing a sword. What had happened?

It was really very simple. Jesus had bidden His friends to wait at Jerusalem, quietly, expectantly . . . "You will receive power when the Holy Ghost comes upon you; and you will bear witness for Me in Jerusalem, and all over Judea and Samaria, and away to the ends of the world." They had listened to Jesus, and obeyed His command. Wonderful things always happen when people do that. They always have. They still do, today.

Gathered together at Jerusalem one day, the waiting friends of Jesus found themselves filled with new power they had never known before. They were so amazed and so overflowing with joy that their enemies accused them of being drunk. They tried to put their joy into words, and no words could say what they wanted to say. The Risen Christ was alive in them! Nothing could stop them from telling the world of this Christ who had died to show them the Way into eternal life, beginning here and now. The power of the Holy Spirit in the early Christians changed the course of history.

Perhaps we twentieth-century Christians have been too careful, too cautious—wanting to keep our "dignity." Perhaps we have not taken Jesus so seriously that we have waited, sure that He would keep His promise to us, and visit us with His mighty power. But one thing is sure. Wherever a few people gather, sure of God's great power and wisdom, and humbly wait for Him to give them His task, and the strength to do it, miracles still happen. They could happen in your household, your prayer group, your Church. God forever waits for us to be ready and willing. He does the rest!

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, our Parish Custodian of the UNITED THANK OFFERING reports that 46 contributors gave $220.50 towards the Spring In-Gathering Offering.

You are invited to an Evening With Gertrude Behanna, author and lecturer; Book: "The Late Liz", Recording: "God Isn't Dead", in the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, Wednesday, June 23rd at 8 P.M.

The Burd School, 4226 Baltimore Ave., will have its Commencement Exercises on Sunday, June 6th at 2:30 P.M. — Have you ever visited our School?

There will be a Vestry Meeting following the morning Service on June 6th.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Walter Becker, Rita J. Clark, W. Gordon Hannaway, Mrs. Mary Rufer, Mrs. Alice Stowe, J. Lewis Armstrong, Mrs. Gertrude J. Steele.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing on the Sundays of July and August at 11 O'Clock in St. Stephen's Church.

A Healing Mission is not confined to the healing of physical disease alone, important as that is. Jesus concerned Himself just as much with emotional, mental and social problems as with physical sickness. His healing touch is needed in every department of life.

Thus, whoever you are, whatever your care or anxiety, what ever your problem, Jesus is waiting to heal you or the situation. ALL ARE WELCOME. The Laying-On-Of-Hands will be administered at all services.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Our Father Who Art In Heaven" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Our Father, day by day we look to Thee for the help Thou dost bestow. In times of temptation, uphold us by Thy strength. In times of fear and loneliness, give us Thy power and the sense of Thy companionship. In times of doubt and uncertainty, give us Thy light and Thy guidance. Grant that nothing may shake our confidence in Thy love, or cause us to doubt the final triumph of Thy purposes for all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—This note is to inform you of another of God's miracles. Your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for the Rev. Douglas Loweth who had an attack of kidney stones. The X-ray exposed a large stone blocking the tube. Several days later, and many, many prayers later, the X-ray showed only sediments remained. I thank you on his behalf.—Mrs. Ira Hardman (McLean, Virginia)

We gratefully acknowledge these contributions to THE DIOCESAN CAMPAIGN: Mr. Elmer S. Carll, Helen M. Volz, Mrs. Olga B. Carlile, Elsie Dahl, Gladys K. Moore, Beatrice L. Van Sciver, Dr. Alfred W. Price.

Also we want to thank these contributors to the I. Smith Raspin Memorial Fund: Mr. Edwin S. Heins, Mr. Peter Decker, Rev. W. Gordon Hannaway.

THE MAN AT THE DOOR

"Someone is at the door; will you let him in?" That is what we say when the door bell rings, or a knock comes. "Someone is at the door; will you let him in?" And usually we do let him in, and are glad to have him in. So writes Arthur Arouner, Jr. of Minneapolis, Minnesota. He continues, "But I want to talk about the Man who still is standing at the door, the man we have left outside—the man America has left outside, the man the Church has left outside. . . . He has been there for years, knocking.

We wait so long for the Lord to come. We are glad to have Him in Church or home. But we forget that Christ never comes as we have seen Him in pictures. He comes in some lowly way as a child that is lost, or as a man who is broken, or as a woman in the cold. I want to ask you today if He could not also come to us as a man who is black. Because the man who is knocking at the Church's door is a black man . . . The man outside will not force his way in. He only knocks. But He keeps knocking. . . . The crime is in the waiting. The crime is in saying, "We do not have to open. Someday it is bound to come. Some day we will be forced. But not yet. And, until that day, we wait."

These are hard words—hard to "take" and harder to brush aside. Deep in our hearts we remember that Jesus loves Samaritans and held them up to the prejudiced Hebrews as people to love and respect and to accept as friends. He looked with love upon the people shut out by someone who had drawn a circle and left them on the outside. He was forever drawing a larger circle which took them in. This was His teaching—and we call Him "Lord" and "Master".

"Behold, I stand at the door, and knock; if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him and he with Me." John wrote those words to the Church at Laodicea, and also wrote to this rich, self-satisfied Church, "I know all your ways; you are neither hot nor cold. How I wish you were either hot or cold! but because you are luke warm, neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of my mouth. You say, "How rich I am! and How well I have done! I have everything I want in the world."

But, all the time, the Man at the door is still knocking, knocking. And it is Jesus who stands outside that fast-closed door, Jesus with a skin that is black.

The Rector's daughter, Jean, will do volunteer work with families and children of Covington, Kentucky, for seven weeks this Summer, and in September will begin her teaching career in Music, in Reno, Nevada.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL — CARD PARTY — The Chapel for the Hard of Hearing is giving this special treat affair in the Community House on Tuesday, June 15th at 8 P.M. DONATION $1.00. EVERYONE IS WELCOME.

MEASURE OF OUR IMPORTANCE

Meister Eckhart, a German Mystic of the 13th century, was correct in his contention, "God can no more do without us than we can do without Him." We need to understand the measure of our importance. This is not an invitation to step into the quicksands of false pride. It is a call to consider our true nature, good and evil, generous and selfish, cowardly and noble.

John Mason Brown, reflecting on the modern theatre, wrote in the 40th Anniversary Issue of the Saturday Review, "I know that I for one am sick of the theatre of the living dead, of derelicts, spongers, drug addicts, illusion-seekers in brothels, and conversationalists trapped in sand or emerging from ashcans. At sixty-four I am tired of the playwrights who invite us to visit only the freaks in the side show and never permit us to see the acts under the big tent. . . . My search is for a more complete truth than we are now getting. I want man good and bad at the same time, with all the co-existing contradictions of his nature. I resent having the theatre offer me a fraction of truth, pretending that it is the whole truth."

All of this means that our belief in God needs to be paired with an affirmation about man. History has not left man emptied of values and stripped of virtues. To be sure, man has wallowed in the mud; and yet, stars are in his eyes. He is a villain, and he is a hero. We have clinically exposed the evil nature of man and left him naked emotionally and spiritually, without either dignity or self-respect. We have announced our abnormalities and paraded our perversions. We have gone about as far as we can go. We have done this in our literature and in the theatre. We should now declare that the skeleton is not the whole of man, and the freak in the side show cannot represent the main act that is under the big tent. That main act is man, as a child of God, working out his destiny under the big tent of God's Love and Law.

The Prelude: "Antophons" ..... Marcel Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Father of all mercies! God of all comfort! We bring before Thee the record of our lives, stained with the memories of sin and failure. Be patient with us, for if Thou turn Thy face from us, we are undone. Cast us not from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from us. Call us back to the high and holy path, Thou Shepherd of our souls. Place upon us once more Thy blessed yoke; set us face to face with our unaccomplished tasks, and we will prove our penitence by the constancy of our wills in the strength of Thy forgiving grace. THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Four years ago, when we lived in New Jersey, my daughter, Joanne was deathly ill of an inoperable, malignant brain tumor which caused blindness and considerable brain damage. We put her name on your Prayer List and during the healing service at your Church on March 16th, 1961, her healing started. It was no sudden healing, but gradually over the past four years her symptoms have disappeared and her health has returned. We praise God for it. The doctors had given no hope for her recovery.—Mrs. John E. Thompson (Green Lake, Wisconsin).

CHAPEL FOR THE HARD OF HEARING — WOMEN'S AID: There will be no meetings of the Aid during the month of July. The next meeting is scheduled for August 3rd at 3:00 P.M.

TOUGH MIND AND A SOFT HEART

Too often the Master has been pictured in art as a "Gentle Jesus", a soft pleasant Person who would never say anything rough to anyone. But such a picture of Jesus is false. Read the record of His life. His own mother and His blood-brothers came to Him, to see Him one day, when He was teaching in a house. The house was crowded, and they could not get in, so they sent word to Him asking Him to come out. (They thought that He was out of His mind, and wanted Him to come home, and quiet down.) He listened to the message and replied, "Who is My mother? Who are My brothers?" Then looking around at those who were sitting in a circle about Him, He said, "Here are My mother and My brothers. Whoever does the will of God is My brother, and My sister, My mother." Those are hard words — but they are Jesus' words.

If you want to see how tough a mind Jesus had, then read some of the passages where He slashed the Scribes and Pharisees with His words that were as hard as a diamond drill. He called them hypocrites, blind guides to the blind, white-washed grays, dirty drinking-cups polished on the outside, snakes. (Matthew 23:1-39.) There was nothing gentle about that talk!

He denounced His mother and brothers, and the Scribes and Pharisees, because they were setting themselves against God's will, against God's plan. For that reason, He was tough with them.

On the other hand, when He was looking down from the Cross, and saw His mother there, broken, despairing, hopeless, His heart was tender, and He bade His friend John to take her home and care for her. And when He, from the Cross, saw those miserable Scribes and Pharisees laughing, and heard their cruel, nasty jibes at His helplessness, He took pity on them as men too ignorant to know what they were doing. Who could be more soft-hearted than that? Think of Him with the woman taken in adultery, with the mad man from the tombs, with the children pressed close to Him in the crowd. You can see why He was tough, on other occasions — He was tough with some one who caused others to suffer and lose the way. When He could be, He was very kind.

Martin Luther King has pointed out that Jesus had a tough mind and a soft heart. Dare you let His tough mind and soft heart be in you?

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

SECOND SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67
The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 191-2

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "All Praise To Jesus' Hallowed Name" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We thank Thee, O God, for the beauty of Thy creation, for the wonders of earth and sea and sky. We thank Thee for the homes where love dwells, for the freedom which is ours in our blessed land, for the opportunities which surround us day by day as we work and play and pray and seek to serve our fellow men. Especially do we thank Thee for the revelation of Thyself through Jesus Christ our Lord, in whom we see the love which has surrounded us from birth, accompanies us in our daily labors, heals the wounds inflicted by life, ministers to our growth and character, enriches our joy, and assures us of the life eternal.

Processional Hymn 301 .....St. Denio

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

Psalm 122, Page 503

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #642, Hymnal

The Anthem: "Cast Thy Burden Upon The Lord" from Elijah .....Mendelssohn

Cast thy burden upon the Lord; and He shall sustain thee: He never will suffer the righteous to fall; He is at thy right hand. Thy mercy, Lord, is great, and far above the heavens. Let none be made ashamed that wait upon Thee.

The Sermon: "EXTRA ECCLESIAM NULLA SALUS" .....THE RECTOR

The Offering Hymn 334 .....Penitence

Recessional Hymn 498 .....Gardiner

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. Arthur C. Comby in memory of his parents.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. David L. German, III.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: Some time ago I asked prayers for Anthony Shay whose body was covered with psoriasis. He had received all the latest treatments for this ailment, with no improvement. His healing was slow but consistent, and today his body is completely clear. He is still in a state of wonderment. His entire attitude in his daily living has changed. Mr. Shay says he believes every word in your booklet on spiritual healing and is passing the lesson he has learned on to all who will listen. I thank you and the Prayer Fellowship for being the channels through which Christ can carry on His healing today.—Mariann Bergman (Pearl River, N.Y.)

During July and August the weekday services will consist of a preaching service on Wednesdays at 12:30 P.M. and the Holy Communion on Wednesdays at 5:30 P.M. and Fridays at 12:30 P.M.

The Rev. Dr. Stockman will conduct the Wednesday services during July and August. The Rev. Robert H. Stetler will conduct the Friday services during July and August.

OUR RELIGION IS A PERSON

The New English Translation of the New Testament gives the Bible passage as follows: "And great beyond all question is the mystery of our religion: He who was manifested in the Body, vindicated in the Spirit, seen by angels; who was proclaimed among the Nations, believed in throughout the whole world, glorified in high heaven."

E. Stanley Jones asks us to note the surprising statement, "Our religion: He . . ." We would have expected, "our religion: IF . . ." We would have thought of our religion as a system of belief and thought, special kinds of worship, special kinds of Churches; and we would have called this religion "IT".

But not so St. Paul, as he wrote to Timothy. Our religion is not a book of theology and rules and rites, like the old Jewish Law. Our religion is a Person, Jesus Christ. Salvation is not in any system, but in Christ. St. Paul kept saying, again and again, that we must live "in Christ." We are to live with our minds filled with the bigness of Christ, stretching our loves and our horizons wider and wider — as wide as God's mercy. We are to live with our hearts kindled with His warmth of compassion and tenderness. We are to make our decisions with His toughness that will not be easy on self or anyone else.

When we are "in Christ" we are at our best. More than that, we are better than our best, for we begin to have something of Him in our thinking and doing. When we are obeying Him, living in His commanding, we have a new power to go through any ordeal, to carry any load He gives us — nothing is too much for the Christ who has been welcomed within us, and is living inside our spirits.

If you get confused by some of the man-made doctrines and mixed-up human systems of religion, turn back to Him as you find Him in the New Testament, as you find Him in your heart. He is our religion, the One we trust, the Source of our strength, our Light through dark passages, the Bread that refreshes our hungry spirits. Systems may fail you. He will not.

"Our religion . . . He".

THE EPISCOPAL SERIES

The Rev. C. FitzSimons Allison is speaker for 12 weeks on The Episcopal Series of the Protestant Hour, starting July 18th over 525 national radio stations, including WFIL in Philadelphia.

We now have a plate affixed to the Church bearing the legend, "This Church was erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite."

HEALING MISSION

On the Sunday mornings in July and August the Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Stephen's Church at 11 A.M. The Mission, of course, is for all — not just for the sick! Here is a special opportunity for realizing the power of God in your life. Begin now to make your prayers in preparation for this Mission, and come to the services and join with many others who will kneel at the Altar Rail to talk with God about their problems. The Mission is a demonstration of the Gospel in action. THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED.

Because of the very disgraceful postal delivery in and around Philadelphia, and despite our constant complaints over the past few years, we have had finally to send more than half our weekly Bulletins under the first class postage in order that they may reach those in our suburban areas before Sunday. The remaining ones will continue to be sent under the third class mail. Something like 735 are mailed on Tuesday of each week.

The Bulletin is discontinued through July and August.

It would be a great help to us, if those who have not subscribed to the Bulletin, would send us a few dollars to help in this financial burden. An appeal envelope is sent out every January.

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY TTE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: God of all power, who knowest the goodness of our intentions and the weakness of our performance, we beseech Thee to strengthen our good purposes. Forbid that we should be satisfied with half measures, with half-finished tasks, with half-won victories. Let our purpose be ribbed with steel. Strengthen us to carry to completion the high endeavors of our hearts. We ask in the name of Him who accepted Gethsemane and shrank not from Calvary, even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 484 ..... Truro

The Kyrie, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: Immortal, Invisible ..... Thiman

Immortal, invisible, God only wise, In light inaccessible hid from our eyes, Most blessed, most glorious, the Ancient of Days, almighty, victorious, Thy great name we praise. Unresting, unhasting, and silent as light, Nor wanting nor wasting, Thou rulest in might; Thy justice like mountains high soaring above, Thy clouds which are fountains of goodness and love. To all, life Thou givest — to both great and small; In all life Thou livest, the true life of all; We blossom and flourish as leaves on the tree, and wither and perish — but nought changeth Thee. Great Father of glory, pure Father of Light, Thine angels adore Thee, all veiling their sight; All laud we would render: O help us to see 'Tis only the splendor of light hideth Thee. Amen.

The Sermon: "LABOR DAY SERMON" ..... THE RECTOR

Offertory Hymn 458 ..... St. Margaret

Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

Kneeling Hymn 205 ..... Oblation

Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scotish Chant

Recessional Hymn 489 ..... Sicilian Mariners

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Walter B. Walker in loving memory of her husband.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

SPREAD ABROAD THE TENTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE ORDER OF ST. LUKE — which begins next Sunday. Bishops, Clergymen, Doctors and Laymen will bring helpful addresses on the Church's Ministry of Healing.

We need the help of members of the congregation to serve as Ushers.

The old Hymnals of St. Stephen's have been given to the following Churches:

150 — St. Alban's Mission, Sinking Spring, Penna.
50 — St. Michael's Mission, Sanibel Island, Florida
125 — St. Martin's-in-the-Highlands, Jacksonville, Florida

On August 1st there were flowers provided for our Altar by Mr. and Mrs. John Pintavalle in memory of their parents: Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pintavalle and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Borsella.

NO FENCE LINE

St. Paul was right when he said nothing could stand between the love of Christ and His people. For the love of Christ has a way of shining over all obstacles, even the stiff and unchanging rules of the Church! That Love, like the Stars of many years ago — shines high in the hearts of all wise and humble people, and nothing can cut the Light off from them. Nothing can stop that Epiphany ("shining-forth") from reaching expectant hearts.

St. Paul declared that not even things present, "can separate us from the Love of Christ"; and Margaret Applegarth points out that "There is nothing more present than a fence. There it stands, announcing to the world that something inside is being shut in; and something outside, being shut out. And if that fence is around a Catholic Cemetery, it means that all the earth inside is consecrated ground, only for those who have died "in the faith". It was that way in Poland also, of course."

But one day a Quaker came to town. He was a gentle sort — so gentle that, even though at first he could speak no word of Polish, yet everyone knew exactly what he meant. He had a sensitive, sure understanding of those who were in need; and when a shipment of clothing came in, he always managed to put that clothing onto the shivering bodies of those who needed it the most, and not the pretending bodies of those who asked most loudly. He knew who needed shoes; and whose stomach was really empty. He never played favorites, or saved the best suits and shoes for his special friends. He never seemed to notice the color of a man's skin or which language he spoke. He just looked for Christ's brothers and sisters who hungered and thirsted, and trembled with the cold. And with loving hands he fed and refreshed and clothed him.

So it was a calamity terrible beyond words when he died. It might have been from mal-nutrition; or from some vicious germ which attacked him when he was exhausted from working endless hours for his friends. Any way, his body had stopped breathing — and they wept, broken-hearted. They prepared his body lovingly for burial; and then, suddenly, with a jolting shock, it dawned on them that a Quaker was not a Roman Catholic; and so he could not be buried in their beloved Cemetery, the only one in the village. They reasoned long and earnestly with the priest, but he shook his head sadly — it was the rule of the Church that you could not bury such a man in consecrated ground. Broken, mourning, the people buried the body of their friend just as close to the forbidden fence-line as possible. But they went home that night with heavy hearts. After darkness had fallen that night, however, the priest himself went out, and moved the fence-line over far enough to include the new grave. For the rule of the Church was definite enough about burying people in consecrated ground; but it said nothing about moving fence-lines! So the people took courage, and found a song of praise and thanksgiving again in their hearts. For the fence had not been able to stop the Love of Christ.

No fence-line can ever cut off that shining Love! Look up, patiently and expectantly, into the dark night of your heart. You will find the Star of Christ's Love shining there, over all obstructions. God, through Christ, lighting your way — and even shining through you to others.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: Stories of the help gained from your Prayer Fellowship keep coming to me. A beautician in Springfield whose mother-in-law was gravely ill sent in a prayer card I gave her, and now, months later, the mother is alive and quite well. The beautician now tells her customers to call St. Stephen's when they or a friend are ill or in trouble.

A lady whose sister in York had major surgery for cancer later told me that right after the operation the patient was so gravely ill they feared for her life. The day this lady called you for prayers the sister began to rally, and in four days was allowed to go home, well on the road to complete recovery.

I called to ask your group for prayers for Marion Gaskill, of Swarthmore, who had been told after many tests, that she faced open-heart surgery. She was plainly terrified. After your prayers started she went back into the hospital where it was found the condition could be controlled by medicine.

A lady alcoholic (an arrested case) went into your healing service as soon as she heard of it, induced other members of her family to go, and derives inspiration and comfort there.

My husband, nearly dead of alcoholism, now is not drinking, and is working very hard — all accomplished through the power of prayer. God bless you all.

—Mrs. A. T. L. (Wallingford, Pa.)

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER & SERMON BY THE REV. CANON CLIFTON A. BEST, D.D., President, American Evangelistic Association.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: Prelude to "L'Enfant Prodigue" ..... Debussy

THE SILENT MEDITATION: O Lord Jesus Christ, who art the Eternal Wisdom of the Father, we beseech Thee to assist us with Thy heavenly grace, that we may be blessed in all our work, and above all things may attain the knowledge of Thee, whom to know is life eternal; and that, according to Thy most holy example, we may ever be found going about amongst our fellow men, doing good, healing the sick, and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom of Heaven; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 282 ..... Lauda Anima

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 10:1-24
THE REV. E. P. LECKIE, Associate Warden of Canada

The Anthem: The Omnipotence ..... Schubert
Great is Jehovah, the Lord, for heaven and earth testify to His great power! 'Tis heard in the fierce raging storm, in the torrent's loud thundering roar; 'Tis heard in the rustling of leaves in the forest, seen in the waving of golden fields, in the loveliest flowers' gaudy array, 'Tis seen in the myriad stars of heaven. Fierce it sounds in the thunder's loud roll, and flames in the lightning's bright quivering flash. Yet clearer thy throbbing heart to thee proclaims Jehovah's power; the Lord God Almighty. Look thou praying to heaven, and hope for grace and for mercy. Great is Jehovah, the Lord!

The Sermon ..... THE REV. CANON CLIFTON A. BEST, D.D.

Offertory Hymn 426 ..... Aughton

Recessional Hymn 517 ..... St. Matthew

LITTLE PINK PILLS

Fingering three diamond rings, she sits before me,
Sleek, fur-coated, scented;
Her words arrow out; hard words, yet smooth with frequent usage:—
Doctor, my stomach aches,
Every time I eat it aches,
Lamb chokes in my throat.
That diet you gave me—it simply doesn't help,
And just look at this rash . . .
(The son-in-law again)

And doctor, my blood pressure is going up,
I know it is, I feel it;
And my heart skips beats—sometimes it stops altogether;
I'm so dead tired I can hardly get up in the morning . . .
(Her husband is spending more and more time away from home)

And doctor, I can't sleep at night, sometimes all night
I lie awake, and my brain goes round and round,
And even those pills you gave me aren't helping any more, what with the neighbour's dogs barking—they have Great Danes you know—and they haven't done a single thing about it, although I have complained to the police twice . . .
(The neighbour's wife made the social register this year, and her name was dropped)

And doctor, why do I have to have so many sick headaches?
I don't do a single thing to deserve them, and you know it.
My head aches all the time, although actually it doesn't ache right this minute.
I tried once to take up social service, but it's no use.
How can I do anything when I'm so weak? And feel so sick?
(She despises the poor. She was poor herself once)

And doctor, my neck gets pains in it. Sometimes I have to stay in bed all day.
And that makes my back ache.
(Funny I didn't notice it before. She has dyed her hair black)

Doctor, what can you give me?

* * * *

God Almighty, I wish You'd take over this case. Take it off my hands. Tell this wretched patient that it is resentment and not food; that it is hate and not heart trouble; that it is pride and not Great Danes; that it is selfishness and not social service; that it is fear and not vitamin deficiency. I mean it.
But tell her more.
Tell her that religion will make her over.
Tell her that love will turn her into a vigorous woman, so beautiful that she won't need make-up, so calm that she won't need sleeping powders, so strong that she won't need me. Above all, that she won't need me!
God forgive me as I reach for my pad and write another prescription: Rx. Two pills with water three times a day after meals.
Tell her these things, Lord, tell her, but I warn You ahead of time, she won't listen.

—MIRIAM DRURY

THE BEST MEDICINE

Dr. Hyslop, one of Britain's greatest physicians, said to the British Medical Association: "The best medicine which my practice has discovered is prayer. As one whose whole life has been concerned with the sufferings of the mind, I would state that of all hygienic measures to counteract disturbed sleep, depression of spirits and all the miserable sequels of a distressed mind, I would undoubtedly give first place to the simple habit of prayer. It is of the highest importance, merely from a physical point of view, to teach children to hold daily communion with God. Such a habit does more to quiet the spirit and strengthen the soul to overcome mere incidental emotionalism than any other therapeutic agency known to man."

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: "Ye Sweet Retreat" ..... Wm. Boyce

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Our Father, day by day we look to Thee for the help Thou dost bestow. In times of temptation, uphold us by Thy strength. In times of fear and loneliness, give us Thy power and the sense of Thy companionship. In times of doubt and uncertainty, give us Thy light and Thy guidance. Grant that nothing may shake our confidence in Thy love or cause us to doubt the final triumph of Thy purposes for all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Almost a year ago I wrote you for prayers for my son Michael, who was so completely neurotic that we lived in constant fear and tension. Now, I am so happy to tell you that he is a different young man. He has an interest in life and has successfully held the same job for almost a year. He is happy and normal.

—Mrs. H. Y. (Davenport, Iowa)

KNOWING WHAT TO DO

Robert Frost has a poem about a boy who went to the Zoo with a burning-glass in his pocket. When he came to the monkeys, it occurred to him that it would be fun to stir them up; so he whipped out his burning-glass and held it so that "he made the sun a pin point on the nose of first one, then the other, until it brought a look of puzzled dimness to their eyes." But the youngster was not as smart as he thought he was, for "there was a sudden flash of arm, a snatch, and the glass was the monkey's", not the boy's. They retired back-cage, "and instituted an investigation . . . though without the required insight. They bit the glass . . . they broke the handle and the binding off it, and, none the wiser, frankly gave it up . . . and hid it in their bedding-straw. . . . it's knowing what to do with things that counts."

Most of the world's woes are due to not knowing what to do with things. Money, for instance. Thoughtful, right-minded people agree that the first and simplest God-give use of money is to care for the needs of a family. Yet hosts of people pour millions of dollars into race-track windows — like the young man the Rector met once on a Saturday night, who had started from home with his pay check and two shopping bags, to buy Sunday dinner for his family. But he had gone to the horse races instead, and was now going home with empty wallet and empty shopping-bags. "It's knowing what to do with things that counts."

Many non-Christians are asking, "What is the Christian religion for? What do you do with it?" When the disciples asked Jesus a question like that, He answered, "Ye are the salt of the earth." In other words, by trusting God, and obeying His loving will, you become easier to live with. Your faith makes your life into the salt of the earth, giving the flavor of living back to people for whom life has grown dull and dreary. Your faith can restore courage to frightened people, and make life taste good to them again. Your Sunday worship, right now, can settle a deep peace in your heart which you can pass on to vexed, hurrying, straining human beings.

A well-known preacher dashed off the train as it pulled into the Grand Central Station and luckily secured a red-cap porter right away. He had two very heavy bags. "Please bring them quickly", he snapped, "I'm in a terrible hurry"; and he dashed ahead up the platform. Looking back, he saw the red-cap trudging along with the heavy truck, and shouted, "Come on — come on — I'm late!" The patient porter looked at the impatient preacher, and said, "Where you steamin' for, brother? That ain't no way to make time. Just walk on ahead and I'll come right along, and it won't be two minutes between us." The minister slowed down and walked beside the porter, who turned on one of those big smiles with which Negro men are often blessed, and said, "I'se living de relaxed life. Take it easy, boss. You can do a lot in a short time if you just go along easy with it. Besides, you'll live longer." "Thanks, my friend," the preacher said, rather humbly. "I happen to be a minister, and will preach this to my congregation. Do you go to Church?" "Yes, indeed, son, I sure does." (And here he finished the preacher completely!) "And I tries to practice what I hears there." It's knowing what to do with things that counts!

The Evening Branch of The Women of St. Stephen's is changing its meeting time to the 3rd Sunday of each month, starting September 19th, in the Community House after the morning service. Coffee and cookies will be served, and a program follows. The life of St. Paul will be reviewed during the Winter. All are welcome to join.

A minister was out golfing. He took a swing at the ball and it sailed off into a clump of trees in the rough. A moment later a big bird flew out of the trees, circled the ground and dropped the ball into the cup. Looking up, the minister muttered: "Please, Father — I'd rather do it myself."

A PRAYER FOR ALL STRANGERS WHO DROP INTO ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH ON WEEK-DAYS:

Dear Heavenly Father, we place into Thy compassionate hands these persons who pause in this lovely place and ask our prayers. Though strangers to us, they are Thy children, even as we; and though we will not know what befalls them, do Thou keep them in Thy care wherever they may be, and bring them closer to Thee, duly thankful for Thy mercies; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The Prelude: "Song of Peace" ..... Langlais

THE SILENT MEDITATION: O God, who hast taught us in Thy Word that we are members one of another, we bring to Thee the record of our lives, stained with the memories of offenses against our brethren. We confess before Thee the indifference that has wounded the brokenhearted, the cynicism that has frozen the enthusiasm of youth, the cruelty that has checked the gentle confidence of age, and all our sins of indolence and neglect. Grant us Thy pardon. Teach us so far as lies in our power to make amends. And grant us wisdom to choose whatever things are true, honorable, just, pure, lovely, and of good report; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Anthem: Ye Holy Angels Bright ..... Thiman

Ye holy angels bright, who wait at God's right hand, or through the realms of light stream at your Lord's command, assist our song, for else the theme too high doth seem for mortal tongue. Ye blessed souls at rest, who ran this earthly race, and now from care released, behold the Savior's face, God's praises sound, as in His sight, with sweet delight, ye do abound. Ye saints who toil below, adore your heavenly King, and onward as ye go some joyful anthem sing; take what He gives, and praise Him still thro' good or ill who ever lives. My soul, bear thou thy part, triumph in God above. And with a well tuned heart sing thou the songs of love: let all thy days till life shall end, whate'er He send, be filled with praise. Amen.

THE MEEK

In the Beatitudes Jesus points out who are the deeply happy people in life. His list is very different from that of "the world"!

Many of us have found "blessed (blest) are the meek" the most difficult to grasp. Because Jesus said this, we are confident that it is true. But the word "meek" puzzles and confuses us. Joel Heard gives us new, clear light. He takes the Greek word for "meek", "paraos", and asks what that word was used to describe.

"The Greeks used it for wild animals which had been tamed, trained; the wild horses which had been made able to work with them." There is, therefore, nothing weak or spiritless about the meek, as Jesus thought of them. Rather, they were those with vast energy which, instead of exploding and doing damage, is now channeled and directed. The trained are those whose powerful impulses have been channeled into understanding and helpful service.

Who are "the meek", then? They are the hot-tempered man who has "broken" that temper, the disciplined ex-drinker in "Alcoholics Anonymous", the former "fatty" who has gotten his appetite under control. Some of you know, from experience.

There was Frad (which is not his name), a young Negro who lived in the ghetto of a great city in the U.S.A., eager for his race to find freedom and full citizenship now. One day he looked out of his second-story window and, to his horror, saw three dark-skinned youths knifing an old man, until he fell. Angry at their disgracing their race, he shouted at them to stop. They laughed at him. With fury raging within, he went to his closet, took out a loaded rifle, and went to the window and shouted again, pointing the rifle at them. Looking up, they fled for their lives, and Fred's finger itched to pull the trigger. But something stronger than his fury stopped him. When he had seen that the old man was taken to a hospital, he returned to his room, and sat there, shaking with fear. He knew that the hate and anger within him was too strong for him to control in the days ahead. He had a wild and powerful desire to kill. As he sat there, praying, there came into his mind the name of a man who has opened a way for many into a life disciplined under Jesus Christ. He went to that man, turned over his life to be under Christ. Today, Fred is one of the "Meek", his inner forces directed by the Light of the World.

Any one who has wild horses within can find the same peace of heart that Fred did!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—A month ago I requested your prayers for my husband. His check-up by the doctor disclosed a strange mass on his right side. Bill did not want surgery so we decided to enlist the prayers of your fellowship. A strange thing happened. Several doctors had felt the same mass, so Bill entered the hospital for further tests and X-rays. The mass simply could not be found, nor could it be felt. Many thanks for your intercessory prayers.—Doris Belcher (Memphis, Tenn.)

Mrs. Price is in need of a helper and teacher to assist her in the Sunday School which meets in the Community House at 11 O'Clock.

HEALING CONFERENCE

Over 7,000 persons attended the various sessions of the four day Conference of Healing in St. Stephen's Church. There were 18 speakers and 38 lectures on the subject of the Church's Ministry of Healing. Thirty-two Denominations, sixteen Church Organizations, twenty-four States and six over-seas countries were represented. 108 clergy, 25 nurses and 12 physicians were present.

The Rector wishes to express his utter gratitude to the many workers behind the scenes, who made possible the smooth running of this, the Tenth International Conference on Healing. There was the chicken dinner prepared by our Verger and his good wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton H. Johnson; and served to 160, the capacity of our auditorium. Mrs. Keller and her fine committee served this dinner and also fed 1500 people who crowded into the three social hours. Miss Bainbridge and her dedicated workers did a superb job of ushering and answering questions, and being helpful to our guests. The Rector has been privileged to share in many wonderful miracles of God's grace, but the greatest miracle in his experience, is the annual one that takes place here in September when an inner-city parish with no man-power to speak of, and whose membership is so scattered, is able to carry on this ambitious project.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing on the evenings of October 3rd, 4th and 5th at St. Bartholomew's Church, Cherry Hill, N. J.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Come, Sweet Peace" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Bless us today, O Father, with the realization of Thy presence. As we meet in humble paths of service, grant us that consciousness of Thy challenge to each of our lives, which shall redeem any labor from seeming trivial, and so change for us the tragedy and chaos of the world without Thee, into a prolonged field of honor; trhough Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 289 ..... St. Anne

The Kyrie, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts ..... Gounod
Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts. Heaven and earth are full of Thy glory. Glory be to Thee, O Lord Most high. Amen.

The Sermon: "THE WAY OF THE CROSS" ..... THE RECTOR

Offertory Hymn 345 ..... St. Columba

Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

Kneeling Hymn 196 ..... Eucharistic Hymn

Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scotish Chant

Recessional Hymn 425 ..... Rochelle

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. & Mrs. Charles K. Hay in memory of parents, Mr. & Mrs. John W. Huxley.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. John Pintavalle.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Please extend my thanks to your Prayer Chain Members for praying for our emotionally disturbed son, Carl. This year he has won two awards at his special residential-treatment-center school. One was a prize for the most progress in mathematics, the other for academic progress. Of course we are greatly encouraged. I am positive it was your prayers which helped him, as he hated the school like poison before.—Mrs. Beverly D. Cheney (Arlington, Texas)

YOKE-FELLOW

"The Meek" are the wild ones whose surging energies have been disciplined into useful channels. But how is this done in me?

I cannot manage it myself — that is for sure! These inner hates and resentments and lusts and angers are much too strong. Many have tried, by sheer will-power, done well for a short time, only to have the old wild horses run away with them again. Don't waste time trying to reform yourself.

Jesus, alone, can make this possible. He invites us: "Take My yoke upon you and learn of Me . . . and you will find rest for your souls." That is why "yoke-fellow" is the word for committed Christian (as Elton Trueblood points out). A whole-hearted Christian is like the wild young colt which is hitched to one already well-trained. He learns how to pull, by pulling with a trained one.

Victory comes by putting one's stubborn neck under the load of life in partnership with Jesus Christ, saying to Him, "With You pulling, and with me going Your way, victory is possible."

The first training of a recruit in the army is to teach him to obey. He learns to make his body respond to the command of "forward March", and his spirit respond to whatever his officer commands. He becomes disciplined.

So a sincere Christian practices obedience under Christ's command. He yokes himself to the Spirit of Christ, listens for those pressures towards what is loving and right, learns to obey them with a willing heart. Sometimes he forgets, starts in his own direction, and feels the pull of Christ in His direction. Then — if he has learned his lesson, he yields to the pull of Christ. He settles down, disciplined, to live as God planned.

Most of us are imperfect enough so that we need to start each new day quietly with Christ. We need to listen to His encouragement through His Word, open our hearts and our wills to Him in prayer, get our orders for the day.

You may hear a voice saying to you, in some new way, "Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light."

The Rector addressed the Clergy of the Ambler Area on Tuesday, September 28th.

Boy's Tonsils Removed — By God . . .

From Poole, England: "It was God who took out my tonsils", the little boy told his mother after his operation at the Poole General Hospital. "When I was taken into the big white room, there were two lady angels dressed in white. Then two men angels came in. Then God came in."

"How did you know it was God?" asked the mother.

"Well, one of the men angels looked down my throat and said — 'God, look at that child's tonsils.'

"Then God took a look and said, 'I'll take them out at once.'"

Empty Bull-Pen:

"My fifteen-year-old grandson pitched a no-hit game for his high school team. He came home triumphant. The following week the coach had to remove him in the fourth inning. He was crushed. I tried to console him. I said, "Jeffrey, that's life. It's up and down, up and down." Whereupon his thirteen-year-old brother James defended him. "Yes, grandpa", he said, "it's just like preaching; one Sunday the sermon is excellent, but the next Sunday it's a flop." And he added, "They can't take you out in the fourth inning, either!" — The Rev. Alfred D. Gray, Pastor, Plymouth Congregational Church, Lansing, Michigan.

The Rector believes with all his heart that the revival of the Ministry of Healing within the Church is the greatest spiritual adventure of our time. — A recent survey, as yet unpublished, has reported that 43% of all people who need help with emotional problems — problems of living — go first to a minister. This is a splendid vote of confidence. But the survey goes on with more information; 65% of all the people who visit the Pastors find the help adequate and do not go on further, for other treatment.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: Chorale in A Minor ..... Cesar Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Lord of the great sacrifice, restrain our eagerness for the things that are seen. Thy Cross is our rebuke. Increase our spending for the things eternal. Lord of the sinless life, our hope is to become like Thee. Fulfill our hearts service, that our hope be not in vain. Lord of the holiest joy, the joy of boundless giving—teach Thy grace of losing, that our joy may indeed be full. The world counteth all things lost if it gain not the things it may reckon. Help us to count all things but loss, to win Thee, the wealth unmeasured. We pray in Thy name. Amen.

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Anthem: Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring ..... J. S. Bach

Jesu, joy of man's desiring, Holy wisdom, Love most bright; Drawn by Thee, our souls aspiring, soar to uncreated light. Word of God our flesh that fashioned, with the fire of life impassioned. Striving still to truth unknown, soaring, dying, round Thy throne.

The Sermon: "THE GOOD SHEPHERD" ..... The Rector

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks, thanks, thanks, . . . deeply and very sincerely I have felt the support of your prayer group for me. I feel that if prayers had not been for me last Thursday, I would have been killed in a head-on auto crash. Your little booklet says that after a month has gone by, to inform you of our progress. I can truthfully say I feel I am healed of all the allergies. I am practicing exactly what the booklet says, at 6:30 and 9:30 at night. This is the most wonderful, health-giving booklet I have ever read. I have found many to give this booklet to and all say the same, how much it has helped them.—Mrs. L. T. Sawyer (Enid, Oklahoma)

ON THE INSIDE

It's so easy to say, "So-and-so made me so angry that I forgot myself and said some nasty things." We blame the other circumstance for what came out of our hearts.

But Jesus taught us that our decisions are all made within ourselves — by our selfishness, if that is on the throne; by our love of God and of people, if love reigns within. "Whatever goes into a man from outside cannot defile him, since it enters, not his heart, but his stomach. . . ." It is what we let lodge in our hearts that makes the difference.

Bernie Warfield tells the haunting story of a convict named "Nero." He would have nothing to do with the Bible, or anything else the Chaplain put into his hands.

But the Chaplain did not give up. One day "Bull", an old friend and fellow-convict of Nero's, died in the prison hospital. The Chaplain took Nero to the prison morgue. On the slab lay the lifeless body of "Bull". Suddenly the Chaplain said, "Nero, shake hands with Bull." "No!" Nero's face went white, "I wouldn't touch a dead person. No, not me!" The Chaplain reached out and took the dead hand in his own, and said, "Nero, there are four fingers and a thumb on this hand, same as yours. The skin has not been broken. It's the same hand you've touched before. Why won't you touch it now?"

Nero shook his head, "because the thing that's on the inside, that makes the hand move, isn't there." "Nero," said the Chaplain softly, "What is it that makes the hand move — the people around you or what's on the inside?" Slowly Nero raised his eyes, and looked at the Chaplain — "What's on the inside makes it move — and it's gone." The Chaplain nodded to the guards, and they took Nero back to solitary.

A week later Nero sent for the Chaplain. He began, "I've been reading some of the stuff you brought me." He tried to hold back the tears, but they poured down his cheeks. "For years I've been always blaming everybody — cops, people, my friends, stoolies, and it just took "Bull" lying there to say what you've been trying to tell me." He wiped his face on his sleeve. "I wish I'd known, — twenty-five years ago, that it's what's on the inside that makes the hands move, the lips talk."

You and I decide what we let dwell "on the inside." We can fill our hearts with hate or with love; with resentment or with forgiveness. That's important — for "What's on the inside makes our hands move, our lips speak."

The Rector dedicated, on Sunday last, a Chancel Hymnal to the glory of God and in loving memory of Mary C. V. D. Watson and Frederick Watson, presented by their children, Lockhart and Nadia Watson.

The Gold Star Mothers will have their Annual Bazaar in the Community House on Wednesday, October 13th.

The Rector will speak to the Lutheran Clergy of Germantown on Monday, October 11th.

The Rector will speak to the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York, on October 12th.

The Rector will speak at St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, on Saturday, October 16th.

A DRIVER'S LITANY

From domineering driving, from the vanity of power and the infection of speed,
Good Lord, deliver us.

From carelessness and indifference, from the demon of impatience and the tyranny of time,
Good Lord, deliver us.

From ignorance and ungraciousness, from harsh judgment and monotony, from the delusion of drink and the obscurity of fatigue,
Good Lord, deliver us.

Grant us, O Lord, a divine courtesy to all. Awake in us an abiding care for the slowness of age and the rashness of youth. Let our vehicles become instruments of thy purpose; bringing happiness to all who travel with us and leaving no man weeping at our passing. This we beg in Christ's Name. Amen.

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: Two Chorale Preludes ..... J. S. Bach
a. "Lord Jesus Christ, Be Present Now"
b. "I Call To Thee, Lord Jesus Christ"

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, whose love is so gracious and tender that it passeth understanding, we bow before Thee in gratitude at the remembrance of Thy mercies. We thank Thee for health and vigor, quietness and music, beauty and sunshine, and the bounty of nature. We thank Thee for lovely experiences which enrich our days and gladden our lives. We thank Thee for faith and hope and courage by which we overcome life's handicaps and through which we rise above our broken hopes. Praise and thanks to Thee forever. Amen.

REVERENCE FOR LIFE

Allen Boone was camping out in the Southwest desert of our country, with Little Beaver, his Indian friend, and Dan, the "desert rat", who prospects for gold and loves God's outdoor world. Boone writes:

"One of the desert's most dreaded citizens paid us a visit today — a big, diamond-back rattle snake. Dan, Little Beaver, and I were lying on the ground in the cool of the day, cat-napping. Happening to look in the direction of one of the pack-saddles, . . . I rubbed my eyes and looked again. From around the end of it came the snake. And what a snake! It must have been the heavyweight champion of them all. It moved into the open, formed itself into an Ess, and posed for many minutes. Then it started toward us slowly, gracefully. Within inches of Little Beaver's bare feet, it stopped, raised its head (but without coiling or rattling) and looked us over appraisingly.

"Little Beaver and Dan watched this snake with drowsy but calm interest. To them it was simply another desert friend crossing their trail and pausing to say, 'Hello!' The inspection of us was through . . . Then, evidently satisfied, . . . it lowered its beady-eyed head, glided around us leisurely, moved down the trail, and disappeared into the desert. Not once did it look back. Not once did it show the least fear. Its confidence in our good will was absolute."

Allen Boone goes on to say that poisonous snakes seem to take pleasure in biting white men, but rarely do they harm the Indians. White men wear high boots, carry guns, and watch where they step. The Indian wears light moccasins, or go bare-footed; and pay almost no attention to the snakes. The white man regards the snake as an enemy; the Indian looks on him as a fellow-creature — and the snake knows the difference. The Indians and the snakes are at peace with each other; there is no trouble between them. Apparently God meant snakes and people to live together as fellow-creatures; and the Indian understands this, and carries out God's will.

Albert Schweitzer, the great physician of Africa, believed in "reverence for life," and practiced it. He felt a deep kinship with all loving creatures — human and animal. God made them, and God made him. So there was friendship between them, and Dr. Schweitzer lived as the instrument for God's love for all his fellow-creatures in the jungle, both man and beast. Once we understand that God meant us to live at peace with all God's creatures, we become effective instruments in His hands. We stir friendship in all we meet, because our hearts are full of His caring for all that He has made. It's a wonderful way to live!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—We have received good news from the doctor of my brother-in-law for whom you have been praying. The Ulcer was benign. Our hearts are filled with gratitude for His great kindness and mercy and to your Prayer Group for the many prayers on his behalf.—Clara W. Nelson (Minneapolis, Minn.)

GAINS AND LOSSES — The Episcopal Church in the U.S.A. today numbers 3,591,164 baptized persons, including 2,245,782 communicants, according to the 1965 edition of the Episcopal Church Annual, compiled by the Rev. William V. Albert and published by Morehouse-Barlow Co., New York City. For the first time since 1930, the total rate of growth of the Church (1%) is less than that of the general population (1.4%) in 1963.

The Sunday Schools of the Episcopal Church show slight growth during the same year. Today there are 916,656 pupils in the Church Schools, taught by 104,846 officers and teachers.

Baptisms, infant and adult, have decreased slightly, but Confirmations have increased by 1.30%, as compared with those of the previous year.

There has been a slight increase in the number of theological students. Postulants increased by 2.05% and candidates for Holy Orders by 1.43%.

The total number of clergy of the Episcopal Church — Bishops, Priests, and Deacons — is 9,978, a decrease of .16%. A growing number of clergy are listed in non-parochial positions, or as retired. Only about 75% of the clergy are engaged in the full-time parochial ministry. There are also 16,344 lay readers — an increase of 15.75% over the preceding year.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. SELF-TRUST

Jesus announced to His listeners that, before the Great Day of Redemption, there would be dark times. Before God could rescue Israel, there would have to be disaster, calamity. "When these things come to pass, then look up, and lift up your head, for your redemption draweth nigh." Why does it have to be that way?

As a matter of fact, it is interesting to notice how right Jesus has been. For, in history, as in nature, dawn comes only after darkness. Easter comes after Calvary. The Renaissance came after the Dark Ages. In individual human lives, new growth and wisdom come after sorrow and tribulation.

A Scotish preacher has pointed to the reason for this strange sequence of darkness followed by sunrise. God cannot rescue a man, or a nation, while they still think that they have all the answers. It is only when we are broken that we know where the answers lie. James Stewart points out, "In such hours the one thing which most impedes divine activity is apt to get broken down—man's self-trust." When we learn how to swim, we have to stop trusting in our ability to make ourselves float. We had to let go, and trust ourselves to the water. Then we began to make progress. So a man's self-trust has to be smashed before the mighty power of God can take over, and enable him to be His effective agent.

There comes a time in your life when you are no longer frightened when you suddenly face a blank wall. You used to be scared, but now you simply remember the many blank walls—and how you waited, with deepening patience with faith, until, suddenly, God opened a door in that blank wall, and you were in business again! Like St. Paul, you can now be grateful for the dark passages in life, "always and for everything giving thanks"—for you know that, in God's world, the way into the morning lies through the night!

Two men sat on a park bench on the lower East side of New York City. The younger man was telling how he had groped and wandered, fallen down and wearily picked himself up, trying to find the way by his own intelligence. Suddenly he grew thoughtful and, turning to the older man, said, "I want something to go by." His self-trust at last was broken. He could look up, and lift up his head, and say that his redemption drew near!

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Constance Bevins, Mrs. H. L. Eastman, Mr. Ross J. Griffith, Mr. & Mrs. Raymond O. Heimbecker, Mrs. Grace McCabe, Mrs. Carrie Plant, Mrs. Marie P. Tracy, Mrs. Mabel Walker, Mrs. R. C. Reese.

Dear Dr. Price:—I want you to know that Jane K. Grant, the 18 year old, whom you put on your Prayer List last Fall, is well again. She is presently attending the University of North Carolina in the field of Medical Technology and hopes to go into research. Medical science knows no cure, and there are few who live to her age. We would be so grateful to have your continued prayers.

—Mrs. L. C. Grant (Jackson, N. C.)

The United Thank Offering of the Women of the Parish will be received at the Morning Service on October 24th. All the women in the congregation are asked to bring their offering in the envelopes provided for that purpose. Extra envelopes are in the pews. At the last General Convention of our Church the U. T. O. amounted to $4,790,921.51.

A FAMILIAR WAR-TIME PRAYER petitioned for courage to change those things which could be changed, for patience to endure those things which cannot be changed, and for wisdom to know the difference between the two. You have perhaps encountered the current sophism that those under 20 years of age know what can be changed, that those over 60 years of age know what cannot be changed, and those in between do not know the difference between the two!

PLEASE TAKE CAREFUL NOTE: It's that time again — Daylight Saving Time comes to an end this week-end; sometime Saturday night you should turn your clocks and watches BACK one hour. — We all can have an extra hour of sleep.

There will be a celebration of the HOLY COMMUNION at 12:30 P.M. on All Saints' Day, Monday, November 1st.

ALL SAINTS' DAY

There are many among us who have a greater interest Behind the Veil than in the visible life of man. The Church as an instrument of the Loving Will of God reaches out consoling hands to the human heart which is racked and tortured — a torture which sometimes makes death a welcome guest. All Saints' Day, a truly Holy Day in the Church's Year, is full of the tenderest comfort to those who are bereft; of the sweetest consolation for those who feel they have been deserted; of the richest strength for those who feel they have been weakened.

Behind the Veil are souls in varying degrees of spiritual excellence; in varying degrees of spiritual poverty. Those who went out of this life with spiritual graces are at home. Those who went out of this life without spiritual graces are strangers in a spirit world — foreigners in a land whose customs are unfamiliar, whose language they can neither speak nor understand.

A religion which finds no place for the memory and help of souls in dispeace, Beyond the Veil, is an impoverished religion. A religion which can rest content with the knowledge that millions of souls are damned forever is miserly in its attitude. And, until we unite our will and our power toward the improvement and the recovery of impenitent souls, the unity of God's universe, so far as man is concerned, will not be brought to pass.

All Saints' Day comes as a yearly reminder of the need of enlarging our sympathies, of enriching our loving will, and of giving to God for His own uses the power that He has given, or loaned to us.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I am thrilled to tell you that there are definite signs of healing taking place and the operation has been cancelled. To God goes all the glory! It is so wonderful to have people like you and your Group to turn to in time of need. God bless you all.—Charlotte Austin (Simsbury, Conn.)

The Members of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing wish to thank all who contributed and helped make their 27th Annual Bazaar a success. The total profit of the Bazaar is $2,309.76.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67
The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 218-9

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: (a) O World, I Now Must Leave Thee ..... Brahms
(b) Blessed Are Ye Faithful Souls ..... Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION: O Lord, have mercy on all ignorant souls, and instruct them; on all deluded minds, and enlighten them. Have mercy on all broken hearts, and heal them; all struggling with temptation, and rescue them; all that are fallen from Thee, and raise them; all that stand with Thee, and confirm them. O blessed Jesus, who didst shed Thy blood for us all, shed Thy Holy Spirit on all, and heal them; for Thy pity's sake. We ask in Thy holy Name. Amen.

Processional Hymn 289 ..... St. Anne

Kyrie, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: Souls of the Righteous ..... Noble
Souls of the righteous in the hand of God, nor hurt nor torment cometh them nigh; O holy hope of immortality, Souls of the righteous in the hands of God, to eyes of men unwise, they seem to die; they are at peace, O fairest liberty, Souls of the righteous . . . On earth as children shastened by Love's rod, as gold in furnace tried, so now on high they shine like stars, a golden galaxy: Souls of the righteous in the hands of God.

The Sermon: "THE LIFE TO COME" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 497 ..... Dundee

Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

Kneeling Hymn 126 (Verses 1, 4) ..... Saturn

Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scotish Chant

Recessional Hymn 430 ..... Lux Benigna

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. William D. Smith in memory of her husband; and by Mr. J. Stokes Leeds in memory of parents and sister.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. David L. German, Sr.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

Dear Dr. Price:—I am happy to report that last Friday our son, Clive, was given extensive tests, and the brain scars and earotid arteriogram showed that the brain tumor is gone. We are greatly rejoicing over this and are thankful to the Lord for the work you are doing. I am looking forward to the time when he will be able to play the piano and draw as he once did. With sincere gratitude to you, your group, and to God, I am, Rev. Dan A. Morton (Amory, Mississippi).

UNDER AUTHORITY

"There were giants in the earth in those days," wrote the chronicler. He was looking into the dim and far-away past of Israel. Here and there he could see a mighty man who had lighted the way to freedom and truth. "There were giants in the earth in those days."

What are the marks of a true "giant"? For a Christian the only sure measure is the greatness of Jesus Christ. A human leader in any generation is great in so far as he qualifies, more or less, for the bigness which was His! There are at least two marks of the calibre of the Master.

The first mark of His greatness was that He was "under authority." He lived in obedience to a Wisdom, a Truth, greater than His own, the Wisdom of His Father, the Creator of the universe. What He did each day did not depend on how He felt after breakfast — it depended, always, on God's marching-orders. Human leadership, in any generation, can be great only if it has this quality of being "under authority", of following God's bidding, or, at the least, the authority of a great ideal. Abraham Lincoln has this kind of greatness, for he subjected every move to the light of God's wise and infinite Love. Albert Schweitzer has this largeness, in our day — his career being decided by the needs of the sick people of the jungle. A man who is humble enough to serve something greater than himself, is apt to be a giant.

Another mark of Jesus' greatness was His endless capacity for loving people — all sorts and conditions of people. He could still love them when He was seeking refreshment and renewal, and, slipping across the lake to go into the mountains, He met a crowd waiting for Him on the other side, and stopped to visit, and heal, and redeem. He could love a high-brow like Nicodemus and an outcast like the tax-gatherer Zaccheus, He wept over the city of Jerusalem, because they rejected those who came to save them.

Will history write of our time, "There were giants in the earth in those days"? One does not know. If one prays and seeks with those who live "under authority", and who love greatly — according to the pattern of Jesus' greatness.

The Rector will speak to the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont, Penna., on Monday morning, November 8th.

The Annual Patriotic Service will be held on November 14th at 11 A.M.

FALL U.T.O. OFFERING

The Fall U.T.O. Offering Service will be at Christ Church, 2nd St., above Market, on Wednesday, November 17th. The Service of Evensong at 8 P.M. will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 P.M. in the Neighborhood House. The Sermon will be by Bishop Bayne. The Rt. Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., is Director of the Executive Council's Overseas Department. The Rev. Ernest A. Harding, Rector of Christ Church, and Bishop Swift, will conduct the Service.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHRISTMAS CARDS — Beautiful Christmas Cards of St. Stephen's Sanctuary of a past Christmas, are available — not a large amount, but some may still be had. The cost is $3.00 per box of 20 folders and envelopes.

WHAT WE HAVE TOO LONG NEGLECTED, and what our people desperately need to understand, is that the full joy and power of life in God's community will come only when we see this fundamental fact: all my possessions are really God's possessions, and I am answerable to Him as to how I use them for the good of His children.

—His Witnessing Community; The Rt. Rev. Everett H. Jones, D.D.

WHY DO WE WORSHIP? It has been well put thus: "Because we need poise, balance, insight, confidence. We need integration among all our conflicting impulses. We need to strike our inner depths. We need to link ourselves to the eternal purposes. We need to know God's will and to give ourselves back to Him."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "The Peace" (From the Suite, "Royal Fireworks") .....Handel
THE SILENT MEDITATION: O God, who through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, hast planned Thy Church upon earth, and by the Holy Spirit hast called us into the communion of Thy saints: increase our sense of unity with all who bear Thy name; draw us to one another in the bonds of faith and love; and make us not only true members of Thy holy Church, but also its faithful servants, knowing that in serving it, we are serving Thee and Thy gracious will; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The Second Lesson: Hebrews 11:32-12:2
Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal
The Anthem: Earth Does Not Hold the Spirits of the Brave .....Thiman

Earth does not hold the spirits of the brave. Seek no imprisoned honor in the grave. The body broken, th'un broken soul in some new region is unscarr'd and whole. They gave their peace that peace might follow pain; they died in Christ, in Him they live again. As Christ is ever with us, so are they—a shining host upon the shining way. Oh, in the bright procession of their fame may we now follow, free from sloth and shame. To that great music, on the path they trod, who now have ended pilgrimage with God. We praise and bless the memory of all whose lives were given at their country's call, Let God by us who live be glorified, and by the living souls of them who died. Amen.

SUSTAINING POWERS

Not long ago a scientific expedition went into the Redwood groves of Northern California to study these tallest of all living things. They discovered one giant more than 367 feet tall, as high as a twenty-story building.

At their first camp site the son of one of the scientists started to drive stakes into the ground, to anchor the tent. Wherever he tried, he struck a heavy root, close to the surface. So he learned that the towering Redwoods do not have any deep tap-roots — they depend on the holding power of surface roots spreading widely about the base. If, through accidents or storm, a Redwood tree stands alone, it is soon brought down by even a moderate wind. The Redwoods can only withstand the wind when they are close together, their interlacing surface roots forming a mat. They hold each other up.

Jesus taught that there are two sustaining powers in life — one, the power of God, as a person reaches deep for His strength; the other, the power of other people, that company of concerned people who love you and help to hold you up. This is the basis of the Two Great Commandments — love for God and love for others. We need both.

God created most of His creatures with the necessity of sustaining each other. Only a few He made for lonely lives, like the eagle or the hawk. But for one of these lonely, fierce creatures, there are hundreds of thousands of the harmless, co-operative ducks, whose law of life is to help each other to survive.

Jesus taught us that God intended man to be a co-operative creature, living not only to survive, but to help others to survive. There are those who try to defy this law — the occasional man or woman in the limelight who tries to stand alone, without help from God or man, and crashes down for lack of sustaining help. This makes newspaper headlines, and sober thinking by thoughtful people.

Not long ago, after a Christian Conference, people were asked what they found most helpful. Several of them spoke of the warmth of the fellowship of committed Christians, a sort of "best-friend" atmosphere. One commented, "See how they love each other." True Christian fellowship reaches such heights, as God intended it to — people standing close together, holding each other up!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—In February I got a report from my doctor that I had cancer. Your prayers were requested. I was supposed to have surgery on April 1st. I then asked for another examination before the operation, and I have had another since, and they both came back free of cancer. Words cannot express my thanks to you and your Prayer Fellowship.—Lillian Gardner (Pittsford, Vermont).

The Women of St. Stephen's, Afternoon Branch, will hold their regular meeting after the morning service, next Sunday, November 21st, in the Community House, following refreshments.

The study of the Life of St. Paul will continue with the film-strip of his conversion. All are welcome.

SCOUTS HONORED AT LIBERTY FETE — Boy Scout Troop #2, in center City, sponsored by St. Stephen's, will be honored on November 20th, at the Liberty Bell District Banquet in Mitten Hall, with the National Scout Camping Awards.

The Rector will speak to the Clergy of the Trenton, N.J. area at Levittown, N.J. on November 15th.

Our "Thank you" to these Bulletin subscribers: W. Gordon Hannaway, Albert C. Klopp, Mrs. St. George L. Sioussat, Mrs. Hazel T. Wilson, Miss Jeanne M. Wysor.

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Have Mercy On Me, Lord God" .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, we lift our eyes to wider horizons. We bring to Thee the weary, seeking rest; the troubled, seeking peace; and the sinner, seeking life. Remember in mercy those in whom the vision of the good life has faded. Renew their faith in Thee and in themselves. Give them a fresh heart for new days. Guide clumsy fingers so that from the common threads of everyday life they shall weave tapestries of enduring loveliness. Beyond these broken prayers we bring the longings and aspirations too deep for words. Receive these unspoken yearnings. Give us quiet confidence. Bid our souls find serenity in Thee. We offer our prayer in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
Processional Hymn 288 .....Hanover

Psalm 105:1-20, Page 470
The First Lesson: Job 1:1-21
Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal
The Second Lesson: II Corinthians 11:18-30
Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal
The Anthem: Behold, Now, Praise the Lord .....Titcomb
Behold now, praise the Lord; all ye servants of the Lord. Ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord, even in the courts of the house of our God. Lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and praise the Lord. Behold now, praise the Lord.
The Sermon: "INTERCESSORY PRAYER" .....THE RECTOR
Offertory Hymn 280 .....Stuttgart
Recessional Hymn 355 .....Miles' Lane

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Miss Beatrice L. Van Sciver in memory of her parents: Ann L. and George R. Van Sciver.

The Altar decorations for Thanksgiving Day, Bread of the World, are in memory of James Carrigan, long time Verger of St. Stephen's Church.

Usher scheduled for today, Mr. Edwin S. Heins.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.

5:30 P.M.—Holy Communion; guest preacher Mr. Fred Baldwin, student, the Philadelphia Divinity School.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—For the last five years I have been coming to St. Stephen's when possible for the healing services. When I first came I had a multitude of problems, physical, emotional and spiritual. My blood pressure was very high (now under control), I had chronic rheumatic fever (now healed), and I had a distressing problem with a child. This, too, has been healed. I had one foot in the door of a mental hospital with the other following rapidly behind. I thank God I was saved from that, as I was brought to God, the greatest, most wonderful Psychiatrist there is. I can never give enough praise and thanksgiving to God.—M. A. M. (Dover, Delaware).

EACH ONE TEACH ONE

Do you want to be happy? That is a foolish question, of course. All the world longs to be happy, and so do we all. Yet the plain secret of happiness is clearly written, and richly illustrated, in a well-known Book within our reach.

Dr. Frank Laubach is today revealing that secret, in two hundred and sixty-two languages, in most of the countries of the world. He reports that the teaching of illiterates is proving to be a wonderful way to bring people to Christ. You sit down beside the illiterate, your heart over-flowing with love for him, knowing that you are the first educated man who has ever looked at him except to swindle him. You tell him that you want to teach him to read and write. Mystified by your kindness, he explains that he has no money to pay you. Then you say to him, "I do not want any pay. I've learned this from Jesus. He spent all His time helping people, free of charge. From the moment He awoke in the morning, until He closed His eyes at night, He was looking around, asking whom He could teach, or heal, or encourage, or defend, or save. I think that that is a beautiful way to live. If we were all like Jesus, this world would be a Paradise. So I thought that I would try helping people just because I love them. And I have discovered the secret of happiness! When I'm teaching you, it makes my heart sing. When I have finished teaching you, I want you to go and teach your neighbors. Don't take any money for it, and your heart will sing! Brother, we have found the secret of happiness."

So, by this simple picture-language method, ten million people a year are escaping from the ancient bond of ignorance. This makes them very happy; but they are happiest when they practice "Each One Teach One." When they teach another illiterate to read and write, they have the delight of giving him freedom. Jesus once said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," or, as Phillips translates it, "To give is happier than to receive."

If the world could learn that simple secret of happiness-through-loving-kindness, it would become a neighborly world. This would transform life more deeply than all of the atomic secrets. If we professing Christians would trust Jesus Christ enough to live by His Secret from dawn till dark, we would become radiant with joy. And unbelieving people would be drawn to Him, as illiterates are through Dr. Laubach.

Think of it—you have a Secret, Happiness-Through-Giving. Every man, woman, and child you meet this week longs for that Secret. Live by it faithfully, and your heart will sing and your joy will be contagious beyond belief!

This Fall the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, began his third year teaching "The Life of Christ" to deaf boys and girls at the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf in Mt. Airy. Mr. Meckling is also continuing to teach a class in the "Sign Language of the Deaf" at the Philadelphia Divinity School. Twenty-four Seminarians are taking this course to enable them to minister to the deaf in their future parishes.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in All Saints' Church, Brooklyn, N.Y. Sunday evening through Tuesday, November 21st-23rd.

CHURCH SEEKS TO MEET 1966 BUDGET

November 28th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by Pledges, the members of the Parish are requested to make their Pledges themselves in the Chest of Joash.

The Women of St. Stephen's, Afternoon Branch, will hold their regular meeting after the morning service November 21st, in the Community House, following refreshments.

The study of the Life of St. Paul will continue with the film-strip of his conversion. All are welcome.

BREAD OF THE WORLD

The Thanksgiving Altar on November 25th will be decorated, not with flowers, but bread: breads of various national cultures represented in the Melting Pot of Philadelphia. There will be Jewish Rye, Challa and Bagels; Russian Rye and Egg Rolls; Italian Grissini and Spoletti; Swedish Knackerbrod, Konimisbrod, Crisp, Schwarzbrot and Vollhornbrot; Danish Farm Bread and Pumpernickel; French brioches, croissants and Griettes; German Pumpernickel, Kutzelbrot, Raggenbrot, Hamberger, pein Brot and Weizenkeimbrot; Irish Soda Bread; Greek Frotozola; Norway Ideal Flat Bread and Crisp Bread; Baltic Rye, East Germany Stollen, Finland Crisp, Euphrates bread from the Near East, Japanese Rice Biscuits, Chinese Fortune Cakes; Polish Potato Bread; American Wholewheat and Raisin Bread; English Allwheat Crispbread. Worshippers are urged to take a bit of bread home for their own family tables.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for your prayers for me. The people around here are amazed at my improvement. Thirteen years ago a truck hit me, breaking my left leg. It did not knit well and I had to use a cane these many years. Last month I decided to leave my cane home and visit a friend across the drive and on the second floor, saying to myself, "I will dwell in them and walk in them" (as I had been saying for several years). So I started out down my front step, stepping over a high curbing and then up to the second floor. This was a time for rejoicing and praise to our Lord. I am really beginning to be "made every whit whole" and still using your booklet. My son said you had raised me from the dead. Always I will thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for your faithful aid when nothing else would cure me.—Leota Scott (Phoenix, Arizona)

PLAYING GOD

In the story of the First Christmas, we find only a handful of people full of joy over the coming of God's Son—a few humble shepherds and prayerful kings. "When Herod the king heard it, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him." Most people were alarmed lest this new King should upset their plans.

A notable clergyman, Dr. Park, was once driving to preach at a girls' College, when he was stopped by a State trooper who wanted to know where he was going in such a great hurry. Dr. Park told him. The trooper looked at him thoughtfully for a minute, and then observed, "Well, if you are the minister, I'll let you go; but you were certainly driving along here as if you thought you were God Himself!" Dr. Park in telling the story later on, noted that most of mankind's troubles are caused by people who behave as if they were God Himself—in other words, by people who try to "play God."

This is the first Sunday in Advent, the Season of Penitence in preparation for Christmas. There must be a deep and cleansing preparation, if we are going to be ready for the birthday of God's Son. Most of us have had our try at "playing God." We have been high-and-mighty husbands, or mothers, acting as if we knew all the answers. We have easily worked out our own little plans, leaving God entirely out of them. We have lashed out savagely at someone who has hurt us, with never a thought that Christ has a better way. The result has been strife and pain—instead of deep good will, where Christ reigns. As you remember, honestly, truthfully, I suspect that you will want to get down on your knees in penitence, and ask God's forgiveness. You will be ashamed that you have been like "Herod . . . and all Jerusalem"—; troubled lest Jesus Christ should interfere with your hot little plans!

And then you may begin to pray, that, this year, He will be born in your heart, to reign there. You may even dare to ask Him to use you in His plans. Perhaps you will suddenly see that only where the Lord Christ reigns is there any deep peace and harmony. Our lives have been like the orchestra, tuning up for the concert—a strange disharmony of individual players. Suddenly we shall know that only when the conductor of the orchestra raps for silence and begins to lead his players is there music. So, as our hearts are quieted by our Lord and Master, and we follow His lead, there will be harmony in us.

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 28th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by Pledges, the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1966. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their Pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this Card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the Annual Re-Dedication and Pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

We wish to acknowledge with appreciation, these contributors to the U. T. O.: Mrs. Philip A. Arnold, Hazel L. Bainbridge, C. S. Berger, Helen T. Bradley, Olga B. Carlile, C. Bevins, M. J. The Prelude: "Come, Savior of the Gentiles, Come" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, teach us Thy will for our lives. Help us to understand our place in the Divine Plan. Give us a deepened sense of personal responsibility. May we see that a task awaits our hands that no other can fulfill; that if we are silent, a chord in the music will fail. Grant, O Lord, that with renewed faith in Thee and fresh confidence in ourselves, we may leave this sanctuary eager to do Thy will. We offer our prayer in Christ's name. Amen.

Offertory Anthem: "The Last Words Of David" ..... Randall Thompson

He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. And he shall be as the light of the morning, when the sun riseth, even a morn without clouds; as the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain, after rain. Alleluia! Alleluia! Amen.

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Miss Hazel L. Bainbridge in memory of her parents; and by Mrs. Samuel Hanna in memory of her husband.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. James O. Lyman.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer; the Sermon by Mr. R. Douglas Cole.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Words can never express the gratitude and the thanksgiving that is in our hearts to God, and to you and your Prayer Fellowship. Don, my husband, was on his death-bed this Spring with mylofibrosis. The doctors had done all they could. We called you and the Prayer Fellowship for special prayer, he was anointed with the laying-on-of-hands, he received Holy Communion several times, and we relinquished him to God. Many Prayer Groups and individuals were also praying for him. Then the miracle happened! Very slowly he began to recover. Today, nine months later, he is the picture of health, his blood count is normal, and his bone marrow is working again, after nine years of blood transfusions every few months! The very fact that he is living is a miracle in itself! The Love of God is indescribable. To God goes all the glory and all the praise! And to you and the Prayer Fellowship our heartfelt love and thanks, and deepest gratitude. May God bless and use you to His glory forever.

—Mrs. P. D. Mackes (Dover, Delaware)

JOYFUL CONFIDENCE

This is "Bible Sunday", and a wise man has said that the Bible is the record of God's search for man. Last of all in Creation, God made a creature called "man"—with free will, free to reject Him in fear or to obey Him in love. And the Bible is a long record of God's patient knocking at men's hearts, in tender persistence, through poet and prophet, until He finally came on earth Himself, in Jesus Christ. His love became visible in human form, that men might see that Love, and welcome the coming of its Light into their darkness.

Do you know why December the 25th is kept as Christmas day? Studdert Kennedy once wrote, "Why does Christmas come in the very depth of Winter? We do not really know the exact date of Christ's birth. December the 25th was not fixed as the birthday Festival of Christ until 300 years after He died. It was then settled—not because December the 25th was known to be the true date of His birth, but because it was the date of the heathen mid-Winter Festival. Traces of that heathen Festival are still with us, such as the burning of the Yule-log. Behind that ancient Winter Festival there lay the dread that in the depth of some bleak Winter the sun might really die, bleeding its life out in the flames of one last awful sun-set across the Western sky. That primitive dread made the ancients pile the Yule-logs up to warm the sun lest it die in Winter's grip!"

Actually, December the 25th is the day when the sun is farthest away from the earth, and its warmth is least felt by us. So the pagans thought of that day in fear and trembling, lest the world grow more chill and frightening. But, after Jesus came among men, those who knew Him trembled no longer on that day. They rejoiced and said, "This is the day when we can praise God because He began to come closer to men in the warmth of His Love and the Light of His Wisdom." So, December 25th ceased being a Pagan Festival of shuddering fears; and became a Christian Festival of joyful confidence. We remember how the sun turns back from its farthest distance with returning warmth. We remember how God turns back to shivering human souls who have found how cold life is without Him.

It may be that hope has burned low in your heart of late. You have found that, in your small self, there is little of life-giving warmth and light. So, in humble honesty, you open your stable-door to Him, one dwelling where He will be more than welcome. Because of Christmas alone is there hope in the world!

The Rector will preach in the Methodist Church, Vineland, N.J., Sunday evening, December 5th.

THE EXODUS — MODERN VERSION

Asked what he'd learned at Sunday School, the ten-year-old began: "Well, our teacher told us about when God sent Moses behind the enemy lines to rescue the Israelites from the Egyptians. When they came to the Red Sea, Moses called the engineers to build a pontoon bridge. After they had all crossed, they looked back and saw the Egyptian tanks coming. Quick as a flash, Moses radioed headquarters on his walkie-talkie to send bombers to blow up the bridge and save the Israelites."

"Bobby," exclaimed his startled mother, "is that really the way your teacher told the story?"

"Well, not exactly. But, if I told it her way, you'd never believe it."

PAKISTAN

John Roak, Jr., Organist for the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing, has recently returned from a ten month visit to Pakistan. Mr. Roak was there on a Fulbright Scholarship. On Tuesday, December 7th, at 3:00 P.M. in the Community House, Mr. Roak will show his colored pictures and lecture on Pakistan. The Women's Aid of the Chapel will serve tea, coffee and refreshments after the lecture. Members of St. Stephen's Church are most welcome.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Behold, A Rose Is Blooming" .....Brahms
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Father, who hast set a restlessness in our hearts, and made us all seekers after that which we can never fully find; forbid us to be satisfied with what we make of life. Draw us from base content, and set our eyes on far-off goals. Keep us at tasks too hard for us, that we may be driven to Thee for strength. Deliver us from fretfulness and self-pity; make us sure of the goal we cannot see, and of the hidden good in the world. Open our eyes to simple beauty all around us, and our hearts to the loveliness men hide from us because we do not try enough to understand them. Save us from ourselves, and show us a vision of a world made new. May Thy Spirit of peace and illumination so enlighten our minds that all life shall glow with new meaning and new purpose; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
Processional Hymn 2 .....Veni Emmanuel

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 3:1-18
The Benedictus, Page 14; Chant #639, Hymnal
The Anthem: Recitative: "Comfort Ye My People" .....Handel
Aria: "Every Valley Shall Be Exalted"

Comfort ye my people, saith your God; speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardon'd. The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.

Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill made low; the crooked straight, and the rough places plain.
The Sermon Hymn 345 .....Dominus Regit Me
The Sermon: "THE SHEEP AND THE GOATS" .....The Rector
Offertory Anthem: "And the Glory of the Lord . . ." .....Handel

And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.
The Presentation and Doxology
Recessional Hymn 5 .....St. Thomas

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. William J. Walker in memory of her husband; and by Miss Marie Hobson in memory of her father, the Rev. Eber S. Hobson.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It has been a month since I had my accident of crushed ankle bones and leg bones, and requested your prayers for me. After 18 days in the hospital, being prepared for the operation, the doctor was amazed after the last X-Ray to find that I did not need an operation. How very grateful I am for your loving concern and prayers. Each time I write for your prayers for my sister and others, we always see a change.—Mrs. Rolland Wilson (New Castle, La.)

RADIANCE OF THE MANGER

Near the end of World War I, a company in the American Army found itself stationed in Siberia. They had been there some time, and they were very weary of the loneliness and the darkness and the bitter cold. Morale became low. Uniforms and men became dirty, and the conversation dirtier still. Then Alex came.

The Sergeant found Alex, a little Russian boy, huddled in a box-car, trying to keep from freezing to death. So the Sergeant brought him back to the company, because he did not know what else to do with him. He was a lovable youngster, and these men (who had begun to think of themselves as hard-boiled) lost their hearts to him. They began to see that they could not teach him to be clean without showing him how to do it! So they began to keep the barracks spotless once more. They cleaned themselves up, began shaving every day. They began to teach Alex how to speak English—and that meant cleaning up their conversation, so they cut out the cursing and began to talk like real men again. Then suddenly someone thought that they ought to teach him how to pray; and that was harder. Finally one man remembered, "Now I lay me . . ." and "Our Father . . ." Another recalled how he used to talk simply to God in prayer at his mother's knee. Every night the men not on duty gathered to share in Alex' good-night prayers. They told him about the Christmas story; and when Christmas Eve came, Alex startled them by crying out, "Read me ze story about the Child in ze Bible, Sergeant!" The old Sergeant scowled for a moment, then grabbed a Bible, thumbed through it clumsily until he found the story; and read it awkwardly, shyly, to Alex and the eagerly-listening men.

So Christ came on earth to those disheartened, grimy American boys out in the bitter Siberian cold. Christ came and turned them away from their own suffering to care for the suffering of a little boy. And, once He was within their hearts, he cleaned them up, within and without,—as He always does, once the door opens to Him!

The most glorious wish for your Christmas is that you will take some sufferer into your heart, into your home, and care for Him with all your love and intelligence. If you will do that, your Christmas will be lighted with the Radiance that comes only from the Manger! For, once Christ is free to work through you anew, He will work His white miracles in your own heart; and there will be peace and joy in you when Christmas dawns.

The Rector addressed the Couples' Club at Holy Comforter Church, Drexel Hill, on Friday evening, December 10th.

The Afternoon Branch of the Women of St. Stephen's, which is reviewing the Life of St. Paul, will meet after morning service on December 19th in the Community House. Wassel and Christmas cakes will be served, and Prayer Cards drawn. All Are Welcome.

Gentlemen:—I can't recall if I paid for the weekly Bulletin this year, so the enclosed $2.00 is for same. If I did contribute, I don't know any place I'd rather do it twice than for St. Stephen's. Your Church is doing more for people in Philadelphia than any other I know of.—Mrs. Paul E. Dornheim.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Paul E. Dornheim, Mrs. Eloise P. Hutt, Mrs. George Keller, Sylvania MacVaugh, Miss L. M. Shaw, Mrs. H. B. Ulrich.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—We shall be forever grateful to you and your Prayer Fellowship for the miraculous healing my husband, Charles Morgan, received through the laying-on-of-hands at St. Stephen's Church. Three months ago my husband suffered a nervous breakdown. Being unable to work, he feared he was losing his mind. Today he is completely recovered, and back at his job full time.

We would like to place on record our thanks to God for this wonderful healing.

—Mrs. Dorothy Morgan (Philadelphia)

THE GLORY OF HIS LOVE

In a Church where the Rector once ministered, each Christmas we had the "Candle Light Service." It was a simple and beautiful pageant of worship. The shepherds and the Wise Men were there, and the Angels, and Joseph and Mary and the Christ-Child, and, above it all, the Star shone bright. Back of all the beauty, the Rector remembers a man whom the congregation never saw, who played a very important part. The young angels were all clad in pure white, light material, very inflammable. Each angel carried a lighted candle. This man knew the possible tragedy in those burning candles. So, each year, he hid himself from the congregation, in a place close-by where he could keep careful watch, with a small fire-extinguisher in hand. One remembers him, creeping about unnoticed, to be sure that all was safe. He protected the angels each year because "He who is mighty has done great things for me"—because of the gratitude in his heart to God for all His goodness.

Perhaps you are lonely this Christmas. Mary must have been lonely, too—with no woman to help her with the birth of her first child. Yet in her heart, she was remembering how good God had been to her, what great things He had done for her. Will you set aside your newspaper, or shut off the TV—and just sit and remember? He will bring back to your memory some of the great things He has done for you in years past. And your heart fills with thankfulness, you will know what He wants you to do right now—some act of love which may be unseen to most, but will be great in His eyes.

Perhaps you will be with beloved people. Let your heart remember now God's great goodness to you. And out of your heart-full of gratitude, He will entrust you with something to do for Him—it may be to pray for some of the people you will be with, like that man who has forgotten how to be joyful, or the woman whose heart holds resentments. He will give you these people to keep in your prayers. It will be simply that you will be more loving to those difficult people, and that they will respond, and have some Christmas in them once more. He may trust you to write to someone who cannot come this year, to tell them that they will be remembered and missed.

For the glory of Christmas is in forgetting our pin-pricks and old aches, in seeing the glory of His Love for us, and letting it fill our hearts with gladness!

On December 20th the Rev. Andrew W. Mayer, a valued member of St. Stephen's Church, celebrates his 35th Anniversary in the sacred ministry. He was ordained in St. Stephen's Church by Bishop Tait.

The Afternoon Branch of the Women of St. Stephen's, which is reviewing the Life of St. Paul, will meet after morning service on December 19th in the Community House. Wassel and Christmas cakes will be served, and Prayer Cards drawn. All Are Welcome.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

NEW ATTITUDES

We all have plans for 1966. Yet our lives may be judged, not by our plans, but by the unexpected encounters along the way.

Three men set out from Jerusalem to travel over the desolated, robber-infested road to Jericho. Each came suddenly upon a battered man, lying by the roadside. The Priest hurried right on. The Levite slowed down just enough to take a look at the beat-up wayfarer, and pushed on. But the Samaritan, "as he journeyed," brushed aside his plans and his fears, administered first aid, and took him to the next inn and arranged for his care.

At the end of 1966, it will be said of each of us, "A certain person, as he journeyed, met the unexpected, and . . ." And what? What are we going to do with these sudden tests? Apparently, in Jesus' eyes, this is an urgent matter.

What makes the difference—as a Bible student has noted,—is how each of us pictures himself. The Priest and the Levite pictured themselves narrowly as men with very holy jobs, so this stranger lying in the roadside dust was "not one of us"; outside their concern. But the Samaritan (a traveling salesman, on business) thought of himself simply as a human being, one of God's family. So, to him, the wounded man was a fellow-human whose hurt was an important matter. It is interesting to note that the Priest and the Levite were not on business, for they were traveling away from the Temple. But the Samaritan had customers to see, and the delay could cost him business. But he stopped, just the same.

Apparently what we need for 1966 is not plans, but a new attitude. Shall we take ourselves and our convenience very seriously, and regard the man by the wayside as an irritating interruption? Or shall we look more carefully, and see, in the dust, a fellow-man whom God has put in our way to help?

Chesterton once said, "Angels can fly because they take themselves so lightly." Jesus did not hurry along, His eyes on the middle of the road. Again and again, "as He journeyed", He stopped for someone who needed Him. To Him blind Bartimaeus and up-a-tree Zaccheus were not "interruptions" but special opportunities God had put in His way.

If you and I adopt Jesus' rule of the road, we shall travel through 1966 alert for fellow-wayfarers in trouble. Some of our plans will be upset—what difference if they are! Adventurers are not slaves to a plan—they dare to make sudden changes, regardless of inconvenience. As we journey, we shall dare to stop and do what God has put in our way; and go with a song in our hearts.

Dear Dr. Price:—For many years you and the Paryer Group prayed regularly for the healing of my sister, who was in a Mental Hospital. Through your prayers lifting her up for complete healing, I am happy to report that she has been discharged from the Hospital and is now working, and supporting her little son whom I have cared for and supported for the past nine years. Thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift!

—R. B. Jones (Washington, D.C.)

The Prelude: In Dulci Jubilo ..... J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION: We thank Thee, O God, for all Thy blessings in creation: for the beauty of earth and sea and sky, for Thy manifold works, and the wisdom with which Thou hast made them all; for the happiness of our earthly life, for peaceful homes and healthful days, for our powers of mind and body, for faithful friends, for the joy of loving and being loved; for the revelation of Thy Love and for newness of life in our Savior; for the blessings brought to us by Thy holy Church, and for our fellowship with Thee in Christ; we thank Thee, O God. Amen.
Processional Hymn 27 ..... Mendelssohn
The Kyrie, Hymnal 709 ..... Willan
The Anthem: Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee ..... J. S. Bach

Now let every tongue adore Thee! Let men with angels sing before Thee! Let harps and cymbals now unite! All Thy gates with pearl are glorious, where we partake through faith victorious, with angels 'round Thy throne of light. No mortal eye hath seen, no mortal ear hath heard such wondrous things; therefore with joy our songs shall soar in praise to God for evermore.

The Sermon: "THE SEA OF TIME" ..... Rev. Andrew W. Mayer
Offertory Hymn 289 ..... St. Anne
The Doxology and Presentation of the Colors
The Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I am so happy to report that my husband is continuing to make wonderful progress. We are dairy farmers, and he is working full time again on the farm and feels fine. God's healing power has truly worked in him through this illness, for it has brought him closer to God, and he is earnestly seeking to know Him better.

—Mrs. Edith M. Stoddard (East Aurora, N.Y.)

The Rector and Mrs. Price are having the luxury of a mid-Winter vacation in Florida and will be away through the month of January. The Rev. Andrew W. Mayer will be in charge of the Sunday and week-day services, and the Rev. Eugene LeFebvre will conduct the Thursday healing services.

The Rector dedicated on Sunday, December 26th a Chancel Prayer Book presented by Mrs. Walker to the Glory of God and in loving memory of her husband, Walter Baxter Walker.

THROUGH THE DUST

Your picture of yourself will determine your usefulness, and your happiness, in the New Year. Jesus made that clear in the tale of The Good Samaritan.

The Apostles (in Acts 6) pictured themselves as preachers. As Stanley Jones pointed out, they felt that it was too burdensome for them to preach and also to distribute food to their hungry fellow-Christians. So they appointed seven Deacons, to take care of the needy people, while they devoted themselves to the holy job of prayer and preaching. They divided the work into spiritual and material, and pictured themselves as spiritual.

But that is not God's way, according to Jesus. "The Word was made flesh and dwelt among us" . . . God became real in material form, and lived in ordinary places, in a down-to-earth human life. Jesus shocked His disciples when He told them that He came among us as One who serves, as a humble servant of God and man. On the night before He died, He knelt and washed their feet, as common servants did. He said, very plainly, that this is the way that we are to picture ourselves, quietly serving God by serving people. This is the glory of the Christian faith at its best, God at work in ordinary places, in ordinary people.

The Greek word "Deacon" is an interesting one. It means "through-the-dust", describing a camel-driver who goes through the dust leading his camel, while someone else sits on it. A genuine follower of Jesus Christ will, therefore, picture himself as a "through-the-dust" person, accepting discomfort to give someone else a lift. But the Apostles pictured themselves as "preachers" and they labeled the hard-working food-distributors as the "Deacons."

What happened next? We hear less and less of the Apostles and their preaching. But the "Deacons", with their be-grimed service, begin to make history. They became the channels of power. Stephen waked up the Church at Jerusalem, and then became the first Christian Martyr, dying with the forgiving words of Jesus on his lips. Philip, another of the Seven, carried the Great News out of Jerusalem into new places. These Deacons had pictured themselves as Jesus' serving men, so His Love lived in them, and won people to Him. In the meanwhile, the Apostles tried to ride, while others ate dust!

Resolutions fade fast in the New Year. But you can hang a picture of yourself in your heart for all of 1966. Which one will it be? A preachy person? or a through-the-dust servant? You choose!

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscriptions to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. Some 715 are mailed out each week, to individuals and families of people who live in 18 of our States, and a few to Canada. It goes not only to members, but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. The figure we quoted last year as the approximate cost each week was $58.50, to print and mail out this publication. That figure has increased considerably because of the necessity of sending about 436 of the 715 by first class mail; the remaining 269 still going out under our special permit, at 1¼¢ each. Thus the weekly cost figure is in the neighborhood of $70.00 now. Our Parish Treasurer reports receipts up to Dec. 12th of $920.35 toward Bulletin expenses.

If every family would give $2.50 per year, the cost would be met. Of course a great many on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so a generous check or two from those who are financially able to do so, will help cover for those unable to contribute toward this expense. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing, a higher mailing cost, make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and most merciful God, whose fatherly concern broods over all Thy creatures, descend upon us, we pray Thee, as the spirit of quietness, that we may be prepared in heart and mind to receive Thy blessings. Make us aware of wider horizons. Take from our eyes the film of selfishness, and give unto us the spirit of generosity, so that we may see how fair and gracious life may become. Let us welcome the larger heart and kindlier hand, and help us to enter more fully into the joys of following Jesus; we pray in His name. Amen.
Processional Hymn 46 .....Morning Star
The Venite, Page 9; Chant #608, Hymnal
Psalm 97, Page 460
The First Lesson: Isaiah 60:1-9
Te Deum, Page 10; Chants #613, #617, #613, Hymnal
The Second Lesson: St. Matthew 2:1-12
Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #646, Hymnal
The Anthem: How Brightly Beams the Morning Star .....Elmore
How brightly beams the morning star! What sudden radiance from afar doth glad us with its shining! Brightness of God that breaks our night, and fills the darkened souls with light who long for truth were pining! Jesus! Holy, holy, yet most lowly, draw Thou near us. Great Immanuel, come and hear us.
The Sermon: "JESU, JOY OF MAN'S DESIRING"
THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER
— INCARNATION —
DESIRE for God — to French philosopher Voltaire (1699-1770), Invention; to Bishop Brent (1862-1929), Certainty.
Offertory Hymn 330 .....Bouwerie
The Doxology and Presentation of the Colors
Recessional Hymn 52 .....Dix

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Harry J. Hauger in memory of her husband; and by Mr. & Mrs. Robert Fay in memory of Bernice Fewkes.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—For several weeks I have planned to write to you expressing appreciation for the intercessory prayers offered for two months in behalf of my brother, Dr. J. R. Johnson, of Dunn, N.C., who had severe heart attacks. After a recent examination the doctors could find nothing wrong.—Ethel Johnson (Clayton, N.C.)

PLEASE NOTE:—If anyone, as head of a group, etc., knows of a "news item" of interest to our readers, we ask that you leave such item on the secretary's desk—typed or legibly written—on the Sunday before date it should be in our Bulletin. Our copy must go to the printer on Monday before noon.

DIVINE POSSIBILITIES

This is the Epiphany Season—the time when we are thankful for the shining forth of God in Jesus Christ, the showing forth of the nature of God in a Life lived on earth.

Through Jesus Christ men found a new freedom—from the tyranny of the impossible. Men have again and again found themselves helpless, defeated, hopeless. Jesus promised men that with God, nothing is impossible. One only has to meet the impossible with God, and God will show what great things can be wrought out of that failure, or loneliness, or night-mare, or pain. H. C. Moule, Bishop of Durham put this shining freedom thus:

I DARE TO SAY THAT IT IS POSSIBLE FOR THOSE WHO ARE WILLING TO RECKON ON THE POWER OF THE LORD FOR KEEPING AND VICTORY, TO LEAD A LIFE IN WHICH HIS PROMISES ARE TAKEN AS THEY STAND AND ARE FOUND TO BE TRUE.

IT IS POSSIBLE to cast all our care upon Him daily and to enjoy deep peace in doing it.

IT IS POSSIBLE to have the thoughts and imaginations of our hearts purified, in the deepest meaning of the word, through faith.

IT IS POSSIBLE to see the will of God in everything, and to receive it, not with sighing, but with singing.

IT IS POSSIBLE, in the inner life of desire and feeling, to lay aside all bitterness, and wrath, and evil doing, every day and every hour.

IT IS POSSIBLE, by taking complete refuge in divine power, to become strong through and through; and where previously our greatest weakness lay, to find that the things which formerly upset all our resolves to be patient or pure or humble, furnish today opportunity—through Him who loved us, and works in us and agreement with His will and a blessed sense of His Presence and His Power to make sin powerless.

These things are Divine Possibilities, and because they are His work the true experience of them will always cause us to bow lower at His feet and to learn to thirst and long for more. We cannot possibly be satisfied with anything less than—each day, each hour, each moment, in Christ, through the Power of the Holy Spirit—to walk with God.

We have our usual very excellent report from the President of the Benevolent Society, Mrs. Anna W. Hauger. We set it forth here with pride:

During the calendar year 1965, we completed and returned 4,584 pieces of sewing to the following Hospitals:—

Jefferson	4,378
Episcopal	206
	4,584 total number of pieces.

For the sewing of these pieces we disbursed $497.29, which includes carfare for the workers.

At Christmas each worker received a box of candy and a gift from St. Stephen's Church, also a gift from the Benevolent Society.

A HOUSE BLESSING

Bless, O Lord, Almighty God, this house; that there be found good health, the power of spiritual victory, humility, goodness, and meekness, the plentitude of Thy Law, and Thanksgiving to God, the Father, Son and Holy Spirit; and may this blessing remain on this house and on its inhabitants. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

We extend our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Carrie K. Abel, Walter Becker, Mrs. Nelson Billington, Clement B. Buell, Helen Challenger, W. H. Charles, Mr. & Mrs. R. St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: (a) All Praise to Jesus' Hallowed Name .....J. S. Bach
(b) Jesu, Priceless Treasure .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, cleanse our spiritual vision. Open our eyes to the glory of the life of consecration. Let light fall upon our pathway. Help us to see more clearly the radiance of Him who is the Light of the world, and in His Light may we see light. Invade our hearts with Thy quietness. Calm our restlessness. Help us to put our trust in Thee. Grant us the peace of mind that steadies and comforts in every time of need. Lift our burden of carefulness. Set us free from anxiety. Deliver us from the fret of hard circumstance and uphold us with Thy free Spirit.

The Second Lesson: St. Mark 9:2-13
Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #646, Hymnal
The Anthem: Judge Me, O God .....Mendelssohn

Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation; O deliver me from deceitful and unjust men. For Thou art the God of my strength; O why dost Thou cast me from Thee? Wherefore mourn I because the enemy sorely oppresseth me? Send out Thy light and truth, O Lord; O let them lead me, and bring me unto Thy holy hill, and to Thy dwelling place. And then will I go to the Altar of God, the God of my joy. I will praise Thee upon the harp, O my God. O my soul, why art thou cast downward, and why art thou disquieted within me? Hope in the Lord, O my soul, for I will praise Him who is the health of my countenance, and my gracious Lord and God.

Dear Dr. Price:—"Ten years ago I attended a healing service you conducted in Triinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh. I had been suffering from epilepsy from childhood. I honestly believe that with the laying-on-of-hands and your words of prayer I was healed. I am now able to drive a car, and have not been ill for about ten years. Now I am asking you to pray for my husband . . ."

BOOMERANGS

This is the Epiphany Season — the time when we remember the "Showing Forth," the demonstration of God in Jesus Christ. Since He is the God of the whole world, we would expect it to be "built into" God's universe. We find that it is!

Allen Boone (in "LETTERS TO STRONG HEART") tells of an old Chief he met, living in the jungle. He had retired and had made a camp by a lake deep in the jungle, where he lived with peace of heart. "I never even carry a gun in the jungle," he said. "It isn't necessary." Boone was surprised and deeply curious.

He explained that whatever went out of his heart would boomerang back to him from everything in the jungle. If he came with loaded rifle to kill, the jungle was against him. If he came, weaponless, in friendship, the jungle was his friend. So Allen Boone tried this out. He found that whatever he sent out was coming back to him, like for like. "I discovered that the animals usually knew that I was moving in their direction long before they could hear or see me, or even pick up my scent. They always seemed to know, too, whether I was coming as a friend or enemy, and acted accordingly . . . That is what the old Chief meant by "boomerang back." That is why I, too, never go out armed. And that is why I seldom experience any difficulties with natives or animals." A good neighbor finds good neighbors wherever he goes, even in the jungle."

You see, the teaching of Jesus is built into the laws of the universe. The old Chief had discovered, all by himself, that "whatsoever you deal out to others will be dealt to you in return."

You can find this out for yourself. If you are weary of being at odds with people, start your day in a new way. Ask God to help you to go out among people "unarmed", with friendliness and understanding instead of a chip on your shoulder. Ask Him to put into your heart a child's expectation of finding each person your friend. Ask Him to be in your heart and love even the unlovable through you.

Love "boomerangs", as well as hate!

"The purpose of theological education is to help men and women grow in the knowledge and love of God and man. It is carried on within a community made up of students and teachers who live, study, and worship together. It is in their meeting of one another and of God that theological education takes place.

"It is therefore an intensely personal experience. It has to do with a man's growth in understanding God, man, and the Christian faith, and involves not simply the intellect but the whole self.

"A man becomes educated theologically in part by the exercise of his intellect; in part by his commitment to God and his fellow men; and in part by his participation in the enterprise to which he belongs — in this case the seminary community. Theological education begins long before he comes to seminary, and continues until the day he dies, but in most cases this intensive three-year formal education is the critical and most important period.—DEAN JOHN B. COBURN

Scout Troop #2 of St. Stephens, gave Christmas baskets to three needy families. This "good deed" was supported by the Scout Troop Committee. Thank you!

The Annual Offering for Theological Education takes place next Sunday. Give generously and sacrificially to the future of our Church's very existence.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father we thank Thee for this quiet hour in this hallowed place. Here the pressure of life is lifted. Here the shallow desires of earth are stilled. Here the deep hunger of our hearts is satisfied. Bless to us this hour. Reach our souls with Thy Spirit. Grant that our familiarity with the outward symbol may not close our hearts to the inflow of Thy Power, and that the limitations in the human medium through which Thy Word is spoken may not dim our eyes to its splendor. May Thy Word be a light to our path and eternal life to our souls, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: "Once To Every Man And Nation" .....D. S. York

Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide, in the strife of truth with falsehood for the good or evil side. By the light of burning martyrs, Jesus' bleeding feet I track, toiling up new Calvaries ever with the Cross that turns not back. Thou the cause of evil prosper, yet 'tis truth alone is strong. Truth forever on the scaffold, wrong forever on the throne. Yet the scaffold sways the future, and behind the dim unknown, standeth God within the shadow, keeping watch above His own. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks so much for the prayers which have been offered on my behalf. The condition of claustrophobia has improved. The last month has seen me do things which a few months ago I would have thought impossible. I am also most happy to tell you that as of this week a Prayer Group is being formed within our local congregation. Thanks for your help, your words of encouragement and your inspirational literature.—Arthur R. Day (West Newton, Penna.)

MANY CHANNELS

Robert Louis Stevenson spent the last five years of his short life on the Island of Samoa in the South Pacific. He loved the simple Samoan natives, and studied their customs, finding that in every Samoan household the day is closed with prayer and the singing of hymns.

So, as soon as his household had fallen into a regular routine, he felt the necessity of including their Samoan helpers in the evening family prayers. The war-conch was sounded from the back veranda and the Samoans—men, women, and children—trooped in to join the Stevenson family.

The service began with his step-son, Lloyd Osborne, reading a chapter from the Samoan Bible, Stevenson following with a prayer in English. Then came the singing of hymns in the native tongue, and the Lord's Prayer. So, through Tusitela, the "teller of tales", God was shown forth, day by day.

Mrs. Stevenson tells how, one night, her husband brought the service to a sudden stop. He had just learned of the treacherous conduct of one in whom he had every reason to trust. That evening his prayer seemed unusually short and formal. As the singing stopped, he rose abruptly and left the room. His wife hastened after him, fearing some sudden illness. "What is it?" she asked. "It is this", was the reply. "I'm not yet fit to say, 'forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us.'" So he stopped, and did not lead in the Lord's Prayer that memorable evening; because he could not say it with his whole heart.

So God is demonstrated on earth—by a great Christian, so honest before God that he would not speak to God without meaning it. He would first have to pray his way through the forgiveness in his heart. This the continuing "Epiphany"—the on-going demonstration to the loving God through men and women whose lives face Him, and become channels for His compassion. Because there are so many people, God needs many channels, through whom He can be made manifest.

He needs you, my friend, as part of His Epiphany!

MECKLING AT ST. CHARLES

The Rev. Gustav C. Meckling addressed a group of upper class Seminarians at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, Overbrook, Phila., Pa. on Wednesday, January 12th. The invitation to speak at the Seminary was given by the Rev. Stephen Landherr, Priest at St. Boniface's Church in Phila., Pa. Father Landherr ministers to all the deaf Roman Catholics in the Philadelphia area and teaches at St. Charles. The Rev. Mr. Meckling spoke on the Psychology of Deafness to a group which will serve the deaf in their Church.

Previously, Father Landherr spoke to the Rev. Mr. Meckling's Class of Seminarians at the Philadelphia Divinity School. We believe it very likely that the Rev. Mr. Meckling is the first non-Roman Catholic Priest to speak at St. Charles Seminary. He was very warmly received, and the class presented him with a pictorial copy of the New Testament.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Louise W. Braun, Mrs. Victor Brink, Samuel H. Chestnut, Mrs. E. J. Durholz, Mrs. Diane Guth, Addaline A. Harley, Elsie Mae Harvey, Jeanette Hollenbach, M. J. La Briola, Mrs. Mary Lord, Mrs. P. D. Mackes, Hazel Meszaros, Mrs. Kathryn A. Neild, Tessie Reed, William H. Ruhl, Mrs. Lois Thomson, Mr. & Mrs. Edward J. Van Dyke, Mary E. Varallo, Miss Sabrina Weeks, Mrs. Frances L. Weir.

In last week's Bulletin we had a brief paragraph at the bottom of the 2nd inner page about the Annual Offering for Theological Education. With this issue we include interesting reading matter, a book mark and an envelope; the latter for your convenience in making your generous contribution to this most important matter.

VALUES—A Sunday School teacher was horrified when she saw a picture which one of her pupils had drawn. "Why", she said, "It looks like a cowboy walking into a saloon!"

"It is", replied the boy. "But it's all right: he isn't going in to drink anything; he's just going in to shoot a man."—(A parish paper)

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

The Prelude: "Arioso" .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, we bow in gratitude for all spiritual ministries. We thank Thee for those influences which gladden our hearts; for acts of kindness which touched gray days with color; for the gracious ministry of the home; for light in the eyes of those who have given us their love; for mountaintop experiences which inspired us to seek goodness, truth and beauty; and for moments when the House of God became a shrine in which we kept our tryst with Thee. Inspire the people of this Republic to fulfill their destiny as a nation that Thou hast blessed. Here have come citizens from every race. Here they found refuge; here they builded homes; and here they invested their lives. We thank Thee for those who were heroic in times of peril, showed fortitude in days of terror, and gave freely to the last full measure of devotion. Teach us to bring durable peace out of war, order out of chaos, brotherhood out of conflict. So may our people learn to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with Thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—I must tell you that some time ago when I asked for prayer on an exceeding difficult problem, all of a sudden the whole thing was most happily resolved. It was just as though a jig-saw puzzle suddenly showered down into a perfect whole, like a miracle. I am sure this was due to the prayers of our faithful group, and I wish to thank you for your support.—Georgia Nagle (Dorchester, Mass.)

THE UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE

Recently an able Japanese electronics engineer came to visit a friend of mine. Even his keen mind found difficulty with our awkward English Language. So my friend asked him how he was able to communicate with the American engineers with whom he had been consulting.

He pointed out that the science of electronics is expressed in "universal symbols"—like algebra and geometry. Scientists of all nations can read them. So all he had to do was to show them what he had worked out on paper, in these universal symbols. Science has a language for all nations.

We believe that Jesus Christ is the answer for all our nations—just as electronics has answers for all men. Therefore we would expect there to be a universal language in which we can communicate this Good News to all. There is such a language.

It is the language of deeds, not words! Back of all the shining words that Jesus spoke are His more shining deeds. It is the deeds which give authority to the words—His loving-out-reach to the rich and to the poor, to Very-Important-People and to Very-Unimportant-People, to the lovable, and the unlovable. We remember His living and His dying. We remember what He did.

Men and women of other nations, and the people around us, come to understand and love Jesus Christ when they see Him in action in us. When He lives in us, people can see that He is different from those who compete harshly for our "success", for fore money or power. When they catch sight of Him in us, they see that He seeks for new success, new wealth, new hope, for others—at real cost to themselves. This language of love is costly—learned only by "losing ourselves" in the lives of our neighbors.

The Japanese people are rightly famous for their courtesy, their gracious way with friends and strangers. The Olympic teams in the 1964 Games at Tokyo spoke of this. Never had they met such warm and care-taking consideration in any "foreign" land. For this reason Japanese Christians take naturally to the "universal symbols" of love.

Each one of us must muster these simple but costly expressions of love. Only through loving action can we make Christ known to people of different ways than ours. Only through the clear-speaking deeds of love can white and Negro people in the U.S.A. be reconciled to each other. Only thus can individuals—separated by misunderstanding and resentment—bridge the gap between them.

We have a universal language. Through it God can work wonders. Use it to-day!

Our thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mabel Allington, Mrs. C. W. Borden, Elizabeth M. Campbell, Dorothy J. Chew, Edith J. Craig, Mrs. Ann Ewing, Mr. & Mrs. David L. German, III, Mrs. J. Donald Gibson, Mrs. Harry J. Hauger, E. Hawley, Charles E. Holmes, Mrs. William Hymes, Elvira Lynch, Mrs. Miriam K. Mathews, Thomas S. Orme, Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. Louise M. Price, Mr. & Mrs. Roy Rimmel, Ann Snow, Margaret J. Stanley, E. Lillian Wyatt.

PRAYER EVANGELISTS

We now have 135 men and women in St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship. They are our Prayer Evangelists. They are committed to a Prayer activity which is a disciplined devotional work that goes on 'round the clock—24 hours of continuous prayers daily for persons in need of God's healing; body, mind and soul. Each person is thus lifted up in prayer 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks. Chronic cases are renewed for longer periods.

During the year 1965 eighteen thousand, seven hundred six persons requested our prayers; people from all over the world. We are grateful to these Intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Why do we pray for others if God is no "respecter of persons", and His Good Will toward all men is impartial? Because the degree to which His power enters a given life varies with the disposition of the person for it. Prayer is a principal means of opening one's self to the power and love of God that is already there—in the depths of reality. He is always ready to guide, to bless, to make whole, to enrich, to comfort and to heal; such barriers as there are to His coming in us are not in Him, but in each of us. "Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I shall come in. . . ."

In Intercession we help to release His power and grace into the lives of others. We do not beg and beseech God to help and heal these needy persons, but pray that their capacity will be increased to receive God's healing, wisdom and guidance.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Several months ago I wrote to you for prayers for my cousin who had submitted to brain surgery and that it was found to be malignant, and so close to the brain that all of the tumor could not be removed, which seemed hopeless indeed. I am happy to report that Mary has made remarkable recovery and that she is almost back to normal.—Lila G. Landrum (Arcadia, California)

THE MODERATE

It is time to say something on behalf of moderation. My dictionary defines the word, "reasonable; calm; tempered. Not extreme in opinion, in partisanship." The definition does not describe the climate of these times. Indeed, our people seem to be drawn increasingly to the polarities of extremism. Am I wrong in believing that this promises little good for the future? It is my conviction that the soundness of our society springs from middle ground where moderation holds the balance against extremism in all forms.

Judge Learned Hand, considered by many to be the greatest jurist of our time, has written, "What is the spirit of moderation? It is the temper which does not press a partisan advantage to its bitter end, which can understand and will respect the other side, which feels the unity between all citizens—real and not a fictitious product of propaganda—which recognizes their common faith and their common aspirations—in a word, which has faith in the sacredness of the individual. If you ask me how such a temper and such a faith are bred and fostered, I cannot answer. They are the last flowers of civilization, delicate and easily over-run by the weeds of our sinful human nature; we may even now be witnessing their uprooting and disappearance until in the progress of the ages their seeds can once more find friendly soil. But I'm satisfied that they must have the vigor within themselves to withstand the winds and weather of an indifferent and ruthless world; and that it is idle to seek shelter for them in the court room. Men must take that temper and that faith with them into the field, into the market-place, into the factory, into the council-room, into their homes; they cannot be imposed; they must be lived."

The position of the moderate is difficult to hold these days. I sense a growing rigidity of thought and action. Lines are being drawn firmer. Differences are being translated into hostilities. Dogmatism in many forms is having its day. In this atmosphere which is prevalent throughout our land, the moderate is often damned from all sides. Unable to embrace extremism in any form, he stands his ground in the middle and is assaulted by all. I'm persuaded that his position is the most uncomfortable of all, and yet the sanest.

We wish to thank these Bulletin Subscribers: Ross J. Griffith, Mrs. Walter J. Hunt, Alex D. Kerr, F. Mangold, Beulah McNeill Nurse, Mrs. Rachel M. Semon, Miss Margaret Tappen, Edith Taylor, Mrs. Walter B. Walker, Mrs. Viola Wells & Mrs. Constance Bevins.

ARE THE DOCTRINES OF THE CHURCH less excellent than at any former period? Have you embraced the persuasion of the Church only to abandon it in the hour of difficulty? We therefore entreat you, by all the ties of religion, to cooperate fervently in the cause of your Church.

—The Virginia Churchman, May 1785

SANS SAINTS — A traveling Churchman, on passing through a small town, tried to call the local priest. He asked "Information" for the telephone number of the Episcopal Church, but none was listed. He then suggested that the name of the Church might be found under "Saints". After a long pause, the operator said, "I'm sorry, but there are no saints in this town."

—Oregon Churchman

BARGAIN

At how cheap a price was Christ tumbled up and down in this world. It does almost take off our pious scorn at the low price at which Judas sold Him, to consider that His Father sold Him to the world for nothing . . .

And yet you have had him cheaper than that today in the Sacrament. Whom has Christ cost five shekels here? . . .

If you have truly given yourself to Him in the Sacrament, God has given you yourself back so much mended as that you have received yourself and Him too . . .

—John Donne

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 142 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Song of Peace" ..... Jean Langlais

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Gracious Father, we humbly beseech Thee for Thy whole Church throughout the world. Fill it with all truth, and in all truth with all peace. Where it is corrupt, purify it; where it is in error, direct it; where it is superstitious, cleanse it; where anything is amiss, reform it; where it is right, strengthen it and confirm it; where it is in want, furnish it; where it is divided and rent asunder, heal the breaches thereof—through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Psalm 33, Page 378

The First Lesson: I Samuel 17 — Vs 17

Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Matthew 10:32-39

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #642, Hymnal

The Anthem: "Sned Out Thy Light" ..... Gounod

Send out Thy light and Thy truth, let them lead me, and let them bring me to Thy holy hill. O God, then will I go unto Thy Altar. On the harp we will praise Thee, O Lord our God. . . . Why, O soul, art thou sorrowful, and why cast down within me? Still trust the loving kindness of the God of Thy strength, and my tongue yet shall praise Him, who hath pleaded my cause. Send out Thy light . . .

The Sermon ..... THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn 572 ..... Maryton

The Doxology, Presentation of the Colors

Recessional Hymn 528 ..... Hesperus

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. David L. German, Sr. in memory of his parents: Dr. and Mrs. David L. German; and by Miss Jane Harper in memory of mother, Mrs. Daniel R. Harper.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. James O. Lyman.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Will you join me in thanks and rejoicing to our Lord God, over the great improvement in my health? Last Fall I wrote you asking for your prayers, as I had chronic leukemia for many years, and weighed only 87 pounds. Since hearing from you my health has slowly and gradually improved. I have gained nearly 20 pounds and my blood count is better than it has been in all the years I have had this trouble. The doctor could not believe it. He said it was really fantastic that there could be such a radical change. I feel better than I have felt in many years and have a very good appetite. God does hear and He does answer our prayers.

—Mrs. Irene L. Stevens (Corvallis, Oregon)

TEAM PLAY

"We knew that we could survive only as a team." So reports Dr. Miller, geologist on the American Expedition to the top of Mount Everest. These weather-beaten men had experienced together the rigors of high altitude climbing. They would have to pull together like the members of a healthy human body—if they were to survive. So, they pulled together. So, they survived.

Too often we have thought of the teachings of Jesus as beautiful thoughts to be followed, if possible. We have not "seen" that the teachings of God's Son are the laws of the universe; that obeying them is a practical, urgent necessity. To disobey them is death!

God's time-schedule is, of course, different from ours. We are human, hasty, impatient. We think in terms of today, or next week. God thinks in terms of eternity. In our physical world, He thinks in terms of slow growth, little by little. Every creature is under the government of His laws, in the long run.

When He made man, He gave us a special freedom granted to no other creature—To say "Yes" or "No" to Him. We can choose, for better or worse. But, make no mistake—if we choose to disobey His laws, we choose death. If we choose to obey Him, we choose life!

If you want to test this truth, think long and deeply about the people over seventy whom you know well. For, by that stage in life, the results of obeying (or disobeying) God's laws begin to be evident. You will find death in the faces of those who have done as they pleased. You will find Life in the faces of those who have learned to obey the eternal laws. It's as simple as that.

Any organism has to work together harmoniously under one will, whether it is the solar system, or the world of nature, or a single human life. Inner civil war destroys—in a nation, or a person. Therefore your life must be united "under Christ." Only thus will all of your desires and hungers and abilities and dreams be obedient to Him, and work effectively together. Only thus will your best self survive. Therefore the nations must learn to work together in team-play, as associates and neighbors. In this nuclear age, this is our one chance to survive. The teachings of Jesus Christ are written deep into the stars, and into the March of the Centuries.

The Rector and Mrs. Price have returned from their vacation in Florida and for the third time enjoyed the hospitality of one of the finest health centers in the country. The Fairview, of St. Petersburg, operated by Warren P. Griffiths who is the President and Founder, also, of the Fairview in Chestnut Hill, Langhorne and Wyndmoor, has in St. Petersburg, the finest retirement, convalescence and nursing care facilities imaginable.

The Women of St. Stephen's, Afternoon Branch, will meet on Sunday, February 20th after the morning service, in the Community House. Coffee and cookies will be served. The review of the Life of St. Paul will continue, with his First Missionary Journey to Cypress. All are welcome.

There will be a Vestry Meeting at 12:30 P.M. on Sunday, Feb. 13th.

The Rector will speak to the Episcopal Churchwomen of our Diocese on the subject of Intercessory Prayer on February 16th in the Packard Memorial Room at 10:30 A.M. (Bring your own sandwich lunch). And to the Evening Branch at 7:30 P.M. (Dinner at 6:30 P.M.).

We extend our "Thank you" to these Bulletin subscribers: Helen L. Bradley, Hebe Bulley, Mrs. Evelyn Burkley, Harry H. Bush, Mrs. John S. Collins, Beatrice N. Crane, Mrs. Rebecca P. Daniels, Helen G. Downes, Mr. & Mrs. Frank Goff, Mrs. Elizabeth Hallowell, Mrs. Helen LeDent, Catherine Mattson, C. B. McLeod, Marjorie Polkinhorn, Sue Potter, Mrs. Emily Ramhorst, Mrs. John Spear, Stella L. Talbert, Mrs. Margaret G. Trim, Thelma M. Weeks.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Andante" (from the Grand Piece Symphonic) .....Cesar Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Thou God of every day and night, who changest not amid all the changefulness of human life, we adore Thee, we worship Thee, we rejoice in Thee. Other helpers may fail but Thou failest never. Other joys may depart but Thou, who art our supreme joy, abidest forever. Help us to realize so vividly Thine unwavering Love and never mistaken providence, that we may meet each day with courage, enter into every situation with confidence, and, with a kind of holy recklessness, give ourselves in love and service to others, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #642, Hymnal

The Anthem: "O Be Joyful In The Lord" .....Ainslee Cox

O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands, and come before His presence with a song. Serve the Lord with gladness and come before His presence with a song. Know ye that the Lord He is God: it is He that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are His people, and the sheep of His pasture. O go your way into His gates with thanksgiving, O go your way into His courts with praise! Be thankful unto Him, and speak good of His name.

5:30 P.M.—Holy Communion & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Once again we have time for rejoicing and the giving of thanks to Almighty God in the recovery so far of Sandy Anderson, the seven-year-old girl, who was stricken with encephalitis. A tracheotomy had been necessary. She was two weeks in a coma, in an oxygen tent. The doctors, bless them, say they are surprised at what is happening. The child and the doctors were told about the intercessions on her behalf. The child radiates the Grace of God.—Marion McKnight (Norristown, Pa.)

ROYAL EXTRAVAGANCE

The Scribes and Pharisees were "the best people" of their day. They attended Church faithfully. They tried with vigor to live up to the standards of the Law, which was the highest standard of conduct their world knew. But they were proud, and self-satisfied, so Jesus did not commend these "good" people. He said to His friends, "Except your righteousness exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

Perhaps it is a waked-up Pharisee who speaks through the poem of Marguerite Wilkinson:

> "I never cut my neighbor's throat. My neighbor's purse I never stole.
> I never spoiled his home or lands, But God have mercy on my soul.
> For I am haunted night and day, By all the deeds I have not done.
> All unattempted loveliness! All costly valor, never won!"

Jesus bade us to be something more than decent, respectable pagans. He was no goody-goody Teacher, admonishing us, "Don't! Don't!" In His spiritual adventuring, He was as fearless as those who climbed Mount Everest. He bade us to follow Him in spending ourselves in Royal Extravagance for God and for other people. He seeks to enlarge, in each one of us, the power to give.

He led the way for us. As Sam Shoemaker put it, "Jesus saw deeply into the working of the Laws of God . . . Something told Him that the Cross had to be; there was no other way . . . This drew a minus sign right across His own life, cut Him off in His prime . . . We are confronted with a decision which puts Christ and other people first, and runs the same minus sign through our own lives as the Cross ran through Christ's."

We can thank God that He gives us something more to do than to be nice, proper children. He bids us to be the most extravagant people the world has ever seen, spending ourselves in Royal Largesse. He can, under His command, give endless supplies of comfort, gayety, peace, strength, wherever they are needed!

Jesus left far behind Him the people who were content to be "good". They lagged behind because He was too strenuous for them. But perhaps you have a youthful spirit of adventure within you, choosing to plunge with Him into the glorious extravagance of Love.

On February 27th, at the 11 O'Clock service the Rector will baptize his latest grandson, Alfred Price Churchill Murray. Everyone is invited to an Open House at the Rectory, 121 Lodges Lane, Cynwyd, in the afternoon.

The Rector's Confirmation Classes meet on Sundays at 10 A.M. beginning February 27th. Although these classes are designed primarily for those persons who wish to be confirmed, they are also open without obligation, to all those who want to learn about the life and faith of the Episcopal Church. Confirmation is scheduled for a great service with other Churches on Saturday, April 16th at 10 A.M.

The Women of St. Stephen's, afternoon branch, will meet on Sunday, February 20th after the morning service, in the Community House. Coffee and cookies will be served. The review of the Life of St. Paul will continue, with his first Missionary Journey to Cypress. All are welcome.

ASH WEDNESDAY

The Rector will conduct the Litany Service at 10:30 A.M., and celebrate the Holy Communion at 5:30 P.M.

Bishop DeWitt will preach at the 12:30 P.M. Service.

The Rev. John R. Hart, Ph.D., for many years of the Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge, and now of the Freedoms Foundation, will be the Noon-day preacher on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 24, 25 and 26.

We extend our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Charlotte M. Bishop, Mrs. S. H. Burke, Elmer S. Carll, W. J. Ferris, Mary C. Kutzer, James O. Lyman.

11:00 A. M.—HOLY BAPTISM & SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: Prelude and Fugue in C Minor .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Holy Spirit of God, abide with us; inspire all our thoughts; pervade our imaginations; suggest all our decisions; order all our doings. Be with us in our silence and in our speech, in our haste and in our leisure, in company and in solitude, in the freshness of the morning and in the weariness of the evening; and give us grace at all times humbly to rejoice in Thy mysterious companionship; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
Processional Hymn 246 .....Luke

The Anthem: "Ho, Everyone That Thirsteth" .....MacFarlane
Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labor for that which satisfieth not? Hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. I heard the voice of Jesus say, Behold, I freely give the living water; thirsty one, stoop down, and drink and live. I came to Jesus, and I drank of that life-giving stream; my thirst was quenched, my soul revived, and now I live in Him.
The Sermon: THE BABY .....The Rector
Offertory Hymn 428 .....Buckland
Doxology, Presentation of the Colors
Recessional Hymn 346 .....St. Elisabeth

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. William D. Smith in memory of her husband; By Miss Theresa Reed and Mrs. Howard Mortensen in memory of Mrs. Mary Reed.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Frederick Schmid.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Mr. Arthur C. Comby.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Our daughter, Ellen was born a Mongoloid. We placed her on your Prayer List and brought her to your healing service in 1964, and we noticed immediate results for the better. We attended another healing service in 1965 and are so pleased with her continued progress.—Lawrence Ramberger (Bernville, Penna.)

MIGHTY WORKS OF GOD

Travelers go thousands of miles to see the wonders of the world. Climbers undergo exhausting and painful privations to reach the summits of the great peaks. Explorers willingly accept hardships to discover new continents.

Lent began last Wednesday. It can be a daring Season when our determined spirits set forth to behold the Mighty Works of God. For, when we venture out to find His greatness, we shall become aware of our littleness, as a man does standing at the base of one of the Pyramids. We shall be seeking a clearer view of the pure glory of God in Christ, and, in the presence of it, we shall become more acutely aware of our impurity. This will not always be pleasant travel, but no real adventure is ever comfortable!

"Great is the Lord," wrote the Psalmist. "How gracious the Lord is, how merciful, how patient, how rich in pity!" In Lent we can, like Columbus, venture forth beyond the familiar shores of our everyday thinking, to make new discoveries of His greatness. We may even come upon some new continent of His gracious Love, beyond anything we ever expected to find—and then live in a wider world, enlarged by our Lenten discoveries.

But what about the fasting, the overcoming of sin and self-indulgence which we associate with Lent? In every true exploration it is vital to rid yourself of every unnecessary encumbrance, to tighten one's belt. As the greatness of God grows upon us, we shall have to shed our littleness, as a snake slips out of his old skin. As our desire deepens to climb along God's way, we shall have to cast aside the unnecessary luxuries of body and spirit which encumber us. As we find fresh knowledge of His great Love for us, we may be willing to discipline our lives to His pattern.

"Quietly, Lord, Thy creatures raise their eyes to Thee, and Thou grantest them, in due time, their nourishment."(Psalm 145:15).

Our Thanksgiving Offering went to All Saints' Hospital and the Episcopal Hospital, each receiving $163.25.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

The Annual Appeal for contributions to the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches is now at hand and a special envelope is enclosed herewith. The Council is responsible for a high degree of co-operative services and programs that no single Denomination or Church is able to perform. The Council includes five Departments through which forty services and programs are managed. Many present services need to be extended, and other needs await further Christian co-operation. Your generous response is solicited.

The Women's Aid of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing is giving its 29th Annual Birthday Party at the regular meeting on Tuesday, March 1st at 3 P.M. There will be an election of Officers, and refreshments will be served.

The Bulletin subscriptions for 1966 have been coming in very well. Keep them coming. Here we express our thanks to these latest subscribers: Harriet Hewlett, Virginia D. Homeyard, Kathryn Schrott, Mr. & Mrs. Harry F. Seltzer, Bertha Tillotson, Mrs. G. Byron Woolley, Mrs. Wm. D. Smith.

We extend a hearty welcome to Bishop Herbert Spaugh of Charlotte, North Carolina, who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher February 28th through March 4th.

The Rev. Ralph Johnson, the new Rector of Trinity Church, Buckingham, Penna., will be the preacher on Saturday, March 5th.

The Rector's Confirmation Class For Adults

The Rector's Confirmation Class will meet at 10 A.M. Sunday mornings. The subjects of the lectures will be: THE CHRISTIAN FAITH, THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH, THE BIBLE, THE CREED, THE PRAYER BOOK, THE SACRAMENTS. — Those eligible to attend are: (1)—Those intending to be confirmed; (2)—Those who want to know more about the Church before they make a final decision about Confirmation; (3)—Those who would like to refresh their knowledge about the Christian Faith.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "My Inmost Heart Doth Yearn" .....Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, we assemble in the name that is above every name to offer Thee our heart's devotion. We thank Thee for this quiet hour in this hallowed place. Here the pressure of life is lifted. Here the shallow desires of earth are stilled. Here the deep hunger of our hearts is satisfied. Bless us this hour. Reach our souls with Thy Spirit. Grant that our familiarity with the outward symbol may not close our hearts to the inflow of Thy Power, and that limitations in the human medium through which Thy Word is spoken may not dim our eyes to its splendor. May Thy Word be a Light to our path, and eternal life to our souls. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 59 .....St. Flavian

The Response to the Decalogue #708, Hymnal .....Willan

The Anthem: "The Lord Is My Shepherd" .....Thomas Matthews

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside still waters. He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

The Sermon: "THE GREATEST OF THESE IS LOVE" .....The Rector

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. William F. Machold, to the glory of God and in loving memory of Roland Shippen Morris and his wife, Augusta, and their son Edward Shippen Morris, and his wife Leslie Hun Morris; and by the George Sinnamon Fund in memory of Dr. and Mrs. George Sinnamon.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Elmer S. Carll.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer and Sermon, Mr. R. Douglas Cole.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

Dear Dr. Price:—My brother-in-law, Hugh, had been hospitalized with advanced cirrhosis of the liver and three-fourths damaged. The doctor told us that he would have six weeks before going into coma and that would be the end. After handing his name to your Prayer Fellowship, the fluid began to leave his body and continued prayers followed, and now he is well again. It was the power of prayer that healed him. I thank you all for the unselfish giving of yourselves for others, in His name.

—Mary Mohen (Haddonfield, N.J.)

WORLD OF ACTION

How does God communicate with us, His human family? Through the written words of Prophets and Priests, of course, culminating in the teachings of Jesus. He does use words to reach us. But deeds are more informing than words. A man tells you more about himself by what he does than by what he says. And when we thank God for His Son, Jesus Christ, are we not thinking, above all, of what He did for us?

When we think of Jesus, our minds picture Him healing the handicapped, feeding the hungry, lifting up out of the dust that bedraggled woman caught in adultery. We watch Him, with blazing anger, driving the money-changers out of the Temple; bending humbly as a servant to wash the feet of His disciples. Most of all He lives in our hearts as He died for us on a tormenting Cross: from which He lovingly took care of His mother, instantly forgave the Penitent Thief, gave voice to His unshakable love for His killers, won victory over the blackness of His despair.

We remember what Jesus did. His teaching reveals to us the inner meaning of His living and His dying. But we turn to His deeds first, as we turn first to the pictures in a book, in which we can see the truth, see the story like a play before our eyes, on the stage. The Mighty Deeds of God, in Jesus, are the illustrations of His life of Love for us.

Dag Hammarskjold, the great Secretary-General of the United Nations, once wrote, "In our era, the road to holiness necessarily passes through the world of action." God is understood more through deeds than through sermons; and sermons only have authority as they are illustrated by the life of the preacher. In our era, Christian Missionaries are becoming less and less welcome the world around. Therefore, it will be more and more necessary to communicate Christ in Christ-like people who witness without words in the Peace Corps, in hospitals, schools, agriculture; through people who translate His all-loving Gospel into the universal language of action. If we do that, honestly, vividly, people will ask us about Him, because they have first seen what He does in us.

This could be true, also, of that "problem situation" in your home, in your Church, in your business. The road to holiness and to victorious love "necessarily passes through the world of action," through you.

The Rector will preach in the Marble Collegiate Church, New York, at Noon on Wednesday, March 2nd.

BISHOP CRITTENDEN

Bishop Crittenden of Erie made an extended trip last Summer to Vietnam, where he was able to consult not only with Roman Catholic and Buddhist South Vietnamese, but also with Vietcong and members of the National Liberation Front. He will speak to us along the same lines at the Lenten Noonday Services, Monday through Friday of this week.

We welcome as our Saturday Noonday preacher, the Rev. John E. Leser, Rector of Calvary Church, Germantown.

We are endeavoring to give to the yearly support of the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches one percent of our Church Budget. Your contribution through the special envelope sent you recently will be a great help toward that end.

Have you made your annual contribution towards the support of our Theological Schools?

WHERE IS YOUR CHURCH MEMBERSHIP?

The freedom of religion which we celebrate depends upon a mature sense of personal responsibility. Where is your Church membership? The vitality of the Christian Church, in a free society, comes from those who support the Church through membership and participation in the life of the Church. If you are not an active member, we sincerely invite you to give thoughtful and prayerful consideration to joining our Confirmation Class which meets on Sundays at 10 A.M. in the Rector's study.

LENTEN SERMONS

The Rector is preaching a series of sermons on Christian Love, based on the 13th Chapter of St. Paul's First Epistle to the Corinthians.

Roast Beef Dinner — The Women's Aid of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing is giving a Roast Beef Dinner in the Community House on Tuesday, March 15th, 1966 — from 4:30 P.M. to 7 P.M. — $1.50. You are most welcome.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Harry Seltzer in the passing of her husband.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Come, Sweet Peace" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, Thou lover of mankind, in whose hand is the life of every living creature; we lift our hearts to Thee in grateful devotion. Thou hast given us our yesterdays, and their record is within Thy book of remembrance. Our tomorrows are within Thy loving care. Today is ours. Help us this day to produce glad music at the console of the organ of life. We would lightly touch the keys of rejoicing, strike the chords of inner harmony, and sound the deeper notes of enduring faith. Open our eyes to the gladness of wayside mercies—budding flowers, trembling leaves, fleecy clouds, radiant dawn, and quiet evening. Awaken our minds to the beauty of form and color, and to all of nature's loveliness. Teach us to find music in the charm of conversation and the laughter of little children; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

—Mrs. J. W. Pierce, Birmingham, Alabama

TO HEAR MORE CLEARLY

Sometimes it is a life-or-death matter whether you hear what someone else is saying. Your physical ears may be all right—you hear the words that are being said. But you do not truly hear what the person behind the words is trying to communicate. In a past issue of "Faith At Work" this story is told:

A boy in San Diego who had survived the Korean War picked up the phone, dialed the long distance operator, and his mother in a fashionable suburban community answered.

"Mom, I'm coming home," he said. She was almost ecstatic with gushy gratitude for her boy was alive and in this country.

Then he added, "Mom, I'm bringing a buddy home with me. He got the worst end of the deal. He has one eye, one arm, and one leg. He has no home, and I want him to live with us, to make our home his home."

She replied, "Why, Son, that will be fine. Bring your friend on if you think that much of him. He can stay several weeks at our home."

"But, Mom, that isn't what I said. I want him to live with us permanently."

"Well, if you think that much of him, bring him on home, Son, of course. We'll try to like him, too. Let him stay a whole year if you like."

"But, Mom, that isn't what I said. He got the worst end of it—one eye, one arm, one leg."

Then the mother said, "Son, now let's be sensible. You know these things get old after a while. You're too close to this boy now. You've been in a war; your emotions are too raw. He'll be a drag on you." And when his mother said that, he rudely hung up the receiver.

The next day the parents received a telegram from the Naval Department saying that the previous night their son had jumped to his death from the 12th floor window of a San Diego Hotel. In the days that followed his body was shipped home. The casket was opened. The body had one eye, one arm, and one leg.

One of the mightiest acts of God is His power to restore our hearing. The Apostles had learned from Jesus to listen closely, lovingly, to people. They listened—and heard what they were saying. Because they were living in the power of the Spirit, they really got the message from the other person.

As you live more and more faithfully in the Spirit, you will begin to hear more clearly what is really being said. Sometimes it is a matter of life and death.

The Rector preached in St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, Wilmington, Delaware, last Sunday evening.

The Rector will speak to the Men's Club of the United Brethren Church, Perkasie, on Tuesday evening.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Robert Batchelder, Rector of St. James Church, Lancaster, Penna., who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher Monday through Friday, March 14th-18th.

A beautiful Chalice and Paten given by Mr. John H. Glassey in loving memory of his mother, Zelda R. Glassey, were dedicated last Sunday morning.

THERE ARE TWO WAYS to become a member of this Parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church, you become a member of this Parish by asking the Rector of the Parish where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia. The second way is by Confirmation. Classes of Instruction for adults are now being held at 10 A.M. on Sunday mornings in the Rector's Study.

We welcome as our Saturday Noonday preacher the Rev. Otho S. Hoofnagle, Chaplain of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

Our grateful thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Marie Berger, Mrs. Virginia Dietrich, Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, Charles K. Hay, Jane S. Macleod, Mrs. Mabel B. Moore, Mr. & Mrs. W. A. Nagele, Jr., Mrs. Edith Oliver, Mrs. Cazimera Petroski, Mrs. Mae Renee, Mrs. Laura Roddy, Mary E. Schearer, Mary E. Shinn, Mr. & Mrs. Fred Schmid, Edwin A. Schurr.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

The Prelude: "My Heart Is Filled With Longing" .....Langlais
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Gracious God, our Heavenly Father, in whom is the fullness of light and love and power, give us grace to worship Thee in spirit and in truth. Lift us to spiritual heights, that we may worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. And grant that when we descend to the common ways of the world we may be so illumined by Thy Light, so moved by Thy Love, and so strengthened by Thy Power that we shall be serene and confident and victorious. We ask in Christ's name. Amen.

Offertory Hymn 379 .....Capetown
Doxology; Presentation of the Colors
Recessional Hymn 345 .....Dominus Regit Me

Flowers on our Altar today are provided by the Katherine Kennedy Fund in memory of Dr. Carl E. Grammer, former Rector of St. Stephen's.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Holy Communion; the Sermon by Mr. R. Douglas Cole.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—My husband's name was placed on your Prayer List six months ago for aplastic anemia. Up to that time he was going down hill. His blood count has gone down and this week will make four weeks without transfusions. His doctor said it is the wonderful work of God through prayer.
—Mrs. J. Alva Smith (Stone Mountain, Georgia)

The Confirmation Class meets on Sunday mornings at 10, in the Rector's study. If you want to be a communicant member of this Parish, you should attend this class. Confirmation is an opportunity for instruction in Christian belief and practice, as well as a public affirmation of Christian loyalty.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Helen I. Brinser, Regina McComb, Mrs. C. Fuerst, Frances Tinsley Kalich, Wm. H. Leyrer.

SAVIOR OF THE WORLD

Another Mighty Act of God was to send a Savior — One who could rescue us from our sins, our bondage, our old enemies. The friends of the woman at the well, after they had met Jesus face to face, said to her, "Now we believe . . . that this is indeed the Christ, the Savior of the world."

Every one of you knows the Savior. You know Him because He has been saving you. There are sins of the earlier years which no longer hobble you. You are free from their power, because you asked His help for victory over them, and He saved you from them.

But, you may ask, why has He not saved me from my oldest sin, my long-time gripe, which has taunted me down the years? This one comes again and again, the old weakness, the old irritation. The reason is too simple for our liking. Deep in our hearts we have enjoyed that special sin, so we have never been willing to ask His help against it.

Not long ago a fine woman tackled an old weakness which had darkened her life for many a year. From time to time she had gotten tangled up inside, not feeling well, and saying, "I'm so sick," and beginning to be sorry for herself. She would withdraw from the world, not wanting to see anyone. Recently she was looking forward to a family anniversary, with her children and her grandchildren coming home to celebrate it. She began on the old routine, that she felt so sick, and would spoil the party. Then, suddenly, she turned away from herself to the Savior, and, each morning, she would ask Him, "What do You want me to do today for someone else?" At last she was willing for Him to take away the old weakness. And He did. She was surprised to find herself enjoying the celebration!

If there is some area in your life still kept from your Lord, let Him in as your Savior and Master. Give Him right-of-way in that old area of defeat. He will ask you to give up enjoying some self-indulgence or self-pity. Then, once you have yielded that area to Him, you will know, anew, how great a Savior He is — "Indeed the Christ, the Savior of the world."

THE AFTERNOON BRANCH, WOMEN OF ST. STEPHEN'S will meet as usual this Sunday, March 20th, after the morning service, in the Community House. The study of St. Paul will continue with his 2nd Missionary Journey into Europe. Coffee and Cookies will be served. All are welcome.

SUMMA THEOLOGIA

The subway stop at 116th street and Broadway in Manhattan is used by students of Columbia and Barnard, as well as those of the Union Theological Seminary and the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. Recently a literate graffiti artist chalked a message on a wall of the subway there: "God is dead: Nietzsche."

An unknown defender of the Faith soon marked through the original and substituted, "Nietzsche is dead: God."—from the New York Times [Nietzsche (1844-1900) was a psychopathic and anti-Christian philosopher whose superman ideas helped make the way for the rise and fall of another psychopath, Adolph Hitler].

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach who will be our Noonday preacher Monday through Saturday, March 21st - 26th.

The Rector will be in Pittsburgh for the 21st year, March 21st - 25th, inclusive, as a Lenten Noonday preacher.

Our BOY SCOUT TROOP NO. 2, won second prize for the best window in center city, which was the Industrial Valley Bank window at 1015 Chestnut Street. This is our second consecutive year for a prize. Last year we were awarded First Prize for a window. This was displayed during Boy Scout Week, February 7th - 13th.

O Lord, it's me again screaming, spanking — temptation is so great.

Why do they always spill their milk and throw their plates?

O Lord, it's me, down wiping up the floor.
Please watch that tyke who just ran past the door.
And steady me, because You sense the storm
that's brewed within my bones since early morn.

Line with patience that closet where the clouds are stored, lest I forget I'm building souls, not crosses.
Help me, Lord.

The Prelude: "Aria" ..... Flor Peeters

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord of the great sacrifice, restrain our eagerness for the things that are seen. Thy Cross is our rebuke. Increase our spending for the things eternal. Lord of the sinless life, our hope is to become like Thee. Fulfill our hearts in service, that our hope be not in vain. Lord of the holiest joy — the joy of boundless giving — teach us Thy grace of losing, that our joy may indeed be full. The world counteth all things lost if it gain not the things it may reckon. Help us to count all things but loss, to win Thee, the wealth unmeasured. Amen.

THE SUFFERING GOD

This is "Passion Sunday", when we remember how Jesus willingly took our sins into His heart, and lovingly suffered the pain of them. This is no harsh God, crushing us with the thunder-bolts of His anger, but a patient God who would love us out of our sins into victory.

In the wondrous "Suffering Servant" passage in Isaiah 53, the Prophet pictures Israel suffering patiently for her own sins and for the sins of the nations. The prophecy suggests a Coming One who will thus willingly suffer for the sins of the world, and so bring redemption, victory over sin. This prophecy, we believe, was fulfilled in Jesus — "He took our infirmities upon Himself, and bore our sicknesses." This was a daring thought — God Himself coming in the form of the Suffering Servant of mankind.

In our day there is a return to the thought of a God who suffers. We begin to see that there is more power in the suffering God. The hard-boiled God can wipe us out. But the Suffering God can transform us into new people. We cannot withstand His Love, and we come Home to Him. The Loving, Suffering God is stronger than a fist-waving God. Jesus drew men to Him because of His unwavering Love for them. His unshakable belief in disappointing Peters, — until the Peters gave in to His amazing Love, and became new men.

The Suffering God, today, redeems through all His men and women on earth. He redeems a husband through a wife who has God's undying love in her heart; a wilful, confused girl, through believing friends; a young man, far from home, through family and friends who trust him still.

Jesus needs people in whom He can dwell and work today, with His same willingness to suffer lovingly. Only through people like that can He redeem in the year of our Lord, 1966. Will you be one of those people? — for Him?

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Brinser, Ella Rice.

THE RECTOR'S CONFIRMATION CLASSES meet on Sundays at 10 A.M. Although these classes are designed primarily for those persons who wish to be confirmed, they are also open, without obligation, to all those who want to learn about the life and faith of the Episcopal Church.

St. Stephen's Church is co-operating in a Diocesan Confirmation Service which will be held in the Church of the Savior, 3723 Chestnut Street on Saturday, April 16th, at 10 A.M. Anyone who wishes to be confirmed, but who cannot attend the scheduled classes should call the Rector's office to make special arrangements.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Chester A. Porteus, Rector of Christ Church, Quincy, Massachusetts, who will again be our Lenten Noonday preacher Monday through Friday, March 28th - April 1st.

We are happy to announce that the Saturday Lenten Noonday speaker this week will be the Rector of St. James Church, Bristol, Penna., the Rev. Stanley P. Gladfelter.

The Rector will preach in St. Timothy's Church, Roxboro, on Sunday, March 27th, at 4 P.M.

THE GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY will hold their Annual Service in St. Stephen's Church on Sunday, March 27th, at 3 P.M. The service will be followed by a Tea in the Community House.

MEDICARE

Some 50,000 Philadelphians 65 and over have not signed up for Medicare — and the deadline, March 31st, is only a few days away. Medicare health insurance is paid for out of contributions by working Americans, and is, therefore, not charity, but the right of every American aged 65 and over.

A hen and a hog, traveling together passed a Church that displayed the subject for next Sunday's sermon: "How Can We Help The Poor?"

After a moment's reflection the hen ventured, "I know what we can do. We can give them a ham and egg breakfast."

"You can say that," the hog replied; "for you that's just a contribution. But for me it would demand total commitment."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Variations on a Theme of Handel" ..... Guilmant
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Father, we remember before Thee the blessings that companion us on our pathway. We lift our hearts in gratitude for sunny skies and delightful days, for worthy tasks that engage our fingers and high hopes that fill our minds, for the fellowship of good neighbors and the love of dear ones far away, for the contentments of today and the expectations of tomorrow, and for all the joys that gladden our lives. Lift from our minds any burden of anxiety. May we remember that Thy compassions fail not. Help us to know that all things work together for good to them that love Thee. And grant us Thy peace. Amen.
Processional Hymn 62 ..... St. Theodulph
Kyrie, Hymnal #709 ..... Willan
The Anthem: "Jerusalem, O Turn Thee" ..... Gounod
Jerusalem, O turn thee to the Lord thy God! O turn thee unto thy God!
The Sermon: "CHRISTIAN LOVE" — 5th in Lenten Series ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 65 ..... Meditation
Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan
Kneeling Hymn 75 ..... Passion Chorale
Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scotish Chant
Recessional Hymn 64 ..... Winchester New

INVISIBLE WEAPON

David astonished the warriors of Israel by discarding the heavy armor and the keen sword which they used in battle. The young shepherd explained that he had not "proved" armor and sword—he had not won any victories with them. So he chose his sling-shot with which he had vanquished lion and bear. With that surprising weapon he killed Goliath, the champion of the Philistines. In God's warfare the old weapons are often discarded, for something mightier.

Jesus rode into Jerusalem, on Palm Sunday, on a little brown donkey, a beast of peace—the sign that He brought none of the ancient weapons of death and hurtfulness. He had wept over the city of Jerusalem which had even murdered the God-sent Prophets, for He longed after the hearts of those in the golden-dawned city. Yet, even with the hurt in His heart, He rode resolutely, as One who had something to do, and the power to do it.

Coming into God's House, He saw the crooked racket of the traders, cheating the people to profit the Priests—and in God's own House! Catching a few strands of cord, He strode among the money-changers, His eyes ablaze. It was His anger that drove them, helter-skelter, not the few cords of string.

A sling-shot, a few strands of string, are no weapons to trust, in the face of a strong enemy. Something mightier is necessary—David's trust in His God, Jesus' dependence on His Father's overcoming Love. It was this secret weapon, invisible to human eyes, that won the day.

Throughout Holy Week, that Love shone steadily—at the Last Supper, with the shaky disciples He loved; on the Cross, nailed there by hate. Even the hard-boiled army captain shook his head and groaned, "Truly this Man was the Son of God!"

Ever since that day, men have pointed to the Cross, and said, "God loves you like that." They have added, "And God loves you like that, just as you are!" Whenever men, hearing that amazing news, have turned and looked steadfastly at the Cross, Love has overcome hate, victory has displaced defeat, for Love is the mightiest weapon the world has seen.

Dare to face your battle with only that invisible weapon in your heart!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I placed the name of Lawrence John Houghton on your Prayer list several months ago. He was losing the sight of one eye. I have received the happy news that he has recovered the lost sight. Many thanks for the prayers, and thanks to God and His Son and the Holy Spirit.—Mrs. R. E. Jones (Brewster, Mass.)

REUNION OF CONFIRMATION CLASSES

Those who have been presented for Confirmation by the Rector of St. Stephen's Church are being asked to meet with their Confirmation Classes at the Maundy Thursday Service at 8 P.M.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH?

The Christian Church needs you and every other person in an active relationship today. She is asked what she can contribute toward the creation of a better world. Obviously the strength of her answer depends in part upon the number of persons who belong to her fellowship. The Church needs you and you need the Church. Confirmation service will be held on April 16th at 10 A.M. in the Church of the Savior, when a dozen Churches combine for a Diocesan service.

TO KEEP IN MIND — ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The Annual Congregational Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 17th, 1966 at about 12:15 P.M., after morning service.

"Members of the Corporation who shall be qualified to vote at any election for Vestrymen and upon all questions which may come before the Meeting; shall be all Lay, Baptised, Confirmed persons of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have been worshippers in this Church as their usual place of worship for at least one year, and who shall appear by the books of the Corporation to have contributed towards the current expenses of the Corporation during each of the two successive years immediately preceding such election or meeting, not less than five dollars ($5.00)."

Twelve Vestrymen will be elected at this meeting to serve for a term of one year. Following the election a light luncheon will be served. It will be greatly appreciated by the ladies preparing the luncheon if all who plan to attend will let us know by calling the office.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Christ Lay in the Bonds of Death" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—On this glad day of Resurrection, O Lord, we would not have hearts that are cold or lips that are dumb. We rejoice in the splendor of the unfolding Spring. The earth awakens to beauty and light. Bird and beast, tree and flower, and all Thy works glorify Thee. Open Thou the lips of our worship, that we may worthily show forth Thy praise. Stir our hearts with gladness, and grant our souls a visitation of the dayspring from on high. We praise Thee for the victory that this day commemorates. We thank Thee for the joy that it awakens, and the assurance that it gives. We know that right shall prevail over wrong, and life shall triumph over death. Confirm us in the invincible faith, that good shall conquer at last and every Winter turn to Spring.

Processional Hymn 85 ..... Easter Hymn

The Hallelujah Chorus (Messiah) ..... Handel

The Kyrie, Hymnal #709 ..... Willan

The Anthem: Ye Sons and Daughters of the King ..... Arr. Thiman

Ye sons and daughters of the King, whom heav'nly hosts in glory sing, Today the grave hath lost its sting. Alleluia! On that first morning of the week, before the day began to break, they went their buried Lord to seek. Alleluia! An angel clad in white was he that sate and spake unto the three, "Your Lord is gone to Galilee." Alleluia! Blessed are they that have not seen and yet whose faith hath constant been: in life eternal they shall reign. Alleluia! And we with holy Church unite, as is both meet and right, in glory to the King of Light. Alleluia!

The Sermon: "THE LIFE THAT IS LASTING" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 91 ..... Victory

Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

Kneeling Hymn 89 ..... Salzburg

Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scotish Chant

Recessional Hymn 94 ..... St. Kevin

The Easter decorations are provided by special funds set aside for the purpose: Flowers on the East Window are in memory of the Magee Family; flowers on the Atmore Window are in memory of Craig Atmore.

Flowers on the Altar on Maundy Thursday were given in memory of James Carrigan, for many years Verger of St. Stephen's; and in memory of Mrs. Walter D. Dunn.

Our Chief Usher today is Mr. Edwin S. Heins.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.

5:30 P.M.—Holy Communion & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I am writing to let you know that my nephew who had mental illness is now able to work, and is much improved. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate all the prayers that have gone up for him.—Pauline Hamky (Dahlonega, Georgia)

THE VICTORY

A small girl was asked to recite the 23rd Psalm. With quiet confidence she rose to her feet, and spoke — "The Lord is my Shepherd, that's all I want." The Triumph of Easter is in that little girl's faith.

There are times when black night-mare descends on our lives. Jesus, Himself, cried out from the Cross, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" For a moment, despair seized Him. But He reached out for the Father He loved, and remembered the many black moments when God answered His prayer, and opened the way for His victory in Jesus. So the last word from the Cross was, "Into Thy hands I commend My Spirit."

We do not know what lies beyond the horizon of this life on earth. There are moments when fear takes hold of us and shakes our confidence. Then we can remember, "the Lord is my Shepherd — that's all I want." We remember time after time, when we came to the end of a blind alley, and felt trapped. Asking God for His way out (not what we would choose). A triumphant answer always came, and we were no longer trapped! "He is able." There is no enemy, no fear or doubt, that can stand up to the infinite, overcoming strength of God Almighty.

There are times when we are wracked with loneliness for some life we love, that has gone beyond our horizon. If we could only be sure that we would see them again, to share the rich treasures of the years! Once more we can stop and remember, "The Lord is my Shepherd — that's all I want." If He could make our life together on earth so wonderfully rewarding, then we can trust Him for the life beyond. We can, with joy and peace, entrust our loved ones to His care. Since they are in His hands, they are safe.

Easter trumpets Paul's great shout of joy, "Death is swallowed up in victory!" God, in His might, drives death before Him, and out of our lives. Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory!

Mrs. Sarah Kennedy of Pittsburgh, has sent the following as a thought to accompany the verse appearing in the March 20th Bulletin.

By temperament, a thoughtful soul
And when the mood was great,
She loved to file an extra bill
On the collection plate.

This Sabbath Day, her face aglow
(As we were hymn book thumbing)
She whispered — "Extra plus" thank offering
My grandchildren are coming.

The following week, another gift
Her face storm-swept and wan
But banefulness inbred
"This ten — thank offering," she said
"The grandchildren are gone."

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 17th, 1966 at about 12:15, after the morning service. There will be the election of the Vestry. Twelve Vestrymen will be elected at this Meeting to serve for a term of one year. Mrs. Keller and her helpers will serve a hot luncheon. It will be a big help for these ladies if you will let us know that you intend to stay for the luncheon.

The outstanding 22-minute Film, featured in the New York World's Fair, "Parable" will be shown at the Parish Meeting on April 17th.

VESTRY OF ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

The Prelude: "Processional" .....Warren Martin
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, who art the rock upon whom men build their lives in strength and beauty, we pray for Thy blessing to rest upon those who yearn for inner security. We remember those who look with dismay upon the changing values of a changing world, whose inner foundations have crumbled beneath the storm, who are victims of spiritual unrest. Turn their eyes to the hills from whence cometh their help. Be Thou the confidence of their hearts, the hidden spring whence their souls are fed. May they learn with glad assurance that Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ROAD TO GLORY

By His living, and His dying, and His rising to life, Jesus transforms suffering from a curse into an avenue of glory. He opened that avenue of glory to us.

Suffering and death have been regarded as two of the crushing enemies of men. They tortured saints as well as sinners; they seem to snuff out the choicest lives, like candles. Now, after Easter, St. Paul cried out, "The last enemy to be destroyed shall be death." — for Jesus had proved Himself stronger than death. On the road to Emmaus, Jesus (still unrecognized by His disciples) has said to them, "Was it not to be expected that Christ should undergo these sufferings, and enter so into His glory?" (Luke 24, 26: Ronald Knox translation.) He had made death and suffering an avenue to glory!

One of the gravest dangers of suffering is that we shall become sorry for ourselves. Brigadier General Harris recalls how he lay in an Army Hospital bed, lonesome and in pain after his operation. He marked the passing of each painful day with a mark on the leg of his bed-side table. Fourteen marks were there now — and he felt very sorry indeed for "poor old me." A knock at the door announced that a man wanted to look at the room. "Show him in," said the sufferer.

"He came in on crutches, one foot dragging. For some time he stared at each wall, at the floor and the ceiling. Then he hobbled to the door. Turning back toward me with considerable effort, he said, 'Excuse me — I was very rude. But I was completely lost in memories. You see, I was wounded in France, and for five years I lay in this room without much hope of leaving it. But now — and he smiled happily — "I'm well again, thank God.' As he hobbled down the hall, I erased those fourteen marks. It was hard to see them, anyway — my glasses seemed fogged up."

We cannot solve the mystery of why men suffer. But, with the power of the Risen Christ at work in our hearts, we can overcome all self-pity, and we can follow our Master in making our suffering a road to glory!

The Rector will participate in a Special Seminar on Healing to be conducted at the Arch Street Methodist Church on Monday, April 18th from 10 A.M. to 12:30 P.M.

The Rector will speak to the students and their wives at the Philadelphia Divinity School on Tuesday evening, April 19th.

The Afternoon Branch of the Women of St. Stephen's will meet on Sunday, April 24th at 12:30 in the Community House. Coffee and donuts will be served. Mrs. Alfred Price will continue the story of St. Paul's travels with his 3rd Missionary Journey. ALL ARE WELCOME.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 17th at about 12:15 P.M. Twelve Vestrymen will be elected at this meeting to serve for a term of one year. We noted the names of our Vestrymen in last week's Bulletin.

Mrs. Keller and her helpers will serve a hot luncheon, and they will appreciate it if you will contact the office to say that you expect to partake of the luncheon.

A Film — the outstanding 22-minute Film featured in the New York World's Fair, "Parable" will be shown.

St. Stephen's Church is the recipient of five hundred dollars from the Estate of Ellen Ann Vail.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67
The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 171-2

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Cantabile ..... Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and eternal God, whose sons and daughters we are, we beseech Thee to awaken us to a new sense of our mission as Thy children. Help us to live under the compulsion of high imperatives. Strengthen us to follow closely the steps of Him who went about doing good. Use us as Thy messengers to any who are troubled. Show us how to give strengthening companionship to the lonely and discouraged. Teach us gentle words of healing for those in pain and grief. Guide us to give wise counsel to the wayward and tempted. In all our dealings with distressed humanity keep us faithful to the Spirit of Christ, who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Anthem: "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" ..... Brahms

How lovely is Thy dwelling place, O Lord of Hosts. For my soul, it longeth, yea fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God. Blest are they that dwell within Thy house; they praise Thy name ever more. How lovely is Thy dwelling place.

The Sermon: AFTER EIGHT DAYS — THOMAS! ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 388 ..... St. Thomas

Doxology — Presentation of the Colors

Recessional Hymn 535 ..... Festal Song

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. John Spear and Mr. Fred Schmid in memory of mother, Clara Schmid.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. James O. Lyman.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN! Daylight Saving Time goes into effect sometime or other in the wee hours of Saturday night, April 23rd — SO, PLEASE BE SURE TO SET YOUR CLOCKS AND WATCHES AHEAD ONE HOUR before retiring on Saturday night, so you'll get to service on time on Sunday.

MIRACLE OF HEALING

The local authorities had done all that they could with that young mad-man out on the hills. He was so dangerous that they decided to "crack down", to shackle him with strong chains; but he broke them like matchsticks, and continued to roam the hill-country, naked and frightening. Then, one day, Jesus met him. The young mad-man expected Him to take to His heels, as the others did. But Jesus walked steadily on towards him, quiet and unafraid, and loving. Jesus could see the nightmare of loneliness in this young man. He was so sure that everyone hated him that he hurt himself when he was alone, and he hurt others when they came to see him. But Jesus was different. He quickly saw that Jesus wanted to help him, and could. The power of love in Jesus did what chains could not do — cast the evil spirit out of his life, so that he was as sane as any man.

Honest love is stronger than medicine or drugs. Gordon Allport tells of an observant student nurse, in a psychiatric clinic, who reported, "Giving drugs without giving love is no lasting benefit at all. The patient still has his problem; he is still frightened and insecure; he still feels isolated, rejected, forsaken by God and man." Jesus took away the young man's loneliness by the healing power of love.

If you still have a deep and painful inner struggle, let God into the middle of it. He can heal today as He did of old. If you have a difficult friend, let the loving God reach out through you as Jesus did, and you will see the miracle of healing begin. Love is stronger than steel!

Dear Dr. Price:—I do want to testify to the wonderful healing two of my friends received at the Altar of St. Stephen's Church during a healing service. Mrs. Audrey Thuss with medical prognosis of progressive loss of sight, ending in total blindness. Eyesight has continued to improve, and full vision has been restored. Mr. W. Gardner Mitchell in extreme depression and considering suicide has had a strong spiritual awakening, and is full of thanksgiving after full restoration to health in a matter of ten days. May the Lord continue to bless your ministry.

—Charles W. Sudlow, Jr. (Phila., Pa.)

The Rector will conduct a healing srevice in St. Thomas' Church, New York City on Sunday, April 24th at 7:30 P.M.

The Afternoon Branch of the Women of St. Stephen's will meet on Sunday, April 24th at 12:30 in the Community House. Coffee and donuts will be served. Mrs. Alfred Price will continue the story of St. Paul's travels with his 3rd Missionary Journey. ALL ARE WELCOME.

Diane Jacobson Guth and Arline Francis Disque were confirmed in the Area Service held in the Church of the Savior, April 16th, 1966.

NOW WE DO UNDERSTAND: "Perhaps the reason is that no one understands what this offering is and what it will be used for." This is how Mrs. Richard Soule, one of the two ladies who thought up the idea of a United Thank Offering for Churchwomen, expressed her disappointment at the smallness of the first two collections in 1883 and 1886. The Offering in 1889 was larger, but even then it was barely enough to build a small Alaskan Mission Church and send one teacher to Japan.

By contrast, the budget for the triennial offering presented in 1964 was over four million dollars. Funds are sent to 57 different agencies and projects in this country, nearby American countries, and places far overseas. Many parishes report 100 percent participation by their women members and annual services of presentation are high points of the worship year. These services with their traditional blue boxes — symbols of regular thank offerings of prayer, money, and service by Episcopal women — are a close link between parishes all over our land and in widespread missionary districts. It is significant how often visitors to other branches of the Church illustrate their talks and sermons with accounts of U.T.O. In-Gatherings. They know the listening congregation will immediately recognize and respond to these references to a familiar and inspiring ceremony.

Churchwomen everywhere have come to share Mrs. Soule's vision of how an offering that begins in the homes and lives of individual women given in thanks for everyday blessings, shares with others in the near and far corners of the world the greatest blessing of all — their Church and their Lord.

The Spring In-Gathering of the U.T.O. at St. Stephen's Church will be held on Sunday, May 1st. Offering envelopes have been mailed to the families of our parish, and others may join in the offering by using the U.T.O. Envelopes which may be found in the vestibule.

The Diocesan In-Gathering service will be held on May 11th at Valley Forge Military Academy at 10:30 A.M., Luncheon after the service, cost is $2.50.

The Prelude: "Ye Sweet Retreat" ..... Wm. Boyce

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Thou loving and tender Father in heaven, we confess before Thee, in deep sorrow, how hard and unsympathizing are our hearts; how often we have sinned against our neighbors by want of compassion and tenderness; how often we have felt no true pity for their trials and sorrows, and have neglected to comfort, help, and visit them. Our Father, forgive this heavy sin and make us more truly Christ-like in our compassion; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

*The Introit

Processional Hymn 282 ..... Lauda Anima

Response to the Decalogue #708, Hymnal ..... Willan

The Anthem: My Shepherd Will Supply My Need ..... V. Thomson
My Shepherd will supply my need, Jehovah is His name. In pastures fresh He makes me feed beside the living stream. He brings my wand'ring spirit back when I forsake His ways. He leads me for His mercy's sake in paths of truth and grace. When I walk through the shades of death, Thy presence is my stay. One word of Thy supporting breath drives all my fears away, Thy hand, in sight of all foes, doth still my table spread. My cup with blessings overflows, Thine oil anoints my head. The sure provisions of my God attend me all my days, O may Thy House be my abode and all my work be praise. There would I find a settled rest, while others go and come, no more a stranger or a guest, but like a child, at home.

SLEEPING THROUGH A REVOLUTION

When you read the story of Rip Van Winkle, perhaps you did not notice the sign on the Inn in the little town on the Hudson River. It had a picture of King George 3rd of England, as Rip left the town. When he came back, 20 years later, it had a picture of George Washington, the first President of the United States. Rip was amazed and confused. As Martin Luther King has pointed out, "The most striking thing about the story of Rip Van Winkle is not merely that he had slept more than 20 years, but that he had slept through a Revolution. While he was peacefully snoring off in the mountain, a great Revolution was taking place in the world."

We live in a swiftly changing world. Within one life time we have moved from the horse-and-buggy to the six-hundred-mile-an-hour jet plane; from slow manual work to the quicker-than-lightning automatic counting of checks in a bank. Within one life time we have moved from days when the negro, patiently plodding along, hoping for a little improvement in his citizenship, to this breath-taking day when Negro nation after Negro nation, governed by Negroes, has risen in Africa; when, in every section of the United States, Negroes are calling for full citizenship.

Don't get caught sleeping through a Revolution, will you! The swiftness of change demands people who are wide-awake and alert. The New English Version translates John 4:1 — "All that came to be was alive with His life." "Alive with His life"! That is what we must be; or sleep through the Revolution going on around us.

We have to be alive — on tip-toes! — during a Revolution. Only then can you put yourself on God's side. Jesus Christ overcame the most dread enemies of mankind. He broke the power of death — death is swallowed up in victory. He broke the power of tyrants to keep people down — thus the Indian people gained their freedom in a bloodless Revolution, led by Gandhi, who was led by the Spirit of Jesus Christ. Today millions of the black children of God are seeking freedom in that same spirit of stubborn, non-resistant Love. It will be remembered as one of the greatest of all Revolutions.

Pray earnestly, humbly, to God, to make you "alive with His Life" in this great day of change. Then you can be sure which is God's side in the Revolution. You can put the whole weight of your life on that side. Whatever you do, don't sleep through a Revolution, like Rip!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I am pleased to tell you that my sister is slowly improving. She is taking more interest in worthwhile things and is seldom so emotionally upset now. She thinks more positively and is overcoming her fear neuroses. Many thanks to your Prayer Fellowship and to God for these blessings.

—Caroline Johnson (Columbus, Ohio)

The Rector will conduct a Healing Service in the Marble Collegiate Church, New York, on Wednesday, May 4th, at Noon.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

The United Thank Offering is to be received today, Sunday, May 1st. The Missionary Work made possible in fields of education, medicine and social service proves every day in the Church around the world what can be achieved through the thankfulness of the women of this Parish. There are extra envelopes in the pews. If you are not able to be present, you may send your offering to the Church office in care of Mrs. Wilson C. Leithead, Custodian at St. Stephen's Church.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Helen Challenger, Mrs. Joseph Coors, Rev. Leroy Fisher, Mrs. Eda M. MacPhee, Mrs. Elsie Sweet.

THE WORLD WOULD BE BETTER OFF
IF PEOPLE TRIED TO BECOME BETTER;
AND PEOPLE WOULD BECOME BETTER
IF THEY STOPPED TRYING TO BECOME BETTER OFF;
FOR WHEN EVERYONE TRIES TO BECOME BETTER
EVERYBODY IS BETTER OFF.

The Prelude: "Lord Jesus Christ, Be Present Now" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, with gratitude we remember our Christian heritage; others have labored, and we have entered into their labors. We thank Thee for occasions when we may share the treasury of our love and experience with those in need. We rejoice in Thy good gifts, the tender mercies and loving kindness that have attended our ways. With shame we confess our frequent failure. Often we have withheld service we might have given; often we have passed by on the other side; often we have proved faithless. Accept our penitence. Give us new heart for the new day, fresh stimulus for greater fidelity, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: In Faith I Calmly Rest .....J. S. Bach-Dickinson

In faith I calmly rest, and put my trust in God, although oft sore opprest with anxious care and dread; His friendship my reward. In Him my joy I find; He keepeth watch and ward O'er me and o'er my house. Therefore I thank my God, and joy to do His will; I know, whate'er befall, His love doth lead me still. So, like a little child who clasps his father's hand, serene I take my way, in faith untroubled stand. Great peace they surely have who in the Lord confide, who cast on Him all care, and in His love abide.

ADD-A-PART RECORDS

We are not fair to God or to ourselves, if we say, "It doesn't matter what I do". You may be down-hearted, or weary. Even so, it still is not true that you do not make a difference. We should give God credit for creating wisely. He does not make meaningless creatures.

Read Philippians with care. Some of St. Paul's friends there had undoubtedly thought too lightly of themselves, thinking, "I don't matter." But now they hear St. Paul saying, "For God is my witness how I yearn for you all." St. Paul was a man of importance, but the humble Philippian men and women made his life richer with joy. They made a big difference to him.

There are some urgent things that will never be done if you do not do them. For some people, you are the only one who can let God's light into some dark corner of their memories that you alone know. There are some who "yearn for you" deeply. Your letter, your telephone call, or your smile can open the door into new peace of heart.

Some times it is not modesty that leads us to think that we do not matter. Rather, it is sin. Deep in our hearts we know how costly love can be. Someone's yearning may mean that I must apologize for an old wrong. It may call for long prayer and listening until God gives us the right words. Perhaps you need to ask God's forgiveness, right now, for side-stepping some costly deed of love. Then, forgiven, you can ask what He wants you to do for the person who yearns for you.

There was once a man who played the flute very well. Allen Hackett was visiting him, and found that his host had some special "add-a-part" records, made by an orchestra, minus the flute part. Only when he played the missing part was the symphony complete. There are people whose lives you have touched, who are like those add-a-part records. Until you play your part (the part God has given you to play) the music of their lives is marred. Only your willingness to play your part can make their lives whole, and full of peace.

Who is there, right now, who yearns for you?

Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to express my deep gratitude for the remarkable healing I had at one of your services here at St. Luke's in early January. I had been suffering from a valve blockage in my heart, and other artery blocks for several years. The heart condition had grown slowly but steadily worse for three years. Considerable damage to the heart and much enlargement had followed. The pain and discomfort was continuous. At your service I knelt for the laying-on-of-hands, not thinking particularly of any physical problem, but in a spirit of humility and joyous gratitude to God for the wonderful Mission you were conducting. I felt the block move and pass away. The dull pain and discomfort have never returned, and the heart has returned to normal size. My heart specialist was amazed. I am profoundly grateful to God and to you as a channel of His Grace. Spiritual healing has too long been neglected in the work of our Orthodox Christian Churches!

—Marian vanden Berg (Birmingham, Alabama)

The Rector will speak to the Women of All Saints' Church, 9601 Frankford Ave. on Monday evening, May 9th.

Albert J. Sheehan, Jr., our Crucifer and Lay Reader, is going abroad as one of the delegates from our Philadelphia Council of Boy Scouts, to present a replica of the statue of a "BOY SCOUT" which is outside the Scout Headquarters, 22nd & Winter Streets. The ceremony will take place in Gilwell Park, London, England on May 7th.

Our Senior Patrol Leader of Troop #2 of this Church was one of 8 boys to win the Union League Award which entitles him to a Scholarship to the College of his choice.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Gladys Given, B. K. McCormick, Catherine Pearce.

The Prelude: "Introduction" ..... Wallond

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, whose mercy is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that love Thee, we confess with shame our broken pledges. We are troubled by the memory and burden of our offenses. We have done the things we ought not to have done and have left undone the things we ought to have done. We have been silent when we should have spoken, inactive when we should have served, and we have foolishly blundered in speech and act. Stretch out Thy hand of mercy. Speak the word of pardon. Forgive us the broken vow, the unkept promise, the unfulfilled purpose. And strengthen Thou our good resolves, that we may be worthy of our heritage as Thy sons and daughters. We ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry.

Dear Dr. Price:—Thank you and your Prayer Group for all the prayers offered in behalf of my mother. She had suffered a stroke and had colitis. I am happy to report that she has had a remarkable healing. She has no visible after effects from her stroke and the colitis has left her. You are carrying on a remarkable ministry in St. Stephen's Church. It has been a source of great strength to me to know that my loved one has been prayed for around the clock for several months during this critical time.

—Ruth H. Berge (Moorehead, Minnesota)

REMINDED OF JESUS

A crowd gathered quickly when Peter and John healed the beggar at the gate called Beautiful. They were full of wonder, so Peter spoke to them, telling that the healing had been done through the power of Jesus Christ, whom they had crucified. The Priests and the Temple police were soon on the scene and arrested these "disturbers of the peace." Next morning, they cross-examined Peter and John. Where had they seen these two before? Who were they? Suddenly it came to the minds of the examiners "that they had been with Jesus."

What a glory — for the judges to look at Peter and John and be reminded of Jesus! In those early days, the pagans who met the Christians saw Christ at work in them. It is one of the glories of our present-day faith that there are still men and women who remind us of Jesus.

A music critic was recently asked about Maria Callas' singing of a role of Carmen. Segnorita Callas has an amazing voice, one of the greatest in our day. But the critic had been asked to judge how she had sung the dramatic role of Carmen. He concluded, with regret, "One is always more conscious of Callas than Carmen." She was unable to lose herself and become Carmen.

This is searching business, and most uncomfortable. A minister, after preaching, may hear people say, "I enjoyed your sermon," being grateful for hearing him speak. But if they have heard nothing but him, then he has not done much. But if a few say, "God was speaking straight through you to me this morning," then he has been in business for God. The people knew that he had been with Jesus.

What can we do about this? We can fill our hearts with Him, through thoughtful reading in the New Testament. We can, twenty times a day, turn to Him and welcome Him into our thoughts as the Elder Partner; offering our lives to Him for His purposes. Wonder of wonders, He will come in; and He will even do miracles through ordinary people.

If you will make yourself available for His daily use, and bend your will to His will, then more people will know that you have been with Jesus.

The Rector will celebrate the 40th reunion of his class of the University of Pennsylvania on May 21st.

The Afternoon Branch of the Women of St. Stephen's will have their final meeting Sunday, May 15th after the morning service, in the Community House. Coffee and cookies will be served. The study of the Life of St. Paul will conclude with his imprisonment and trials in Jerusalem and Rome. Both men and women are welcome.

We are most fortunate to have 200 copies of the full melody edition of the Hymnal and 200 copies of the large size Prayer Book, presented to St. Stephen's Church by Mr. John Glassey in memory of his mother, Zelda R. Glassey. They will be dedicated on May 15th at 11 A.M.

In last week's Bulletin we told about the Senior Patrol Leader of Scout Troop #2 of this Church being one of eight boys to win the Union League Award, entitling him to a Scholarship to the College of his choice; we slipped up in not mentioning the boy's name. He is William A. Dixon.

BOND ISSUE

We believe that there must be a clarifying of the air concerning the Bond Issue of the Philadelphia Board of Public Education, which will appear on the Ballot of May 17th Primary Election. This issue should be seen for what it really is — the appropriation of funds for the building of schools for our children. We believe that the racial issue has been wrongly interjected into the discussions. This 60 million dollars will be designated for the construction of new schools and new additions during the coming years. It is not being allocated for the "bussing" of children.

LOVE IS KIND

"Love is patient and kind", wrote St. Paul — "It is not 'touchy' ". St. Paul must have learned this, little by little, for he was a man of strong feelings.

You have undoubtedly seen the little drawings of "Brother Juniper" in current magazines. They picture an impish little Monk one cannot help loving. But did you know that the original Brother Juniper was a real person, a companion of St. Francis of Assisi, seven centuries ago?

Now Brother Juniper held that all things belong to God, since He had created them, and they should be used in any pleasing to Him. One day while the Monk was meditating before the Monastery Altar, a poor woman came, asking alms in the name of God. Brother Juniper looked about until his eyes were staring at "the very ornate Altar" with its "Golden Frontal, very rich, with little silver ringlets of great price." "These ringlets are superfluous", he announced, and cut them off, presenting them to the beggar woman, who went off very happy. The Vicar-General of the Order was greatly vexed at this mad act, and scolded his dumb Monk so furiously that his voice became strained and coarse.

Brother Juniper was quite unmoved by the scolding; but was troubled by the Vicar-General's hoarseness. Going straight to town, he ordered a good dish of "Farinata" (a special kind of porridge with butter), to soothe the aching throat. Late in the night, candle in hand, he knocked at the Vicar-General's door, offering the Farinata, especially made — would he please eat it, to help his throat and chest? The Vicar-General refused, saying that Brother Juniper was a vile and wicked man. The little Monk patiently replied, "My father, since you do not want to eat this farinata which I had made for you, at least do me the favor of holding the candle, and I will eat it."

That did it! All of a sudden, the Vicar-General realized all that Brother Juniper had done in the simplicity of his loving-kindness, so he concluded, "Now, since you are so inclined, let us eat together, you and I." And so they did, in loving fellowship!

There is something about the warmth of continuing kindness that melts anger and resentment. So great a weapon God has put into our hands against evil.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Church of the Holy Communion, St. Louis, Missouri, Sunday evening, May 22nd, through Tuesday the 24th.

The Annual Patriotic Service celebrating Memorial Day will be held on May 29th at 11 A.M. with the massing of the Colors, and Sermon by the Rector.

POTTERS

One hundred years ago last Independence Day, on a San Francisco-docked ship which he was too ill to leave, the III Bishop of Pennsylvania, Alonzo Potter, died two days before his 65th birthday, of fever contracted in Panama (a sea voyage had been advised because of his ill health). During his Episcopate of twenty years (he was consecrated September 23rd, 1845) and his jurisdiction of 44,832 square miles (before four other Dioceses were carved out of Pennsylvania), 106 new Churches were started, 126 men ordained to the priesthood, and the communicant strength doubled; he revived the Episcopal Academy, founded the Episcopal Hospital, the Philadelphia Divinity School and a Church Home for Children; he also helped to restore the Order of Deaconesses and set up the Floative Church (later called the Seamen's Institute).

Another brother, Horatio, became the VI Bishop of New York. Alonzo Potter's son Henry Codman, was the VII Bishop of New York. Another son, Eliphalet Nolt was President of Hobart College for fifteen years.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: "Prelude on 'St. Columba'" ..... Willan

THE SILENT MEDITATION: God of all peace and consolation, who didst gloriously fulfill the great promise of the Gospel by sending down the Holy Ghost on the Day of Pentecost, to establish the Church as the House of His continual Presence and Power among men: mercifully grant unto us, we beseech Thee, the same gift of the Spirit, to renew, illumine, refresh, and sanctify our souls, to be over us and around us like the light and dew of heaven, and to be in us a well of water springing up into everlasting life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest.
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: Souls Of The Righteous ..... T. Tertius Noble

Souls of the righteous in the hand of God, nor hurt nor torment cometh them a-nigh; O holy hope of immortality. Souls of the righteous in the hands of God, to eyes of men unwise, they seem to die; they are at peace. O fairest liberty! . . . On earth as children chastened by love's rod, as gold in furnace tried, so now on high they shine like stars, a golden galaxy: souls of the righteous in the hand of God.

ORDERS-FOR-WAITING

The Apostles were restless. They had mourned Jesus' death in dark despair, in shadowed Jerusalem. Then had come the electrifying Resurrection and His living presence among them. With a new spirit of victory, they were eager to tell people about Jesus, everywhere. They had seen enough of familiar old Jerusalem.

Into their impatience came Jesus. Joyfully He shared a meal with them. Then, suddenly, "He gave them orders . . . not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait there for the fulfillment of the Father's promise." These were not the marching orders they wanted. They were Orders-For-Waiting.

Perhaps you, too, are itchy to leave your Jerusalem, with the same old faces, the same stained spot of wall paper, the same commuters' endless round-trip, the same reminders of old mistakes and failures, the same rough streets and rougher people. We cry, "Out of Jerusalem, for me — let's get going!"

But the Lord looks at us patiently, and firmly repeats His command to wait at Jerusalem for the coming-through of the Father's promise. God can deal with us only where we are. He is not going to move us on until we have obeyed Him where we are. When we put our Jerusalem under His commanding, then it becomes His place of victory — then only can He move us on to new battle fields.

"But", one says, "What can even God Himself do with my old Jerusalem? It's been that way a long time." I remember a Jerusalem a friend of mine made — a prison of a place which seemed to have no way of escape, a place of broken hopes and bitter memories. He wanted "out"! And he did not get it. He was stuck. Then he began to hear of people who had let God into their Jerusalem, as King — and the wonders that followed. He began to follow their way. They were right. God's promise was fulfilled right there where he was. Later on came the Day of Pentecost, Whitsunday, when he knew the power of God in the company of people who loved him.

First we have to wait, come to terms with God where we are, put old Jerusalem under His authority. Then, and then only, can there be the wonder of Whitsunday.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Here is my order again for 8 copies of "The Healing of Nervous Disorders by Spiritual Therapy". I consider this a most valuable help in this field. About ten years ago you held, at the invitation of the Elizabeth Presbytery, an all day Conference on the Ministry of Healing. I was there, and am very grateful I was, for with my illness and the illness of my wife, I literally lived with this booklet; sometimes several times a day turning to it. Naturally I am most grateful and have given it to many people since. Gratefully yours, Rev. Franklin L. Artley.

(Bloomsburg, Penna.)

A new silk Church Flag will be dedicated Sunday, in memory of Mrs. Zelda R. Glassey, presented by her son, John.

We extend a hearty welcome to the members of the various Veteran Organizations who are worshiping with us this morning.

The Rector will speak to the members of the Delaware Valley Christian Medical Society, Saturday evening, June 4th.

THE ANNUAL RECTORY COOK-OUT LUNCHEON for the Women of St. Stephen's, Morning and Afternoon Branches, will be held on Saturday, June 4th; in case of rain, the following Saturday. The 11:06 A.M. train on the Manayunk line of the PRR will be met at the Cynwyd Station. Or, you may use the Route 44 Ardmore bus from Market Street, to Montgomery Ave., Cynwyd. Walk North on Levering Mill Road. 3 Blocks to Lodges Lane, to number 121.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Walter Boon, Mrs. Mildred P. Fox, Mr. & Mrs. L. E. Martin, Mrs. Ella Rice, Julia L. Vanderbilt, Irene Wheatley, Arthur and Lillian Grollman.

We wish also also to thank these U.T.O. contributors: Flora T. Arthur, M. J. La Briola, Helen G. Downes, H. E. Duffy, Frances Tinsley Kalich, Mrs. John Ludlow, Marie L. Marable, Nadia Watson, Thelma Weeks, Sarah S. Winn.

Dear Dr. Price:—I am writing in regard to our daughter, Leann Ellen, born a Mongoloid, for whom you have been praying. Her progress is steadily moving forward. She walks now without the aid of the walker. She plays much with toys and picks them up with ease. She loves to play with someone, and now tries an occasional work. God is at work. Thank you for the help which we receive through your Prayer Fellowship.

SECRET OF QUIETNESS

Jesus knew the secret of quietness. He taught us by His own example. Whenever the crowd became too overbearing or too boisterous, He would quietly slip away. On the hillside by Himself, He would pray and listen to His Father's voice. He would then return with new power to accomplish the task that was His. How much we today need to learn His great lesson of withdrawing in our need, and returning in strength.

In Anne Lindbergh's book, "If From The Sea" she tells of a brief vacation she spent alone on the seashore. As the sea tosses up its gifts, shells rare and perfect, so the human mind, with time for quiet ponderings brings up its own treasures of the deep. Mrs. Lindbergh speaks of woman's life today of being close to a state of "worn-to-pieces-hood" and how essential it is for us to set aside a time each day to be alone, quiet, and listen to the still small voice so we may receive direction for our lives.

During World War II a Chaplain tells of the comfort and help he always found, when pressures were too great, by slipping away for a few minutes into a nearby Chapel. The quiet and stillness, the aloneness, soothed his worries and cares, and somehow God's Spirit and Peace became a part of him, and he could carry on again.

Have you ever stopped to think how quiet the great forces of Nature are? We do not hear a tree grow, or a flower bud and blossom forth to maturity. We cannot hear the life-giving warmth of the sun. Listen to the words of Roland English Hartley's lovely poem, "Stillness":—

"To see the stillness of a tree
Knowing it has been torn with wind—
To see the stillness of a pool,
Knowing it has been swept by flood—
To see the stillness of a stone,
Knowing what fires gave it form,
This is to know that stress will end,
This is to know that peace will come—
For wind and flood and flame have passed
To leave this quiet here at last."

The practice of Quietness requires faithfulness. Let us, as Jesus did, withdraw with regularity and faithfulness to our "Quiet hillside" where we may be alone with our Father, and where we may learn His will for us.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing on the Sundays of July and August at 11 O'Clock in St. Stephen's Church.

A Healing Mission is not confined to the healing of physical disease alone, important as that is. Jesus concerned Himself just as much with emotional, mental, and social problems as with physical sickness. His healing touch is needed in evrey department of life.

Thus, whoever you are, whatever your care or anxiety, whatever your problem, Jesus is waiting to heal you or the situation. ALL ARE WELCOME. The Laying-On-Of-Hands will be administered at all services.

VISIT JAPAN WITH US. Mrs. A. Neil Lemon, President of the Philadelphia Hearing Society, will show her color slides on Japan to the Women's Aid of the Chapel For The Hard of Hearing on Tuesday, June 7th, at 3:00 P.M. in the Community House of St. Stephen's Church. All who read this notice are welcome.—REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED.

WE ARE THINE

We are thy people, and thou art our God;
We are thy children, and thou our Father;
We are thy servants, and thou our Master;
We are thy congregation, and thou our Portion;
We are thine inheritance, and thou our Lot;
We are thy flock, and thou our Shepherd;
We are thy vineyard, and thou our Keeper;
We are thy work, and thou our Creator;
We are thy faithful, and thou our Beloved;
We are thy loyal ones, and thou our Lord;
We are thy subjects, and thou our King;
We are thy devoted people, and thou our exalted God.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Air" ..... Gerre Hancock

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Gracious God, our Heavenly Father, in whom is the fullness of light and love and power, give us grace to worship Thee in spirit and in truth. Lift us to spiritual heights, that we may worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. And grant that when we descend to the common ways of the world we may be so illumined by Thy light, so moved by Thy love, and so strengthened by Thy power that we shall be serene and confident and victorious. We ask in Christ's name. Amen.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

In a recent issue of the "Princeton Weekly" a student made this statement: "The trouble with me is that I can't believe in anything. On some days I can, but most of the time I'm smarter than that. I have been taught to question, not to believe, so I never know where to stop. . . . I can never tell when a day might come when, losing control because I'm sick of it, I will go tearing around the town in search of a cause. I'm quite sure I will find only a brick wall."

These words were written following some unpleasant incidents on the College Campus. They reflect something of the rebellion that is stirring within youth. I'm not shocked by this statement, I'm only made sad. The voice behind the words does not shout an irrational defiance, it only pleads poignantly for help. It confesses a deep need for a belief or faith. It admits that the mind can't live and the soul cannot survive in a vacuum. There is a kind of desperation here when he declares that the day might come when, "I will go tearing around town in search of a cause."

What is the source of this problem? Is it the age of automation, the affluent society, materialism, or the nuclear threat? It could be any one of these. It would be better to take his word on this, "the trouble with me is that I can't believe in anything . . . I have been taught to question, not to believe, so I never know where to stop." I celebrate the questing spirit and I honor the questioning mind. These are the cutting edges of growth. And yet, the purpose of such growth is to achieve belief. G. K. Chesterton sums it up, "After a certain amount of wandering the mind wants either to get there or to go home. It is one thing to travel hopefully, and say half in jest that it is better than to arrive. It is another thing to travel hopelessly because you know you will never arrive."

Sometimes we confuse broad-mindedness with empty-headedness. Often we conclude that asking smart questions is a worthy exercise in itself. Let us remember that questions serve a purpose only when they move us closer to satisfying answers, even though the answers are tentative or hypothetical. This is my point. Education fails when it leaves us lost in a forest of question marks. Somewhere a person needs to confront an exclamation point, "I believe this is true, and I'll bet my life on it!" Now if this is the purpose of education, it is especially so in Religious Education. Unless we are able to fill the vacuum where belief should dwell, we will "go tearing around town in search of a cause." I take it that this speaks to the Christian Church these days. And it says something about the importance of religious education.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Last January I wrote to you asking for prayers for Miss Shirley Rush, a Missionary Nurse in Brazil. She had a paralyzed vocal cord and paralyzed muscles in the pharynx, and it was feared damage might be permanent. I have just received word that her condition has improved and she can remain in South America and carry on her work there. I thank you and your Prayer Group very sincerely for praying for her.—Laura E. Salamik (Chicago, Illinois)

Dear Pastor:

As you probably know, Philadelphia General Hospital is the municipal institution which provides hospital services for patients who cannot afford the expense of treatment. An acute need for registered nurses has prompted me to request your assistance in obtaining an adequate number of nurses for P.G.H.

Both part-time and full-time nurses are urgently needed. This Hospital offers one of the highest salary rates in the area, excellent fringe benefits and a well-supervised nursery for the care of nurses' children while they are on duty. Nurses can choose the number of hours and when they wish to work.

Interested registered nurses should contact Steve Henry. The phone number to call is MU 6-2359.

THE INHABITANTS of a town once were frightened by a minor earthquake. One couple sent their little boy to stay with an uncle in another city, explaining the reason for the boy's unexpected visit.

A couple of days later the parents received this telegram from the uncle: "Am returning your boy; send earthquake."

Dear Dr. Price:—You will be glad to know that the prayers of your Fellowship for me have accomplished so much. In July I had a complete nervous breakdown, followed by anxiety, depression and melancholy. I consulted psychiatrists, numerous doctors, used wonder drugs. Shock treatments were suggested. I found no help until I attended your Healing Service in Wilmington, Delaware. Since then it is like a miracle has happened. I thank God.—Mrs. Dorothy Lestards (New Castle, Del.)

DIAMONDS IN THE ROUGH

A recent article describes the 9th largest diamond in the world, the latest addition to the aristocracy of the diamond world. "If Tom Sawyer had seen it lying in the gutter, he might have sent it skittering across the street with a casual kick. Or he mightn't have wasted the energy. There isn't much about the dirty gray and greasy stone to cattch a small boy's eye, or that of an adult either. When you see it lying on the cluttered workbench . . . you find it hard to believe you are in the presence of the newest of the world's great gems. It just doesn't look like a diamond." Even so, when the diamond cutters have finished their work, it is expected that the gem will be pear-shaped, two inches long and three-quarters of an inch thick, from a hundred and seventy to two hundred carats in size, valued at two million five hundred thousand dollars.

Diamonds are notoriously ugly when they come to the diamond cutter's shop. Their true beauty is not recognizable. It is concealed by a dull gray surface. So the common expression, "a diamond in the rough", has real meaning. If we were to come across such a stone on the sidewalk in front of our homes, like Tom Sawyer, we, too, would kick the gem in the gutter.

How is it with our attitude toward persons? Every day you and I meet someone for the first time. We form a first impression. Perhaps we do not make a conscious judgement of the person's worth, but we cannot deny that we begin immediately to evaluate the person. Many things enter into the process by which we finally draw a conclusion about the person. Think of some of them: his taste in clothes, his grooming, the sound of his voice, the quality of his grammar, his social graces. Then we explore him a little deeper. How does he earn his living? What is his educational background? Where does he live? How important is his position in the business and social world? Now, of course, few of us go through this process in the deliberate and calculating way. Can we deny, however, that to one degree or another, this is what happens?

In contrast, Jesus looked at a person with fluoroscopic eyes. They penetrated the surface, and brought to light the qualities and potentials of the individual. He saw the soul beneath the superficial. He saw the man behind the mannerisms. He saw the beauty behind the blemishes. This is one of the clearest characteristics of His relationship with people. Time and time again, those who had been slighted and scorned by others drew from Him understanding and even admiration. Those of us who would follow Him might well recognize that the standards of society are not infallible, and every day we come across "diamonds in the rough", really great characters who are ignored by the crowd. Can we not see their true worth, and know them to be precious in the eyes of God?

Our hearty congratulations are extended to Mr. Elmer S. Carll, Vestryman of St. Stephen's, who was honored at the recent Commencement Exercises of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy with the degree of Doctor of Laws.

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. Arthur C. Comby in memory of his parents: Clara A. and Edward T. Comby.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Wilson C. Leithead.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon—Mr. R. Douglas Cole.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I submitted the name of Belva Smith for prayers a month ago. Her family and friends are rejoicing with her, and most of the people are surprised with her recovery. She has suffered from a severe dermatitis that was causing such agony that she was losing her sanity. Her son told my sister that the recovery was due to prayer.—Zelda Rawlins (Altoona, Penna.)

HEALING MISSION — On the Sundays in July and August Dr. Price will conduct a Healing Mission; services will be Sundays at 11 A.M.

MAN'S RESPONSE

Meister Eckhart, a German mystic of the 13th century, once wrote, "God can no more do without us than we can do without Him." Do you think this is blasphemy? I do not think so. We say that we need God. This is true. We also need to understand that God needs us. Here is no heresy. Rather, it brings into balance the God-man relationship. It is an insight clearly substantiated in Scripture. We are co-laborers with God.

We have often deplored the fact that some individuals and some societies declare that there is no need for God. Atheism is not unknown in our generation. We have witnessed historical implications when ideologies have both denied and defied a theistic understanding of life and history. Hitler's Germany remains in memory as a terrifying example. We have found in much of modern literature the sordid emptiness in the lives of individuals who have denied God and in the denial have become tragically hollow. Quite properly the Christian continues to insist that we need the Love, Power and Redemption of God. Without this we are lost. This is our confession leaping from experience, in history and in our personal lives. Meister Eckhart speaks the truth when he says we cannot do without God.

The other side is that God cannot do without us. Here is no pathetic conceit. Rather, it is an admission that God needs us to carry out His work and accomplish His Will on earth. Each one of us should be seen as an instrument of God. In business, the man of complete integrity is needed by God. In government, the man of uncompromising honesty is needed by God. In the Church, the man of both courage and compassion is needed by God. In the family, the man of Love and Understanding is needed by God. Indeed, in every human relationship God needs you and me to witness by our being something of His Spirit. This is both awesome and overwhelming. In fact the acknowledgement that God needs us may be more demanding than the confession that we need God. If He does need us, and needs us right now, the question then becomes: What are we doing in response? Now what answer shall we make to that?

A Selected group of Boy Scouts in Troop #2, sponsored by this Church, had the honor of raising the Flag at the Betsy Ross House on "Flag Day", and participated in the ceremony.

We list here the memorial flowers on our Altar, with the donors, as there will be no weekly Bulletin published now until September.

During July and August the weekday services will consist of a preaching service on Wednesdays at 12:30 P.M.; Holy Communion Wednesdays at 5:30 P.M. and Holy Communion Fridays at 12:30 P.M.

The Rev. Dr. Stockman will conduct the Wednesday services during July and August. The Rev. Robert H. Stetler will conduct the Friday services during July and August.

Due to the unsatisfactory mail deliveries we have had to send out a large percentage of our weekly Bulletins by First Class Mail; this has greatly increased the cost of this part of our work. In the past year the response to our appeal for financial support of this phase of St. Stephen's work, was somewhat greater than heretofore. More giving in support of this work, where possible, will be much appreciated.

The Bulletin is discontinued through July and August.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

SPECIAL NOTICE: Next Sunday, September 11th is the first day of the four-day International Conference of the O.S.L. on The Church's Ministry of Healing.

Dear Dr. Price:—I am crippled from an auto accident. God provided a way for me to have the great joy and privilege of attending a healing service at your Church in May. It was the most wonderful and sacred experience of my life. Though I am still crippled, I feel that God blessed me, and I pray that I can come to another healing service in the Fall. I pray daily for greater faith.—Mrs. Berry Barness (Washington, D.C.)

PRAYER BOOK REVISION

One of the beauties of our services of worship is that we use the Book of Common Prayer, which is a living Book, that is, it does not go out of print because it becomes outmoded since it is revised from time to time. The American Prayer Book was first issued in 1889. It has undergone two revisions: in 1892 and again in 1928. In view of the fact that the world is moving and changing faster in this century than ever before, greater need has been felt for revision during the past 25 years than in any previous period.

The Standing Liturgical Committee (S.L.C.) of the Church has been working on a revision of the Prayer Book and over the past 25 years has published suggested revisions of each of the services in the Prayer Book in a series of "Prayer Book Studies". These have been circulated largely among the clergy.

A REVISED SERVICE OF HOLY COMMUNION. In 1953 the S.L.C. published a suggested revision of the service of Holy Communion together with a 315 page book explaining the reasons for the suggested changes. Reactions to this service were many and strong, if not violent. Criticism was severe on the part of nearly all schools of thought in the Church and so the revision proved to be generally unacceptable. Therefore the S.L.C. has been working on a revision of the 1953 revision based on these criticisms, and suggestions. Now, 13 years later, the S.L.C. is hoping to issue a new revision for the Order of the service of Holy Communion.

Here in St. Stephen's we have been using for several months a proposed revision suggested by the Rev. Gardiner Day of Cambridge, Mass. and the Rev. Benjamin Minifie of New York. This service is not very different from our present service, but it has eliminated some of the features objectionable to sensitive persons, and also shortened the service, which is an important consideration today.

Those of us who have longed for a revision of the Prayer Book have hoped that it would accomplish at least two things: (1) Eliminate antiquated phraseology and theology, and (2) Eliminate redundancies and shorten the service.

These are some of the changes: (1) The Prayer for the Whole State of Christ's Church has been eliminated, not because the substance of the prayer is not important, but because it is thought the service will achieve a greater sense of reality and relevance if special intercessions particularly appropriate to a specified time, are used instead of the same general prayer. Certain phrases in this prayer have annoyed worshippers; as, for example, that we pray only for "Christian Rulers" and not for all Rulers. In addition, many people are not in accord with the sentence which reads, "And to all Thy people give Thy heavenly grace; and especially to this congregation here present." Should we not pray that God's heavenly grace be given "especially" to those who are not actually present in the congregation at a particular service?

(2). The wording of the invitation to Communion: "Draw near with faith and take this Holy Sacrament to your comfort", is changed to: "Draw near with faith and take this Holy Sacrament to strengthen and sustain you."

(3). One of the difficulties with the service of Holy Communion has been the enormous severity of the General Confession. It makes people say more than they really believe or feel. As Archbishop Temple used to say, "The problem is not that the burden of sins is intolerable, but rather that all too often sins are enjoyable." Hence a very brief, simple, but straight forward confession has been substituted, which appears on page 323 in the Communion of the Sick.

(4). The congregation is to stand for the Sursum Corda and Sanctus as a helpful way of expressing our adoration as we say or sing this brief but cherished hymn of praise which leads up to the Prayer of Consecration.

(5). In the Prayer of Consecration the word "satisfaction", with its medieval theological connotations, has been eliminated, as well as various redundancies.

(6). In the Prayer of Humble Access the phrasing of the last sentence has been changed in order to eliminate what has been called its "cannibalistic language" (i.e., "eat the flesh", and "drink the blood").

(7). The final, beautiful prayer of Thanksgiving to be said not simply by the priest but by the entire congregation.

While we believe the helpfulness of our Service of Holy Communion cannot be overestimated, I am sure we all realize that there is no service so perfect that it cannot be improved. Furthermore, it is not a matter of improvement as much as it is of bringing it up to date, that is, expressing it in language of the 20th century instead of the 16th.

Address by Rev. William N. Beachy, M.D., Chaplain, St. Luke's Hospital, Kansas City, Mo., "HOW TO HAVE FAITH".

ST. LUKE THE PHYSICIAN

St. Luke was a man of many accomplishments. He was a physician and missionary, a first rate reporter and a literary craftsman whose writing will bear comparison with that of Shakespeare and Dante. The French critic Renan, has referred to the Gospel of St. Luke as the most beautiful book ever written.

In the first two chapters of his Gospel we find, either in whole or in part, five great Christian hymns, namely: the Ave Maria, the angel's greeting to Mary; the Magnificat, magnificent hymn of praise, of Mary; the Gloria in Excelsis, the angels' hymn; the Nunc Dimittis, the hymn of the aged Simeon after he had seen Christ; and the Benedictus, the hymn of the Priest Zacharias in thanksgiving for the Birth of his son, John the Baptist.

St. Luke was not a Jew like the other Evangelists. He was a Greek, born in Antioch, in Syria, and he wrote and spoke Greek with all its beautiful simplicity.

He never met our Lord, but we think that many of the most precious treasures of the Church were written down by Luke. We think that only Mary, the mother of Jesus, could have told him of those beautiful songs which we sing every Sunday. Only Mary could have given him selections of the Nativity account which occur only in his Gospel. He states that he had gone over what others had written and had gathered information handed down from eye witnesses.

The practice of medicine in Luke's day was by no means as primitive as patronizing moderns are apt to think. By the first century A.D. Greek doctors had learned to set broken bones and perform surgical operations on such delicate parts of the human anatomy as the eye and brain. Centuries before the birth of Christ the great Greek physicians began to make a careful study of mental illness. Some of the words used in psychology today, such as "hysteria" and "melancholia" derive from their work. It was not until the beginning of the 19th century that medical science advanced materially beyond the point it had reached under the Greeks.

To say that Luke was a physician, then, is to say he was a member of a scientific community whose standards and achievements still deserve the highest respect.

Besides writing the Gospel, St. Luke was the writer of the Acts of the Apostles, which is an extremely detailed account of the events that took place in the Christian community during the earliest years of the Church—from the time of Christ's Ascension, about 30 A.D., until Paul's arrival in Rome, about 60 A.D.

Luke is specific about people (he mentions 110 individuals by name), places, time and happenings. Biblical scholars have cross-checked every statement he makes against historical and archaeological evidence from all other available sources. And they have universally substantiated his accuracy. To survive such close critical scrutiny without being caught in a major error is a remarkable testimony to one of the first Christian historians.

St. Luke records more of the healing ministry of Jesus than the other writers and gives a fullsome report of one of the four healing missions He sent His disciples on. He gives great prominence to the healing miracles.

It is no wonder that we read his Gospel with devotion and love, and are proud to give his name to our Healing Society.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Suite", (a) Overture, (b) The Peace ..... Handel
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Father, day by day we look to Thee for the help Thou dost bestow. In times of temptation, uphold us by Thy strength. In times of fear and loneliness, give us Thy power and the sense of Thy companionship. In times of doubt and uncertainty, give us Thy light and Thy guidance. Grant that nothing may shake our confidence in Thy love or cause us to doubt the final triumph of Thy purposes for all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. John Pintavalle.

5:30 P.M.—Holy Communion and Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I am writing just a short note to say that prayers of your Prayer Fellowship at St. Stephen's Church for the healing of my labyrintitis (losing one's balance when walking, and getting dizzy) has prompted me to offer thanksgiving to God for this recovery. I read the literature you sent me every day.

—(Mrs. B. F. Sargent, Orlando, Florida)

GIVE OUT YOUR PRAISE

"Let your light so shine before men"—what do those words bring to your mind? I suspect that your hand almost reaches for your purse as you are reminded of the offering in Church! Yet those words of His were never intended to refer to an occasional act of giving money. They were meant to picture the constant giving of ourselves to God, so that His Life, His Love, would shine through us, and make others see God.

After all, our own personal saints were simply people through whom God had a chance to shine. Over and over again they forgot what they might get out of life for themselves, and gave themselves to meet nearby need. They kept giving themselves away, wherever there was need; kept giving themselves for God's purposes. They let their light so shine—His Light in them, giving hope and courage to the wavering.

Late one Sunday afternoon, a traveler came to a little village in the Alps, just as dusk was falling. He asked what time the evening service would be held in the little village Church, and found that it would be in about an hour. So he went there to sit quietly and pray. As he looked about him, he was surprised to find that there were no lamps or lighting fixtures at all; and the shades of night were falling fast. Soon the people began to arrive—and each worshiper carried a lighted candle—until the Church was ablaze with light. He learned that the man who had given the Church to the people had also provided the candles and candle sticks; and had asked the village to promise that there would be no other light in the Church.

That wise giver wanted people to remember that they came to Church to give out their praise and gratitude, to give out the joy of their presence in God's house, first of all; before thinking what they might get for themselves. The greatest opportunity in life is to let God's Love catch fire in our hearts; and burn for others in the honest love we have for them.

A NEW SONG

(Reprinted from THE ANGLICAN DIGEST, Summer 1966)

THE LORD is my external-internal integrative mechanism:

I shall not be deprived of gratification for my viserogenic hungers or my need dispositions.

2. He motivates me to orient myself towards a non-social object with effective signficance,
3. He positions me in a non-decisional situation; He maximizes my adjustment.
4. Although I entertain masochistic and self-destructive impulses, I will maintain contact with reality for my superego is dominant: His analysis and tranquilizers, they comfort me.
5. He assists in the resolution of my internal conflicts despite my Oedipal problem and psychopathic compulsions and my personality is totally integrated.
6. Surely my prestige and status shall be enhanced as a direct function of time: and I shall remain sociologically, and economically secure for ever.

Originally called "Science Psalm" (in A Stress Analysis of a Strapless Evening Gown and Other Essays for a Scientific Age, edited by R. A. Baker and published at $4.50 by Prentice-Hall, Inc., Englewood Cliffs, N.J. 07632). It sounds like something which might be found in many of the books and articles by present day professional theologians.

The Prelude: "Antiphon IV" ..... Marcel Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Father of all mercies! God of all comfort! We bring before Thee the record of our lives, stained with the memories of sin and failure. Be patient with us, for if Thou turn Thy face from us, we are undone. Cast us not from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from us. Call us back to the high and holy path, Thou Shepherd of our souls. Place upon us once more Thy blessed yoke; set us face to face with our unaccomplished tasks, and we will prove our penitence by the constancy of our wills in the strength of Thy forgiving grace. Give unto us what Thou commandest, and then command what Thou wilt. Amen.

LIFE SAVING ACTION

They had Him at last, exulted the enemies of Jesus! There He was, nailed hard and fast to the Cross; done for; finished. They had been frightened, these proud little men—frightened that Jesus would lead the crowds away from them, and that they would lose their shiny little places in the sun. But they have smartly turned the crowds against Him—and He who laughs last, laughs best. So they looked up at Him with grim laughter, and gloated, "He saved others; Himself He cannot save." And even one of the thieves, nailed to a cross close to Jesus, took up the bitter cry, "Art Thou not the Christ? Save Thyself and us." But He could not. That was one thing that Jesus was not able to do. Because He was Love clothed in the flesh, it was not in His nature to save Himself. It was His nature to save others. The Almighty God, the All-Loving, by His saving character, cannot be a self-saver.

Out of that fact follows the truth that is sobering and startling. God, in His turn, can only save those who are willing to be savers themselves. Did not Jesus, instructing His disciples how to pray, teach them to say, "Forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us?" In other words, God can forgive only those who themselves have forgiving hearts. For only forgiving people have understanding of forgiveness. Only they can accept forgiveness.

Sometimes there has crept into Christian thinking a strange notion that your first duty is to attend to your own salvation—to see that your own soul is ready to pass its examination at the heavenly gates. How anyone ever drew that nasty, selfish little idea out of the teaching of Jesus will always be a mystery. He taught that your first duty is to obey the will of God, and that His will then sets you to work in neighborly, life-saving action for others. Self-love blocks you off from God's grace.

Let me remind you of the old Russian legend of a man in hell who prayed earnestly to be released from torment. At last a voice said, "rescue will come." A slender thread was let down, and he was told to grasp it. He did so, and thin though the thread seemed, it began to draw him up. But others, seeing him being released, seized hold of his garments that they also might be drawn up out of torment. The man kicked them off, crying out, "The thread will break!" And break it did! And then the voice spoke again, "The thread of the Love of God was strong enough to save you and your brothers; but it was not strong enough to save you alone."

SPECIAL NOTICE:—"Diocesan Affair"—The Girls' Friendly Society is sponsoring a Card Party on Saturday, October 8th at 1:30 P.M. in St. Stephen's Community House. The proceeds will go toward a fund for the Diocese of Pennsylvania Holiday House at Cape May, N.J. Donation 75¢. There will be Prizes and Refreshments. EVERYONE IS INVITED.

Any ladies of St. Stephen's Parish wishing to become a Sponsor for the G.F.S. should contact Mrs. Fred J. Baehrle whose phone number is LI 8-9505, or come to a meeting: Monday evening at 6:30 P.M.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—My heartfelt thanks for your sustaining prayers during the past month. My spirit came to peace shortly after my prayer request with a surety and joy which I had never known. With freedom from concern about myself, my mind opened to other possibilities of practical help to cure the muscle stiffness and arthritis in my hips and legs. I have been led to wholeness in many ways, and I am so happy that it is like a new life, to be able to do for others, and, if not in words, then by the quality of my experience, to proclaim that LOVE has all in its care, and that all the strength and help is present for us if we will learn to give ourselves to it. All I can say is, "Praise God."—Mrs. Jeanette S. Michener (Southampton, Pa.)

ORDER OF ST. LUKE CONFERENCE

4,887 people attended the various sessions of the four-day International Conference on the Church's Ministry of Healing held in St. Stephen's Church September 11th through 14th.

132 Denominations were represented; Clergy and laymen coming from 27 States. Five from overseas countries representing Japan, Uganda, Ceylon, England and Canada were in attendance. There were 77 Clergymen and three Bishops; 18 Physicians and 17 Nurses in attendance. There were 18 speakers and 41 addresses. 45 new members were inducted into the Order. Some 1500 persons enjoyed the Social Hour Periods in the Community House.

Words are inadequate to express our appreciation to Mrs. Madeline Keller who supervised all the activity in the Community House and to her twenty volunteers for their untiring efforts. Our devoted Verger, Mr. Clifton Johnson and his wife cooked and prepared the fine menu, and 196 people enjoyed the excellent Tuesday dinner. Miss Hazel Bainbridge did a magnificent and flawless job in managing the ushers, offerings, healing and Communion Services.

The Prelude: "Jesu, Joy Of Man's Desiring" .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We thank Thee, O God, for the beauty of Thy creation, for the wonders of earth and sea and sky. We thank Thee for the homes where love dwells, for the freedom which is ours in our blessed land, for the opportunities which surround us day by day as we work and pray and play and seek to serve our fellow men. Especially do we thank Thee for the revelation of Thyself through Jesus Christ our Lord, in whom we see the love which has surrounded us from birth, accompanies us in our daily labors, heals the wounds inflicted by life, ministers to our growth and character, enriches our joy, and assures us of the life eternal. Our Father, we thank Thee. Amen.

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. & Mrs. Charles K. Hay in memory of parents, Mr. & Mrs. John W. Huxley.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Elmer S. Carll.

The Rev. Mr. Meckling states that the Bible Class will resume the weekly 4 O'Clock meetings next Sunday, October 9th.

5:30 P.M.—~~Evening Prayer~~ Holy Communion & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I attended the International Conference on the Church's Ministry of Healing held in your Church and found it an inspiring and joyous occasion. Six months ago this would have been a physical impossibility for me. I know that "all healing comes from God", but it was through you and your wonderful Prayer Fellowship that I was healed of a serious heart condition, and I am gaining strength every day. I walked from the Church to the Ben Franklin Hotel each day without fatigue. It has been 7 or 8 years since I have had the strength to travel, or walk so much. I am deeply grateful to you and the dedicated members of the Prayer Fellowship.
—Marian van den Berg (Birmingham, Ala.)

LOOK AT LIGHT

I want to share with you a page of Stanley Jones' "How To Be A Transformed Person." He reminds us that the first thing of importance is to get your attention and gaze fixed at the right place. If you look within yourself, you'll be discouraged; if you look around at others, you'll be distracted; if you look at Christ, you will pass into His likeness.

"You become like that which you gaze at habitually. If you gaze at nothing, or are continuously shifting your attention to the latest attraction, if nothing has your attention and love, then you look like nothing. Your face looks like what you are looking at—nothing. No character signs on the face—just a blur called a face. "Do you keep stationery here?" asked a prospective customer of a store-keeper. "No", she replied, "We keep moving." The modern person keeps moving not only his body, but his attention and interest, and the result is a blurred face.

"But there are those who see a Face and give themselves forever to gazing at that Face. A lovely old Japanese woman of 80 years was graduated 52 years ago at Mount Holyoke College, went back to Japan, started a girls' School. Never married—married herself to the needs of the girls of Japan. "I have a large family", she laughingly said; "Six thousand graduates are all my children." The War came and Okayama was burned out in one dreadful night, and with it the School she had built through the years by faith and toil and prayer. At seventy-five she might have said, "I'm too old to begin again. We'll call it a day and quit." Not she. She rebuilt the School and now has eleven hundred girls in it, and every day, at 80, she is in active charge. Fifty-two years of looking in the Face of Christ, and then at the faces of her girls, has made her beautiful—at eighty.

"It was said of a blacksmith in New England that he had lived so much in thought with Emerson that he looked more like Emerson than Emerson himself! He became what he looked at habitually. The Psalmist says, "They looked unto Him, and were lightened" (Psalm 34:5)."

Let it be part of our discipline to look into the Face of Christ constantly—for as we look at Light, we shall be Light!

The Rector participated in a Panel Discussion on "Hypnotism, Faith Healing and Psychosomatic Illness" under the auspices of the Association To Advance Ethical Hypnosis, held at the Sylvania Hotel on Sept. 22nd.

The Rector participated in a Retreat held in the Church of the Holy Communion, 20th Street and Avenue of the Americas, New York, on Saturday, October 1st.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Geraldine Baddeley, Frances F. Bailey, Helen G. Downes, Mr. & Mrs. Alan D. Matthews, Mrs. Jane S. Smith.

The Afternoon Branch of the Women of St. Stephen's is now being called St. Stephen's Fellowship Group and men are also invited. It meets from 12:30 until 2 P.M. in the Community House, behind the Church, on the 3rd Sunday of each month. Refreshments are served. The Bible Study talks will continue for the 4th year on October 16th by Mrs. Alfred W. Price. The Life of Christ will be started by a comparison of the 4 Gospels. Everyone is welcome.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Mary's Church, Reading, Penna., on the evenings of October 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

AN EMPTY CUP

At this moment a ragged child in India stands in a long line, a tin cup in his hand, hoping to receive a gift of milk. If he were standing next to you, would you fill his cup? You can by giving to our Church's Agency for helping others. Give the money that buys the milk to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. The Milk Can on our Church steps is the place to put your offering.

CONFIRMATION CLASS is now forming. We are to present our candidates on Sunday, December 11th at 4:00 P.M. in Christ Church, 2nd and Market Streets. If you know of anyone who wishes to be confirmed, please contact the Rector.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins"—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Aria" ..... Flor Peeters

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—God of all power, who knowest the goodness of our intentions and the weakness of our performance, we beseech Thee to strengthen our good purposes. Forbid that we should be satisfied with half measures, with half-finished tasks, with half-won victories. Let our purpose be ribbed with steel. Strengthen us to carry to completion the high endeavors of our hearts. We ask in the name of Him who accepted Gethsemane and shrank not from Calvary, even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a guest.
Of so divine a guest unworthy though I be
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen

The Anthem: "O For The Wings Of A Dove"

O for the wings of a dove! Far away would I rove! In the wilderness build me a nest, and remain there forever at rest. O for the wings of a dove! Far away would I rove. In the wilderness build me a nest, and remain there forever at rest.

The Sermon: "THE CROSS AND THE SWITCHBLADE" ..... The Rector

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Four years ago your Prayer Fellowship prayed for my nervous condition and I was greatly helped. I attended one of your healing services last Spring with a severe arthritic condition. You placed your hands on my head and prayed for my healing. From that day to this I have had no arthritis. God be praised!

—Grace E. Arthur (Episcopal Church Home, Pittsburgh, Pa.)

NAME CALLING

Most of us have trouble with words. This should not be too surprising. We are living in a time when a whole company of noble words is struggling for survival in the midst of intellectual confusion and dishonesty. For example, the present regime in China calls itself "Peoples' Republic". This reduces language to absurdity. The Soviet Union uses the great word "democracy" with a promiscuousness that sickens the mind. Our own nation has not escaped completely this tidal wave of word confusion. We are tempted to call those who disagree with us either "conservative" or "liberal". And when we use these words their use has little relationship to the real meaning. Rather they carry the emotional overtones of an invective. They are labels used loosely to apply to those with whom we may think we have disagreement. In a time fraught with national peril, one of the best things that could happen would be a new public resolve to use words responsibly and with intellectual maturity.

We also have trouble with words in another sense. Words can be cruel and destructive, they can be kind and constructive. They are living things. They can do great good or great evil. They can be things of beauty and helpfulness. "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold and pictures of silver." Or they can be things that are ugly and cutting. "These words are razors to my wounded heart." Sir Walter Scott had it right!

Oh! Many a shaft, at random sent,
Finds mark the archer little meant;
And many a word, at random spoken,
May soothe or wound a heart that's broken.

We use words every day, thousands of them. They ought to be used honestly and with intellectual integrity. There should be some understanding of their real meaning. And certainly we should not indulge in name-calling as a substitute for clear thinking. Then, too, it is nice to recognize that each one of us has the power to hurt or heal the human heart according to the words we choose. It is possible to cut a person to pieces with words. It is also possible to give a transfusion to another person's soul through words that strengthen. Yes, we use thousands of words every day. Are they the kind you would welcome, played back to you at eventide?

The Rector will speak to the students of the Christian Medical Society at Jefferson Medical College on October 11th.

THE RECTOR'S CONFIRMATION CLASSES will meet on Sundays at 10 A.M. beginning October 23rd. Although these classes are designed primarily for those persons who wish to be confirmed, they are also open without obligation to all those who want to learn about the life and faith of the Episcopal Church. Confirmation Service, which includes a number of Churches in our area, will be held in Christ Church, 2nd Street a little above Market Street, at 4 P.M. on December 11th.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, Mr. & Mrs. John David Cist, Louise Costello, Mr. & Mrs. Lewis Toliver, Mrs. Kathryn Neild, Mrs. William F. Wahl.

A harried college student sent this urgent telegram to his parents: "Am without funds or friends. Please help."

His father immediately wired back: "Make friends".

A rebuff can be a blessing in disguise . . . when it compels us to work out problems for ourselves instead of being overly dependent.

The Book of Roman Catholic Worship, newly published, contains, besides the service material, 101 hymns. Of these 63 are by permission of our Church, taken from our Episcopal Hymnal.

PRESIDING BISHOP, The Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, will speak once a week on Sundays for twelve weeks on the Episcopal Series of the Protestant Hour. Music is by the Washington Cathedral choir of men and boys. This program is broadcast in Philadelphia at 9 A.M. over Station WFIL.

ON GOD'S BUSINESS

The life of the great novelist, Walter Scott, was like a three-act play. First, the youthful days when poetry poured from his pen like songs from the throat of a bird. He was the darling of the gods, and no prize seemed beyond his grasp. In those days he mounted up with wings as an eagle. Then came the middle years, when he built up fame and fortune by writing one great novel after another. He worked while others slept, drawing on resources that seemed inexhaustible. In those middle years he ran swiftly and was not weary. Then came the dark hour when suddenly he found himself facing a debt of over a half million dollars, through the failure of the publishing company he owned. He could have slipped out from under this staggering burden by going into bankruptcy, and settled with his creditors for a small part of the debt. But Scott was of a finer fiber than that, and he declared, "If I live and retain my health, no man shall lose a penny by me." So, at the age of fifty-five, he plunged passionately into working to pay off this debt of honor. Day after day, month after month, he worked and worked. Now he no longer mounted up with wings as an eagle, not ran without weariness; but he did walk, and not faint. He wrecked his health with his terrific work; but, in the end, every penny of the debt was repaid.

The prophet promised that those that wait upon the Lord will always renew their strength; always find the power needed to carry out God's purposes. And it is a golden experience, after falling flat on our faces, to call upon God and feel the returning rush of new vigor, and soar back into life and work and achievement. It is exhilarating, also, when the chariot-wheels of our lives have been driving heavily, to turn to our Creator, and have Him pour new vitality into our spirits, and find ourselves miraculously speeding onward again. But, often in the wisdom of God, it is not our privilege to experience either of these two glorious renewals. Instead, we find ourselves renewed only to the point where we can walk on quietly, usefully, without thrills and without glory, and achieve the task God gave us to do. We are pedestrians on the road of life; but pedestrians on God's business!

Some of the noblest lives I have known have been God's pedestrians. It takes great character, tough fiber of soul, close walking with God, to walk and not faint. For that reason I believe that, if you walk on with a quiet courage, without fainting or quitting, you give special joy to the heart of God. And, if you keep at it, you will find that serenity which is the "peace that passes all understanding."

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the New Dover Methodist Church, Rahway, N.J., on Sunday evening and Monday morning and evening, October 16th and 17th.

THE RECTOR'S CONFIRMATION CLASSES will meet on Sundays at 10 A.M. beginning October 23rd. Although these classes are designed primarily for those persons who wish to be confirmed, they are also open without obligation to all those who want to learn about the life and faith of the Episcopal Church. Confirmation Service, which includes a number of Churches in our area, will be held in Christ Church, 2nd Street a little above Market Street, at 4 P.M. on December 11th.

The Afternoon Branch of the Women of St. Stephen's is now being called St. Stephen's Fellowship Group and men are also invited. It meets from 12:30 until 2 P.M. in the Community House, behind the Church, on the 3rd Sunday of each month. Refreshments are served. The Bible Study talks will continue for the 4th year on October 16th by Mrs. Alfred W. Price. The Life of Christ will be started by a comparison of the 4 Gospels. Everyone is welcome.

ST. STEPHEN'S FALL IN-GATHERING of the United Thank Offering will be Sunday, October 30th, 1966 at the 11 O'Clock service. We hope you will be here to see your offering presented at the Altar. If that is not possible, please send it to Mrs. Ruth Leithead, Custodian—U.T.O., St. Stephen's Church, 19 South Tenth Street, Phila., Pa. 19107.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

TWENTIETH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY
SUNDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1966

Church Telephone: WA 2-3807 — And WA 2-0611

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMPNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67
The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 217-8

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "I Call To Thee, Lord Jesus Christ" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, who hast taught us in Thy Word that we are members one of another, we bring to Thee the record of our lives, stained with the memories of offenses against our brethren. We confess before Thee the indifference that has wounded the brokenhearted, the cynicism that has frozen the enthusiasm of youth, the cruelty that has checked the gentle confidence of age, and all our sins of indolence and neglect. Grant us Thy pardon. Teach us so far as lies in our power to make amends. And grant us wisdom to choose whatever things are true, honorable, just, pure, lovely, and of good report; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Second Lesson: St. John 9:1-38

Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

Period of Silent Meditation:

None other Lamb, none other Name,
None other Hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None Other Hiding Place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: Bless The Lord, O My Soul .....Ippolitof-Ivanof

Bless thou the Lord, O my soul. Blessed art Thou, O Lord. Bless the Lord and forget not all His benefits; bless thou the Lord O my soul, and all that is within me bless His holy Name. He is full of compassion and mercy, long suffering and great in goodness. He will not always be chiding nor keepeth He His wrath forever . . . O blessed art Thou, O Lord.

NEVERTHELESS

Beano was a tough young gangster who observed one day, with a shrug, "It's a crumby world. The big shots don't know what to do about it — what do you expect of us?" Beano was quite right — it is a very crumby world indeed, where so many dreams crumble to pieces, and slip through our fingers, and are lost.

Jesus never denied what a mess men have made of God's world. Nor did He turn His face away from the hard Cross that towered higher and higher before Him. When He was warned that the old fox Herod was threatening to crush Him and His work, He faced that squarely and declared, "Nevertheless, I must go my way today, tomorrow, and the day following." At His darkest moments He had a way of squaring His shoulders, and lifting His head, saying, "Nevertheless."

His disciples then began to learn the use of that unconquerable little word. After a fruitless night of weary fishing, Jesus counseled them to launch out for another try. Peter rose slowly to his feet, looked out over the waters that seemed empty of fish; and then, with a trace of a smile, said, "Nevertheless, at Thy word, I will put down the nets." Jesus, kneeling lonely in the Garden of Gethsemane, prayed for deliverance from the Cross. Three times He prayed, hoping for the green light from His Father, that He might take the road that led through the Galilean countryside, rather than the dark road to Calvary. Each time there came no answer, "Yes", and He submitted Himself utterly to the Father's will, saying, "Nevertheless, not My will but Thine be done."

"It's a crumby world", so it's very easy to shrug your shoulders and say, "So what's the use?" But the Christian quietly marches on. It may be a sorry world; nevertheless, with God in it, there are always triumphant possibilities. A man or a woman may be down, — nevertheless, if he gets up and goes with God, he discovers new wonders in the deeps of life. Jesus' most memorable victory came after the shadowed hour of Herod's threat; and after the darker hours of the Garden, when the Road to Calvary became the glory-lit Road to Resurrection.

We who follow Christ have made this very great discovery — that He who goes with God, goes from strength to strength. The road may be dark — nevertheless, the traveler with God goes always toward the sunrise. The one urgent matter is to be sure that you go with God. As Thomas A'Kempis wrote, "You know from long experience that these storms come, and that they pass. For after Winter comes Summer; after the night, the day; and after the storm, a great calm . . . Accept these trials as sent by God in His infinite wisdom for your good; wrap love and prayer about you like a comforting garment, and let the storms pass by."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—This is to inform you of my wonderful healing which took place a year ago after presenting my need to your Prayer Fellowship. I had uremic poisoning, sugar 205, hypertension and upper respiratory infection. I was dismissed from the hospital after three weeks, with all tests normal all year with no medication. Praise God!

—Mrs. Alberta Work (Clearwater, Florida)

THE RECTOR'S CONFIRMATION CLASSES will meet on Sundays at 10 A.M. beginning October 23rd. Although these classes are designed primarily for those persons who wish to be confirmed, they are also open without obligation to all those who want to learn about the life and faith of the Episcopal Church. Confirmation Service, which includes a number of Churches in our area, will be held in Christ Church, 2nd Street a little above Market Street, at 4 P.M. on December 11th.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Trinity Church, Moorestown, N.J. on the evenings of October 23rd, 24th and 25th.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

The Fall In-Gathering of the Women's United Thank Offering will be next Sunday. This is a great Missionary Offering in which the women of St. Stephen's Church have always had a large part. It is presented at the General Convention every three years and will be presented next when the Convention meets in Seattle, in September, 1967.

ADVANCE NOTICE is given of the Baptism on Sunday morning, October 30th at 11 A.M. of the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. David L. German, III. Refreshments and Reception will follow in the Community House, to which the congregation is invited.

Our sincere "Thank you" to these Bulletin subscribers: Miss Elizabeth B. Bowne, Miss Katherine Carroll, Miss Rita Catalano, Rita J. Clark, Mrs. Paul E. Dornheim, Catherine Fuerst, Miss Anne Surgent, R.N.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Bless us today, O Father, with the realization of Thy presence. As we meet in humble paths of service, grant us that consciousness of Thy challenge to each of our lives, which shall redeem any labor from seeming trivial, and so change for us the tragedy and chaos of the world without Thee, into a prolonged field of honor; we pray in Jesus' name. PLEASE NOTE:—Once again we may have a wee bit more sleep—Saturday night (some time or other) we go off Daylight Saving time . . . which means: TURN YOUR CLOCKS AND WATCHES BACK ONE HOUR!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—A month ago I phoned you in great distress because my husband had suffered a heart attack. The combination of a chronic lung disease and an overworked heart did not give much hope for recovery. However, he has recovered and I fully believe that the good medical care he is receiving and, above all, the loving prayers offered for him have accomplished this. We know "from whence our help cometh". We are grateful to God for His loving kindness and to you and your Prayer Fellowship who do His work.—Mrs. Ann Coe (Great Falls, Virginia).

A DEEPER FAITH

"Please help me to find a deeper faith." Such a request is often placed before a Minister. An emptiness is acknowledged and a yearning to fill that emptiness is expressed. Always it reveals a wistful longing to gain something not presently possessed. It comes from earnest desire. Sometimes the need is urgent.

The first thing that must be said is that no high attainment comes easily nor immediately. Faith represents man's highest capacity and it would be unwise to claim that it is to be picked up for the asking. An infant makes faltering first steps and often stumbles. He walks before he runs. Then, if by chance a man wishes to become a skilled runner he trains under demanding discipline. The point is plain. A primary concern is to understand that everything has its price. This would seem to be a law of life. The whole matter of religious faith is no exception. If you want it, you can have it. But you cannot have it for nothing.

The second thing to be said is that faith is not simply a matter of accepting a certain doctrine. Many believe that they are or are not persons of faith, depending upon the acceptance or rejection of prescribed credal statements. They confront dogma hopefully, and then in all honesty turn away wishing poignantly that it could be embraced. Because they define faith as a body of belief, they conclude that faith is beyond their grasp. This is a tragic misfortune.

This leads me to say a third thing. Faith is not blind acceptance but daring action. It is the supreme motivating power within man. It moves his life from the present to the future. It is the force behind every exploration and experiment. It is the action which carries him from the known into the unknown, thereby enlarging the known. It is the hypothesis of the scientist. It is the marriage vow. It is the business venture. It is the military strategy. In short, it is action based on commitment to that which is not wholly known and remains to be proven.

With this in mind, religious faith is seen as the act of belief and trust before all the evidence is in. Its validity is not established by reading a book. I can read a book on how to swim. It may help. The proof starts with the doing. With the plunge, and it gains strength by steady strokes in the water. We do learn by doing. We learn to walk by walking. We learn to speak by speaking. We learn to love by loving. We learn "to faith by faithing." The problem with many of us is that we continue to stand on the sidelines wondering if we can have faith in this or that. Here is our error. Take a belief, let faith move it from contemplation to action. The proof comes in the living.

ALL SAINTS' DAY—1966

We are placing the names of those having a special claim upon us in St. Stephen's Church, who have passed into life eternal since last All Saints' Day.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Blessed Are Ye Faithful Souls" .....J. Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord of the great sacrifice, restrain our eagerness for the things that are seen. Thy Cross is our rebuke. Increase our spending for the things eternal. Lord of the sinless life, our hope is to become like Thee. Fulfill our hearts in service, that our hope be not in vain. Lord of the holiest joy—the joy of boundless giving—teach us Thy grace of losing, that our joy may indeed be full. The World counteth all things lost if it gain not the things it may reckon. Help us to count all things but loss, to win Thee, the wealth unmeasured. Amen.

The Introit

Processional Hymn 599 .....Vigiles et Sancti

Response to the Decalogue, Hymnal #708

The Anthem: Ye Now Are Sorrowful (from Requiem) .....J. Brahms

Ye now are sorrowful, howbeit ye shall again behold me, and your heart shall be joyful, and your joy no man taketh from you. Yea, I will comfort you, as one whom his own mother comforteth. Look upon me; ye know that for a little time labor and sorrow were mine, but at the last I have found comfort, yea I will comfort you.

CONTENTMENT

Joe David Brown begins the story thus: "Nobody in Walesburg had less than chloroform Wiggins, and nobody felt better . . . he came from a long line of contented folks." His parents, Sam and Aggie, lived in an old, discarded river boat. They had been married twenty years when their only child was born; and it was a hard birth, so old Doc eased it all he could. Afterwards, Aggie asked what the sweet smelling stuff was that Doc had given her to ease the pain. So it came about that she named her son "Chloroform." "Hit's a medicine-name, Sam. Hit's the purtiest name ah ever heerd."

The time came when Sam and Aggie died. Chloroform sold the old river boat and built himself a little shack. There he lived contentedly, working at humble tasks, at peace with God and men. One rainy day the men were standing around at Clem McCullough's store, because there wasn't much else to do; and they were spoiling for some fun. They all looked up and grinned when Chloroform came in. He had a long, thin neck with a big Adam's apple, and, as usual, his pointed face was covered with a grin. He told Clem that he was aiming to get a mess of catfish down in the creek, and he needed a number four hook. If Clem would let him have it, he would bring some catfish back to Clem in payment. Then the men started in. First they asked Chloroform if he thought that one hook was enough; and then, hadn't he better buy himself a new, strong line? They told him he didn't worry enough; but he didn't seem to think he had anything to worry about. They said it was his duty to begin to worry; and the best way was to get into debt—now, what did he want, more than anything else in the world? Nothing, he guessed, except a number-four hook. So Clem bade him look all around the store, and pick out what he wanted most; and charge it. So Chloroform took a good deal of time, looked around, even at the racks where Clem had hung the calico and taffeta dresses. But when he had finished, he stammered that there wasn't anything he really wanted—except a number-four hook. So they got out the big Sears, Roebuck catalogue, and got him to thumb through it. When Chloroform finished, he looked up (and the men weren't grinning or sniggering any more); and he seemed embarrassed as he said, "Ah reckon Ah don't want anythin' 'ceptin' a number-four hook. Everything's mighty purty, tho'." So Clem gave him the hook, and he ambled contentedly out.

There was a long silence; and Perry Lokey said, "It beats the life outa me. He don't want nothin'. Reckon there's never been anybody like that before." Clem McCullough's eyes were thoughtful and his voice was low: "Yes, thar was. Ah heard of somebody else like that. They didn't have any catalogues in those days, so they let Him look around from a mountain-top. He didn't want nothin' you could carry in yore hands or put in yore pockets," then Clem did a funny thing. He looked around that big old store of his, and his eyes swept the overflowing shelves and the bulging bins and the full racks. "Sometimes," he said, and his voice sounded as if he was thinking out loud, "sometimes Ah think Ah'm a mighty pore man."

Dear Dr. Price:—I want to thank you and the members of your Prayer Fellowship for your prayers for the past month. I have had a serious disc problem in my neck, and complications in my neck, and complications in my shoulders and spine for two years. I rejoice to say that the Lord has healed me. The deep, continuous pain I have had for so long has been relieved completely. My heartfelt thanks.—Mrs. Charles W. Sudlow (Gwynedd Valley, Pa.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Congregational Chuurch, Florence, Massachusetts, November 6th-8th, inclusive.

We extend our thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Elsa N. Ashbrook, Mrs. William Budd, Elizabeth M. Campbell, Viola Del Costello, Mrs. M. B. Fishburn, Mr. Ross J. Griffith, Bessie M. Lawfer, Dr. John D. Tate, Mary Louise Wood.

THE RECTOR'S CONFIRMATION CLASS FOR ADULTS

The Rector's Confirmation Class will meet at 10 A.M. Sunday mornings. The subjects of the lectures will be: THE CHRISTIAN FAITH, THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH, THE BIBLE, THE CREED, THE PRAYER BOOK, THE SACRAMENTS. Those eligible to attend are: (1)—Those intending to be confirmed; (2)—Those who want to know more about the Church before they make a final decision about Confirmation; (3)—Those who would like to refresh their knowledge about the Christian Faith.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, whose love is so gracious and tender that it passeth understanding, we bow before Thee in gratitude at the remembrance of Thy mercies. We thank Thee for health and vigor, quietness and music, beauty and sunshine, and the bounty of nature. We thank Thee for lovely experiences which enrich our days and gladden our lives. We thank Thee for faith and hope and courage by which we overcome life's handicaps and through which we rise above our broken hopes. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—Great and wonderful things are happening since I sent my prayer request to your Prayer Fellowship. Praise God!—Mrs. Agnes Wingfield (Roanoke, Va.)

THE GATHERING SPIRIT

In another of Joel David Brown's stories there is a memorable scene when the old maid goes to a steamship office to plan a trip. The clerk was a red-headed Irishman named O'Reilly. The first place he suggested was South America. The old maid sniffed, "I don't think I want to go to South America. I understand that there are a lot of Indians and half-breeds down there. And I may as well tell you that there's another place I don't want to go to. I don't want to go to Ireland. They tell me that it's cold and wet and full of Catholics." That was too much for O'Reilly. "Faith an' begorra, Miss," he replied briskly, "suppose you go to hell. It's hot and dry and full of Protestants!"

I do not know, for a fact, whether O'Reilly's last statement was correct. I hope not! But I do know that I thoroughly agree with the vigor of his reply to the bigoted spinster. She could not have paid much attention in Church—if she went to a Christian Church. Nor could she have read her New Testament with any degree of care. For never in its pages can you find any encouragement of narrow bigotry. Paul, in writing his unruly Corinthian friends, scorches them for their quarrelsome cliques—"I'm for Apollos"; "I'm for Cephas"; "I'm for Paul." He asks, sternly, "Is Christ divided?" Read thoughtfully the words of Jesus. His purpose was to draw people together—"Oh Jerusalem, Jerusalem . . . how often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wing; and you would not!" No, the only division Jesus made between people was between those who are willing to obey God's will and those who are not—and He was forever seeking to shepherd the disobedient and willful people back into the family of God.

Therefore, it is our Christian duty to simplify and deepen our loyalty to Christ. It does not matter, I think, to God, whether we go to a Church that uses Holy Water, or to one that does not. He seems chiefly interested in the spirit of our living with other men; whether our energy is poured into sharp-barber prejudices and squabbles, or into the compassion that gathers people into loving friendship and understanding.

In a town in New England, on the Sunday evening before Christmas, they set up a great, single candle in the Square. They light that Christ-Candle, which stands for the One Christ they all follow, the One God they all worship. All the clergy of the town, Protestant and Roman Cathoic, gather on the platform and, one by one, they light their candles at the Christ-Candle. Then, leaning over the edge of the platform, they pass on the light to those who are nearest, and the light spreads across the thousands standing there under the Winter sky. No man cares which Church his neighbor belongs to, so long as he passes on the light. That Candle-Light Service draws them all together, as the Master has always desired—"How oft would I have gathered . . ."

Learn the gathering spirit!

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING—The Diocesan Presentation Service will be held Tuesday, November 15th, at 8 P.M. in Christ Church, 2nd Street above Market. Bishop Swift will receive the offering. Miss Frances M. Young, Executive Director of the Women's Work of the Executive Council of our Church will be the speaker. She will tell of her visits to far off places, where U.T.O. grants have been received. The Service will be preceded by dinner in the Neighborhood House, across the street from Christ Church. Please call the Church House for reservations before November 7th.

REMEMBER

The children of Israel had had forty tough years—years of war, hardship, and frequent disappointment. They had been searching for a Homeland, and were at last approaching it. Moses looked forward with confidence to the day when his people would be enjoying the Promised Land. But he was a wise leader who knew the shortness of men's memory. So he left them a command in the days of prosperity and peace: "And thou shalt remember all the ways in which the Lord thy God led thee."

When you sit down to Thanksgiving Dinner, with a beautifully browned turkey in front of you, and the happy faces around the table, then "thou shalt remember all the way the Lord thy God led thee." (Or you may be in a hospital bed, with a tray in front of you; Or overseas in an army camp—but wherever you are, you can remember!) Be sure that you remember the dark valleys He led your family through, what miracles He wrought in untangling the mess you had made of life. Remember the time when you thought you had come to the end of everything—and God made of it a new beginning. Remember the widening horizons—God leading our land out of the night-mare depression days, with their vanished bank-accounts and the terrible unemployment; out of war, its grief and its horrors.

In such wise remember there is quiet power, and every household needs such steady power in this atomic age, with all its unknown possibilities. Amid all the changes and chances of life, remember that there is One certainty, the love and the leading of God. Pause, therefore, before your fork spears the first bite of turkey, and, in the hush that follows, thank God for all His goodness in past years, and for the assurance of His continuing Light in the years to come.

But someone may be protesting that God does not let them see very far ahead. A visitor once came to Bunker Hill just outside Boston. The caretaker gave him a small lamp to light his way up the long spiral stairway. He looked up into the dark space ahead, and said, "This will not do. It doesn't light the way very far. See how dark it is up there!" And the caretaker smiled, and replied, "You're not up there yet. Why do you want it lighted until you get there? The lamp is bright enough on the step where you want to put your foot, isn't it?" And it was. So, on this Thanksgiving Day of 1966, you can be greatly thankful—Remember that God always gives us enough light to take the next step. For all the years of your life you can be sure that He will light the way for your next step!

Dear Dr. Price:—I am indeed happy to let you know my daughter is much improved. God has answered our prayers. For over 12 years she has been a victim of severe headaches which took their toll of her nerves and health. Like the woman in the Gospel she spent all on many physicians. Thank you again for the faithful ones in your Prayer Fellowship who held her up in prayer for so long—Mrs. Clyde Homer (Palmyra, N.J.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Clarksboro, N.J. Methodist Church on the evenings of November 20th, 21st, 22nd.

BREAD OF THE WORLD

The Thanksgiving Altar on November 24th will be decorated, not with flowers, but bread; breads of various national cultures represented in the Melting Pot of Philadelphia.

There will be Jewish Rye, Challa and Bagels; Russian Rye and Egg Rolls; Italian Grissini and Spoletti; Swedish Knackerbrod, Konimisbrod, Crisp, Schwarzbrot and Vollhornbrot; Danish Farm Bread and Pumpernickel; French Brioches, Croissants and Griettes; German Pumpernickel, Kutzelbrot, Raggenbrot, Hamberger, pein Brot and Weizenkeimbrot; Irish Soda Bread; Greek Frotozola; Norway Ideal Flat Bread and Crisp Bread; Baltic Rye, East German Stollen; Finland Crisp; Euphrates Bread from the Near East; Japanese Rice Biscuits; Chinese Fortune Cakes; Polish Potato Bread; American Wholewheat and Raisin Bread; English Allwheat Crispbread. Worshippers are urged to take a bit of bread home for their own family tables.

Our sincere thanks to these helpers in the United Thank Offering: Mr. Philip A. Arnold, Mrs. Fred J. Baehrle, Hazel L. Bainbridge, Gertrude Bergen, Mrs. Wilson C. Leithead, Marion Briscoe, Helen T. St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Preude: "Come Savior of the Gentiles, Come" (The Creator) .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord, I believe in Thee, help Thou my unbelief; I love Thee, though not with a perfect heart as I should; I long for Thee, yet not with my full strength; I trust in Thee, yet not with my whole mind. Accept my faith, my love, my longing to know and serve Thee, my trust in Thy power to keep me. What is cold do Thou kindle; what is lacking do Thou make up. I wait Thy blessing; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
The Introit
Processional Hymn 1 .....Stuttgart
The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal
Psalms 120 and 121, Page 502
The First Lesson: Isaiah, Chapter 55
Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal
The Second Lesson: St. Luke 1: V. 57
The Benedictus, Page 14; Chant #639, Hymnal
Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a guest,
Of so divine a guest unworthy though I be
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: "Sleepers, Wake!" .....J. S. Bach
Wake, awake, for night is flying: the watchmen on the heights are crying, Awake. Jerusalem, arise! Midnight's solemn hour is tolling, His chariot wheels are nearer rolling, He comes; prepare, ye virgins wise. Rise up, with willing feet go forth, the Bridegroom meet; Alleluia! Bear through the night your well-trimmed light, speed forth to join the marriage rite.
The Sermon: "FOR HE COMETH, FOR HE COMETH!" .....THE RECTOR
Offertory Hymn 439 .....Franconia
Doxology; Presentation of the Colors
Recesssional Hymn 5 .....St. Thomas

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Walter B. Walker in memory of her parents, Mr. & Mrs. Ignatius Michl.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—It meant a great deal to me to attend the healing service that you conducted here in St. Anne's Church. I just wanted you to know that my deep depression and anxiety neurosis of five years duration has been healed, and how very grateful I am to God and to you.
—Nancy D. Waters (Atlanta, Ga.)

Dr. H. Alexander Matthews, organist and choirmaster at St. Stephens for 16 years before his retiring in 1954, is to be honored by an evening of his music at First Baptist Church, 17th and Sansom Streets, November 30th, at 8:15 P.M. Robert Elmore will play organ numbers and the Philadelphia Chorale under the direction of Earl Ness will present Choral music by Dr. Matthews. This well known and beloved composer is expected to be present.

ADVENT

Martin Luther, like most men, had his weaknesses. For one, he had spells of black discouragement, of unrelieved gloom. No persuasion seemed strong enough to draw him out of the grim waters of his dispair. Once when he had been persistently pessimistic and irritable for weeks, Frau Luther is said to have dressed herself in mourning, and come into his study weeping bitterly. Her husband looked at her in amazement, half afraid that in his dark distraction he had overlooked a family tragedy. "What is the matter?" he asked sharply. His wife sobbed. "I thought God was dead, For weeks you have been running the universe alone, and trying to keep from us the news that God is gone." No doubt Luther wanted to shake his wife, but instead—as Margueritte Harmon Bro has pointed out—he shook himself, and climbed back to the heights of faith where he belonged.

This is "Advent", the Season when we think forward to the coming of God on earth, in the life of Jesus. (Someone has well said that God became "focussed" on earth in Jesus 'life.) It is the Season when we remember John the Baptist's Trumpet Call, "Prepare the way of the Lord." He was proclaiming, "You've been running your lives without God; and you've made a bad mess of it. Now God is coming—close to you. Get ready—prepare the way for Him to get into your life, and right in the center of it."

The Advent Trumpet Call comes, first of all, as a shock. For so many people—like John the Baptist's hearers—are living their lives with little thought of God: living as if they belonged to themselves, and had the right to do as they please. That is a dark sin, for it is "Playing God", acting as if one were "Boss" of one's own life. When we do that, our lives get badly fouled up, just as Martin Luther did; and we have to be sharply reminded that "He who is mightier" is on His way—God come to rule and direct our living.

But, down deep, Advent is glorious Good News—for the message is that the great and loving God is coming to our aid. God does not sit at home, waiting for us to find Him. Like the father of the Prodigal Son, as soon as we are really turned in His direction, He comes swiftly and lovingly to meet us. And then we can let go our loads for His strength to bear—and, if they are the right loads, burdens we bear for God's sake and the sake of other people, He will pour His strength into us so that they are no longer too heavy. He is coming to give Himself to us—"prepare ye the way of the Lord."

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, our U.T.O. Custodian, reports that the offering of the Women of St. Stephen's Church for the Fall In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering was $329.00, from 106 contributors. This is an increase of one hundred dollars over the Spring In-Gathering which was $229.11 from 75 contributors.

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

December 4th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come at. St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by Pledges the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work on the Church in 1967. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their Pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this Card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the Annual Re-Dedication and Pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Sleepers Wake! A Voice is Calling" ..... J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION: O God, we lift our eyes to wider horizons. We bring to Thee the weary, seeking rest; the troubled, seeking peace; and the sinner, seeking life. Remember in mercy those in whom the vision of the good life has faded. Renew their faith in Thee and in themselves. Give them a fresh heart for new days. Guide clumsy fingers so that from the common threads of everyday they shall weave tapestries of enduring loveliness. Beyond these broken prayers we bring the longings and aspirations too deep for words. Receive these unspoken yearnings. Give us quiet confidence. Bid our souls find security in Thee. We offer our prayer in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
The Introit
Processional Hymn 4 ..... Greenland
Response to Decalogue, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan
The Anthem: "O Come, O Immanuel" ..... Elmore

O Come, Immanuel, and ransom captive Israel, that mourns in lonely exile here until the Son of God appear. Rejoice, Immanuel shall come to thee. O Israel! O Come, Thou Wisdom from on high, and order all things far and nigh; to us all knowledge show and cause us in her ways ot go. Rejoice . . . O Come, Thou Day-Spring, come and cheer our spirits by Thine Advent here; Disperse the gloomy clouds of night, and death's dark shadows put to flight. Rejoice . . . O Come, Desire of nations, bind all peoples in one heart and mind; bid envy, strife and quarrels cease; fill the whole world with heaven's peace. Rejoice! Immanuel shall come to thee. O Israel. Amen.

YOUR GUEST-CHAMBER

Did you ever stop to think of the quiet, unseen preparation for the First Christmas in the mind and heart of Mary?

It may have been at the end of the day, when her work was done, and she was sitting, drousy and day-dreaming. That is the time of day when thoughts come knocking on the door of our minds; the time of day when it makes a great deal of difference which thoughts we admit. There came a shining Presence, so wondrous that forever afterwards she described it as an angel of God. She knew that God wanted something of her life. Something great was near to her. And her first thought was of unworthiness, her short-comings and sins. So she was fearful, and "troubled." It frightened her to think of God the Eternal having something to do with her. But her second thought was of courage and thankfulness—all her heart said "Yes" to God, and she learned that, through her, He planned to make Himself known to men. So she slammed the door of her mind shut in the face of fears, and opened it to the coming of God; and sang the song "My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord."

Brother Lawrence had the secret of it, too. "When he had failed in his duties, he simply confessed his fault, saying to God, "I shall never do otherwise if you leave me to my myself. 'Tis You who must hinder my falling, and mend what is amiss." After this he gave himself no further uneasiness about it." Fears found the door barred against them. God and His peace found the door flung wide open. So Brother Lawrence lived with a song on his lips, and a great peace in his heart.

As Christmas draws near, first ask God to forgive the sins you are aware of, and to show you the others—that you may find the cleansing of His forgiveness; and then set a vigilant watch at your mind's door. Confident in God's power, deny entrance to the old fears and worries. Gladly welcome every impulse of honest loving-kindness, every thought of compassion and loving service—that the guest-chamber of your inn may be free to welcome Him when Christmas comes.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Lexington, Kentucky, December 4th—6th, inclusive, Sunday evening through Tuesday, and will speak to the students in Asbury Theological Seminary, in Wilmore, Ky., on December 7th.

The Rector preached in the Gulph Congregational Christian Church on Sunday evening, November 27th.

ST. STEPHEN'S CONFIRMATION CANDIDATES will join with those of Christ Church, St. Luke and the Epiphany, St. John's, Northern Liberties, the Crucifixion, and St. John the Evangelist on Sunday, December 11th at 4 P.M. at Christ Church, Second Street above Market, when the officiating Bishop will be the Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu. Everyone is welcome and urged to attend this important service.

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

December 4th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come at. St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by Pledges the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work on the Church in 1967. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their Pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this Card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the Annual Re-Dedication and Pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHRISTMAS CARDS

Beautiful Christmas Cards of St. Stephen's Sanctuary of last Christmas, are available. The cost is $3.00 per box of 20 folders and envelopes.

1500 years ago a Church Council in Chalcedon (suburb of Constantinople) approved the very Creed we use today in St. Stephen's Church. The Heart of that Creed: Jesus Christ is both Man and God.

The profit from the 28th Annual Bazaar of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing was $2,447.91. The Rev. Mr. Meckling thanks all those who helped with their contributions.

We wish to thank these Bulletin Subscribers: Mrs. Diane Buckalew, Rev. Leroy W. Fischer, Mrs. Louis A. Meccariello, Mabel Meek, Mary Peoples, Mrs. Elvina Pierce, Mrs. Isabelle Roy, Mrs. Hannah B. Ulrich.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 143 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for my friend Mildred E. Thompson of Mountain Home, Arkansas. Have just received a letter from her telling me of what the doctors couldn't understand. She was in the hospital nine weeks with a broken back and had lost hope and was very despondent. She woke up one morning feeling fine, walked a few steps and went home feeling fine. She says it happened on the very day I wrote and told her about your prayers. Needless to say we are all most grateful to you, the Prayer Fellowship and to God for this wonderful blessing. —Esther H. Clauser (Reading, Penna.)

CLEARING THE AIR

When Charles Dickens sat down to write "The Christmas Carol", he had something important in his heart. He wanted to tell people what a difference Christmas can make to people if they will open their lives to the secret of Christmas. So he invented old Scrooge, the hard old money-bags whose one thought was to squeeze more cash out of life for himself; and who thought all Christmas loving-kindness and gayety was so much humbug. So the story begins, "It was cold, bleak, biting weather . . . the fog came pouring in at every chink and key hole." So the tale begins in a fog, because all men who grope and grasp for themselves, caring little for others, are stumbling through thick fog.

Then, through those dreams, old Scrooge begins to catch sight of the secret of Christmas made fresh in Jesus Christ, the secret of Christmas—that only good will and God-given loving-kindness can make sense out of life. That love made flesh in Jesus Christ can alone clear the air. Scrooge's blood is stirred with warmth for Tiny Tim and his happiness. And he wakes from the dreams, repenting for his stupid selfishness: "Running to the window he opened it, and put out his head. No fog, no mist—clear, bright, jovial cold—cold, piping for the blood to dance to . . ." "What's today?" cried Scrooge to a passing boy, "Today!" replied the boy—"Why, Christmas Day!" So the story draws to a close. He who catches the deep-down Christmas spirit, the spirit of the loving Christ, gets outs of the fog into the clear light of loving other people.

God sent Jesus among men, just because they were in a fog. The only way He could tell the story was in a life—in love lived so wondrously before the eyes of men that they would see, and never forget. It is good news that, when we let Him be born again in our hearts, we escape from the fog into the clear light of His loving ways. It is Good News that He Who is "called great" will enable us to escape our prison of self-love into the glad freedom of caring for others. It is Good News that love at work in your own Christmas preparations can clear the air for those around you, and give them new courage. Reba Stevens put it:

"Still Bethlehem, the Town, Lies where it lay long years ago,
Its olive orchids basking in the sun,
Its hill sides set with lilies red and white.
"Still brown-faced children play through crooked streets
And wander on the hills;
Still men sow seed and harvest grain; still women bake;
Still runs life's endless circle, round and round,
And common days are filled with common toil.
"But all the world goes the more bravely on its task,
Because once, long ago, a Little Child was born
In Bethlehem."

ST. STEPHEN'S FELLOWSHIP GROUP will have its 3rd meeting after service on Sunday, December 18th in the Community House. Coffee, or Wassail will be served with cupcakes. After short meeting the Story of Jesus will continue, from the Wise Men to John the Baptist. All are welcome.

ST. STEPHEN'S CONFIRMATION CANDIDATES will join with those of Christ Church, St. Luke and the Epiphany, St. John's, Northern Liberties, the Crucifixion, and St. John the Evangelist on Sunday, December 11th at 4 P.M. at Christ Church, Second Street above Market, when the officiating Bishop will be the Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu. Everyone is welcome and urged to attend this important service.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "In Dulce Jubilo" ..... Marcel Dupre
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, teach us Thy will for our lives. Help us to understand our place in the divine plan. Give us a deepened sense of personal responsibility. May we see that a task awaits our hands that no other can fulfill; that if we are silent, a chord in the music will fail. Grant, O Lord, that with renewed faith in Thee and fresh confidence in ourselves we may leave this sanctuary eager to do Thy will. We offer our prayer in Christ's name. Amen.

The First Lesson: Isaiah 52:1-10
Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal
The Second Lesson: St. Matthew 25:1-13
The Benedictus, Page 14, Chant #639
Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: "The Shepherd's Farewell to the Holy Family" ..... Berlioz

Thou must leave Thy lowly dwelling, the humble crib, the stable bare, Babe, all mortal babes excelling, content our earthly lot to share. Loving father, loving mother, shelter Thee with tender care! Blessed Jesus, we implore Thee with humble love and holy fear, in the land that lies before Thee, forget not us who linger here! May the shepherd's lowly calling ever to Thy heart be dear! Blest are ye beyond all measure, thou happy father, mother mild! Guard ye well your Heav'nly Treasurer, the Prince of Peace, the Holy Child! God go with you, God protect you, guide you safely through the wild!

The Sermon: "THE END OF THE WORLD" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 425 ..... Rochelle
Doxology, Presentation of the Colors
Recessional Hymn 440 ..... Watchman

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I am truly ashamed that I never wrote to tell you how the prayers of your group some two years ago had been answered for an infant, Amy Colgan, of Ellenburg, N.Y. The Lord certainly answered in her behalf, for the doctors said she would never walk, as she had no nerves in her feet. (She was born with an open spine). The doctors are amazed that her mind is all right, and she can walk. May God continue to hear and answer your prayers. —Ethel L. Wilson (Rouses Point, N.Y.)

GOD'S BEST RECORDING

The Coming of God into human flesh is an event, not merely an idea. It actually happened and the writer of the Epistle of John was able to say that they had heard Him, they had seen Him, had looked upon Him and had touched Him. They had had intimate fellowship with Him. Jesus was to them the manifestation of God. A little boy once put it this way: "Jesus is the best picture that God ever had took"! In these days of disc jockeys, we can say that Jesus is God's best recording. God actually came to earth and lived in the midst of mankind as a man in the person of Jesus. We call this the Incarnation.

But the Incarnation is not merely a one-time historical event. It is part of the very heart and nature of God. The God who lived in Jesus longs ever and always to dwell in and to be revealed in mankind. The Incarnation is something of repeatable nature. God would live in us today. We sing the Gloria Patri: "As it was . . . is now". God would repeat in us what He did in Jesus. Our lives may be far, far behind what His was, but the truth remains that the same God will by the miracle of re-birth enter into and live within us. This is His deep desire so to do.

This is implicit in Phillips Brooks' Carol:

O Holy Child of Bethlehem,
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin, and enter in,
Be born in us today.

We hear the Christmas angels
The great glad tidings tell;
O come to us, abide with us,
Our Lord Immanuel.

God's way of living on earth and walking the streets of our cities is through each of us. Through us He will enter our Churches and our Negro ghettos. It is through us that He will enter our politics and business, our communities and social gatherings. We recall St. Theresa's words, that God has no hands but ours with which to bless His world. By a simple but daring act of faith the least one of us can open his heart and claim the Presence of this Great God who longs to live in human lives. Each one of us can exclaim: "Joy To The World! Joy in my heart! The Lord has come; He lives in my life."

CONFIRMATION, DECEMBER 11th, 1966

The Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, D.D. administered the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation in Christ Church, Philadelphia, at 4 P.M. on December 11th. The following from St. Stephen's Church were confirmed:

Sandra D. Leopold
Muriel L. Wesley
Pamela K. Wesley
James A. Wesley
Glenn Wesley
Darlene E. Wesley

YOUR CHURCH ENVELOPES for the year 1967 will be ready for you today. They are arranged in alphabetical order on the table in the rear of the Church. We will appreciate it if you will pick up your box of envelopes so as to prevent damage if and when they have to go through the mail.

A PARABLE

Once upon a time a priest was riding a plane and a gentleman came and sat down beside him. Soon they were chatting away and the stranger said, "You know, I have great respect for religion. I am a scientist myself; in fact, an astronomer. Religion is a good thing to have, but I think it can all be summed up very neatly in the Golden Rule: 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you'."

The priest thought about this for a moment and finally said, "That is very interesting. Although I am a priest, I have always been interested in science, and particularly astronomy. I think the whole matter of astronomy can be summed up by 'Twinkle, twinkle, little Star . . .'."

REALITY AND THE CHRISTMAS STORY

Here is an item reported by the United Press International: "Maidstone, England, Dec. 10—The Rev. Donald Reeves, 29, curate of All Saints Anglican Church, said today he has written a "kitchen sink" Nativity Play in which a husband and wife fight and a juvenile delinquent almost stabs a man. "Traditional Nativity stories are old hat to me", he said. "My idea is to bring reality to the Christmas story."

Indeed! A brash young clergyman presumes to "bring reality to the Christmas story". I take it that he would have the wail of a siren on a police car speeding to pick up a juvenile delinquent overpower and make silent the beauty of Christmas carols. I assume that his "Nativity Play in which a husband and wife fight" would replace the scene before which the whole world stands in reverence, the lovely miracle of birth. Think of the things he would abolish—stars and songs, the mystery of night and the majesty of the human spirit, the laughter of children and the quiet hope of the aged.

Sir, I will not accept your "kitchen sink", nor will I allow you to tear from my heart the beauty and power of Christmas. You insist upon something you call "reality", and in doing this you have created instead a myth. Consider: there is ugliness in the world, but the world is not altogether ugly. There are shrieking sirens, but there are also lovely and stirring songs. There are those who fight, but there are also those who are patient and forgiving. There is hate, but there is also love.

It is a pity that at the age of 29 you feel compelled to admit that Christmas is "old hat to me." Though I am older than you are, it must seem clear to you that I am quite unsophisticated. I will tell you the truth. I need Christmas. There is much in the everyday world that speaks to the "kitchen sink" mind. As for me, I shall wait with great expectancy the words that give me the new life which I need, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will towards men." I hope that in these words you, too, may find some reality this Christmas!

Dear Dr. Price:—I am writing to thank you for the time you spent talking with my husband and me last month concerning Spiritual Healing. You have indeed helped us in our understanding of this ministry. And our thanks, too, to those who are involved in your chain of prayers for our little girl, Suzanne, aged 8. Suzanne has had chronic bladder trouble, many types of allergies and, of most concern to us, a tumor in her jaw, which, after two operations already, cannot be completely removed without destroying part of the jaw. We are very thankful to report that, since coming to your service there has been evidence of progress. We certainly give God the glory for His love, concern and healing power, and for the ministry of your Prayer Fellowship as channels of His blessing. The peace that He has imparted to us is certainly beyond human understanding.—Mrs. Warren H. Elliott (Fair Haven, N.J.)

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—A month ago while attending your healing service, I placed my brother's name to be prayed for. He has been in the Mental Hospital for the past 20 years. I went to see my brother on Sunday and the report I received from the nurse in charge was "I have found that I can get through to your brother. He understands and answers me." This is the first time this has happened in the 20 years he has been there. Another nurse who has been working with him for the past 5 years says that for the first time in a long time "he goes to the dining room and is able to feed himself." I have never given up hope of him coming out, and I do thank you for your help.—Ardella Fry (Philadelphia).

OUR CHANCE TO TRY AGAIN

Do you remember how penmanship was taught years ago in school—by means of a copy book? At the top of the page was a line of beautiful writing printed from a steel engraving. The rest of the page contained blank lines on which the pupil was to copy the sentence above. Here we looked at that top line and wondered how any person could ever have written so perfectly!

I remember one day busily copying this top line over and over. Slowly and carefully I labored. It was the best work I had ever done. I turned around to see the teacher slowly walking up and down the aisles examining the pupils' work. "How slowly she walks," I thought. It seemed that she would never come to my desk. I was so eager to show her this neatly finished page—I had really done very well, this time! A moment later, as I was writing on the next to the last line, suddenly in an up-stroke the pen caught in a rough spot in the paper and sprayed several blots of ink over the page. My work was ruined. I looked up and now the teacher seemed to be approaching my desk so rapidly. I leaned over my work, hoping to block her view of the "disaster." However, in a moment she arrived, looked at the spoiled page and then with a deep and understanding smile she reached down, took the page in her fingers and turned it over. "Here is a new page," she said, "Try again."

How like life this is! When our work seems good, how slowly the Master seems to reward! How often we blunder! Sometimes on our best days! Then how quickly God's eye is on us! But the God of judgement is also the God of Mercy and He reaches down to us in love and bids us take new heart. This is a New Year. Turn the new page. In fact each twenty-four hours is a new day and we all have our chance to try again.

Maturity in Christian living is not so much a high degree of perfection, as an increasing willingness and humility to keep beginning again, each time with a deeper trust in God and with firmer resolve in our hearts. Let this be our bulwark that "if God is for us, who can be against us?"

YOUR VICTORY NOTE

Early in the Old Testament and late in the New we read the refrain, "I will be your God and you shall be my people." Over and over, like the recurring theme of a symphony, the reassurance is declared. During the stories of the liberation from Egypt, in the Psalms, from the lips of the Prophets these words are repeated, "I am your God, you are my people." This is the Bible's Theme Song. It is God's covenant, the assurance of His great love and concern for man, and man's perennial response to God.

How many lives have been guided by noble themes! La Place, the great French mathematician, said, "I think God's thoughts after Him." David Livingston's basic faith was, "I will never leave you nor forsake you." On one occasion after his twenty-sixth attack of Malarial fever, he rose unsteadily from his bed and then dropped to his knees exclaiming, "My God, I know You are a Gentleman of honor and integrity. I'm depending on You, for You have said, 'I will never leave you.'"

In the Tale of Two Cities, Sydney Carton's theme song was "Greater love hath no man but this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." With these words singing in his heart, he went to the guillotine comforting a frightened girl and dying as a substitute for Darnell that he might live.

A noble theme will hold a symphony together, making possible its development and carrying us forward through its changing moods to a glorious climax. When a man lives with faith in a great theme, he steps in harmony with the distant music of heaven. The victory note of the early Church was "Jesus is Lord." St. Paul rang the changes on "I can do all things through Him who strengthens me." Let the Bible, or the words of the poet in hymn or Psalm, speak deeply to you this week. Let some noble thought or theme sing its way into your very soul.

Dear Dr. Price:—Just a week ago today, while I was supporting Shady Kabit while trying to teach him to float, he suddenly said, "Mrs. Weathers, I can move my legs." I observed a very faint type of bicycle movement, and I said, "O Shady, the Lord is healing you," and he calmly nodded his head. His family folks were incredulous. Saturday, it was much stronger and today he was able to bicycle in the shallow water, pushing his legs down until his feet brushed the bottom of the pool. I would like the prayers to continue for the next month for strength now in the muscles, knees and ankles. I still simply can't get over this miracle, but I feel ashamed to admit I still can't see how he can walk on those legs. I'm so glad many are praying.—Paula Weathers (Saudi Arabia)

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscriptions to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. We mail out at the present time about 696 every week. They go to individuals and families of people who live in 18 of our States, and a few to Canada. It goes not only to members, but also to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. Due to the necessity of mailing almost half of them each week by first class mail, the weekly cost figure is in the neighborhood of $70.00. Our receipts for the year 1966, reported by the parish treasurer, came to a total of $1,155.00 toward expenses of the Weekly Bulletin; about $234.65 more than last year's receipts; but about $900.00 less than total expenses.

If every family would give $2.50 per year, the cost would be met. Of course a great many on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so a generous check or two from those who are financially able to do so, will help cover for those unable to contribute toward this expense. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing and higher mailing cost make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY—1966 REPORT

During the calendar year 1966 we completed and returned 3,905 pieces of sewing to the JEFFERSON HOSPITAL. For the sewing of these pieces as disbursed $459.12, which includes carfare for the sewers. At Christmas each sewer received a box of candy and a gift from St. Stephen's Church, also a gift from the Benevolent Society.

—Anna W. Hauger, President

ST. STEPHEN'S FELLOWSHIP GROUP will have its 4th meeting after the service next Sunday, January 15th, in the Community House. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Price will continue her narrative of the Life of Christ, from John the Baptist on to the calling of the twelve.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: "Jesu, Priceless Treasure" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, have mercy on all ignorant souls, and instruct them; on all deluded minds, and enlighten them. Have mercy on all broken hearts, and heal them; all struggling with temptation, and rescue them; all that are fallen from Thee, and raise them; all that stand with Thee, and confirm them. O blessed Jesus, who didst shed Thy blood for us all, shed Thy Holy Spirit on all, and heal them; for Thy pity's sake. Amen.

GOD WORKS THROUGH YOU

My friend Jim (which is not his name) had been on Skid-Row for three years—in and out of jail, sometimes sober, often drunk. At last he was thoroughly sick of it. He went to Daddy Hall of Galilee Mission, a down-to-earth man of God who loved people. To this man he confessed that his life was out of control, and that he did not know the answer. Daddy Hall replied very simply, "The answer is God," My friend objected that God is invisible, that you can't see Him. Daddy Hall said, "God works through people."

Those four words got through the fog to where my friend lived. They began to make sense. He had seen God through Daddy Hall, this quiet, practical, greatly loving man who always had time for drunks and rift-raff. So that was what God is like—a patient Father who has time to listen to any beaten human being who truly wants to know His answer. You simply have to turn your life over to this Power greater than your own.

That was 18 years ago. Jim has come to know God, and to be His channel. He has found that God gives him difficult tasks to do, difficult people to love; and that He always gives a love and wisdom necessary. People begin to "see God" through transformed lives.

This is Epiphany—the Season of the Manifestation of God, God making Himself known visibly on earth. He made Himself known most clearly in the life of Jesus Christ. He makes Himself known today in the lives of those in whose hearts Jesus lives. God works through people.

There are a few people who may never see God, unless they see Him through you. That is a sobering thought. You may balk, but the fact remains that God may be depending on you. You will need to obey the new Commandment of Jesus, "That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another." A stiff assignment. Dare to tackle it, humbly, under God.

The glorious day will come when someone says, "I never knew what God is like until I caught a glimpse of Him through your friendship." God works through people.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—A month ago I attended your healing service and I am very thankful for improvement in the injured knee. At that time I also prayed for a friend who had Rocky Mountain Fever. Margo made a rapid recovery, and is now completely well. My mother's heart condition is much improved. Thank you, and God bless each one of your dedicated Prayer Fellowship. There have been many marvelous healings of friends for whom I have asked you to pray.—Mrs. Ruth Erickson (Wynnewood, Penna.)

MATTERS FINANCIAL

In these days of constantly rising prices it will not be a surprise to know that inflation has affected our parish as it has every individual home in it. We shall need an increase in operating expenses for the year 1967.

Although St. Stephen's has some endowment income, the legacy of the past, a much larger part of our total annual income (about two-thirds of it) comes from the generous pledges and other offerings of living parishioners and friends of the parish.

Nevertheless, it is impossible to reduce our expenditures without damaging our on-going program. The best we can do is to hold down expenses to an absolute minimum consistent with our mission in downtown Philadelphia.

I realize that there are many parishioners whose Church Pledge is already so large that a further increase is just out of the question. I urge such parishioners simply to hold the line and I thank the Lord for their generosity.

Others of us, including new members, may wish to consider or reconsider the suggestion which is based on the clear Biblical teaching that good stewardship demands of us the giving of a certain specific proportion of our income to God's work.

It is not always easy for a family or an individual accustomed to giving as little as 1% to move up immediately to 5% or the Biblical 10%. For most people, however, it should be possible in a given year to move up more gradually—say from 2% to 3%, or from 4% to 5%. If all parishioners are converted to this kind of thoughtful proportionate giving we should have no trouble reaching our goal for 1967. We ask for your prayers in this important matter.

ST. STEPHEN'S FELLOWSHIP GROUP will have its 4th meeting after the service this Sunday, January 15th, in the Community House. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Price will continue her narrative of the Life of Christ, from John the Baptist, on to the calling of the Twelve.

A raincoat has been hanging in the Community House, 2nd floor ever since the Fall Bazaar of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing. It is a dark brown, striped man's coat with a zip-out lining. The owner may have the coat by calling for it at the office.

The Prelude: "O God, Thou Faithful God" .....Karg-Elert

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Grant unto us, Almighty God, the peace that passeth understanding, that we, amid the storms and troubles of this life, may rest in Thee, knowing that all things are in Thee; not beneath Thine eye only, but under Thy care, governed by Thy will, guarded by Thy love, so that with a quiet heart we may see the storms of life, the cloud and the thick darkness, ever rejoicing to know that the darkness and the light are both alike to Thee. Guide, guard and govern us even to the end that none of us may fail to lay hold upon the immortal life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: Fairest Lord Jesus .....David McK. Williams

Fairest Lord Jesus, Ruler of all nature, O Thou of God and man the Son; Thee will I cherish, Thee will I honor, Thou, my soul's glory, joy and crown. Fair are the meadows, fairer still the woodlands, robed in the beauteous garb of Spring; Jesus is fairer, Jesus is purer, who makes the woeful heart to sing. Fair is the sunshine, fairer still the moonlight, and all the twinkling starry host; Jesus shines brighter, Jesus shines purer than all the angels heav'n can boast. Thee will I cherish, Thee will I honor, Thou, my soul's glory, joy and crown. Amen.

THE HARD THING

The great Commandment of Jesus was, "As I have loved you, that ye also love one another." One's first impulse is to protest, "but that's impossible—I can't love anyone with warmth, as God does." But Jesus never bids me to do what cannot be done. How, then, can I love as God loves?

In Elizabeth Goude's "The Scent of Water", cousin Mary gives us a clue. She is a choice, odd, lonely woman with a conflict in her heart— "A bad thing, fear and darkness pressing in, and there was the glad singing of love, the "Yes, I will" that is my song. I'd not known, before, that love is obedience. You want to love, and you can't, and you hate yourself because you can't, and all the time love is not some marvelous thing that you feel, but some hard thing that you do. And this in a way is easier because, with God's help you can command your will when you can't command your feelings."

"All the time love is not some marvelous thing that you feel, but some hard thing that you do." You can do the hard thing because God gives your will the strength to do it. When Cousin Mary's dark times came over her, she learned to accept them quietly, and then, through God's grace, to plant her steps firmly on the way of love which leads out to the light.

"Love is . . . some hard thing you do." It was a hard thing for Jesus to love exasperating Peter, or to wash the feet of His disciples who were too proud to wash each other's feet. Love, in Jesus, was more than sweet words. It was obeying God when He commanded hard things to do in love's name.

At the center of our lives there must be that "Yes, I will" answer ready for each command of God in a day of living; for the power-to-do comes with the obeying. "Yes, I will" when He rouses us out of a TV thriller, to make a needful telephone call; when He speaks through our cloud of self-pity to write that long-delayed letter; when He stirs us to rise out of weariness to take care of someone's need.

All God asks of us is the willingness to obey Him.—He gives the power to do the hard thing, always!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Your Healing Services have meant so much to me. The Lord has healed me at your Altar by the laying-on-of-hands, and I miss not being in Philadelphia. Thanks, also, for the faithfulness of those praying around the clock. The Lord hears and answers their prayers.—A. M. Seneca (Inverness, Florida)

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—Morning Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Andrew W. Mayer

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Our Father, Who Art In Heaven" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty God, Giver of every good and perfect gift; teach us to render unto Thee all that we have and all that we are, that we may praise Thee not with our lips only, but with our whole lives, turning the duties, the sorrows, and the joys of all our days into a living sacrifice unto Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Introit

Processional Hymn 308 .....Monkland

The Venite, page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

Psalm 71, Page 425

The First Lesson: Isaiah 30:8-21

Te Deum Laudamus, Page 10; Chants #613-617-613, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Matthew 24:23—Gospel for the day

Jubilate Deo, Page 15, Chant #646, Hymnal

Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: "In Faith I Calmly Rest" .....J. S. Bach

In faith I calmly rest, and put my trust in God, although sore oppressed with anxious care and dread; His friendship my reward, in Him my joy I find; He keepeth watch and ward o'er me and o'er my house. Therefore I thank my God, and joy to do His will; I know, whatever befall, His love doth lead me still. So, like a little child who clasps his Father's hand, serene I take my way, in faith untroubled stand. Great peace they surely have who in the Lord confide, who cast on Him all care, and in His love abide.

The Sermon: "HOW CAN THESE THINGS BE?"

IV—Saul (St. Paul): "Who Art Thou, Lord?" .....Rev. Andrew W. Mayer

Offertory Hymn 542 .....Duke Street

Doxology, Presentation of the Colors

Recessional Hymn 384 .....Regent Square

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by the Burd School in memory of Mrs. Eliza Howard Burd; and by Mrs. William Sockle in memory of her husband and her brother, William H. McDougal.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It gives me great pleasure to suggest that you remove my wife's name (Eva May Perry) from your prayer list. The ulcer, due to varicose veins, and sugar diabetes, started to heal right after I received your letter that prayers had been started. The doctor says it has completely healed. Prayer certainly produces results.—Harold Perry (West Springfield, Mass.)

CREATIVE LISTENING

Several years ago an unforgettable letter was published. It was written by a boy who was trying to tell his parents why he had run away from home:

"Dear folks: Thank you for everything, but I'm going to Chicago and try to start some kind of new life.

You ask me why I did those things and why I gave you so much trouble, and the answer is easy for me to give you, but I'm wondering if you will understand.

Remember when I was about six or seven and I used to want you to just listen to me? I remember all the nice things you gave me for Christmas and my birthday and I was real happy with the things for about a week at the time I got the things, but the rest of the time during the year I really didn't want presents. I just wanted all the time for you to LISTEN to me like I was somebody who feels things too, because I remember when I was young I felt things. But you said you were busy.

Mom, you are a wonderful cook, and you had everything so clean and you were tired so much from doing all those things that made you busy, but you know something, Mom, I would have liked crackers and peanut butter just as well—if you had only sat down with me a little while during the day and said to me, "Tell me all about it so I can maybe help you understand."

And when Donna came I couldn't understand why everyone made so much fuss because I didn't think it was my fault her hair is curly and her teeth so white, and she doesn't have to wear glasses with such thick lenses. Her grades were better, too, weren't they? . . .

I think that all the kids who are doing so many things that grown-ups are tearing their hair worrying about, are really looking for somebody that will have time to listen a few minutes and who really and truly will treat them as they would a grown-up who might be useful to them. You know—polite to them. If you folks had ever said to me: "Pardon me" when you interrupted me, I'd have dropped dead. If anybody asks where I am, tell them I have gone looking for somebody with some time because I've got a lot of things I want to talk about. Love to all."

Is there someone, very near to you, who is looking for somebody who has some time? If you found time to listen to what is in their heart, God's love might be manifested through you.

We want to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. J. C. Adams, Mr. & Mrs. Fred J. Baehrle, Mrs. Elwood Bevan, Helen Challenger, Will Coffee, Mrs. Elisa J. Durholz, Mary E. Duffy, Mrs. James Fentress, Mrs. George S. Foreman, Miriam Frederick, George Gibb, Ernest N. Gilbert, Mrs. Elva H. Hamilton, Jane R. Harper, Elsie Mae Harvey, E. Hawley, E. S. Heins, Mrs. Mary S. PRAYER EVANGELISTS

We now have 135 men and women in St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship. They are our Prayer Evangelists. They are committed to a Prayer activity which is a disciplined devotional work that goes on 'round the clock—24 hours of continuous prayers daily for persons in need of God's healing; body, mind and soul. Each person is thus lifted up in prayer 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks. Chronic cases are renewed for longer periods.

During the year 1966 sixteen thousand, six hundred and three persons requested our prayers; people from all over the world. We are grateful to these Intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Why do we pray for others if God is no "respecter of persons", and His Good Will toward all men is impartial? Because the degree to which His power enters a given life varies with the disposition of the person for it. Prayer is a principal means of opening one's self to the power and love of God that is already there—in the depths of reality. He is always ready to guide, to bless, to make whole, to enrich, to comfort and to heal; such barriers as there are to His coming in us are not in Him, but in each of us. "Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I shall come in. . . ."

In Intercession we help to release His power and grace into the lives of others. We do not beg and and beseech God to help and heal these needy persons, but pray that their capacity will be increased to receive God's healing, wisdom and guidance.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I should like you to know that I am now recovered from the high cholesterol, and my report from the laboratory shows a normal condition. Thank God! I shall never forget the wonderful inspiration I received when I visited your Church. —Betty Towler (Lakeland, Florida)

A MAN KNOWS AS MUCH AS HE DOES

A group of zealous, determined people were cross-examining my friend about her faith. They seemed sure that she had missed the "true faith", so they opened the Bible to the 7th Chapter of Revelation, and asked her, "Do you think that you are one of the hundred-and-forty-four thousand of the saved, named in verse 7?" "Oh, No," she answered, quietly. "Then where do you come in?" they persisted. Smiling, she replied, "I hope to be in the 'great multitude which no man could number' you'll find right in that same chapter." They ceased fire. They had met someone who knew her Bible.

St. Francis of Assisi was once thinking about "knowledge"—what do we mean when we say, "He knows the Bible"? What does it mean to "know"? St. Francis' answer was—"A MAN KNOWS AS MUCH AS HE DOES."

A woman can memorize a cook-book, but she does not know cooking until she can put an appetizing meal on the table day after day. The people who really know are the ones who can take ideas and do them. Gertrude knew, in her mind, the contents of the Bible. But she also had that deeper, truer knowledge—the Bible came alive in her living. She could meet the cross-examination of her faith, with a friendly smile and a mischievous, compassionate answer, so close to the Spirit of her Master.

This is one of the secrets of Jesus. When a lawyer questioned Him to see if He really knew religion, Jesus bade him to love God and his neighbor. When he asked, "Who is my neighbor?", the Nazarene did not give him a learned book-definition. He showed him how to be a neighbor. "A man knows as much as he does." A modern Christian has written a glorious book, "How To Be The Lord's Prayer."

Do you know your Bible? The simplest way to do so is to listen to what God is saying to you through each passage; and then go to work to live that truth. In a life-time of doing that, we can know the Bible as well as Gertrude does!

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH AND THE NEW YEAR

Here is where our humble adoration of Almighty God begins.

Here is where the care for others in mutual love is given and where our prayers to God are said.

Here is where we work and pray and give for the spread of God's Kingdom.

Here is where "the brother that hath" is privileged to give to "the brother that hath not," and where we take seriously our mutual responsibility.

Here is where our heartfelt gratitude for BELONGING to Him, to the company of His Saints, in heaven and on earth, for our untold blessings in this Parish, bursts forth into our generous response of prayer and praise and joyful service and generous and meaningful giving of our material resources. What matters who gets what we give, the poor and needy in our midst, a struggling church in our Diocese, a chaplain on some college campus, our brothers and sisters in some distant place, for all are one in Christ? We BELONG to one another.

Here is where we are transformed in 1967 and always to be His people in the world.

With almost all of '67 ahead of us—only one month past—this little meaty message seems worth our reading and digesting.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O Sacred Head Now Wounded" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Strengthen our hearts, O Lord, that we may rise to our full stature as Thy faithful sons and daughters. Make us brave. Give us courage—courage to think clearly about the meaning of life, even though understanding means bidding farewell to cherished illusions; courage to blaze the way for new truth, even though acceptance shatters the pleasant little world of make-believe; courage to love the right, even though that love means sacrifice and service and ceaseless longing; courage to fight the wrong, even though battle means wounds and weariness and heartaches. So fill us with Thy Spirit, O Lord, that we may be more than conquerors through Him who loved us and gave Himself for us; even Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

WASTED HIS SUBSTANCE

What does God say to you in the story of "The Prodigal Son"? Do you see a foolish young man who left home to throw away himself and his money on wine, women, and song? Do you sigh over his riotous living?

Dr. Ralph Sockman found this story speaking directly to him. He began to ask himself, "Are you the persons our youth gave promise of being?" He saw people frittering away their time and their talents on trifles. He suddenly saw himself doing these things himself, wasting his substance, not in riotous living but in careless, dwarfed, God-less living. So he came to himself and said, "I must take my place beside that Prodigal . . ." God was speaking clearly to him through that young man's story, showing that he himself had been in a far country, far away from God. Now, as he thought of the Prodigal, he said, "This is me."

Lent is now upon us, stirring in us a sense of something missing. Like the Prodigal, we find ourselves, "in want." Perhaps God is speaking to me through that story of wasted substance. Perhaps He is clearing away the fog, so I can look with honesty on that wasteful youngster, and say, "this is me." Is He saying that to you?

To me He is saying htat the point of the story is not the naughty wine, women, and song, but the wastage. "He WASTED his substance . . ." At evening we look back over the day, and what do we see—too much time pored into small activities that help no one; to much thought squandered on talk-talk-talk without purpose; too many golden hours wasted on an empty attempt to be entertained by the Sunday newspaper, or most of the TV shows. So we should go back and read Luke 15 again and we keep recognizing ourselves in the story—me, who wants to belong to myself and do what I please; me, who has a lot of time and energy to waste or use rewardingly, and who is spending it recklessly, and veryfoolishly. The Prodigal Son—this is me!

As Lent continues, how do you stand? Do you have plenty of courage to meet difficulties; plenty of love for those who need to be loved; plenty of faith to light the way through dark passages? Do you? Or, like the Prodigal Son, do you find yourself "in want"?

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print acounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:
—For two months your Prayer Felowship has been praying for my husband who had a small cancer growth. Yesterday the physician said the growth had disappeared and no further examinaiton is necessary. May the Lord continue to bless your work.

We extend a hearty welcome to Bishop Spaugh of Charlotte, North Carolina, who will be our Lenten Noonday Preacher February 13th through the 17th. His topics follow: Monday, 13th—HOW TO HAVE PEACE AND SECURITY. Tuesday, 14th—HOW TO HAVE PATIENCE AND UNDERSTANDING. Wednesday, 15th—HOW TO HAVE HEALTH AND STRENGTH. Thursday, 16th—HOW TO HAVE POWER AND INFLUENCE. Friday, 17th—HOW TO HAVE ADMIRATION AND LOVE.

Our Lenten Noonday Preacher on Saturday, February 18th is the Rev. Robert C. Hofmeister, C.S.S.S., Church of the Crucifixion, Phila., Pa.

COUNCIL OF CHURHES

The Annual Appeal for contributions to the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches is now at hand and a special envelope is enclosed herewith. The Council is responsible for a high degree of co-operative services and programs that no single Denomination or Church is able to perform. The Council includes five departments through which forty services and programs are managed. Many present services need to be extended, and other needs await further Christian co-operation. Your generous response is solicited.

Letters of appreciation have been received from All Saints' Hospital and Episcopal Hospital for St. Stephen's Thanksgiving Day Offering which amounted to $352.36. This was divided equally between these two fine hospitals.

The Hard of Hearing Bible Class has made an offering of twenty-five dollars to the support of St. Stephen's Church. Many thanks.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "When On The Cross The Savior Hung" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord God, out of the mystery we have come. Across this little landscape of our life we wend our way. We come to Thee in utter sincerity, as eager questing spirits, that in this holy hour some revelation may be given. Make radiant the darkness, kindle our hearts with a flame of love, send us forth into the future in confidence and hope; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ADVENTURE INTO GREATNESS

Sometimes we get trapped in smallness. We need to be stretched, to say "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills . . ." When you rest your eyes against such beauty-in-the-large, as a majestic mountain, you are stretched out of your littleness.

Lent can be an adventure into greatness. You might shift the pictures on your walls—set one picture where you will see it often: a live picture of Jesus or of some friend in whom you see Him most. You might get hold of the biography of someone in whom Jesus would live for you—Dwight L. Moody or Wilfred Grenfeld, or Abraham Lincoln or Dr. Tom Dooley,or "The Little Flowers of St. Francis." You could turn over to the Lord your talent for cooking, and each week in Lent, gladden some wheel-chair-prisoner with a loaf of special bread, or ease a many-children mother with several loaves of good every-day bread. You could lift your daily Quiet Time into greatness by using some top-flight day-by-day book like Oswald Chambers,' "My Utmost For His Highest," or one of Stanley Jones' rewarding volumes. You could do something that God suggests to you directly to bring you face-to-face with the greatness of His mercy and love.

It's easy to be trapped in smallness, and it's really tough for a human being to escape from it. On our own steam, it's just not possible. But turn it over to Him. Be willing to open the door toHis effective power. You will find that He can win the victory over smallness of mind and heart. It's exciting, then, to find His victory-in-you passing on into the lives of others, through His being alive and at work in you.

Dr. Sockman tells of a woman who came to her doctor, on the verge of a nervous breakdown. Her family cares had frayed her nerves until she saw mole hills as mountains. His prescription for her was, "Go away and see something big." She could have stood by Niagara Falls or the Grand Canyon; or slipped away to the country and gone out at night to stand under the mighty, star-studded arch of heaven. Her recovrey depended on the enlarging of her spirit.

The Pastor will conduct a Mission of Christion Healing in the Marshall Memorial Methodist Church, Woodlynne, New Jersey on the evening of February 19, 20, 21.

ST. STEPHEN'S FELLOWSHIP GROUP will have its 5th meeting after service on February 19th in the Community House. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Price will continue her narrative of the Life of Christ, from the First Miracle through the visit of Nicodemus.

We welcome to St. Stephen's Church as the Lenten Noonday preacher, Monday through Friday, th Rev. Robert C. Batchelder, Rector of the historic Church of St. James, Lancaster, Penna.

A hearty welcome to the Rev. Matthew W. Davis, Rector of St. Andrew and St. Monica Church, Philadelphia, who will be our Saturday preacher.

LENTEN PRESCRIPTION

1. One quota of pure resolve to take time to think of God's Presence and Purpose in your life.
2. One maximum endeavor to attack your "pet failing."
3. One weekly (not weakly) promise to go to Church.
4. Forty daily self-assssements toward an Easter Offering, to show that you care.
5. Six additional hours of helpful service.
6. One serious, constructive book on matters spiritual.
7. The reading of the Forward Day By Day.
8. A glad anticipation that Easter shall not be a mere date on the calendar, nor a mere mob-mindedness custom, but a time of Christened risen Life within you.

—Mix together and take a heartful every morning.

DISCIPLINED LIVES

In Lent we need to face the towering fact that God runs the universe. Therefore, the only sensible way to live is to obey His laws. Nothing else makes much sense. Our lives have to be under the discipline of God's laws.

The Mutineers of H.M.S. Bounty discovered this. They came ashore on tropical islands that seemed like Paradise—no officers to command them, no rules to obey. They could do as they wanted to. But Norman Elliott points out, "as time went by they discovered something they had not bargained for. Family relationships were impossible. What anyone wanted, he took, if he had the will or the strength to do so. No one's wife or mate was safe. No husband could be trusted. Property was for the asking, or rathar for the taking . . . Before long, fear ruled the island; fear, not only of others, but of one's self. No one could be trusted . . . What they had thought of as heaven on earth became hell on earth.

"Then, it is said, someone remembered that they had had a Bible on the ship. They went back and found it. They read it greedily in order to learn how to live, in order to find security, in order ot know the rules, and the God of the rules. Trust once more became possible, and with it a return to mental, emotional and physical balance."

A Roman army officer once asked Jesus to heal his servant. When Jesus offered to go to the officer's home, he said that this would not be necessary, for Jesus could just "say the word." He explained, "For I also am a man under authority . . ." He knew that power flows through disciplined people—in the army, and in God's world. He and Jesus understood each other because they both obeyed the power that was over them. Both lived disciplined lives.

"Since it is God who created life, it is clear that it is from the Bible that we may most surely learn its laws," writes Dr. Paul Tournier. I've never known anyone who put himself honestly under God's authority, who was disappointed with the outcome. Under God's commanding, one begins to grow—like the garden tended by a man who knows nature's laws. Under God's commanding, one keeps on growing—making new discoveries, falling flat and getting up in His direction, finding that true obedience leads always to God's victory.

This is something that only God and you workout.Let Him bring your life under His command this Lent, quickly responsive to His whispered bidding. There will be one special area within you that He will want brought under His authority at last. Let Him work at it steadily with you. Then greet Easter with the joy of one who has a new freedom to obey his Lord!

THE PRICE LECTURESHIP

The Rector has been honored by a Special Lectureship in his name on the Church's Ministry of Healing provided by the generous funds of Mrs. Andrew J. Phillips of Olympia, Washington, given to the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, California. The Rector will give the first Annual Series of Lectures May 8th, 9th and 10th. This is one of the great milestones in his 37 years' experience in this important ministry. The future leaders of the Church from one of our outstanding Theological Schools will thus be given an insight into this neglected subject.

The Rector presented for Confirmation in Holy Trinity Church on February 19th at 4:00 P.M. Miss Dorothy J. Chew and Mrs. Myrtle M. Fink. We are happy to have them as communicant members of St. Stephen's Church.

Miss Ann Snow reports that our Church Periodical Club gave an Interpreter Bible and four subscriptions to "sharing" Magazine to Missionaries in the field this past year.

We are privileged to have as our guest preacher Monday through Friday, at 12:30 P.M., the Rt. Rev. William Crittendon, D.D., Bishop of Erie. The Saturday guest preacher this week will be the Rev. Robert D. Keel, Rector of St. John's Church, Cynwyd.

The Rector will preach at the Sarthmore Methodist Church on Sunday, February 26th at 5 P.M.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: "Christ Lay in the Bonds of Death" ..... J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, not only at the Easter season, but every day, may our hearts be bright with the undimmed light that shines through the centuries from the open tomb, out of which the Master came forth in newness of life. Let no redeemed child of God live in darkness, or gloom, or sin; but may all who are called by Thy names, keep themselves in the glorious light of Thy love, for Jesus' sake. Amen.
The Processional Hymn 85 ..... Easter Hymn
The Hallejujah Chorus (The Messiah) ..... Handel
The Kyrie, Hymnal #709
The Anthem: "The Trumpet Shall Sound" (The Messiah) ..... Handel
The trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible; . . . and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption; and this mortal must put on immortality.
The Sermon: "THE RESURRECTION" ..... The Rector
The Offertory Hymn 91 ..... Victory
The Sanctus, the Hymnal #711 ..... Willan
The Kneeling Hymn 89 ..... Salzburg
The Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scottish Chant
The Recessional Hymn 94 ..... St. Kevin

The Easter decorations are provided by special funds set aside for the purpose: Flowers on the East window are in memory of the Magee Family; flowers on the Atmore Window are in memory of Craig Atmore.
Flowers on the Altar on Maundy Thursday were given in memory of James Carrigan, for many years Verger of St. Stephen's.

Dear Dr. Price:—
My son, Joseph, has been on your Prayer List for the past two months. He has undergone brain surgery for a suspected tumor. No tumor was found and a recent electroencephalogram test shows that he is normal. Thank all the good people who prayed for him. —Mrs. Joseph Nave (Philadelphia)

More than ever St. Stephen's Church needs your generous Offering, to maintain our work and to support the work of Christ beyond the parish. More than ever all of us need to learn the joy of giving! Easter Offering envelope is enclosed.

THE MIRACLE OF EASTER

The First Easter was breath-taking in its shock of joy. Death had come to Jesus, yet there He was before their eyes, alive! Doubting Thomas would not believe the great news until he had seen for himself.

They had been drawn to Jesus because He was so alive with love, and understanding, and joy. Wherever He went, the grass became greener. Men blinked their eyes, and came awake. He came where there was deathly illness—and the sick man's pulse quickened into health. He came where men were caught in the treadmill of hard, plodding work—and He led them into adventure. He came where men's sins had the upped hand—and brought them a power mightier than sin, a power for freedom! He came where hope had died—and led them into sunrise Wherever He came, and men accepted Him, they came to life.

So, after that Day of Days, they remembered His saying, "I am the Resurrection, and the Life"; or, in a better translation, "I am the Resurrection, and I am Life." He Himself was Life. Wherever He was welcome, there was awakening into aliveness.

This Easter Miracle began to take place in them. Peter, once frightened by the questions of a servant-girl, stood fearless before the authorities. Stephen, appointed to a humble task, died loving his murderers as Jesus had loved His. Wherever one of them let His deathless and loving Spirit dwell in his heart, life became radiant. Daily they were discovering that He is Life.

Death is still a mystery. Jesus gave no blue-print of the life beyond this one. It is here, on this earth that we are to learn that in Him is true aliveness. When we accept within ourselves His Living Presence as our Guide, we are able to make the right choice at each fork in the road. His quiet whisper, within, indicates which is His road. So there comes a new song in our hearts—joy as we live in Him who is stronger than death.

Once we know that death has bowed to Him, we can trust our loved ones to His care. We know that they are safe with Him. We have found, ourselves, here and now, the deep security of His care. As long as we have put our lives into His hands to guide, the road has been glorious with His victories, full of tough and memorable adventure. On this Easter Day, we hear Him assuring us, "I am the Resurrection, and I am Life." And our hearts respond, "Thank You, Lord—we know it!"

TO KEEP IN MIND—ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The Annual Congregtional Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 2nd, 1967 at 12:30 P.M., after the morning service.

"Members of the Corporation who shall be qualified to vote at any election for Vestrymen and upon all questions which may come before the Meeting; shall be all Lay, Baptised, Confirmed persons of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have been worshippers in this Church as their usual place of worship for at least one year, and who shall appear by the books of the Corporation to have contributed towards the current expenses of the Corporation during each of the two successive years immediately preceding such election or meeting, not less than five dollars ($5.00).

Twelve Vestrymen will be elected at this meeting to serve for a term of one year.

Mrs. Keller, and her helpers will serve a hot luncheon, and they will appreciate it if you will contact the office to say you expect to partake of the luncheon.

THE RECTOR'S TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

On March 15th the Rector of St. Stephen's Church completed twenty-five years of service. Nothing I have done in my life has given me greater joy than the time in serving God in your fellowship. All these years have passed as a watch in the night, because of the joy they have brought.

I should be blind and ungrateful indeed if, in addition to thanking God for all His mercies, I did not also recognize the great part your generosity, your friendship, and your love has played in the making possible such years of contentment. The outside world is apt to judge a parish by its Rector; if it is successful they give him the credit, if it is weak they blame him. But you and I know that the Rector is just one person among many. The Rector is not the parish, you are. For these good years we have had together you are responsible.

We have been through some strenuous times together in St. Stephen's Church, but only the irresponsible could escape obligations and tension. In the ultimate analysis what is most important is that God affords us an opportunity for challenge and service to Him and our fellow man.

It seems fitting that we should express our gratitude in a Parish Celebration of the Holy Communion or, as it is also aptly called, the Holy Eucharist or Thanksgiving on Sunday, April 2nd at 11 O'clock. Following the service we shall have our Annual Parish Meeting. This consists of a short business meeting to elect the Vestrymen for the ensuing year. A light luncheon will be served and an opportunity for fellowship will follow.

O'er all the way green palms and blossoms gay are strewn this day, in festal preparation. Where Jesus comes to wipe our tears away; e'en now the throng to welcome Him prepare. His word goes forth, and people by its might once more regain freedom from degradation. Humanity doth give to each his right, while those in darkness find restored the Light. Sing and rejoice, O blest Jerusalem, of all thy sons sing the emancipation. Through boundless love, the Christ of Bethlehem brings faith and hope to thee forevermore. Join all and sing, His name declare. Let every voice resound with acclamation. Hosanna, praise to the Lord! Bless Him who cometh to bring us salvation.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print acounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—

I thank God every day for the miracle healing of a badly blocked heart valve, greatly enlarged heart, with constant pain and discomfort. The healing was instantaneous and occurred at one of your healing services here at St. Luke's Church last January. The condition had grown progressively worse for years, but has not returned since that wonderful healing. I was very weak and asked for the prayers of your Fellowship for about two months. This was granted and my strength gradually returned to normal. I am indeed grateful and my faith in the power of prayer is stronger than ever.

—Marian S. van den Berg (Birmingham, Alabama)

SAY "YES"

Dag Hammarskjold, the heroic United Nations Secretary-General, once wrote, "But at some moment I did answer "Yes" to Someone—or Something—and from that hour I was certain that existence is meaningful and that, therefore, my life, in self-surrender, had a goal."

Jesus had been learning to say "Yes" to His Father ever since He had been a boy tackling His Father's business; cleansing Himself for that business, in the wilderness; accepting God's mission, at His baptism—saying "Yes" again and again, even when it took an agonizing struggle.

Now, on Palm Sunday, He rode into Jerusalem where His enemies waited for Him. He rode as "One under authority," as a soldier obeying His Captain, no matter how grim the prospect. He sweated it through to "Yes" in the dark Garden of Gethsemane. He managed to say "Yes" on the Cross. Soldier-like, He obeyed, even when He did not understand why. His life did not belong to Himself—He had turned it over to God and God's commanding. So God was able to depend on Jesus' "Yes" to rescue the world from its sin.

Michael Quoist, in his "Prayers," speaks for each of us—"I'm afraid of saying "Yes," Lord. Where will You take me? . . . I'm afraid of signing my name to an unread agreement . . . Oh Great and Terrible God, what more do You want?" Quoist shows that God wants of each one of us what He wanted of Jesus—our share in God's saving the world from its sin. God speaks (to you, to me!):

Son, I want more for you and for the world.
Until now you have planned your actions, . . .
You have asked for My approval, you have asked for My support;
You have wanted to interest Me in your work,
But don't you see, Son that you were reversing the roles? . . .
You will no longer do your own works, but the will of your Father in heaven.
"Say 'Yes,' Son.
I need your "Yes" as I needed Mary's "Yes" to come to earth.
It is I who must live in your family,
For it is I who must do your work,
It is I who must be in your neighborhood, and not you . . .
I need your "yes" to continue saving the world!"

ST. STEPHEN'S FELLOWSHIP GROUP will have its 6th meeting after the 11 O'Clock service on March 19th, in the Community House. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Price will continue her narrative of the Life of Christ.

SERVICES IN HOLY WEEK—Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday: Usual Lenten Noonday services. The Rev. Canon Richard Lief, D.D., Pasadena, California, will be the preacher. The Holy Communion will be celebrated Wednesday at 5:30 P.M.; on Maunday Thursday at 1:00, 5:15 and 8 P.M. Special Music by the choir and Sermon by the Rector at the evening service. Red carnations given to all the women who attend this service.

HEALING SERVICES at 1:15 and 5:30 P.M. on Thursday.

GOOD FRIDAY

Meditations on the Cross by Canon Lief, 12:30—2:00 P.M.
2:00—3:00 P.M.—"The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Theodore Dubois: Solo Quartet, Chorus Choir; Harp; Tymapni, Organ.
SATURDAY, March 25th: 12:30 P.M.—Noonday service, the Rev. Alfred W. Price, D.D. Rector is the preacher.

RE-UNION OF CONFIRMATION CLASSES:—Those who have been presented for Confirmation by the Rector of St. Stephen's Church are being asked to meet with their Confirmation Classes at the Maundy Thursday service at 8 P.M.

TO KEEP IN MIND—ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The Annual Congregtional Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 2nd, 1967 at 12:30 P.M., after the morning service.

"Members of the Corporation who shall be qualified to vote at any election for Vestrymen and upon all questions which may come before the Meeting; shall be all Lay, Baptised, Confirmed persons of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have been worshippers in this Church as their usual place of worship for at least one year, and who shall appear by the books of the Corporation to have contributed towards the current expenses of the Corporation during each of the two successive years immediately preceding such election or meeting, not less than five dollars ($5.00).

Twelve Vestrymen will be elected at this meeting to serve for a term of one year.

ASBURY SEMINARY SINGERS: We're to have the privilege of hearing these singers from the Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Kentucky on Monday Noon, March 20th. They will sing both before and after the Lenten Noonday Service: 12:15—12:30 P.M. and 1:00—1:15 P.M.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: "Passion Chorale" .....Langlais

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal God, we pray Thee for our country. Grant us to see it, not through our own, but through Thine eyes. Keep us ever mindful that Thou art the Father of all mankind, that Thou dost entertain no favorites, but dost love all nations, kindreds, and peoples. Forgive us the sins that have brought us to this hour. Purge us of our stubborn pride, and write the law of Thy will in our hearts with the finger of understanding love. Let there be within us compassion for the suffering of all men; in the Spirit of Christ we pray. Amen.

DIE TO SELF

One day, during the sunlit days of His ministry in Galilee, Jesus explained to His disciples that "He must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things, . . . and be killed." Peter protested, and Jesus replied, sternly, "Get thee behind me, satan." Why so stern? Perhaps because it was very hard for Jesus to turn from Galilee toward Jerusalem. Pehaps because He had to let go something He wanted to keep awhile—His adventure for God on earth, among the people He loved.

We all know that Jesus came to teach us how to live. But do we also know that He came to teach us how to die? He had loved the happy, exciting Galileean days—the crowds responding, the disciples beginning to catch-on. And now God was bidding Him to walk straight into the death-trap set for Him in Jerusalem. He must "die" to the joyful Galileean days. So, over the protest of Peter, He let go. He "died" to Galilee.

He explained, "A man who tries to save his life shall lose it; it is the man who loses his life for My sake that will secure it." This puzzles us—that the road to life is through death; that we must die in order to live. It doesn't sound ilke common sense, and it isn't—it is uncommon sense, holy wisdom! Dying leads to life.

Our teen-age years are full of tumult and pain. At one moment the maturing person passionately wants to be an adult; at another, he wants to be back at his mother's knee. He has to "die" to childish living—be willing to let go a child's protection. Some people never let go of their childhood days, and so live unhappily, as children who don't get what they want, who are willing to "die" to kindegarten living. But those who have the courage to turn from this being-taken-care-of to taking care of others find the stern choice leading them to high adventure. We simply have to "die to self." "A grain of wheat must fall into the ground and die, or else it remains nothing more than a grain of wheat; but if it dies, then it yields rich fruit."

Jesus demonstrated that the way to life passes through death. What is there, right now, that you need to "die too," so that you can push aside what bars your way into new life? It takes quiet, honest prayer, and real courage, to let God shed His light on what must be discarded. That s what Lent is for—to follow Jesus' way, let go the Galileen joys, or the hampering sin, and stride toward death into a new adventure of living.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —I am glad to report that Weldon Bellville's heart returned to normal quite quickly. Thank you for the prayers of your fellowship in his behalf. There is no doubt their intercessions accounted for his recovery.

—Meriane Bellville (Amsterdam, Holland)

We are privileged to have as our guest preacher Monday through Friday at 12:30 P.M., the Rev. Chester A. Porteus, Rector of Christ Church, Quincy, Massachusetts. The Saturday preacher will be the Chaplains of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the Rev. Otho Hoofnagle.

The Rector will preach in St. Gabriel's Church, Hollis, Long Island, Wednesday night, March 15th.

On Monday, Noon, March 20th, The Seminary Singers of Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Kentucky, will give a Sacred Concert in St. Stephen's Church, before and after the Noonday service. (12:15 - 12:30, and 1:00 - 1:15).

THE BIG SIDE TRIP: LSD and marijuana are not medically classed in the same way as heroin. Heroin is extremely habit-forming. But narcotics and LSD all serve the purpose of making you feel like things are not what they seem. While many LSD users claim that the drug heightens creative powers, it seems more likely that it only obscures real limitations rather than transcending them. This perhaps is the greatest evil—that by thinking they have power and ability that does not exist, by taking this quick, thrilling trip to what feels everything, the drug takers may miss completely the real knowledge of themselves, the one way that can lift them beyond the limitations that bind. —Charlotte Meredith (United Evangelical Action, Aug. '66)

WHAT COMES FIRST?

"Think of it—nine ungrateful lepers, and only one was grateful!" So we are apt to comment.

Albert Schweitzer, in his "Memories of Childhood and Youth," tells how, many times he stood by an open grave and there quietly said to himself the grateful words his lips should have spoken to the departed while he was still in the flesh. It wasn't because he lacked gratitude, but that he valued too low the pleasure felt at receiving real proofs of gratitude. If he had thought how much it meant to be thanked warmly for a deed of kindness, he might have overcome his shyness.

Schweitzer believed that "all ten lepers were grateful, but nine of them hurried home first, so as to greet their friends and attend to their business as soon as possible, intending to go to Jesus soon afterward and thank him. But things turned out otherwise; they were kept at home longer than they meant to be, and in the meantime Jesus was put to death."

The heart of this story is, "What Comes First?" That is a question to keep at the center of Lent. It is the most urgent matter, the life-giving action that must come now, before anything else. With God's help, we must see what is really urgent, and do it immediately, before "starting home"—taking care of our own concerns.

How many golden chances we miss, because we get involved in small matters first. How many life-giving words of love we never speak because we get diverted by some twittering distraction, and we do not open our lips now. One of the great words in the New Testament is "straightway"—"Straightway they left their nets and followed Him"; And straightway one of them ran and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar . . . and gave Him to drink," had they not acted straightway, the chance would have gone by forever, to follow in the steps of Jesus, to refresh His parched lips as He was dying on the Cross.

Often this week you will stand at a point where you must choose between several possible actions. At that point you can ask God, "Which comes first? Which, to You, is the most important to do?" God will pour His light unto what must be done straightway. If you are open to Him, and willing, He will also give you the strength to do it.

What a difference this will make to others! The grateful leper did this—"He sought out the person who had helped him, and refreshed His soul with the assurance of his gratitude."

We want to thank these Bulletin subscribers; Mrs. George Barrett, Mrs. George Bishop, Mrs. Walter Boon, Mrs. Marie P. Berger, Helen T. Bradley, Diane Buckalew, Elmer S. Carll, Evelyn Clark, Mrs. Holly Coors, Dorothy Coyle, Mildred C. Faris, Sallie Elsie Gehring, Mrs. Muriel B. Griner, Edith Hanson, Elizabeth L. Hiergesell, Marie Hobson, Edna C. A LITTLE PRAYER

Short Enough To Memorize:

"Every day and every hour, Father
I breathe in Thy lifegiving Power.
Power to be well
Power to be pure
Power to love
And Power to endure."

Stick this in your vest pocket, your handbag, or billfold, your dresser or the corner of your desk drawer, until you know it by heart. Use it before every important occasion or anything that puts you on your mettle—say this Little Prayer, FIRST—It takes only ¼ minute, BUT IT HELPS!

We extend a hearthy welcome to the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, D.D., Rector of Christ Church and St. Michael's, Germantown, who will be our guest preacher Monday through Saturday, at 12:30 P.M. For many years Dr. Aulenbach has come to us during the fourth week of Lent and his many friends will be happy to welcome him, and we trust many new friends will be on hand to hear his inspiring messages.

The Rector will be in Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh for his 22nd year of Noonday preaching, March 6th-10th, inclusive.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr.Price:—

A month ago I beseeched you to pray for my daughter who is an alcoholic. She is now much improved. My heart is so full of gratitude to all of you. She means so much to her fine family of children. I feel certain God will keep her in control.

—H. W. B. (Riverton, N. J.)

YE SHALL RECEIVE POWER

One day I was watching a small child dialing a telephone call. She was absorbed in doing it correctly. You could see uncertainty and eagerness, all mixed in together. Then came the answering voice of her friend. She had gotten through! With a look of happy relief, she settled down to talk.

There is nothing more exciting than a new power—especially if it is a power of communicating with others. The Day of Pentecost marks such a moment in the Early Church. Suddenly the Christian people found that they could communicate freely with each other and with "foreigners." They could get through to people who spoke other languages.

Few skills are more important than the ability to communicate. It may be a plain matter—learning to dial, or arranging where and when you are going to meet a friend. It may be a more difficult message—like convincing a resentful person that you really love him. It may be a matter of life or death—transmitting to a very sick person the confidence that they can recover their strength in God's strength.

Christians have always had a reputation for communication—of being able to share with another some wondrous secret of life, or simply sharing a warm and saving love. Jesus had promised His followers: "Ye shall receive." He bade them wait patiently at Jerusalem until this new power was given them. Then, on a memorable Day of Pentecost it was given. No wonder they were excited.

The "power" was called "The Holy Spirit"—it was the living, loving, understanding Spirit of Jesus Christ, alive and effective in them. It was something much more than an idea. It was God Himself, living within the mind and heart of a human being. When you have welcomed Him within you as Lord and King, then He is able to work in you, and through you, and love others into newness, through you. You find yourself "reaching" others, able to warm them into new courage.

This is a costly gift, not easily gained. You can have it only through obedience, through willingness to let God have His way in your life. But the cost seems small, once you fnd that new and glorious power. His Spirit in you can channel God's great treasures of strength, and gladness, and peace to others. The Lord may be saying to you, this minute, "Ye shall receive power!"

St. Stephen's Church has been named a residuary beneficiary in the Will of Mrs. Ethel Mae Stackhouse of St. Petersburg, Florida. Mrs. Stackhouse has been a valued member of St. Stephen's Church for many years. We are grateful for her generous remembrance for the work of the Church she loved.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Brooklyn, N.Y. Sunday night through Tuesday. Noonday services will be held in Holy Trinity Church, and evening services in St. Paul's Church and All Saints' Church.

— A WORD OF GRATITUDE —

The Committee under the leadership of Mr. David L. German, responsible for the Anniversary Fund, presented to the Rector and his wife, wishes to express their gratitude to the two hundred people who shared in this gift.

THE WOMEN OF ST. STEPHEN'S will have their final meeting of the Season on Thursday, May 18th at 10:30 A.M. in the Community House. A film on Missions in Laos will be shown, and a special luncheon will be served afterwards. All are welcome.

The Diocesan U.T.O. Spring In-Gathering Service will be held on Wednesday, May 17th, at the Valley Forge Military Academy, Wayne, at 10:30 A.M. Luncheon will follow.

After the morning service on Sunday, May 14th, the Women of St. Stephen's and the Feliowship Group will have their Spring Get-Together at the Chinese Christian Church, on 10th Street, where part of the Noontime Service will be heard. After inspection of the Church, they will partake of a meal at the Dancing Fan Restaurant on 10th Street. All are welcome.

Scout—James R. Dixon, a member of our St. Stephen's Boy Scout Troop, #2, will attend the first World Jamboree to be held in our Nation, at Farragut State Park, Idaho, on August 1st - 10th, 1967.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Trumpet Tune".....John Stanley

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Gracious Father, we thank Thee for happy recollections of our childhood: for affectionate parents whose care covered our thoughtless years, for the exciting world which we surveyed with open-eyed wonder, for playmates whose companionship increased our joys, for generous friends whose love was a quiet sanctuary in days of trouble and for understanding teachers who lured us on to richer experiences by holding before us visions of life's splendid possibilities. Grant, O Father, that the remembrance of our own childhood may make us better able to serve the welfare of the children Thou hast committed to our care. May we welcome their eagerness with joy, meet their impatience with understanding, and bring wise counsel to bear on their problems; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Introit

The Processional Hymn 352.....Diademata

The Response to the Decalogue #708, Hymnal.....Willan

The Anthem: "Unfold, Ye Potrals".....Gounod

Unfold, ye portals everlasting, with welcome to receive Him ascending on high! Behold the King of Glory! He mounts up through the sky, back to the heavenly mansions hasting. Unfold, for Lo, the King comes nigh. But who is He, the King of Glory? He who death overcame, the Lord in battle mighty. . . . Of hosts He is the Lord; of angels and of powers: the King of Glory is the King of the saints.

The Sermon: "ASCENSION".....The Rector

The Offering Hymn 455 .....St. Peter

The Sanctus, Hymnal #771 .....Willan

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—

My friend, E. M. Walsh, who visited your healing service with me a year ago is cured of his arthritis. He had been troubled two years with it; had medical attention; so we all can credit his complete recovery to spiritual healing.

—John M. Whiting, (New York City)

The Rector will give a series of lectures on the Church's Ministry of Healing at the Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, California, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 8th, 9th, and 10th.

After the Morning Service on May 14th, the Women of St. Stephen's and the Fellowship Group will have their Spring Get-Together at the Chinese Christian Church. They will have lunch at the Magic Fan Restaurant on Tenth Street. All Are Welcome.

HAVE HANDS—WILL GIVE

Jesus once said, "Happiness lies more in giving than in receiving." (In the older translation, "It is more blessed to give than to receive.") Have you found this to be true in your own life?

Lillian Dixon, Missionary-Extraordinary in Formosa, is know as "Typhoon Lil," because of the irresitable power of her faith. Nothing can stop her, for God works through her freely. Through her God loves the head-hunters, starving, the sick and the lepers, the orphans, the illiterate. Like her Master, she is apt to take care of their bodies first, and then their souls. She is determined that they shall find the wholeness of His Joy, His Peace.

Through her, God has poured out vast amounts of rice and other food, has built hospitals for their healing and schools for their learning, orphanages for abandoned boys and girls. Then one day, she says, "People have done something for you. Pass it on! That is your gift for God." She said to the women patients at the Leper Hospital. They looked puzzled. A few days later they came to her, saying, "At first we didn't know what we could do for anyone. Then we thought of something. Once a week those of us who have hands will wash the hair of the women patients that have no hands. Would this be, do you think, a gift for God?" "A beautiful gift!" Lil replied.

So these leper women found the full joy of the Christian Way. Once a week they gave a big lift to the morale of the women who had no hands—by giving them a hair-do! Those who had received so much now found a deeper joy in becoming God's givers.

Most of you who read these words have hands. Yet some of you are not overflowing with joy. Why? Could it be that you have not let God use your hands in His love to surprise others with kindness? Perhaps you have not realized the wealth you have to share with others. A friend was wondering what she could find as her gift of God to people. She was not rich in money, so what on earth could she give? Then she realized that she had a real talent for cooking, good strength in her hands, and a wonderful recipe for fruit cake. Last year she made more than a hundred pound-loaves of this delicious fruit cake for lonely, discouraged friends. That was her gift of God for them. So she, and they, found a new, shining joy.

Your watch-word might be, "Have hands—will give." Then just ask God what your hands and heart can do for Him, for His needy ones. It is far, far happier to give than to get!

WHERE IN THE WORLD IS JESUS?

On Good Friday Pilate sent a report to the emperor saying, "He is dead—case closed." On Easter Day Mary, Peter, John, Cleopas and even doubting Thomas said, "He is not dead; He is Risen."—The case was re-opened.

And so the question was raised again, If Jesus is not dead, "Where is He?" Some of His disciples were with Him one day, and while He was talking He disappeared, as He had done on several occasions since Easter morning. This time, they said afterward, He seemed to go up right into the clouds above and disappeared from their sight. The fact is, He disappeared. And, in time, the Church gave a fresh answer to the question; the Church said, "He ascended into Heaven." And the day of Jesus' disappearance became known as Ascension Day.

He disappeared, but only that He might re-appear everywhere at all times, to all men, women and children who come to know, love, and accept Him as their Saviour. He disappeared to human eyes only that men might "see" Him with the eyes of the soul and the mind.

Ascension Day is the day of the greatest promise ever made, because Jesus promised He would send His Holy Spirit to be with His people all the time. They were not to look backwardto an earthly kingdom which would never be restored. They were to look forward to the coming of God's Kingdom, and they were to be His witnesses to the end of the earth.

"Where is Jesus?" The answer is: He is with God; He is God. And each time we receive the Sacrament of the Holy Communion, He is also with us. Ascension Day is the day of promise, a promise that has never been broken. Read Acts 1:1-16.

The Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, D.D., Bishop of Penna. will deliver the address at a Service of Evensong to be held at All Saints' Hospital on Monday, May 15th at 4 o'clock precisely. All members of the parish are cordially invited to attend this Dedication Service of the new Patient-Care Wing of the Hospital. The address of All Saints' is 8601 Stenton Ave., Philadelphia.

Our hearty congratulations to Miss Charlotte Shoemaker who has received her Doctorate in Eductaion from Columbia University.

We wish to thank Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, Mrs. McComb, Mrs. Stella L. Talbert and Miss Hebe Bulley for their contribution towards Bulletin expenses.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Most merciful Father, we have done little to forward Thy Kingdom in this world, to foster the brotherhood of man, and to establish love as the law of life. We have allowed self to blind us, pains to embitter us. We have forgotten that whatsoever is done to one of the least of Thy children is done unto Thee. Pardon our shortcomings; forgive our neglect; give us a pure heart intent on pleasing Thee. Help us in all our seeking to seek FIRST Thy Kingdom and Thy Righteousness. EVERYONE, PLEASE NOTE: DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME AGAIN, Starts this week—Sometime Saturday night push your clocks and watches AHEAD ONE HOUR! By so doing you will be in step with everyone else, and be on time for all.

LET GOD TAKE OVER

The great Air-Liner "Arizona" droned steadily Eastward through the night from Los Angeles, high above the clouds. In the dimly-lit cabin the passengers dozed, thought happily of home-coming just ahead, thought over business deals to be worked out in cities over the horizon. Suddenly a propeller broke loose, through the fusilage, opening a great hole in the cabin ceiling. The passengers were half-deafened as the sub zero gale shrieked in, hurling hot oil and clattering chunks of metal over them. The wounded, over-speeded engine howled, and shook loose; the right wing dipped suddenly; and the plane sank sickening toward the earth. The lights went out. In the passengers' minds there was but one thought, "Do we have a chance?" The two stewardesses, one of them staggering groggily with bleeding head, could only answer, "Please fasten your seat belts, we will be in Denver in 20 minutes." A woman fainted; a man slumped in his seat, dead from a heart attack. Many prayed as the plane sank lower, and the brilliant lights of Denver crept toward them. Suddenly there was a thump—the agony was over, and they were safe on the ground. A passenger remarked, "That landing was like being born again." And the pilot-captain said, "In a situation like that, you just move over a little bit, and let God take over."

Anyone with even a dash of Christian faith knows enough, in a terrifying emergency, "To move over a little bit, and let God take over." Out of war days many such remarkable stories have come, like Eddie Rickenbacker's experience on a life-raft. Most of us remember at least once when death brushed uncomfortably close, and we had no desire to die, and we "Moved over a little bit."

But what hosts of nice, decent people have never learned that this act of "moving over" is expected to be the daily habit of a Christian. "Courage is faith that has said its prayers." A Christian is meant to have a praying faith that asks God to be at our side, guiding the controls of our lives. The quiet saint in the Tuberculosis Sanitorium had that courage which is "Faith that has said its prayers." Again and again through each day's pain, she had moved over a little bit, and let God take over.

It only takes a little thought to see that each day's living is filled with moments when we need God's help if we are going to bless those about us. It is not alone in the terrifying emergencies that we need His aid. It is in the every day crises—which we have been too dull to recognize as emergencies—that we need Him most of all. A little boy stands before you, disobdient; if you lose your temper, and sear him with angry words, you may leave a scar on his heart for the rest of his days. If you "move over a little bit," and speak with wise love, you may plant in his heart for always the wondrous knowledge that he is loved, even when he has done wrong, Each day brings its emergencies—when what you say and do will wound or heal. So begin each day, at your first waking moment, by giving yourself into His guiding, by asking for His prompting when the crucial moments come. At the threshold of every day, "Move over a little bit, and let God take over."

UNITED THANK OFFERING

St. Stephen's Spring In-Gathering for the United Thank Offering will be Sunday, April 30th at the eleven o'clock service. If you can, bring your offering in the enclosed envelope. If that is not possible, send it to the Church office, in care of Mrs. Ruth Leithead, Custodian of the U.T.O.

This is the last offering before the great Triennial In-Gathering at Seattle in September. At that service the Presiding Bishop, holding the golden alms basin, stands before the congregation with the Missionary Bishop to receive the offerings presented by the Diocesan Custodian. It is a thrilling and thankful occasion.

Everyone on our mailing list will receive the special envelope. I am sure that many of you, men included, are glad of this opportunity to have a part in building Churches and Schools, caring for the aged, healing the sick, teaching new skills and helping to carry the Gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth.

The Diocesan Spring In-Gathering of the U.T.O. will be Wednesday, May 17 at 10:30 A.M. at the Valley Forge Military Academy Chapel.

May our offerings be worthy expressions of our grateful hearts.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Paul's Church, Chicago, Sunday evening, through Tuesday, April 30-May 2nd.

May 2nd—Roast Beef Dinners, delicious, full-course, home cooked—4:30 to 7:00 P.M. H. H. Auxiliary. Cost $1.75.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America:
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER

Church Telephone: WA 2-3807 — And WA 2-0611

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Services is to be found on Page 67
The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 174-5

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Adagio" ..... Barber
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord our God, we lift our faces to Thee. We turn from the busy concerns that engage our minds, from the trivial pleasures that fill the passing moments, from the pressing cares that burden our days. And we come to this quiet sanctuary at this holy hour. Subdue the clamor of our hearts, soften every alien note, and grant that in this hour of worship we may hear Thy voice and learn Thy will; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other Lamb, none other Name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other Hiding Place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: Behold, Now, Praise the Lord ..... Titcomb

Behold now, praise the Lord; all ye servants of the Lord. Ye that by night stand in the House of the Lord, even in the courts of the House of our God. Lift up your hands in the Sanctuary, and praise the Lord. Behold now, praise the Lord.

The Sermon:

A GOOD LISTENER

What was it about Jesus that astounded the scholars in the Temple? Because they found this 12-year-old Boy "hearing them, and asking questions." He had already learned to listen, and to hear what they were saying. It takes a very sensitive kind of listening to hear, really, what another person is trying to communicate to you. One reason why all sorts of people sought out Jesus was that He really listened to them. Nicodemus, the educated scholar, came by night—and Jesus heard (in all the scholarly words) his craving to be made new like a little child. Jesus listened so closely that He "heard" what was in Nicodemus' heart.

We have to outgrow our impatience to take over the conversation. Paul Tournier says, "To love means giving your full attention to the one who is talking to you."

Usually we do not listen to each other, and if we do it is often with ill-concealed impatience until we have our say, and show how wise we are. In "Life Together," Bonhoeffer say "many people are looking for an ear that will listen. They do not find it among Christians, because these Christians are talking when they should be listening. But he who can no longer listen to his brother will soon be no longer listening to God either: he will be doing nothing but prattle in the presence of God too."

A true Christian is a good listener, getting to know the real person behind the words, learning to love and understand that person as God does. When one gets over the desire to do the talking, then one gets closer to being like Jesus, then one has a chance to help others as He did—by listening, and understanding, and then helping with a very few words of genuine love.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—

It seems only yesterday—Dec. 19th, 1944, that a friend suggested St. Stephen's for our center of worship during our prospective Winter residence "in town." Our first attendance was on a stormy Winter's day—streets difficult owing to slush. Among those at the Communion Rail were three burly men, their clothing—"overalls" far from clean! Later Mr. Kennedy and I agreed that in our varied wanderings we'd never observed similar individuals in "our Church of the moment" and "this is the Church for us!" Such a fortunate decision! So much inspiration we received from your teachings, profoundly impressive spiritual leadership and "Healing" of which we never before had heard. —Mrs. Arthur Kennedy (Pittsburgh, Penna.)

CONVOCATION MEETING

In a new division of Convocations, St. Stephen's Church, Christ Church and St. Clement's Church have been moved from the North to the South Convocation. All the intercity Churches will now be together.

The Convocation Meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 25th in the Church of St. Luke and the Epiphany. The women meet at 3 P.M. Evening Prayer at 5:15 P.M. and dinner at 6 P.M.

HOLY COMMUNION

We return to Jesus for the simplicity that is in Christ." When His life was nearing its end, when He realized that He had to leave His disciples, He wanted to give them something that would unite them, something which would make His presence known to them. How did He do it? He did it very simply—what could be more simple than bread and wine? He took the bread and He brake it and gave it to them saying, "This is My body, which is broken for you." And then He took the wine which was poured out and He passed it around to them and said, "Drink. This is My blood which is shed for you. Do this in remembrance of Me." And after He had left them, "they continued steadfastly in the breaking of bread, and in prayers." This little service became the center of Christian Worship. It is called by various names—the Mass, the Holy Eucharist, the Holy Communion, the Lord's Supper. In this Church we call it the Holy Communion, and communion means fellowship—fellowship of Christians one with another, and above all, with Christ. Those who come regularly to the Lord's Table are called communicants—they are in a state of communication with Christ. We must keep these lines of communication open day by day if we are going to find some answer to the complexity of modern living, if we are going to live in the right relationship with our fellow men in this neighborhood and in the larger neighborhood of the world.

Very simple, is it not? But this to me is the simplicity that is to be found in Christ Jesus.

The Prelude: "Air in D"..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, Thou art my Father. Thy will and Thy plan alone matter. I yield myself utterly to Thee that I may know and do Thy will. I thank Thee for accepting me in Jesus Christ, for forgiving all my sins, cleansing me from everything that is wrong, and now filling me with Thy Holy Spirit. I thank Thee for grace and guidance. I thank Thee for power adequate for every task. I thank Thee for Thy love and that Thou art loving men through me. And now with Thee I go forward from victory to victory. Amen.

The Anthem: Brother James's Air (Marosa)..... arr. Gordon Jacob

The Lord's my shepherd, I'll not want, He makes me down to lie in pastures green. He leadeth me the quiet waters by. My soul He doth restore again, and me to walk doth make within the paths of blessedness, e'en for His own Name's sake. Yea, tho' I pass through shadowed vale, yet will I fear no ill; for Thou art with me, and Thy rod and staff me comfort still. My table Thou hast furnished in presence of my foes; my head with oil Thou dost anoint, and my cup overflows. Goodness and mercy all my days will surely follow me; and in my Father's heart alway my dwelling place shall be.

STANDING IN THE DOORWAY

One shudders to read Jesus' burning rebuke—"You hypocrites that shut the door of the Kingdom of Heaven in men's faces; you neither enter in yourselves, nor let others enter when they would." What a dreadful sin—to stand in the door, not going in, nor letting anyone else enter. One remembers the four men who tried to bring their paralyzed friend to Jesus for healing and found the door blocked by standing people. This is a shameful thing, the sin of standing in the doorway!

One shudders more deeply when a still small voice asks me if sometimes I stand in the doorway, myself. One remembers hurtful words with his wife, then the telephone ringing, and the cheerful, warmly loving tone of my voice. This is strangely like those Scribes and Pharisees who polished the outside of the cup so carefully and leave the inside dirty. Could it be me that Jesus was talking about? Could it be self-satisfied me, busy with many piddling "religious" chores while I neglect the heart-break and hunger of those around me? Could it be that my life incarnates so little of God's love that I don't come into the Kingdom, or stay outside—but stand on the threshold, blocking the way for others? Could I be guilty of the sin of standing in the doorway?

One shudders most of all to hear Jesus' flaming rebuke turn into mighty, hurting love: "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, still murdering the Prophets, and stoning the messengers that are sent to thee, how often have I been ready to gather thy children together, as a hen gathers her chickens under her wing; and thou didst refuse it!" All the time when I've been blocking the way to Him—He has been loving me, yearning to gather me under His strong protection, eager to warm me with His warmth. What am I thinking of, still standing in the doorway?

Yes, He is speaking to me. When I know that, I have to get out of the doorway, and come in, closer to Him. I ask His forgiveness, and He grants it with quiet joy. I begin to obey Him—and His power flows into me. I go on costly errands, and find Him by my side. And, now that I am out of the doorway, perhaps there will be some who will see a small bit of Him in me, and find their way in, themselves.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print acounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—

Every day I give thanks for the healing of my hip. I can now walk without the walker or canes, thanks to God through the laying-on-of-hands at the Altar of St. Stephen's Church. God has been very good to me and I am grateful for your wonderful prayers. —Polly Crawford (Tazewell, Virginia)

THANKS

Mrs. Price and I thank you all for the work, generosity, and affection which made possible our celebration of twenty-five years as Pastor and congregation. And we thank God for His unwavring blessing of our work together during these years. May we rise refreshed from this period of recollection, and go on to greater works of God.

Mr. German has informed us that over 150 members contributed over $1200.00 for the purchase of a Color Television Set for the Rectory. For a number of years Mrs. Price has been urging me to buy her a Color T.V. There is no question that procrastination on my part has paid off. There is now enough money for the finest of sets, with remote control, plus a portable one for use in our Summer cottage.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Gethsamane Cathedral, Fargo, North Dakota, Sunday evening, April 16th through Tuesday. and then on to Saint Michael and All Angels, Winnipeg, Canada, to meet with the Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese of Manitoba.

The Girls' Friendly Society Sponsors will have their 19th Annual National Weekend at the Ben Franklin Hotel, April 21st—23rd. They will have their Corporate Communion at St. Stephen's Church on Sunday at 8 A.M. The Rector will speak at the Breakfast and give the Invocation at their Banquet on Saturday.

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP for both men and women, will meet this 3rd Sunday, after the Church Service, in the Community House, where coffee and cookies will be served. Mrs. Price will continue the Review of the Life of Christ, which is following the events of His Galilean Ministry, with many pictures. All Are Welcome.

The Prelude: 'Psalm XIX"..... Marcello

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Blessed and eternal God, who hast bestowed upon Thy servants precious gifts of heart and mind and spirit, grant us grace, we beseech Thee in the beauty of holiness. Make us responsive to the atmosphere of reverence and teach us to hallow Thy name. Sensitize our spirits to a keen awareness of the Father infinite in wisdom, love and power; enrich our minds with the quiet ministries of Thy Holy Spirit; and gladden our hearts with the deep assurance that Thy Son is our Savior. And to Thee shall be the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory for ever Amen.

THE DARK VALLEY

No one wants to be sick, or disabled, or tied to a wheel-chair. That's for sure! We are not going to discover the "Why" of our predicament. Only God knows that. We can stop crying out, "Why did this happen to me?" And ask, instead, "What can I do about it?" There are exciting answers to that question!

Tournier, writing about "Shut-Ins, that host of people hemmed in by long-time disability," suggests, "But such a disability, far from being an insurmountable obstacle, can be the starting-point of a great adventure. Many disabled people, re-trained for new work, can say, "I would not have lived such a successful life if I had not been disabled . . ." It can happen that a sick person under-goes experiences that are more valuable than all the successes of the healthy. Calvin wrote to an illustrious invalid, "You know, my Lord, how difficult it is amidst the honors, riches, and influences of the world to lend an ear to God . . . God has willed to take you aside, as it were, so as to be heard more clearly . . . He has given you this opportunity to profit in His school, as if He wanted to speak to you privately, in your ear."

God does not ask you to "like" your narrowed world. Jesus did not like His confinement in the wilderness to be tempted, or that narrow Garden, for His final test. But, in both places, He asked, "What is Your will for Me, right here where I am, in this narrow place? What can I do, for You?" Every humblest follower of the Master can ask that brave question, and find a glorious answer. God has taken you aside, so that you can hear Him more clearly.

I remember my friend "Mac," who had lovingly companioned his wife through years when she was not herself, until her death. After that, his "Place" became narrow and narrower. His painful club-foot, and several of the unwelcome ills of uncoming age, kept him out of the mainstream of life. But, somehow, he knew that God had taken him aside, so as to be heard more clearly. So Mac listened, and lived as he was bidden. His life spoke to us—"Here's Good News, my friend—in the toughest places, God stands by and gives what-it-takes for victory." That afternoon when I saw him for the last time, there was the old sparkle in his eyes, and an even greater warmth of affection in his voice. When valiant old Mac did, his funeral service had a sure note of triumph—God's triumph—all through it.

So the Psalmist could write, in honesty, "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death . . . I shall fear no evil, for Thou art with me." Those whom He calls aside into the dark valley, can hear Him more clearly, and travel with Him in triumph!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print acounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—

When you started the movement in about 1943 to help the mentally ill, you gave me new hope and faith. I had been ill mentally for 9 years. As a direct result of your splendid, truly Christian, and therapeutic work, I was finally discharged outright from Spring Grove State Hospital, Catonsville, Maryland. God bless you.

—R. E. Hinman (Baltimore, Md.)

HERE is a successful sermon. In his Autobiography Benjamin Franklin told of hearing a sermon by the famous revivalist, George Whitefield. He wrote: "I perceived that he intended to finish with a collection, and I silently resolved that he should get nothing from me. I had in my pocket a handful of copper money, three or four silver dollars, and five pistoles in gold. As he proceeded, I began to soften, and concluded to give the coppers. Another stroke of his oratory made me ashamed of that, and determined to give the silver; and he finished so admirably that I emptied my pocket wholly into the collectors dish, gold and all."

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS
AN INVITATION FROM THE RECTOR

This is the twenty-fifth anniversary of my election as your Rector. This a joyful and happy thought for me, as I hope it is for all of you also. While twenty-fifth anniversaries are not unusual, still, they are not common. Some parishes change Rectors frequently. But St. Stephen's Church and its Rectors have had such affection for one another that there have been only eight Rectors of this parish in the one hundred and forty-five years of its existence.

In order that we may offer thanks to God for His many blessings to us over the years, I ask all members of St. Stephen's Church, and our friends to fill the Church at 11 A.M. The service will be a joyful one. The Choir will sing Handel's "Hallelujah." We need you to complete our joy.

MOVE AHEAD

God gives us His guidance. He shows us the way ahead. When we listen and are willing to obey. We know this.

What makes the difference is our willingness to move in His direction. There was the man who had been lying by the Pool at Bethesda for thirty-eight years. Could Jesus lift him into health and usefulness? You see, in all those years, the man had come to enjoy the "fringe benefits" of being an invalid—people hastening to help him, frequently sympathy, being supported by the hard work of others. It might be that he was "enjoying" his illness and would prefer to cling to it. Jesus had to know if the man was willing, so He asked, "Do you want to be healed?" The man did—he preferred freedom from being an invalid. He was willing to stride forward into usefulness. So Jesus bade him "rise and walk," and he was on the move.

Bruce Larson has written, "Respond immediately to whatever guidance God gives you in prayer. Until you walk in the light you have, you will never get more light. God's guidance is like the lamp on the miner's hat which throws a beam six feet ahead. Unless you walk those six feet, you will never see more of the path before you. So God's guidance is step by step." After the man has responded to Jesus' guidance, then he could begin to see what God had for him to do next.

Once we have begun our pilgrimage under God, we are more available to Him, Paul Tournier puts it: "God guides us when we are on the way, not when we are standing still, just as one cannot steer a car unless it is moving."

In the days after Easter, the early Christians obediently remained at Jerusalem, awaiting further orders. They waited expectantly, like soldiers before battle. The Day of Pentecost came—the Spirit spoke to them in power—and they moved out on the King's Highway.

God's victories come to people who have been moving resolutely under His bidding. You may be stuck in some situation where you cannot see the future, or guess the outcome. But you can wait at your Jerusalem, willing to move ahead with the Light, as He gives you light. He will always guide you through today—which is the only day you have.

Remember—He can only steer one who is at least ready to move.

CORNELIA CONNELLY

We are to have the great joy and priviledge, Sunday, April 2nd, of welcoming Mother Mary Dennis and Mother Maria Caritas of the Society of the Holy Child Jesus, who will speak at our Annual Parish Meeting in the Community House following our 11 O'Clock service.

Mother Mary Dennis is the Librarian and Mother Maria Caritas is the Professor of History at Rosemont College.

It may be a surprise to most of us that St. Stephen's Church is vitally connected with the Roman Catholic Society of the Holy Child Jesus. Cornelia Peacock, born in 1809, had the misfortune of losing both parents during her childhood. Her half-sister who was the wife of the first Rector of St. Stephen's Church, the Rev. Dr. James Montgomery, undertook the care of Cornelia. Cornelia received the Sacrament of Baptism in St. Stephen's Church and at the age of twenty-two married the Rev. Pierce Connelly, who was Rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Natchez, Mississippi.

The story of the turbulent and heroic life of Cornelia Connelly, the Foundress of the world-wide Society of the Holy Child Jesus, will be presented by our two distinguished guests.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print acounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—

May I express my most sincere appreciation to you and your prayer Fellowship for keeping me on your Prayer List for healing prayer. My own health has benefited very much from your intercessions. Not only is my blood pressure lower, but my troubles seem to be much less worrisome than they have been for some time past.

—Mrs. Hazel Dun (Vancouver, B.C.)

The Rector will speak to the Lutheran Clergy Meeting in Reamstown, Penna. on April 3rd.

The Rector will conduct a healing service in the Church for the Holy City, Washington, D.C. on Friday evening, April 7th, and conduct a Conference in St. Margaret's Church, Washington, Saturday, 10 A.M. to 2 P.M.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 2nd at 12:30 P.M. Twelve Vestrymen will be elected to serve for a term of one year.

Mrs. Keller and her helpers will serve a hot luncheon and they will appreciate it if you will contact the office to say that you expect to be present.

GOD'S WORD IS ACTION

Something moving—that's what attracts your attention. Times Square in New York has a flashing sign across which a little man marches and runs and jumps, his lively actions telling the "good news" of some advertised product. People on the sidewalk stop and watch.

In fact, the spoken word has to have "moving" power in order to catch people's interest. William Barclay tells of a hero, just returned brom battle, unable to tell the story of heroism of his fellow-men, for lack of powerful words. "Whereupom there arose a man" afflicted with the necessary magic," and he told the story in terms so vivid and moving that "the words came alive and walked up and down in the hearts of men.

God Himself tried "words," first—in the Psalms, in the flaming Prophets. Jeremiah so felt the weakness of words that he earnestly tried, "play-acting"—putting a yoke over his neck to "say" that power is with those who bear God's yoke, who obey Him. But even this action did not give wings to Jeremiah's words.

So God turned to action. He "spoke" to mankind in the life of Jesus Christ. "In the beginning was the Word . . . and the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us . . ." As Jesus walked among men in Galilee, a growing company began to "see" God in the flesh, in action. Harvey Cox puts it, "God's Word is Action . . . When God talks, something happens He does something He speaks and the world is created , . . In the final analysis, God's Word for man is Jesus of Nazareth. He is God's Word."

In these days of space exploration, our minds get dizzy with the vastness of the universe; and dizzier with the majesty and power of the God who created it. Our tiny human brains cannot possibly take in what so great a God is like. But, in Jesus Christ, He has given us a clue to His nature. "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father," Jesus promised. So, in Jesus, we see as much of the mighty God as we can understand. We see Him in action, moving through life in ancient Israel; and, today, moving through our world in Christ-like people. Our attention is caught by an Albert Schweitzer, a Pope John, a Martin Luther King, a Gandhi, a Dr. Tom Dooley. In them we see a true glimpse of God on the move, in action.

It would be that someone will catch a glimpse of God's acting in YOU!

HEALING MISSION

On the Sunday mornings in July and August the Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Stephen's Church at 11 A.M. The Mission, of course, is for all—not just for the sick! Here is a special opportunity for realizing the power of God in your life. Begin now to make your prayers in preparation for the Mission, and come to the services and join with many others who will kneel at the Altar Rail to talk with God about their problems. The Mission is a demonstration of the Gospel in Action. The Public is Cordially Invited.

During July and August the weekday services will consist of a preaching service Wednesdays at 12:30 P.M. and the Holy Communion on Wednesdays at 5:30 P.M. and Fridays at 12:30 P.M.

The Rev. Robert H. Stetler will conduct the Friday services during July and August, and the Rector will conduct the Wednesday services during that period.

The Chapel for the Hard of Hearing received $411.00 in memory of Mrs. Emma Meckling, who died suddenly in her ninetieth year on June 4th. Mrs. Meckling was the mother of the Rev. Gustav Meckling and a communicant of St. Stephen'e Church.

A selected group of our Boy Scouts sponsored by our Church, Troop #2, participated in the Flag Day ceremony at the Betsy Ross House, June 14th.

This being the final issue of our weekly Bulletin for the Season, we list below the Flower donors for July and August:

July 2—The Ellinger Fund, in memory of Catherine Hussey Lewis
9—Mary McEwen Fund, in memory of Mary McEwen and son, Walter
16—Mr. James K. Lewis, in memory of his family
Miss Ann Snow, in memory of her family
23—Mrs. Mary Varallo, in memory of parents, Mr. & Mrs. Frascone
30—Sinnamon Fund, in memory of Dr. & Mrs. George Sinnamon

Aug. 6—Mr. & Mrs. John Pintavalle, in memory of their parents: Mr. & Mrs. Michael Pintavalle and Mr. & Mrs. Frank Borsella
13—Rev. Alfred W. Price, in memory of his father and mother
The Ellinger Fund, in memory of Catherine Hussey Lewis
20—Miss Fannie Sackett, in memory of Matilda Maulsby
Susan C. Thackara Fund, in memory of mother, Mabel S. Thackara
27—The Ellinger Fund, in memory of Catherine Hussey Lewis

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: Prelude and Fugue in G Minor.....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Gracious Father, we humbly beseech Thee for Thy whole Church throughout the World. Fill it with all truth, and in all truth with all peace. Where it is corrupt, purify it; where it is in error, direct it; where it is superstitious, cleanse it; where anything is amiss, reform it; where it is right, strengthen it and confirm it; where it is in want, furnish it; where is is divided and rent asunder, heal the breaches thereof, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None ohter Hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other Hiding Place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Praise" ..... Rowley

To the Master of Music and loveliness: Praise, power, dominion for ever. To the Lord of the Word of Creation be praise, power, dominion for ever. To the Maker of movement, color and light: Praise, power and dominion forever. To the Builder, Designer, Creator . . . To the Theme of all song, Inspiration of Love: To the Artist of Life, to the Great and Least: For He is the greatest upon His high throne, And He was the least as the child of a maiden: Praise, then, to Jesus whose Mother was Mary, and Praise now to Christ Who is God in the midst of us. Praise. Lord of all beauty, adoring, we come to Thee: Give us Thyself both in Time and Eternity . . . We come to Thee, offering all that we are or can hope to be, Lord of all beauty—Praise, power, dominion for ever.

TAKE THE FIRST STEP

Sometimes we face a situation that is too much for us.

Lillian Dixon, the St. Paul of our day in Formosa, was on a trip into the hill country, in flood time. The native guides were leading the way along what was left of a rail bed, much of it being washed away. They came to a wide river in full flood. Where there had been a trestle, none was left, only drooping twin bands of steel track, joined precariously by wooden ties that, instead of supporting the rails, hung from them by their spike-heads. "We go across that?" Lil's woman companion in disbelief. One of the Tyal men took Lil's hand firmly and urged her forward. "Can I do it" Lil wondered. Then she remembered the lines that had given her strength, and steadied her steps, so many times:

"When He says, "follow Me," I'm no longer small,
But suddenly as tall as He is, and my stride
Extends at His command . . ."

Carefully she placed one foot out on the first tie beyond the abutment. It seemed firm enough. The Tyal guide nodded approvingly. If the spikes pulled out of the ties under their combined weight—well, her ministry would be ended. Not finished, just ended. But God somehow managed before she came into the world, and she presumed that He would somehow manage after she left it. She took the next step, and the next. As they left behind the firmness of the stone abutment, the rails began to tremble and then to sway at each step. She was conscious of the roaring gray water beneath, the thunder of the boulders being swept along in the current. She concentrated on placing her feet on the ties. The Tyal gave a mutter of satisfaction, squeezed her hand, and released it. They were across!

You may not be in a spot like that, where, like Lil, you wonder if you can do it. Like her, you know that you are not able, in your own strength. You may be facing life without a beloved help-mate of many years. Or you may feel crushed under the leaden weight of home cares beyond your power. You may be far from your wife or husband, and your small children—craving them intensely. You may have a slender income, and pressing needs; or an old enemy like alcoholism, which is moving in on you again; or a job with such pressure that they seem unbearable; or aching aloneness because you would not take an "easy" way out; or steady grinding pain, day after day, without promise of easing . . . Like Lil, you feel very small, very weak, until you hear Him calling you to step forward.

Then, when you take the first step, you are "no longer small." You find victory, in Him!

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL AND CARD PARTY

Benefit of the chapel of the hard of hearing Community House, Saturday, June 24, 7:00 P.M. Donation $1.00.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr.Price:—

I wrote you a month ago to have my name put on your Prayer List. I want you to know I have improved wonderfully. My problem was pernicious anemia which had affected my spine. I am much stronger and able to be at work every day. Please accept my sincerest gratitude. I do not know how I can thank these wonderful people who join the prayer chain. God bless you and St. Stephen's.

BISHOP'S VISITATION

On Sunday, June 18th at 11 A.M., the Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, D.D., will visit St. Stephen's Church to meet our parish Family, to preach, and to have a "press-conference" type of reception in the Community House following the service. Mrs. Keller and her ladies will provide refreshments and beverages. Everyone will be given the opportunity to ask the Bishop questions pertaining to the life and work and policies of the Episcopal Church in our Diocese. The Vestry will meet with the Bishop following the question and answer period.

The Rev. Mr. Meckling spent last week in New York 'signing' some of the Prayer Book Services into the 'language of the Deaf' on motion picture film strips. These pictures were produced for the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church and will be used to train Priests to minister to the Deaf.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord our God, who hast set us in a world of beauty and wonder, we beseech Thee to give us wisdom to unseal springs of love. May we find a joy in the loveliness of nature, the strength of friendship, the conquest of difficulty, and the satisfaction of service. Teach us to delight in simple things. Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: Father Omnipotent.....Edward German

Father Omnipotent! Protect us, we pray Thee, save Thou our Native Land from those who would betray Thee; God, keep Thy children free, no other help have we; O Great Deliverer, be our Strength and Stay; Judge Thou our cause, O Lord, in mercy befriend us! Thou, only Thou are righteous, by Thy grace defend us; bind up our hearts that bleed; guard us in time of need; gear us, we humbly plead! In Thee we trust. Send out Thy truth and light, the world round victorious! Shine thru' the Nation's soul in honor yet more glorious! Strong with Thy Spirit's might, aid us in Freedom's fight; Lord God, defend the Right for evermore. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr.Price:—

Approximately a year ago my name was placed on your prayer List for the healing of Hepatitis. Through these prayers I experienced a healing which amazed my doctor. At the same time I was stricken with this illness, I was in serious financial difficulties. The Lord even entered this area of my life. My rejoicing knows no bounds. I know there is a Divine Law of Good which can, and will, and does govern everything.
—Bob Redman (Huntsville, Alabama)

FREEDOM SONG

Not far from Albany, New York, there is a friend, Amelia Van Dusen, who became house-bound in 1962, after having her first stroke. Being one who loves the out-of-doors and travel, it was rough to be suddenly imprisoned behind four walls. But she is also a Christan, so she wrote:

"When the body wears out and its too hard to walk,
Oh, to travel by land or by sea,
I just wave it good-bye and in Spirit I fly to wherever I most want to be.
I can stand on the top of a mountain with no effort whatever for me,
And gaze at the scene spread before me, for my Spirit forever is free.
Once more I can revisit the places that in youth I was privileged to see,
Or revisit in memory, cities, that once were familiar to me.
What if wild life stays away from my door, I can picture again in my dreams
Familiar scenes of those days of yore and woods in which life teems.
To see wild geese in yearly flight, I close my eyes and look,
I hear bright blue-jays screaming, and see deer at dawn by a brook.
Off there in the distance far I see a snow-capped peak
Like a beacon of hope for the weary, the poor, the needy, the weak.
I can scud with the fleecy white clouds across a shimmering sky
And gaze on the home of my childhood where many loved ones lie.
One more I can visit the Alamo, or stop in at Province Town,
Or sit by the pounding surf and watch the sun go down."

Houdini was perhaps the master escape-artist of all time. He held audiences spellbound as he wormed his way out of locked strong-boxes and steel-hooped barrels. But it takes much more than Houdini to break out of four walls that have closed in on you, and you are no longer free to go walking across the world. It takes a person of child-like faith and courage, trusting the God of freedom to open a way out of any prison!

So our friend, whose lines we quote, closes her freedom-song in victory:

"So sit there in your chair, my body, and enjoy your aches and pains, I'll just step out in my Spirit and enjoy the world again!"

Dr. Elmer S. Carll was honored at an Appreciation Dinner on May 26th at the Torresdale-Frankford Country Club by the National Boys' Club Association for his thirty years of creative service to the Northeast Boys' Club. Dr. Carll is a valued member of St. Stephen's Vestry.

Mrs. Evelyn Murray, daughter of the Rector, will receive her degree of Bachelor of Arts at the Eastern Baptist College on June 11th.

SUGGESTION FOR A SUMMER SUNDAY

During a Sunday morning "coffee hour" several members of St. Peter's Church, Westfield, N.Y., invented a game called "Hymn Dedications."

It all began when someone suggested that the dentists' hymn should be "Crown Him with many crowns," (No. 352). Another suggested the seamstress' hymn, "Behold a Sower! from afar" (No. 401). The spirit of the sport had caught by the time another volunteered the actors' hymn, "What Star is This, with beams so bright" (No. 47).

Then came the tax collectors' hymn, "Ten thousand times ten thousand" (No. 590); the carpenters' hymn, "Saw you never in the twilight" (No. 50); and the quiltmakers' hymn, "Peace, Perfect peace" (No. 436). The game almost ended with the suggestion of the Swiss cheesemakers' hymn, "Holy, holy, holy" (No. 266), but someone had to add the men's clothing store hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds" (No. 495). This, of course, was a reminder of the grocers' hymn, "Let us with a gladsome mind" (No. 308) and the civil engineers' hymn, "When I survey" (No. 337). It all ended with the suggestion of the gossips' hymn, "Now my tongue, the mystery telling" (No. 199).

Said the Rector, the Rev. Richard H. Baker, "Nothing terribly earth-shaking or even particularly edifying—but we had fun."

Our sincere thanks to these late arrivals (in our hands), contributors to the U.T.O.: Marie P. Berger and Miss Nadia Watson.

We also thank these Bulletin subscribers: Rita J. Clark, Mrs. Sue B. Potter, Miss Emily G. Ravenel, Mrs. Rice, E. Lillian Wyatt.

The Prelude: "O God Have Mercy".....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, our Father, we bow in gratitude for all spiritual ministries. We thank Thee for those influences which gladden our hearts: for acts of kindness which touched gray days with color; for the gracious ministry of the home; for light in the eyes of those who have given us their love; for mountain top experiences which inspired us to seek goodness, truth and beauty; and for moments when the House of God became a shrine in which we kept our tryst with Thee. Inspire the people of this Republic to fulfill their destiny as a Nation that Thou hast blessed. Here have come citizens from every race. Here they found refuge; here they builded homes; and here they invested their lives. We thank Thee for those who were heroic in times of peril, showed fortitude in days of terror, and gave freely to the last full measure of devotion. Teach us to bring durable peace out of war, order out of chaos, brotherhood out of conflict. So may our people learn to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with Thee, our Father. Amen.

The Introit

The Processional Hymn 346 .....St. Elisabeth

The Response to the Decalogue #708 .....Willan

The Anthem: "O God, Have Mercy" (from St. Paul).....Mendelssohn
O God, have mercy upon me, and blot out my transgressions according to Thy loving kindness, yea, even for the mercy's sake. Deny me not, O cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy spirit from me, O Lord, a broken heart, and a contrite heart is offered before Thee. I will speak of Thy salvation, I will teach transgressors, and sinners shall be converted unto Thee. Then open Thou my lips, O Lord and my mouth shall show forth Thy glorious praise.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr.Price:—

Possibly you recall praying for a tiny baby at the Altar of the Cathedral in Fargo, N.D. on April 16th. We were seeking healing for her ankles that were turned in, and we have observed almost a complete restoration. So, thank you for being the channel of power that Christ used that night.

—R. E. Nichelson (Valley City, No. Dakota)

FATHER FORGIVE THEM

In the Comic-Strip "Peanuts," Charlie Brown and his chum are seated together, in the blackest gloom. They are grieving over yesterday's Ball Game. Charlie moans, "164 runs to one! And we were so sincere!"

Charlie Brown may discover, as he grows up, that sincerity is not enough. There must be disciplined, hard practice, which produces skill, and gets the enemy out. Sincereity alone does not do that.

Nor is sincerity enough in one's religion. The Scribes and the Pharisees were sincere enough in crucifying the dangerous young Nazarene who was attacking their hypocrisy. Saul was altogether sincere in consenting to the death of Stephen, as he "laid waste to the Church." White Americans, North and South, are equally sincere in separating themselves and their families from the Negroes, in many ways. But, again, sincerity is not enough.

Martin Luther King points out, "We must recognize that Jesus was nailed to the Cross not simply by sin but also by blindness. The men who cried, "Crucify Him!" were not bad men but rather blind men . . . In 1857 the system of slavery was given its greatest legal support by the Supreme Court of the United States in the Dred Scott Decision. The Court affirmed that the Negro had no rights which the White man was bound to respect. The Justices who rendered this Decision were not wicked men. On the contrary, they were decent and dedicated men. But they were the victims of spiritual blindness . . . Sincerity and conscienciousness in themselves are not enough . . . We do not need to be blind . . . One day we will learn that the heart can never be totally right if the head is totally wrong. Only through the bringing together of head and heart—intelligence and goodness—shall man rise to a fulfillment of his true nature . . . "This is the condemnation," says John, "that Light is come into the world, and man loved darkness rather than light."

It may be that we, in North and South, may have to begin to listen until we hear the voice of One who lifts up His voice to His Fahter, as He pleads for a sincere and blind people, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do!" How sinfully blind we have been! It makes me wince to remember that the loudest voice claiming White superiority was that of Adolph Hitler. Somehow one does not relish keeping step with such a memory!

We White people who would be Christians can only ask the Loving God to touch our eyes, and make us see. We must ask the Father of all mankind to help us to see all His children as He does, as His own beloved sons and daughters. He may be able even to make us see we were acting as Christians. But God can make blind men see!

Listen! Be very still, for it may be that you will suddenly hear Jesus crying out once more, "Father, forgive them . . ."

Mrs. Margaret J. Stanley, Custodian of the United Thank Offering of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing, wishes to thank those members of the Chapel who contributed: Mrs. James Lewis, Dora Kronmaier, Mrs. Ruth Bechtel, Mrs. Thomas Holloway, Mrs. Louise M. Price, Laura Roddy, Dorthy Morrison, Mrs. Leon Merrow, Mrs. Emily Weber, Ethel Marshall, Elizabeth Hawley, Gladys Given, Mrs. Francis Spratt, Mr. & Mrs. R. Douglas Cole, Gertrude Bergen, Edward Sutton, The Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, Mr. Robert Leight.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Mount Washington Methodist Church, Baltimore, Maryland, Sunday evening through Tuesday evening, June 4th-6th, inclusive.

The Prelude: "Hark, A Voice Saith All Is Mortal.....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, we thank Thee for this quiet hour in this hallowed place. Here the pressure of life is lifted. Here the shallow desires of earth are stilled. Here the deep hunger of our hearts is satisfied. Bless to us this hour. Reach our souls with Thy Spirit. Grant that our familiarity with the outward symbol may not close our hearts to the inflow of Thy power, and that limitations in the human medium through which Thy Word is spoken may not dim our eyes to its splendor. May Thy Word be a light to our path and eternal life to our souls, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Dear Dr.Price:—

I want to express my thanks to you and the Prayer Fellowship for prayers for Paul Groff. The doctors say a miraculous change has occured in his blood—something they cannot explain. He is very much improved and back to school. We are grateful to God for his healing. Thanks to all of you for your part in this wonderful miracle.

—Helen Wynn (Cinnaminson, N.J.)

GOD'S FORGIVENESS

"I will arise and go to my father," the Prodigal Son decided. After those sorry years of wasting, he could still be sure that his father would receive him. So Jesus gives us the picture of God—He is like the father who waited and waited, still loving that foolish youngster. The great God of heaven and earth is like that!

There is nothing He will not forgive when a human child of His starts home. Nothing! All He asks of the returning child is honest penitance and the desire to follow the ways of His household. One of my friends was on skid-row for three years then he came home and has been home ever since. Another friend wasted his substance in riotous self-pity until it almost wrecked his life—then he came home, and was received. It almost takes your breath away to find that God does not keep you waiting on the front steps, but runs to meet you before you reach home. He forgives—and you start to live!

Some of you have a burden of guilt on your hearts—something you did, or didn't do. Missed chances to love and lift someone who is now gone from your sight. Hopeless? Not by a long shot! Simply trust Jesus that God is like that father—waiting to forgive you when you come home. Dare to trust Him, and be on your own.

It is hard to believe that God will accept us as His own child again. Our minds say, "No!—He couldn't, after the way I've failed Him." But something in us deeper than our minds dares to say, "Maybe He can forgive and take me in. I'll have courage to trust Jesus' assurance. I'll start homeward and find out."

Someone has told how a young man was on the way home in a train. He had been very silent throughout the trip, but at last he said to the man seated next to him, "I've been in a great deal of trouble. I stole some money and ran away, but I couldn't stand it any longer so I wrote my people that I wanted to come home. I told Dad that if he wanted me back to hang a piece of cloth on a branch of the apple tree near the railroad station, and if I didn't see it there, then I would ride on past. Now we are nearly there and I'm afraid to look. You look and tell me if there is a piece of cloth on that tree."

A few minutes later came the good news, "Son, there's a cloth hanging from every branch of that tree!"

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, U.T.O. Custodian, reports that 65 contributors gave $261.00 for the Spring In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering.

THE MILK CAN

Because two-thirds of the world's population is undernourished or starving, because modern means of communication and transportation have made all the peoples of the world neighbors of one another, and because the House of Bishops of our Church has called upon us to accept our responsibility as Christians and as citizens for dealing constructively with the issues of population, poverty and peace; the Bishops have urged the people of the Church to give substantially to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief.

Since 1943 we have had a Milk Can on the stemps of our Church to receive such offerings. With the aid of Government Food the Milk Can contributions have amounted to over a quarter a million dollars in food for the children of Europe, then for the children of Korea, and in recent years for material aid to needy people around the world.

Keep Your Contributions Coming!

We wish to thank these Bulletin Subscribers: Helen G. Downes, Mrs. Margaret Nachtigall.

We wish to thank, also, these additional contributors to the U.T.O. Frances F. Bailey, Mrs. Marie P. Berger, Olga Carlisle, Michael J. Labriola.

DON'T TEMPT THE LAW SAYS COP.—This almost-too-good-to-be-true story appears in the latest issue of the Angelic Parish magazine of Stanwix, England. A Vicar attending a conference of clergymen left his auto in a prohibited area of York, with this note on the wind-screen: "I am a minister of the Church attending a conference which I have done for 15 years. I am already late and the parking places are getting fewer—forgive us our trespasses."—When he returned he found the following note: "I am an officer of the law and I have been doing this beat for 20 years. My superior is due within the hour, and they are getting stricter—lead us not into temptation."

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Arioso"..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, whose shepherd care is extended to all Thy children, we praise Thee for the green pastures, the quiet waters, and the restored soul. Preserve us from blundering along paths of disappointment. Lead us in right ways. Guard us from evil. When we walk in valleys of deep darkness, let Thy love be our shield, our light and our salvation. We ask in the name of the Good Shepherd. Amen.

The Introit

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr.Price:—

About a month ago I wrote asking for prayers for a persistent gall bladder condition, also for nerves that gave me a queer light feeling in my head and great sense of fear and many sleepless nights. I'm most happy to say I feel much better. The literature you sent me has been a great help and comfort.

—E. A. D. (Philadelphia)

THE ONLY ANSWER

Howard Thurman is one of the great Christians of our day—Friend, writer, preacher, teacher, Pastor, Christian gentleman. Once you know him, you don't notice that his skin is darker than yours. All sorts of people come to talk with him—Dock hands, business executives, alcoholics, students . . . Elizabeth Yates, his biographer, comments, "Leaving, they would say, in one way or another, "He met us where we were, and treated us as though we were where we ought to have been." Some found him a comfort; some found him a challenge; but each one left him feeling as if standing a little taller than before."

Men felt that way when they left Jesus. They felt taller than before—stronger against life's storms, a new meaning in their lives. But how on earth did Dr. Thurman come to possess this same great power?

He has come over a very rough road. Traveling on a train, a white woman points at him and asks the conductor, "What is that doing in this car?" The conductor replies "That has a ticket." Or he opens and holds a door for a white woman in some public place, and she passes through without a word. These may seem like little things, but, year after year, they could crush a man. "This is where I die daily," he admitted to himself as he wrestled with the turmoil in his heart. Like his Master, he is willing to die to himself, to let God crowd the anger resentment out of his heart. Then he is free to let God live through him, let God love the proud ones who look down on him and his race. This is the only answer with power—like the great message of Paul, to die daily that Christ can live and get loose through him.

Of course people feel taller when they leave Dr. Thurman—because Christ lives in him, the same Christ who loved proud and mistaken men in His days on this earth.

God needs many like Dr. Thurman in this 20th Century America, with all its pride and strife and arrogance. There are people near you who sorely need to see Jesus Christ. They need to see Him in the flesh. If they don't see Him in you, they may never see Him at all, and miss the glory of life. You may protest, "How on earth could they ever see Jesus Christ in my life?" The answer is fearfully simple—they will see Him if He is there!

Be willing to die daily to your special human weakness—then men will see in you the strong and saving Christ!

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Zion Church, Rome, N.Y. Sunday evening through Tuesday, May 21st-23rd, inclusive.

The final meeting of St. Stephen's Fellowship Group will be on Sunday, May 21st, after the morning service, in the Community House. Special musical numbers revealing parts of the Story of the Life of Christ will be heard following a continuation of this study. Refreshments will be served. All are welcome.

We want to express our thanks to these U.T.O. Helpers: Mrs. P. Arnold, Mrs. Fred J. Baehrle, Hazel L. Bainbridge, Mrs. Constance Bevins, Helen L. Bradley, Viola Del Castello, Will Coffee, Cora M. NATIONAL SALVATION ARMY WEEK

MAY 21 to MAY 28

When General Booth's son poured forth his concern for the ragged wretches sleeping under London's bridges in the bitter cold, the General replied, "Do something!"

"Do something!" has been a key phrase in The Salvation Army ever since. The Salvation Army does something for the unwed mother, for the deprived child, for the disaster victim, for the derelict—for all the weak, lonely and lost.

Since 1865 The Salvation Army has been serving the needy in the name of Christ, and through it evangelical outreach winning people to Christ.

Today (May 21) marks the beginnnig of National Salvation Army Week. During this week, Colonel Horace E. Weatherly, Divisional Commander, cordially invites you to visit local Army centers and learn more about their program of "Compassion in Action."

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: "From Heaven Above To Earth I Come".....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal God, by whose providence we are supported, in whose love we are comforted, and through whose light we are guided; we praise Thee for the dawn of another day. Make this be a good day. Sustain us through all the hours by the remembrance that Thou art our Father. So shall we be able to face all the events of this day with serenity and confidence. Give us the royalty of an inward happiness, a happiness that is independent of time and place and outward circumstances. So shall we be garrisoned with fortitude and strengthened with courage, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

STAND UP AND BE COUNTED

I invite you to consider the Christian Church. More specifically, will you think of your relationship to St. Stephen's Church of Philadelphia. We have come to that time of year when, in keeping with the highest traditions of the free Church, we are summoned to "Stand up and be counted!" This Sunday, November 26th (Called "Stir Up Sunday," because of the Collect for the Sunday next before Advent), we shall be asked to pledge our financial support to this Church for the year 1968.

Georgia Harkness places the Christian in proper perspective: "The Church is the chief conserver of spiritual values, and it is the institutional embodiment of our Christian heritage. During the Dark Ages it preserved not only religion but civilization; it has fostered the spread of education throughout the centuries; it has nourished the spirit of democracy; it has built moral attitudes into the lives of millions of persons; it has made people more humane in their treatment of the weak and the underprivileged; it has goaded consciences to abolish slavery; it has lifted the position of women and children. We are the inheritors of this freedom and this humanization, in which the Church has not been the sole, but has been the chief agent. To turn our backs on the Church is to cast off our cultural parentage."

Carl Sandburg addresses himself with earthly honesty and disarming candor: "Most of us agree that Protestants have never hammered very much on the duty of going to Church. We have said all the time, it is necessary for the Church to make itself attractive and interesting, so that people will want to come. There are obligations on the part of people not to sit home listening to the radio. That is too easy. Do something difficult. Go through rain and snow. You have to feel that you are a part of the greatest organization on the earth that is going to outlast all the rest . . .

"You can't go tramping around from Church to Church and fulfill your obligation. You've got to settle on one Church and throw your life into it . . . Who would want to go to a picnic all the time and eat out of other people's baskets? It is our obligation as members of one Church or another, to give ourselves to it. It is the only hope of peace on earth and good will to men that exists among us. It is The Church and its Savior, its Prince of Peace, who is the last hope of earth, and yours is a high and holy opportunity to support it with your understanding loyalty."

There is no need to tip-toe lightly around this matter. We need the Church and the Church needs us. There can be no excuse for gentle evasions, for the plain fact is that money is needed in larger amounts to carry on the work of this Church. There are places in this world where it is dangerous to be a Christian, dangerous to freedom and to life itself. Not so in Philadelphia. The danger we face is more subtle, the danger of apathy and indifference. It is against this danger that we now would take our stand as mature, dedicated and responsible Christians. I invite you to take your proper place in company with others, that this Church may move forward in strength through the year 1968.
—Alfred W. Price

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 26th, Layalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by Pledges the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1968. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their Pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this Card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the Annual Re-Dedication and Pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

A fine article about our healing ministry in St. Stephen's Church appeared recently in the "Universal" Newspaper of Mexico City. This newspaper has a very large circulation not only in this city but throughout the Mexican Republic.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHRISTMAS CARDS

Beautiful Christmas Cards of St. Stephen's Sanctuary of last Christmas are available. The cost is $3.00 per box of 20 folders and envelopes.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS

Each year St. Stephen's Church donates baskets, or the equivalent, to those who are unable to give their families the fullness of Christmas cheer with which others are blessed. Will you help with your generosity? Please use the special CHRISTMAS DINNERS envelope.

PLAY HIS MUSIC

As we approach Thanksgiving Day, what are our deep-down reasons for gratitude to God? There are many—including our loved ones, our health, our memories, our dreams, and the goodness of God. It will not be hard to say, "Thank You, God!"

One of the special and wondrous reasons for thanking Him is that "we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses," our saints whom we are thinking of on All Saints' Day. Whether we sit at a long, happy Thanksgiving family table, or alone in a wheel-chair far from home, or in the service in a foreign land, our hearts will still swell with gratitude for those cherished witnesses. Whether we be rich or poor, healthy or sick, we are free to look back and be lifted up by the remembrance of those people who brought God closer to us. No circumstance can dampen that strong thankfulness. How truly rich we are, we who have seen God working through those we knew and loved.

These people were wise and humble enough to know their helplessness without God, just as the beginner in music knows that he is helpless without the masters of music. As he tries to learn to play the violin, he does not try to compose his own music. He and his teacher look through the works of the great composers, until they find a Bach Chorale or a Strauss waltz simple enough to begin on. So our beginner learns to love great music, and to play it to the delight (eventually!) of his family and friends. He loses himself in great music.

Doctor Tournier, that choice physician of souls, points out that "our life is a score composed of God. From Him,—and from Him alone,—can we get the great and simple truths of life. In the living and teaching of Jesus, God gave us sheets of music that we can learn to play. We play the music—but it is God's music." Dr. Tournier points out this strengthening fact about God the Composer—that, as we strive to play His music, "the Composer is not absent. He is there during the performance. He leans over . . . and encourages; He whispers in your ear, making clear His intentions and helping you to put them into execution." God is there, helping you to play His music.

Of course God leaves us free to compose our own little halting music, if we prefer. We can make up penny tunes that jingle and blair—if we like this better. We can play our cheap little airs, or choose the mighty music of God through Jesus Christ. On Thanksgiving Day we will be grateful to God for those choice people who choose the music of God, and followed His score throughout their lovely lives!

ST. STEPHEN'S FELLOWSHIP GROUP will meet on Nov. 19th after morning service, in the Community House, where refreshments will be served. The Study of our Lord's Life will continue, with His teaching and Parables. Everyone is welcome, both men and women.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America.
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67
The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 117-8

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Jesu, Priceless Treasure" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Gracious God, our Heavenly Father, in whom is the fulness of light and love and power, give us grace to worship Thee in spirit and in truth. Lift us to spiritual heights, that we may worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. And grant that when we descend to the common ways of the world we may be so illumined by The light, so moved by Thy love, and so strengthened by Thy power that we shall be serene and confident and victorious. We ask in Christ's name. Amen.

The Choral Introit: O Holy Savior, Friend unseen
The faint, the weak on Thee may lean,
Help me, throughout life's varying scene,
By faith to cling to Thee.

The Processional Hymn 309 ..... Creation
The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal
The Psalm #62, Page 413
The First Lesson: Daniel 3: v. 8
The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal
The Second Lesson: St. Mark 10: v. 46
The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal
The Period of Silent Meditation:
None other lamb, none other name,
None other Hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other Hiding Place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.
The Anthem: "In Faith I Calmly Rest" ..... J. S. Bach-Dickinson
The Sermon: "The POWER OF JUSTICE" ..... The Rector
The Offertory Hymn 536 ..... Old 124
The Doxology, Presentation of the Colors
The Recessional Hymn 551 ..... Ein' Feste Burg

Flowers on our Altar today are provided by the Katherine Kennedy Fund in memory of mother Blanche Virginia Hershey Kennedy.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. John Pintavalle

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—The doctors say that the hardened tissue (it was like a stone) in the liver has decreased in area, and I can note it for myself. I was sure of it before they said so. I am feeling well and carry on my work without getting too tired. In May I was given less than a year to live and most of that time I was to be an invalid.
—Newell S. Booth (Harrisburg, Pa.)

RESPECT AND VALUE YOURSELF

Leslie Weatherhead recalls an Edinborough weaver who repeatedly offered this unusual prayer: "O God, help me always to keep a good opinion of myself." And he goes on to point out that Jesus told us to love our neighbors as ourselves—to value ourselves highly, since God made us, and made us for high purposes. We may, in our weaker moments think of ourselves as trifles, but "when the King picks up a trifle, it is a trifle no longer!"

In the same way, when an ordinary man lets God pick up his life and use it, that life becomes radiant with God's wonder. In the hands of a Master, strange and unpromising instruments come alive. Norman Cousins tells how, deep in the African jungle, he saw the famous Doctor Schweitzer sit down to play the evening hymn on an ancient, battered piano. "It must have been 50 years old. The keyboard was badly stained; large double screws fastened the ivory to each key. One or more of the strings were missing on at least a dozen notes. The felt covering the hammers was worn thin and produced tinkling effects. Dr. Schweitzer was one of the world's greatest interpreters of Bach—a man who could fill any concert hall on earth, The best piano ever made would be none too good for him. But now he was about to play a dilapidated upright, virtually beyond repair. And he went about it easily with a dignity that never left him. The amazing thing was that the piano seem to lose is poverty in his hands. Whatever its capacity to yield music was now being fully realized . . . His being at the piano strangely seemed to make it right."

Each of us can reach the high destiny God intended for us. All He requires is that we think highly enough of ourselves to remember that we were fashioned by Him—then, if we will but fit ourselves in His hands to use, all our possibilities for harmony and joy will be drawn out of us by Him. Like Albert Schweitzer at the hopeless-looking piano, God knows what is in us that He can bring out!

That was the chief difference between Judas and Peter. Both failed their Lord completely—gave in to their fears and desires, and betrayed Him. Judas forgot that he was of God's making, and took his own life. Peter remembered that God had made him to be an instrument out of which could come glory and healing and peace. Peter put his life back into the hands of the Risen Lord, and lived with miracle-filled power.

Before you can love your neighbor, you must learn to respect and value yourself. God has need of the melody of your life to cheer the discouraged and give hope to the lost. Just let the King pick up your life, for, "when the King picks up a trifle, it is a trifle no longer!"

THE NEW LITURGY OF THE LORD'S SUPPER

(The Rector has sent the following to four of our Episcopal Church Magazines)

For the 800 or more Episcopal Churches that are now using the Service of Holy Communion as a basis for their weekday healing services, the New Liturgy will be a distinct disappointment. The 24 references to healing in our Prayer Book Service are reduced to 12 in the New Service. The 17 references to the "body" have been reduced to 5. Thus Christ's redemptive concern for the whole man, body and soul, is seriously compromised in the New Service. Those who are endeavoring to obey Christ's command to preach, teach and heal will find little comfort in relegating the Penitential Order to an option, for healing is forgiveness, forgiveness is healing. The substitution of "The Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ keep you unto everlasting life" for "The Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ which was given for thee, preserve (heal) your body and soul unto everlasting life" is disappointing to say the least. The healing of grief or the Communion of Saints is not helped, it seems to me, by substituting "Grant them mercy, light and peace" for "Grant them continual growth in Thy love and service."

Our Liturgy has always been a healing Liturgy. Why should it be changed at this late date? Why must we go back to the Hellenistic soul-body cleavage, the Gnostic and Manichean down-grading of matter which so profoundly influenced early Christian though? Why must we go back to preaching a truncated Gospel with its message of redemption applied to the forgiveness of sins without the logical extension of that message for the making whole of the mind and body, and for the full integration of personality? In Jesus, the Christ, God reconciles and restores lost persons, bodies as well as souls, when conditions are met. Renewal of life, the power of the Resurrection, is experienced by the total person, here and now.

For those who use the New Liturgy for the weekday healing service, I would suggest that the logical order would be a service for the ministration of the laying-on-of-hands followed by the Thanksgiving Service, the Eucharist, for the healing received through the laying-on-of-hands. (Rev.) Alfred W. Price

THE WOMEN OF ST. STEPHEN'S will hold their regular monthly meeting in the Community House on Thursday, Nov. 16th at 10:30 A.M. There will be a film on East Asia presented by a speaker from overseas Missionary Fellowship. All Women Are Welcome.

ST. STEPHEN'S FELLOWSHIP GROUP will meet on Sunday, Nov. 19th after morning service in the Community House, where refreshments will be served. The Study of Our Lord's Life will continue with His Teaching and Parables. Everyone is welcome, both men and women.

A SALTY PERSON

Jesus never commanded us to be the sugar of life. Rather, "Ye are the salt of the earth." What's on the inside of each of our lives must be salty.

That surprises us a bit, doesen't it? We thought that Jesus wanted us to make life sweet for other people, as sugar sweetens our morning coffee. But He did not say, "Ye are the sugar of the earth." A Christian, He said, is a salty person.

What is it that salt does? Salt brings out the flavor of whatever you are cooking—rice or bread or meat. Some people even put a pinch of salt into a pot of coffee, to bring out its rich taste. Now this is what Jesus did for people—He came into their lives, and brought out the delicious flavor they could have in their living, right where they were. He did not bid Zaccheus to take up a new kind of work (in Luke 19). He showed how his dreary, stale job could be changed into a fresh delicious way of helping people. In the 5th Chapter of Mark, Jesus healed the demoniac, and did not invite him to come along with Him—He said, "Go home to your friends and tell them how much the Lord has done for you." He sent him right back to the familiar town, to share the good taste of life lived under God.

There are hosts of people who suffer from spiritual "diabetes"—too much sugar in their lives! When a doctor discovers this physical disease in a patient, he puts him on a sugar-free diet. Too much sweetness can be fatal to a man's spirit, as well as to his body. And sugar smothers the flavor of whatever is eaten. Too much of it in coffee can kill the fragrant taste, and the result is a sort of sticky syrup. Too many sweet words, thanking a person who has been helpful, turn out to be sticky sentimentality. Too much pleasure-seeking gums up our inner lives so that we can no longer taste the wonderful tart flavor of difficulty and hardship. Too much luxury dulls our appetite for living. Sugar is dangerous!

Jesus bade us to be full of the salty-power which gives relish to other people's living. Real concern for others is a salty quality that makes life taste good for them. Filled with the self-giving way of salt, you can become a true Christian—the salt of God's earth.

—(E. M. Schock—Bath, N.Y.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Bethany Church in Quincy, Massachusetts, under the auspices of the South Shore Council of Churches, Sunday evening, November 5th through Tuesday, November 7th.

The Triennial Ingathering of $4,917,722.93 of the United Thank Offering presented at Seattle was the largest offering ever received. Our delegates voted to give half of the total to the Presiding Bishop's Urban Crisis Fund and half for the extension of Missions around the World.

The Diocesan Ingathering Service will be held in Christ Church, Philadelphia on November 14th at 8 P.M.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Prayer for Peace" ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Thou loving and tender Father in heaven, we confess before Thee, in deep sorrow, how hard and unsympathizing are our hearts; how often we have sinned against our neighbors by want of compassion and tenderness; how often we have felt no true pity for their trials and sorrows, and have neglected to comfort, help, and visit them. O Father, forgive this heavy sin and make us more truly Christ-like in our compassion. This we ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

The Choral Introit
The Processional Hymn 300 ..... Winchester New

The Psalm #140, Page 516
The First Lesson: Job 1:1-21
The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal
The Second Lesson: II Corinthians 11:18-30
The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal
The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other Hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other Hiding Place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "The Lord Is My Shepherd" ..... Franz Schubert

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to rest in green pastures: He leadeth me beside still waters. He giveth peace unto my soul: He leadeth me in paths of goodness, for His name's sake. Yea though I walk thru' death's vale of shadows, no evil will I fear: for Thou art still with me; Thy rod and staff, they comfort me. Thou preparest a table for me, in presence of mine enemies: my head with oil Thou anointest: my cup runneth over; Yea, surely peace and mercy all my life shall follow me: and I will dwell with God forever more.

The Sermon: A PARABLE OF VALUES ..... The Rector
The Offertory Hymn 497 ..... Dundee
The Doxology, Presentation of the Colors
The Recessional Hymn 433 ..... Langran

TWO UMBRELLAS

George Toregenisen once observed that whenever you find a shining Christian character, you will always discover (in the background) someone "with two umbrellas."

He tells a story of a young Philipino student who came to this country to study at a mid-western University. On the first Sunday morning, he was awakened by a heavy rainfall. He was just about to close his eyes for some more sleep, when a fellow-student appeared in the doorway, an umbrella under each arm. He offered to show the young Philipino the way to his church, and then go on to his own. The young Philipino had never found Christ in his own Church, though he still attended it. As the two students started down the street, the foreigner thought, "If this fellow-student has such a faith and such an interest in my spiritual life, surely I ought to find out what his faith is like." So he began going to his friend's Church, and did find Christ there. He became a famous Bishop of that Church, back in the Philippine Islands. He bears witness to his life-long debt to the friend of two umbrellas.

These two-umbrella-people are the life changers, the givers of strength and loving-kindness. They are forever reaching out beyond themselves to shield someone else from the weather, to guide another through storm to a place of safety. Stop for a minute, now, and shut your eyes, and remember the two-umbrella people who have blessed your life . . . Because they valued you so much, you learned to value yourself more. Because they shared their treasure with you, you became more rich. Because they let God put His shoulder under their load, they had strength to carry part of your load. Through them you have caught new glimpses of the wonder of Jesus; new tastes of the goodness of life flavored with God's compassion; New love of great music; new hints of the marvels of God's created world.

When Jesus commanded, "Love your neighbor as yourself," He was simply telling us to be two-umbrella-people. Jesus taught His friends to invite others in, out of the storm, under God's protection. They came and stood at the door of people's lives, with an umbrella on each arm. It's your turn now, to get two umbrellas and be on your way!

A THANKSGIVING FOR THE CHURCHES

Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the gifts and graces that have been brought into the Christian family through the great divisions of Christendom . . . for the Roman Catholic Church with its glorious traditions, its disciplines in holiness, its worship, rich with the religious passion of the centuries, its noble company of martyrs, doctors, and saints . . . for the Eastern and Orthodox Churches, their secret treasure of mystic experience, their marvelous liturgies, their regard for the collective life, and their search for a common will as a common source of authority . . . for the great Protestand and Evangelical communions, with their concern for the rightful independence of the soul and of the group . . . for the Baptist Churches with their stress on personal regeneration, and the conscious relationship of the mature soul to its Lord . . . for the Presbyterians, with their reverance in worship, their respect for the sovereignty of God, their confidence in His faithfulness to His Covenant . . . for the Society of Friends and their sacraments of silence, their practice of the presence of God, their cherishing of the inner light of every human soul, their great love for peace and their diligence in Christian service . . . we thank Thee for the Lutheran Church, for its devotion to the grace ofGod and the Word of God enshrined in its strong ministry of the Word and Sacraments . . . we thank Thee for the numberless Gospel Halls, many that are humble and without beauty in form, and yet warm with Gospel convictions and Christian faith.

Grant, O Lord, that as Anglicans, with our tradition of reverent and temperate ways, our Catholic heritage and Protestant conscience, our yearnings for the Unity of Christendom, and our desire to be used by Thee in a ministry of reconciliation, we may respect and serve all Christians everywhere. Lead us all towards the Unity which is Thy will. Enable us to recognize our true heritage and our prejudices, our treasures of faith and our sectarianism; and give us the courage to discard the unworthy and to bring all that is good to Thee and to our brethren, that in Thy presence we may give and receive, and bemade one, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ALL SAINTS' DAY

Wednesday is All Saints' Day. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Adagio" ..... ~~J. S. Bach~~ César Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father who art the rock upon whom men build their lives in strength and beauty, we pray for Thy blessing upon those who yearn for inner security. We remember those who look with dismay upon the changing values of a changing world, whose inner foundations have crumbled beneath the storm, who are victims of spiritual unrest. Turn their eyes to the hills from whence cometh their help. Be Thou the confidence of their hearts, the hidden Spring whence their souls are fed. May they learn with glad assurance that: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee"; through Jesus our Lord. Amen.

MAGNIFICENT DEFEAT

When a stubborn human being faces God head-on, something has to give!

Frederick Buechner gives new meaning to us in Jacob's struggle at the River Jabbok. He had been a most "successful" man. By shrewdness, cunning, and deceit he had gained what he wanted. Then he dreamed of a great ladder set up on the earth the top of it reaching into heaven, and the Lord God Himself saying to Jacob, "The land on which you lie I will give to your descendants . . ." So he turned homeward to the land that God had promised to give. He went home to get that gift—he was a "getter". And then he dreamed again—this time, a stranger leaping at him out of the night—they struggled—Jacob seems to be winning. Then the stranger touches the hollow of Jacob's thigh—and suddenly Jacob lies on the ground, crippled and helpless. But he hangs unto his opponent.

"The darkness has faded just enough so that for the first time he can dimly see his opponent's face. And what he sees there is something more terrible than the face of death—the face of love . . . the face of a man flees down all the darkness of his days until at last he cries out, "I will not let you go unless you bless me." Not a blessing that he can have now by the strength of his own cunning or the force of his will, but a blessing that he can have only as a gift."

When a stubborn human being faces God head-on, something has to give! Jacob, looking into the face of God's love, gave in. Beaten, he asks for God's blessing. Buechner rightly calls this "A Magnificent Defeat of the Human Soul at the hands of God."

It was Jesus who led the way for us into this "Magnificent Defeat." In the Garden of Gethsemane, all that was human in Jesus wanted something that was not the Cross. He, too, wrestled with God, until, at last, He gave in.

Jacob's surrender was the last thing in the world he desired. Jesus found Him so painful that the sweat poured from His forehead. But "When a human being surrenders to God, and God takes over, great and wondrous things begin to happen.

Wherever you are, you may be at your Jabbok, your Gethemane. You know what you want. But God stands against you. You wonder why. Then it occurs to you that, in His wisdom, He may have something for you far better than what you wanted. So you ask Him to bless you, yielding your will to His. In such a surrender one can receive His best gifts!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—All I can say is, "Thank you" from the bottom of our hearts for your prayer ministry which has had such a decisive effect in my father's healing. He has taken a definite turn for the good and is now growing in energy, appetite, and possesses a new desire to live, and is resuming his medical practice. I am yearning for the day when such a prayer ministry can be carried on in the parish I am now serving. May our Lord continue to bless your work. —Rev. William J. Bovard (Caledonia, N.Y.)

GO TO CHURCH—Dr. Alexis Carrell, a physician, a scientist, and the co-inventor, with Charles A. Lindberg of the mechanical heart, said to a patient:

"Go to Church: You'll feel better."

And Dr. Carrel is not the only scientist who knows that Church going really works. Psychologists, whose life work is devoted to examining the minds of men, agree that individuals who attend Church get along better with themselves and with others than those who do not attend a Church.

There's a reason for that—and Dr. Carrel has put it into words as well as anyone I have ever heard.

You do feel better when you go to Church. You have a sense of belonging—belonging to a great group of people devoted to a common cause.

You get faith by being with faithful people.

You gain a feeling of restfulness—the sense of peace that comes from a quiet period of meditation undisturbed by worldly affairs. You are thus able to realize the Presence of God from which everything proceeds.

You get a feeling of security—the knowledge that there is one institution that has withstood the buffets of 1900 years of storm and strife.

And all these things add up to a sense of strength—the strength to carry on throughout the week with the inspiration given to you by a Sunday morning at Church.

Come to Church next Sunday, you'll feel better. May I look for you then?

Faithfully, Alfred W. Price

The Rector will preach in St. Paul's Evangelical United Brethren Church in Williamsport, Penna. Sunday evening, October 22nd.

The Fall Meeting of the Southwark Deanery will be held in Trinity Memorial Church, 2212 Spruce Street, at 3 P.M., Tuesday, October 24th. Dinner will be served at 6 P.M.

The Prelude: "Prelude in C Miner" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Father, we remember before Thee the blessings that companion us on our pathway. We lift our hearts in gratitude for sunny skies and delightful days, for worthy tasks that engage our fingers and high hopes that fill our minds, for the fellowship of good neighbors and the love of dear ones far away, for the contentments of today and the expectations of tomorrow, and for all the joy that gladden our lives. Lift from our minds any burden of anxiety. May we remember that Thy compassions fail not. Help us to know that all things work together for good to them that love Thee. And grant us Thy peace. Amen.

DARE TO KEEP ON LOVING

Jesus was very shocking sometimes. He still is! To Nicodemus, a Churchman and a Patriot, He said, "God is so loved the world." Not "God so loved the Church", or "God so loved Israel", as Nicodemus might have expected. Instead—"God so loved the WORLD"—hated Samaritans and Romans, and all that great hodge-podge of "outsiders", people of all colors and races, good and bad—He loved all of them. ....

With God, there are no "outsiders." Therefore, there can be no one outside of the concern of those who dare to call themselves "Christians." Deep within us, we can draw on the infinite resources of the God who so loved the WORLD, that His Son, in His last words from the Cross, gathered in His loved ones and His haters with the wideness of His compassion.

So often "nice" people accept the crowd's standards—be nice to those who are nice to me; strike back at those who are hateful. But Jesus kept on caring about the hateful ones. He knew that, back of their hatefulness, lay some nightmare in their hearts, some hurt in their childhood, some lurking despair. He kept on yearning, hoping for their freedom to live and laugh and love. In the brief Gospels we find so many "outsiders" He loved and transformed—the disgraced woman caught in adultery, the Samaritan woman at the well, the crooked tax gatherer, Levi, the Roman Captain whose daughter He healed. He took His cue from His Father, Who "so loved the WORLD . . ."

There is no adventure more exciting than loving widely—not even the exploration of space. The courageous space-men make memorable discoveries, but they cannot lift people from black despair into radiant hope. And Love can—Love, with God in it, to transform leaden-hearted into those with a song in their hearts.

So you can step out into each fresh, new day, with the Love of God for the WORLD; and depend on His victorious power. Suddenly, as you face sullen resentment, He will give you the word, or the look on your face, that melts and transforms. Sometimes His Love in you will meet rejection, and put you on a Cross. Dare to keep on loving, for in the long run, Love always wins. As Edwin Markham wrote:

"He drew a circle that shut me out—Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout!
But Love and I had the wit to win: We drew a circle that took him in!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Please forgive me for not writing you sooner and thanking you for all you did for me during my appointment with you in Philadelphia. I can't begin to tell you what a sense of release I have had. It wasn't instantaneous, but today, for the first time, I feel my healing has taken place. I am so grateful to God and to you for being His channel that I could shout for joy. Maybe now I can be a channel for someone else, as I have experienced His Power in forgiveness and the ultimate healing as a natural consequnce. —Helen Johnston (Takoma Park, Maryland)

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will hold its first meeting of the new Season after Morning Service on Sunday. October 15th, in the Community House. Mrs. Price will continue the Review of the Life of our Lord with film strip and musical selections. There will be refreshments. All Are Welcome.

The Rector wil conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Episcopal Cathedral, Easton, Maryland, Sunday evening, October 15th htrough Tuesday, October 17th.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

One of the great events of every General Convention is the service at which the women of the Church present their United Thank Offering, which supports an enormous amount of the Missionary Work of the Church both in this country and in other places, far and near. Is is presented every three years. At the serviece in Seattle on Wednesday, September 20th at 8 P.M., the Women of the Diocese of Pennsylvania presented $251,453.89, and of this amount the Women of St. Stephen's Church have given $1,822.25. The total of the Offering presented in Seattle was $4,917,722.93.

Now another three-year Offering begins, and the Fall In-Gathering in St. Stephen's will be on Sunday, October 22nd. The contents of the Blue Boxes should be placed in the special U.T.O. Offering Envelopes and brought to Church for this presentation. Mrs. Ruth Leithead is the Custodian of the United Thank Offering of the Women of St. Stephen's Church.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Clara Robinson, Mrs. Pearce, an anonymous giver, Elizabeth B. Bowne, and Mrs. Mildred B. Fishburn.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67
The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Page 217-8

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Cantabile" ..... Cesar Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord of the great sacrifice, restrain our eagerness for the things that are seen. Thy Cross is our rebuke. Increase our spending for the things eternal. Lord of the sinless life, our hope is to become like Thee. Fulfill our hearts in service, that our hope be not in vain. Lord of the holiest joy—the joy of boundless giving—teach us Thy grace of losing, that our joy may indeed be full. The world counteth all things lost if it gain not the things it may reckon. Help us to count all things but loss, to win Thee, the wealth unmeasured. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. John 9:1-38

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen

The Anthem: "O Be Joyful In The Lord" ..... Ainslee Cox

O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands, and come before His presence with a song. Serve the Lord with gladness and come before His presence with a song. Know ye that the Lord He is God: He hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are His people, and the sheep of His pasture. O go your way into His gates with thanksgiving. O go your way into His courts with praise! Be thankful unto Him and speak good of His name.

The Sermon: "A PARABLE OF GROWTH" ..... The Rector

The Offertory Hymn 564 ..... Lyons

The Doxology, Presentation of the Colors

The Recessional Hymn 458 ..... St. Margaret

GIVE IT A TRY

Some time ago I happened to go into a Roman Catholic Church and came upon unexpected treasure. In the rack of paper-back books for sale, I found "The Bump on Brannigan's Head", by Myles Connelly. Now Brannigan was a hard-drinking man with a vile temper which erupted just often enough to hide the more lovable man under the skin. All Whittiersville knew of the terrible-tempered Tom Brannigan. Then, one Saturday night, he was slugged on the head; and when he came to—with a great aching bump at the back of his head—he began acting in the most surprising way. Gruffly he made friends with the neighbors at the back of the house, with whom he had a violent feud. He continued on the new way, with ventures in friendship which startled those who knew him, and with results that looked like miracles. The back-neighbor whom Brannigan had hated (because she played the radio so loudly) found that she was no longer deaf, and could keep her radio soft, and still hear it. There were healings in connection with other adventures in kindness. The local newspaper got hold of the story, and began to call him "St. Thomas", and the whole community picked it up. Tom was deeply embarrassed.

One of his brand new friends asked him, "Tell me something, will you mister? What makes you so uncommonly holy? Is you a saint?" Brannigan grinned, "I'm an experimenter", he said. When the newspaper-man interviewed him for a story on "The saint of Whittiersville", Brannigan exploded, "Saint of . . .—don't pull any of that stuff on me, or I'll wring your neck. I tried something and somehow it seemed to work."

Actually, the way of loving-kindness turned out to be a rough road, but Tom was a stubborn man, and he continued doggedly, hopefully. One day Josie was telling him what a wonderful saint of a man he was, and he replied, wearily, "I don't have any special angle or anything, Josie. It's all been in the Gospels for a couple of thousand years. All I did was to give it a try."

Jesus told that kind of miracle when He said, "He that believeth in Me, the works that I do shall he do also". And that is a fact—when anyone dares to "give it a try"!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—This letter should have been written three weeks ago when our brother, Otto Wothe, was discharged from the hospital. He is gaining strength every day. He was there for nine weeks and the doctors did not expect him to live since his heart was more than as large again as normal, and all his organs were involved. I cannot find words to express my thankfulness to all your wonderful people who have prayed for him. Elizabeth Wothe (Cortland, N.Y.).

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will hold its first meeting of the new Season after Morning Service on Sunday. October 15th, in the Community House. Mrs. Price will continue the Review of the Life of our Lord with film strip and musical selections. There will be refreshments. All Are Welcome.

THE WOMEN OF ST. STEPHEN'S will meet on Thursday morning, October 19th, at 10:30, in the Community House. Messages from the Delegates of our Diocese to the Triennial Convention in Seattle, Washington, will be given. All Are Welcome.

Our thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Rev. Carl S. Berninger, Laura Roddy.

O. S. L.—Philadelphia Chapter will have the first meeting of the new Season on October 15th, at 2 P.M.—Dr. Hitner, Convenor.

PRAYER AT EVENTIDE

I bring Thee now, O God, the parcel of a completed day. For I have wrapped it in my thoughts, tied it with my acts, and stored it in the purpose for which I live.

As the evening falls and while I seek Thy face in prayer, grant unto me the joy of good friends, the curative power of new interests, the peace of the quiet heart.

Bestow upon me, Eternal Spirit, lights as darkness comes—
Light not of the sun but of the soul, not for the eye but for the mind.
Light by which to judge the errors and the wisdom of the day's work.
Light for the path that the soul must find in the tangled ways of coming days.
And grant Thou again the healing touch of sleep. Amen.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House

Dear Lord and Father of mankind, forgive our fevrish way; reclothe us in our rightful mind; in purer lives Thy services find, in deeper reverence praise. In simple trust like theirs who heard, beside the Syrian Sea, the gracious calling of the Lord, let us, like them, without a word, rise up and follow Thee. O Sabbath rest by Galilee! O calm of hills above: Where Jesus knelt to share with Thee the silence of eternity, interpreted by love. Drop Thy still dews of quietness, till all our strivings cease; take from our souls the strain and stress, and let our ordered lives confess the beauty of Thy peace. Breathe through the heats of our desire Thy coolness and Thy balm; let sense be dumb, let flesh retire; speak through the earthquake, wind and fire, O still small voice of calm.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Thank you for your letter and for the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship for my son. He is now fine, and we are most grateful. Ever since I first heard of your Church and read some of your literature I've been convinced that God wants wholeness for all His children. It must be that way. That is why I like your prayer approach, your Church, your writings and your prayers have helped us often and we are sincerely grateful. —Alvan Roder (York, Penna.)

WHAT CHRIST COMMANDS

Jesus had a way of turning up in places where He was not expected—like the cemetery in Gerasenes' country where the mad man had his hideout. People were startled by Jesus because He went to the places and the people which the "religious" people avoided. "What are you doing there?" the Church people kept asking.

Supreme Court Justice W. O. Douglas tells a tale of a Christian missionary who went to India to save the heathen from their blindness and bring them into the light. One day, in a crowded city, he saw a beggar seated on the pavement, his body covered with sores. He felt moved by the man's misery and went to speak to him of Christ's power to save his soul. The beggar listened for a long time. Finally he said, "You have spoken much of believing. Did your Christ say anything of how men should live?" "Yes," said the missionary, "He said that we should love one another, and we should love our neighbors as ourselves." So did all the great teachers," replied the beggar, "but which of their disciples acts upon it? You, yourself—do you do what your Christ commands?" I try to," replied the missionary. "Good," replied the beggar, "then bring me a bowl of water and wash my sores." The missionary felt a little sick. He said he would come again, when he had more time. Which he never did. But, wherever he went, the words went with him, "You yourself—do you do what your Christ commands?"; "I try to"; "Good! Then bring a bowl of water and wash my sores."

Each one of us will meet a "beggar" today or tomorrow—someone we shrink from. It could be just a physically dirty person whom most "nice" people avoid. It could be a woman with a rattle-snake tongue, who sometimes strikes us where our favorite sin lurks. It could be someone in deep pain of spirit or body, who will be wanting a big hunk of our time. It could be a "bore" who is so self-centered that he wants to talk about himself when we want to talk about ourselves. It could be someone who seems to be in love with the "wrong" person, and who wants someone who will listen. It could be almost anyone in great need, this beggar.

As we approach our next "beggar" we might be listening to a voice that asks, "Do you do what your Christ commands?"

WORKERS' COMMUNION

Sunday, October 1st is World-Wide Communion Sunday. We combine our Annual "Workers'" Communion with this of our Parish Organizations. We ask them to begin the Fall season at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask God's blessings on all that we do.

PRAYER FOR OUR CITY

The Rector suggests that the following prayer be used by all our members and friends every day at noon.

Heavenly Father, we pray that Philadelphia may be a city that hath foundations whose Builder and Maker is God. May we have just laws, citizens with love and righteousness in their hearts, neighborhoods of friends of every race and Creed, young people preparing for a better future.

I pray for the power of the Presence of God in this city, and in every city of our land. I pray that I may do nothing to fan the flames of fear, suspicion or hatred, but that my every thought, word and deed may increase a spirit of Christian Love and understanding; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

GUEST SPEAKER

On Thursday, October 5th we shall have the great privilege of the presence to speak to the congregation at both Healing Services—12:30 and 5:30 P.M., of Dr. Edward Falla Aubert, M.D., Director of Burrswood, Kent, England. He will tell of the famous Dorothy Kerin, her miraculous healing, her life's work, and the relationship of religion and medicine as practiced at Burrswood.—COME AND BRING A FRIEND.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Fair Street Reformed Church, Kingston, New York, on Sunday evening through Tuesday, October 1st-3rd, inclusive.

The Rector participated in a Panel Discussion on "Death—A Period Of Transition" with the Professional Staff of the Educational Program of Jefferson Medical College on September 26th.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Kathryn Neild, Miss Emily G. Ravenel and Mrs. Paul E. Dorheim.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America:
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 214-5

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Aria" ..... Flor Peeters

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, Thou lover of mankind, in whose hand is the life of every living creature; we lift our hearts to Thee in grateful devotion. Thou hast given us our yesterdays, and their record is within Thy book of remembrance. Our tomorrows are within Thy loving care. Today is ours. Help us this day to produce glad music at the console of the organ of life. We would lightly touch the keys of rejoicing, strike the chords of inner harmony, and sound the deeper notes of enduring faith. Open our eyes to the gladness of wayside mercies—budding flowers, trembling leaves, fleecy clouds, radiant dawn, and quiet evening. Awaken our minds to the beauty of form and color and to all of nature's loveliness. Teach us to find music in the charm of conversation and the laughter of little children; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Introit

The Processional Hymn 288 ..... Hanover
The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal
Psalm 116, Page 486
The First Lesson: Eccl. 12
The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal
The Second Lesson: St. Luke 2:41-52
The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal
The Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: Only-Begotten Word of God Eternal ..... Allanson Brown

Only-begotten Word of God eternal, Lord of creation, merciful and mighty, list to Thy servants, when their tuneful voices raise to Thy presence. Lord, we beseech Thee, as we throng Thy temple, by Thy past blessings, by Thy present bounty, smile on thy children, and with tender mercy, hear our petitions. God in Three Persons, Father everlasting, Son, Co-eternal, ever blessed Spirit, Thine be the glory, praise and adoration, now and forever.

The Sermon: DEAR NAMES AND FAR PLACES ..... The Rector
The Offertory Hymn 424 ..... Vox Dilecti
The Doxology, Presentation of the Colors
The Recessional Hymn 519 ..... Ebenezer

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Harry J. Hauger in loving memory of her husband.

BEER INTO FURNITURE

When Jesus spoke of the necessity of being "born again," Nicodemus said, "How can these things happen?" A learned teacher, it is probable that Nicodemus knew very well what Jesus was talking about, but it made him feel uncomfortable. He was admitting a possibility of the new birth, but he did not want to see how it could happen to him!

Now the Hebrew word "ruach" means "spirit." It also means "wind." So Jesus smiled quietly at the uncomfortable teacher, and reminded him that one doesn't understand just how the wind works, but one can see what it does. You do not sit on the shore and philosophize about the mystery of the wind—you get into your boat and hoist the sail!

Jesus could really communicate with people, even very respectable learned, religious people. Jesus "reached" Nicodemus, for the scholar, later on, went to the governor, with Joseph of Arimathea, to claim Jesus' body. To do so courageous and "unrespectable" an act, he must have been born again. He may not have found out just how the Spirit works—but he had opened his heart and let it work a miracle in him!

William Barclay tells of a workman who had been a drunken reprobate, and then was converted. His work-mates did their best to make him feel foolish. "Surely," they said to him, "you can't believe in miracles and things like that. Surely you don't believe that Jesus turned water into wine." "I don't know," the man answered, "whether He turned water into wine when He was in Palestine, but I do know that in my own house He has turned beer into furniture!" Barclay goes on to note how many things we use without understanding how they work—television, telephone, automobiles. We know how to reach out our hand, and take advantage of their powers.

So Nicodemus gave up fussing over the mystery of God's Spirit—instead he let it into his heart, to transform his life. Willing to obey that Spirit, he became a different man.

Let the same Loving Spirit take hold of you, direct your life, and you will find yourself in the middle of a miracle as great as any done long years ago in Palestine!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Over a month ago I asked you to place my name on your Prayer List. I was entering the hospital to have breast surgery. Naturally I was fearful and apprehensive of the outcome. I am so happy to report that the lumps turned out to be a harmless cyst. I have been thanking the Lord every day since then. The whole time I was in the hospital I felt sure that God was right there with me. All I kept thinking was: "Right this very minute someone is praying for me." And also the words you say after a healing service, "Go, and I know that God is healing you." I intend to make the healing services at St. Stephen's a "must" every week from now on, and I hope that I, too, can help someone else find not only good health, but a spiritual awareness.

—Rita Catalano (Phila., Pa.)

ORDER OF ST. LUKE CONFERENCE

5,317 people attended the various sessions of the four-day International Conference on the Church's Ministry of Healing held in St. Stephen's Church September 10th through 13th.

30 Denominations were represented; clergy and laymen came from 25 States, eight from overseas countries: Australia, Congo, Africa, Puerto Rico, Belgium, Liberia, India, England and Canada. There were 78 clergymen present. There were 17 speakers and 37 addresses. 50 new members were inducted into the Order. Some 1600 persons enjoyed the Social Hour Periods in the Community House.

Words are inadequate to express our appreciation to Mrs. Madeline Keller who supervised all the activity in the Community House, and to her twenty volunteers for their untiring efforts. Our devoted Verger, Mr. Clifton Johnson and his wife prepared and cooked the fine menu, and nearly 200 people enjoyed the excellent Tuesday dinner. Miss Hazel Bainbridge did a magnificent and flawless job in managing the ushers, offerings, healing and Communion Services.

We are grateful for these Bulletin Subscriptions: Miss Rita Catalano, Mrs. Thomas J. Dodd, Mrs. Don Forman, Mrs. A. P. Valentine.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Antiphons" ..... Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, we assemble in the name that is above every name, to offer Thee our heart's devotion. We thank Thee for this quiet hour in this hallowed place. Here the pressure of life is lifted. Here the shallow desires of earth are stilled. Here the deep hunger of our hearts is satisfied. Bless us this hour. Reach our souls with Thy Spirit. Grant that our familiarity with the outward symbol may not close our hearts to the inflow of Thy power, and that limitations in the human medium through which Thy Word is spoken man not dim our eyes to its splendor. May Thy Word be a light to our path and eternal life to our souls; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other Hope in heaven, or earth or sea,
None other Hiding Place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: Let All The World ..... Robert Baker

Let all the world in every corner sing my God and King! The heav'ns are not too high, His grace may tither fly! The earth is not too low, His praises there may grow. The Church with psalms must shout; no door can keep them out! But above all the heart must bear the longest part. Let all the world in every corner sing my God and King!

RESHAPING OUR ATTITUDES

Jesus was a most embarassing Person—He upset the religious leaders of His day so profoundly that they had to get rid of Him. One day He went right to the heart of the matter:

"Why do you look at the speck of saw-dust in your brother's eye, with never a thought for the great plank in your own? Or how can you say to your brother, 'let me take the speck out of your eye, and at the same time there is a plank in your own? You hypocrite! First take the plank out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's." (New English translation)

This speaks directly to me. I find myself often tempted to judge others, to say, "So-and-so is terribly irritable. . ." Then I come bang against what Jesus said, just before the verse quoted above, "Pass no judgment, and you will not be judged. . ." "Pass no judgment"—that hits me where I live!

But, Hallelujah; Paul points out that, with every temptation, God provides an escape. Here is an escape-route out of temptation to judge. Instead of saying, "What is it in that person that so gets my goat?," ask a very different question—"What is there in me that lets my goat be gotten by that person?" So God is invited to shed light on my shadowy ways. God may well show me that I'm irritated by that person because they are so apt to be right and I'm so apt to be wrong. Or because I have allowed myself to remain the prisoner of some special sin, whereas this other person is winning God's growing victory. Or because I have let myself sag into a frustrated old-age groove (at 16 or 60), while the other person has kept young and adventurous in spirit (at 16 or 60). This discovery is most unpleasant, until we let God deal with it.

When we honestly face our own plank, and ask God's help to remove it, then things begin to happen! Our passion to reform the other person gets under control as soon as we seek God's help in reforming (reforming equals re-forming: equals re-shaping) our attitudes. We find that letting God transform me into a more lovable and understanding person is about all we can handle. The miracle is that He can change me—and He does, when I am willing. He can even increase my capacity to love others—so much so that our lives become richer, more used and more useful. One slips off to sleep at night with a new peace of heart—God's peace.

So—out with the plank—and on to adventure and freedom!

MIDDLE EAST RELIEF

Our Presiding Bishop suggests that Sunday, September 17th be observed as Refugee Sunday. A spontaneous outpouring is needed from all Episcopalians all across America. It is our response to the urgent call to aid war victims throughout the Middle East and to restart compassionate work among the distressed of all religions and nationalities in every country affected by the conflict.

The Milk Can on the steps of St. Stephen's Church has been used for distressed persons overseas for the past 25 years. A quarter of a million dollars in food has been provided for this purpose during these war years through the contributions of old men, women and children who are homeless, hungry, sick and afraid is truly urgent. Make your generous gift to the Milk Can or Sunday, or whenever you pass the Church.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Rev. R. H. Bischoff, Gladys Given, Mary Peoples, Mrs. John Prate, Mrs. Mary L. Seltzer, Mrs. Herman Williamson, Mr. Herbert Wong.

ENGAGEMENT

The Rector and Mrs. Alfred W. Price announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Van Dyke Price, to the Rev. Michael Wynne Parker, Minister of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Norwich, England. Jean is a graduate of Susquehanna University and is presently teaching music in New Haven, Conn.

The Prelude: "Sinfonia con Tromba in D.....Torrelli

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and Eternal God, whose sons and daughters we are, we beseech Thee to awaken us to a new sense of our mission as Thy children. Help us to live under the compulsion of high imperatives. Strengthen us to follow closely in the steps of Him who went about doing good. Use us as Thy messengers to any who are troubled. Show us how to give strengthening companionship to the lonely and discouraged. Teach us gentle words of healing for those in pain and grief. Guide us to give wise counsel to the wayward and tempted. In all our dealings with distressed humanity keep us faithful to the Spirit of Christ, who came, not to be ministered unto, but to minister. Amen.

a. Recitative (Soprano)

What have I to do with thee, O man of God?—Art thou come to me to call my sin unto remembrance? to slay my son, art thou come hither? Help me, man of God, my son is sick! And his sickness is so sore that there is no breath left in him! I go mourning all the day long, I lie down and weep at night! See mine affliction, be thou the orphan's helper—help my son, there is no breath life in him!

b. Recitative (Baritone)

Give me thy son. Turn unto her, O Lord, my God; in mercy help this wodow's son! For Thou art gracious, and full of compassion, and plenteous in truth and in mercy. Lord, my God, let the spirit of this child return, that he again may live!

MEDICINE AND RELIGION

The faith of the individual patient is a vital factor in total health. It is not a matter of whether we agree or disagree or accept this particular type or degree of faith. The patient has faith and we must treat the patient within the realm of his faith."

These words appear in a pamphlet published by the American Medical Association's Department of Medicine and Religion. They point up a medical fact of life—man cannot be divided neatly into segments and treated successfully in segments. His hungers . . . his fears . . . his weaknesses . . . physical or mental, overflow onto the whole man and affect his total health.

Recognizing this. physicians and clergymen are working together today with a degree of mutual regard that is dissolving communication barirers between scientists and theologians.

At the national and local level, in medical school seminars and medical society meetings, in the pre-dawn quiet of hospital corridors, ministers and physicians are helping each other help patients.

THE MEANING OF LIFE

Dr. Victor Frankl, a member of the Medical Faculty of the University of Vienna, in an address made in 1958 has this to say about the meaning of life:

"In my opinion," said Dr. Frankl, "man is dominated neither by the will-to-pleasure (Freud) nor by the will-to-power (Adler), but by what I call the will-to-meaning; that is to say, his deep-seated striving and struggle for a higher and ultimate meaning to his existence. This is his mission in life—his unique task." He then went on to describe his experiences as a prisoner in a concentration camp during the Second World War! Everyone in the camp was suffering; at one time he thought he himself was dying. In reference to that experince he said, "While the concern of most in the camp was: 'will we survive the camp? For if not, all this suffering makes no sense'; the question for me was, 'Has all this suffering, this dying around us, a meaning? For if not, there is no sense to surviving.'"

CANCER

About 12 months ago I had reason, in the course of my work, to go to see Sir Cecil Wakeley who is undoubtedly the most remarkble surgeon we have in England, and foremost in the work of searching for the cause and cure of cancer. In his own office in the headquarters of the Imperial Cancer Research, we talked and he got out his Bible (a wonderful thing to have a surgeon with a Bible in his desk) and we looked at it together—and he said:—"Yes, cancer is one of the diseases that came out of Egypt, and in my view, not until this nation returns to God, listens to God, does what is right, observes the statutes of God, are we going to be released from the curse of cancer." (The Rev. Canon Wallace Bird).

"Man is the only creature who can talk himself into a tizzy (or nervous breakdown). He is also the only creature who, by talking though, can talk himself out of his troubles. Our problem is to figure out how to use "the magic words" to pilot us out of a sea of troubles into the promised land of a happier life."—David Harold Fink, M.D.

ANOTHER DOCTOR:

Dr. Garfield G. Duncan, Professor of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, declares: "The wise physician never discounts the healing power of faith, the handmadien of prayer. Often he has felt the inward courage of a patient about to undergo a serious operation. He has observed the lack of fear and the abiding faith in the patient who has learned that his survival time is short. He has seen the remarkable convalescence affected favorably by the faith and prayers of the patient, his friends and relatives who visit him, and of his clergyman. All is well with a man who has established this means of grace and source of inspiration and strength, this handclasp with God in his daily living. The power of prayer is intangible. It is difficult to define, but those who gained access to this power know of its force for good. The results of prayer are not intangible. They are very practical expriences which can be measured in terms of peace of mind, of increased well-being, and of the jof of living."

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: "My Heart Is Filled With Longing" ..... Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Holy Spirit of God, abide with us; inspire all our thoughts; pervade our imaginations; suggest all our decisions; order all our doings. Be with us in our silence and in our speech, in our haste and in our leisure, in company and solitude, in the freshness of the morning and in the weariness of the evening; and give us grace at all times humbly to rejoice in Thy mysterious companionship; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

SPREAD ABROAD THE TWELFTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE ORDER OF ST. LUKE—which begins next Sunday, September 10th. Bishops, Clergymen, Doctors and Laymen will bring helpful addresses on the Church's Ministry of Healing. The Rev. George Bennett, Director of The Divine Healing Mission, and Warden of Crowhurst Home of England, will preach at the 11 O'clock service: "The Healing Touch of Jesus."

At the evening Session, 7:30 P.M. addresses by three noted speakers on various aspects of the Healing Ministry.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday: Noonday brief preaching service; afternoon session at 2:30; evening session at 7:30.

We need the help of members of the congregation to serve as ushers.

EXCITING ADVENTURE

There is a Roman Catholic Order of "The Little Brothers and Sisters of Jesus." Their task it to work in the very poorest sections of the industrial cities of France and among the Algerians in North Africa. When they join their Order, they promise that they will never mention the name of Jesus unless someone asks them why they have chosen to live among the poor. Harvey Cox, in passing on this story, comments, "Perhaps this is the kind of reticence we should be learning today."

We Church people are inclined to talk too much, aren't we! A young woman was coming to her Pastor to talk over a marital problem. He listened as she told of her own faith; and how her husband had no interest in Church-going, or "being saved." He would not even talk with her about faith. Little, by little, however, it became apparent that he was a devoted father, taking an unusual amount of the care of their children; and a self-giving husband. One day the Pastor quietly observed to her, "it strikes me that you have been talking a very good religion, while your husband has been practicing it without talk." She blinked for a moment, and replied, "You are right." From that day on, there came a new peace and loving-kindness into that household—less talk, more Christian living!

James, in his great Epistle, catches Jesus' emphasis on action: "My brothers, what use is it for a man to say he has faith when he does nothing to show it? Suppose a brother or sister in rags with not enough food for the day, and one of you says, "Good luck to you, keep yourself warm, and have plenty to eat," but does nothing to supply their bodily needs, what is the good of that? So, with faith; if it does not lead to action, it is in itself a lifeless thing." —(New English Translation)

Christianity is an incarnation—faith, an in-the-flesh belief. Just as God became real in the blood-and-bones life of Jesus, so God expects that we will welcome Jesus to become real and living in us. This is costly business—it means that I let Him "take over." Strenuous? Yes!! But, as James says, "As the body is dead when there is no breath left in it, so faith divorced from deeds is lifeless as a corpse."

It takes a lot of prayer and courage to turn over one's will to Christ. After we have done this, every once in a while we fall flat on our faces. But the resolute, continuing attempt to live under His commanding is the most exciting adventure in the world—isn't it!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Your Prayer Fellowship has completed eight weeks of prayer for me. The headaches, which had been bothering me for more than five years have left me. I thank God many times daily for this miracle. My heart is joyful. I have been drawn so much closer to God through the exercises contained in your literature.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and most merciful God, whose fatherly concern broods over all Thy creatures; descend upon us, we pray Thee, as the spirit of quietness, that we may be prepared in heart and mind to receive Thy blessings. Make us aware of wider horizons. Take from our eyes the film of selfishness, and give unto us the spirit of generosity, so that we may see how fair and gracious life may become. Let us welcome the larger heart and kindlier hand, and help us to enter more fully into the joys of following Jesus; we ask in His name. Amen.

EMMANUEL

The breath-taking wonder of Christmas is a God who came on earth because He loved "the little people" so much.

The Old Testament Prophets had courageously predicted a kingly God Who would some day come to earth, but was still far away. They had prophesied a God Who loved Israel as Hosea loved his unfaithful wife, but still a God men could not know or see. Here was hope, but hope unfulfilled. Still the little people plodded on, loaded down with the burden of life, with sometimes a ray of hope that God might come.

Then, on the first Christmas Day, He CAME! Emmanuel, "God with us", here and now in everyday's living. They saw Him lift up the broken lives with His love; Heal the sick lives with His caring power; Warm the cold lives to a new strength of love. For He had "to announce Good News to the poor, to proclaim release for the prisoners and recovery of sight to the blind; to let the broken victims go free. . . ." He had come, not for the high-and-mighty, but for the little people—US!

He had come for the numberless hosts of people loaded down with the sense of blundering and sin; disheartened because they had not done better by those who depended on them. He had come for those who were bound by the grip of old guilt, who knew no way out of their hopelessness. And here He was among them, saying, "Neither do I condemn thee—go and sin no more." This was a God who forgives, and sets men on a new brave path toward a rising sun. They saw Him, this forgiving, redeeming God, in Jesus—just as you see Him today in the precious lives in which He lives and works.

Yes, He came for little people like you and me! As Paul Lawrence Dunbar put it into words:

"Po'li'l black sheep dat strayed away, done los' in de win' an' rain;
An' de Shepherd he say, 'Oh hirelin', go fin' My sheep again.'
An' de hirelin' say, 'Oh, Shepherd, dat sheep is black an' bad,'
But de Shepherd He smile lak dat li'l black sheep was de onliest lamb He had.
An' de Shepherd go out in de wilderness where de night wuz col' an' bleak.
An' dat li'l black sheep He fin' ut, an' lay it close to His cheek;
An' de hirelin' frown, "Oh Shepherd, don' bring dat sheep to me,'
But de Shepherd He smile an' hol' it close, an' dat li'l black sheep wuz me."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—A month ago I asked for healing prayers for Robert who was in quite an emotional crisis, and had slipped away from his spiritual ideals. He was filled with resentments and unable to communicate and seemed to be headed for real trouble. Three weeks after I submitted his name, I received a letter, the first in two months. I am so happy to report that his whole attitude has changed. The healing took place and I am so grateful to you and the Prayer Group for being channels through which God's healing Love flowed to my son. God bless you all.

NOTEWORTHY NEWS ABOUT SCOUTS: Albert Sheehan, Scout Master, Troop #2, of St. Stephen's, has been honored by the receipt of the Distinguished Service Award from the Liberty District of the Philadelphia Council, American Boy Scouts, in recognition of 25 years excellent service with the Organization. Our sincere congraulations, Al.

Paul Schmid, son of the Clerk of St. Stephen's Vestry, has earned and received the rank of Eagle Scout. We wish to extend our sincere congratulations to this fine young man also.

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will hold its regular meeting after Church service on Sunday, December 17th, when Wassail will be served. The Review of the Life of our Lord will continue with events on and around the Galilean Lake. All are welcome.

YOUR CHURCH ENVELOPES for the year 1968 will be ready for you today. They are arranged in alphabetical order on the table in the rear of the Church. We will appreciate it if you will pick up your box of envelopes so as to prevent damage if and when they have to go through the mail.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES are as follows: Sunday, Dec. 24th, 9 A.M. and 11 A.M. 5:30 P.M.

Christmas Day: 9:00 A.M. and 11 A.M.: Special Music by the Choir; Sermon by the Rector.

Our prayers of thanksgiving go up for the Rev. Andrew W. Mayer who celebrates his 37th Anniversary of his Ordination, on December 20th. Mr. Mayer was ordained in St. Stephen's Church.

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Behold, A Rose Blooming" ..... Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, who has taught us in Thy Word that we are members one of another, we bring to Thee the record of our lives, stained with the memories of offences against our brethren. We confess before Thee the indifference that has wounded the brokenhearted, the cynicism that has frozen the enthusiasm of youth, the cruelty that has checked the gentle confidence of age, and all our sins of indolence and neglect. Grant us Thy pardon. Teach us, so far as lies in our power, to make amends. And grant us wisdom to chose whatever things are true, honorable, just, pure, lovely, and of good repor ; htrough Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

YOUR CHRISTMAS LIST

Today we are asking ourselves how best to prepare for Christmas. The answer, for a Christian, is simple—pray for the people on your Christmas List, those people for whom you have not been able to think of a suitable gift. To do this is to obey the basic law of Christ—'Thou shalt love"—and simply apply it to your Christmas praying.

In other words, make a fresh list of those people for whom you have no gift. One by one, lift each name to God, seeing their face as you pray. Just let God speak to you, when He is ready—about each one, and their real need, their heart's desire. In God's light you will find yourself filling in the right gift, after each name. It will take some time.

For a few, the gift will simply be a letter, or a specially loving Christmas Card, with a few loving words from you. These are people who will be happiest if you simply send them something of yourself, your memories, your love, your news of yourself. With others God may direct you to a present which will satisfy some special need, or hope—something you might never have thought of without God's help. Real prayer moves on to action. As Evelyn Underhill points out, "Each time you take a human soul into your prayer, you accept from God a piece of spiritual work with all it costs without—a task which may mean for you spiritual exhaustion and darkness, and . . . suffering, the cross."

Thus your Christmas list will be more than things. It will include hard work, forgiveness asked, and foregiveness given. It may lead you to a search among old letters, to find that one in which your friend's father said how proud he was of his child—what a Christmas present that letter would make! It may result in giving a book in which you share a newvision with your friend—for him, a new door into freedom.

This will be a costly list. In terms of money, it may cost far less than usual (thus leaving you a tidy sum to give for those dying of hunger). But, in terms of YOU, it will cost more. It is the costly gifts that bless people.

Trust God to find out your Christmas List. Then your Christmas will truly be the celebration of the birthday of the God of Love!

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

There are many people who do not technically belong to St. Stephen's Church but who for the time being make this their Church. There are always a considerable number of them who bind their tie closer by making a committed gift to the Church. They will find Pledge Cards in the pews.

If everyone in a congregation such as our does his part and considers seriously what the Church has given to him and what he can give to the Church, we should have no difficulty in fulfilling what we believe to be the opportunity of this Parish

THE FIVE SURPRISES OF TITHING . . . A person who has practised tithing for many years says that if any Christian tithes, he will have FIVE surprises: he will be surprised:

1. At the amount of money he has for the Lord's work.
2. At the deepening of his spiritual life in giving the tithe.
3. At the ease of going from the tithe to larger living.
4. At the preparation this gives to be a faithful and a wise steward over the nine-tenths that remain.
5. At himself in not adopting the plan sooner.

We wish to thank these helpers who sent in U.T.O. Envelopes: Frances F. Bailey, Mildred W. Leach, Mrs. Charles A. Livezly, Jane MacLeod, Lena Wilmer.

We want, also, to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Eloise P. Hutt and Elena Lynch.

THE GREAT DELIVERER

Sometimes we feel trapped; we just cannot break free!

One Summer a vacationing family stopped to picnuic at a State Park. The adventurous four-year-old trudged off to explore. Finding a wooden platform with a trap-door in it, he managed to pull it open. But he leaned too far, and fell right into the garbage-pit! The trap-door slammed shut above him. It was very, very dark and very, very smelley down there. He couldn't get out. So he shouted for help, and his mother heard the faint, muffled little voice, and pulled him out. There are times when we desperately need a deliverer!

So many of us find ourselves sitting in a very smelly darkness we have made for ourselves. It may be chronic self-pity that landed us in helpless discouragement. Or it may be our hair-trigger inclination to resentment. There we are—in the dark, with the smell of our selfishness all around us. And we are helpless to get out unless someone comes.

The wondrous news of Christmas is that Some One did come! "Do not be afraid; I have good news for you . . . today in the City of David a Deliverer has been born to you—The Messiah, the Lord" Christmas is the birthday of the Great Deliverer.

There is no depth of hopeless darkness from which He cannot lift us. True, He sometimes leaves us with a physical handicap like Polio, or blinded eyes; or confined to a wheelchair. But He does always deliver us from the power of the handicap over us. Some people make a wheelchair look like a triumphant chariot! They are grateful to God for giving them the victory over their handicap.

To open the door for the Deliverer, you simply open your heart to Him; and you invite Him to come in, and have His way there. You are tired of managing your own life, and you want Him to live there, and be free to work through you. You turn yourself over to His directing, and He goes to work. You find Him giving happiness to people, through you. Yon find freedom from yourself. You call, and He comes—the Deliverer.

When there are enough people with room in their hearts for Him, then this tumultuous world will become heaven. It will be at Peace, under Him. In the meantime, there will be a bit of heaven around every life where He is at work—every life like yours!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I feel like I'm one of the ten lepers whom Jesus healed and who neglected to go back and give thanks. I was wonderfully healed when you were here in Fargo, N. Dakota. I have felt the pain no more. My desire is to use my good health to serve Him who loves me and gave His life for me.

—(Mrs. Clara Anderson, Fargo, No. Dakota.)

Mrs. Margaret Stanley, Chapel for the Hard of Hearing Custodian of the U.T.O., wishes to thank these contributors: Mrs. Louise M. Price, Dorothy Morrison, Mrs. Beatrice Merrow, Mrs. Emily Weber, Mrs. Douglas Cole, Gertrude Bergen, Elizabeth Hawley, Gladys Given, Mrs. Francis Spratt, Rev. Gustav C. AN ADVENT QUIET MORNING for Episcopal Churchwomen will be held in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Rittenhouse Square, on December 6th at 10:00 A.M. The Conductor will be the Rt. Rev. Angus Dunn.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Frances F. Bailey, Mrs. Eda MacPhee, Mr. & Mrs. Herman A. Williams, Louise Braun, Mrs. Marie Chase Cole.

PASS IT ON

David was saying "Good-bye' to his aunt and uncle. Years ago when he was only seven and an orphan, they had taken him into their home and raised him. David looked at them with the rough peddler's hands from years of selling fruit and vegetables, and he grabbed the rough hands, exclaiming, "How can I ever begin to repay you two, for what you've done for me!" Uncle Asher spoke gently, "David, there's a saying—'the love of parents goes to their children, but the love of these children go to their children.' David protested, "I'll always be trying to . . ." His aunt interrupted, "David, what your uncle Asher means is that a parents' love isn't to be paid back; it can only be passed on."

So Robert Raines—in his book "Creative Brooding"—gives us the clue for Christmas.

For, on Chirstmas Day, our memories are flooded with golden remembance of love poured out on us, as far back as we can remember. The climate of love at Christmas-time when we were little children. Or it might be a memorable aunt or uncle who thought of me as "special"; or a teacher who had time to share with me the riches of Kipling or of St. Francis of Assisi. It could be someone, who, at a bewildering crisis in my life, stepped into the room and brought hope, and the beginning of confidence. You know that you cannot repay these treasured people for their love. You can only pass it on!

Deeper still, Christmas Day reminds us of God who has loved us so patiently, so everlastingly, that we want to repay Him. But that is not what God wants. Rather, Jesus said, ". . . if I, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet . . . as I have loved you, so you ought to love one another." So Christmas Day is the earthly birthday of a God who loves us, and just does not want to be paid back. He bids us to pass on that ever-redeeming, ever-joy-giving love.

As God gave Himself to us on Christmas Day, so we are to give ourselves to others. Your Christmas, 1967, can celebrate His coming by some special act of love for someone in need of it. Take a half hour, quietly asking Him who it is that needs your loving-kindness most, and what you can do for them—a telephone call, a letter, a forgiveness, an apology, a warm and personal call . . . You cannot repay God for His love, but you can give Him joy by passing it on!

Our sincere "Thank You" to these Bulletin subscribers: Dr. Elmer S. Carill, Mrs. Cora M. Cook, James O. Lyman, Sylvania MacVaugh, Gertrude J. Steele.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 144 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

SCARECROW

The Lord, our Father, does let painful things happen to us. He lets heavy and frightening handicaps make our lives difficult. We live in a dangerous world, and these negative things can happen, do happen, to saints and sinners alike. Not that He deliberately sends these experiences to us but that we are not puppets on a string and therefore have freedom of choice. The strange truth is that we protest and complain about these trials, never suspecting that He has hidden treasures in them for us to find.

Hannah Hunard spent the first 20 years of her life in misery. "I was a miserable, morbid, self-centered person who never felt any love for anyone, shut up in my own torment. Till I was 19, I never remember feeling happy . . . I had two hateful and tormenting handicaps. One, a horrible stammer . . . until I was 19, I never went into a shop alone, nor onto a bus or a train . . . At school I suffered torments. The other handicap was, in some ways, worse than the stammer. I was obsessed by tormenting fears . . . terror of the dark, terror of heights, terror of crowds . . . and daily and nightly a horror of death." Then, one glorious day, her prayers were answered, God became real, and she gave herself to Him; and her transformation began. One day she came across Frank Boreham's Sermon of "Scarecrows":

"As with the Virgins in the Parable, so with the birds of the field. There are two kinds, the wise and the foolish . . . A WISE BIRD KNOWS THAT A SCARECROW IS SIMPLY AN ADVERTISEMENT. It anounces in a most forceful and picturesque way, that in the warden, which it does its best to adorn, some very juicy and delicious food is to be found for the picking. THERE ARE SCARECROWS IN ALL THE BEST GARDENS. Every thoughtful bird learns in time to regard a scarecrow as an invitation to a banquet. He feels as a hungry man feels when he hears the dinner-bell ring; and swoops down on the delicacies to which the scarecrow calls him. If I am wise, I too shall treat the scarecrow as though it were a dinner-bell . . . Every giant in the world which makes me feel like a grasshopper is only a scarecrow beckoning me to God's richest blessings. FAITH is a bird that loves to perch on scarecrows. She knows that there are scarecrows wherever there are strawberries. All our fears are groundless."

It is a new thought for many of us, to think of our night-mare terrors as signs welcoming us to a banquet. But Hannah Hurnard found that this is true in actual, day-to-day living. She found, rich by each of her most dreadful-looking scarecrows, the richest treasures of God's rich grace and loving-kindness. She found, at last, how wonderful He is in His abounding Providence.

The Rector will be away for the next six weeks, leaving January 3rd for San Diego, California. He will conduct Missions of Christian Healing in La Jolla, Santa Barbara, Beverly Hills, Downey, California; and in Scottsdale, Tuscon, Arizona.

The Rev. Andrew W. Mayer will be in charge of the Sunday and weekly services, and the Rev. Eugene Lefebvre will conduct the Thursday Healing Services.

KEEP ON KNOCKING

Jesus promised, "Ask, and ye shall receive." But when does God grant our requests—right away, or later? It makes one wonder.

Frederick Beuchner found a clue to the answer in that famous American fairy-story, "The Wizard of Oz." You remember how Dorothy, the little girl, was blown by a cyclone out of Kansas into the Land of Oz. To get back home, only the Wizard of Oz could help her. So she sets out on the long and dangerous journey to find the Wizard. On the way she is joined by three most unusual creatures: "The Scarecrow, who wants a brain more than anything else; the Tin Woodsman, who yearns for a heart; and the Cowardly Lion, who is searching, of course, for courage . . . Strangely enough, whenever they are confronted with some sort of physical danger, it is always the Cowardly Lion who somehow manages to fight their way out of it. Whenever the obstacle necessitates, it is always the brainless Scarecrow who figures out a way to circumvent it. And, as the Tin Woodsman, who is journeying in search of a heart . . . he is so given to being moved by the plight of others that everyone keeps having to rally 'round with an oil-can to make sure that his tears do not rust him."

The climax of the tale comes when, upon reaching the Emerald City at last, they make the shattering discovery that the great Wizard is not really great at all, not really even a Wizard. He is a rather helpless-looking man with a bald head who says himself that he is a humbug . . . What he does is to find out that each of them already has what he traveled such a distance to find . . . he says to them, in effect, that things like a brain, a heart, and courage are never had as gifts, but are always earned." But their resolute searching, by working at it, the sought-for treasure has been built up within them.

In Jesus' story, the man in desperate need of bread, secured it by persistence, by keeping on knocking. In "The Wizard of Oz," the four companions had kept on knocking. Suddenly they found that they had what they had been seeking.

There is something you are needing, and seeking with all your heart. Of course, as a Christian, you must first make sure as possible that it is something that God, in His loving wisdom, can help you to have. If it is, keep on knocking, seeking. Sometimes, it will suddenly be yours—the new strength, the enduring patience, the right job, the renting of your apartment. More often, you will find your treasure coming into your life as God gives Spring, little by little until, like a flash, you find that it is Spring! "How silently, how silently, the wondrous Gift is given."

Press on! Miracles come to those who keep on knocking!

Madeline Keller, Parish Visitor, wishes to express her sincere thanks and deep appreciation, for the Love Offering, from her friends at St. Stephen's presented to her recently. She was surprised and indeed, overyhelmed.

WITH GRATITUDE AND APPRECIATION

I do want to express heartfelt gratitude to all those who work with unfailing devotion and a deep sense of dedication in our Prayer Fellowship. During the Year 1967, 15,630 persons requested our prayers, and were held up in prayers for a period of four weeks for God's blessing, guidance and healing. Wonderful testimonies continue to come to us daily, giving us constant encouragement that God does answer prayer. So, let us move on in 1968 with a sense of thanksgiving and a strengthened determiniation to serve our Lord and the many needy persons of this community and the world at large with hope and firm faith.

—Alfred W. Price

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscriptions to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. At the present time we mail out about 680 every week. They go to individuals and families of people who live in 18 of our States, and a few go to Canada. It goes not only to members, but also to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. Due to the necessity of mailing almost half of them each week by first class mail, the weekly cost figure is in the neighborhood of $70.00. Our recipts for the year 1967, reported by the Parish Treasurer, came to a total of $1,166.30 toward expenses of the weekly Bulletin; this is about $11.00 more than last year's receipts; but about $280.00 less than total expenses.

If every family would give $2.50 per year, the cost would be met. Of course a great many on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so a generous check or two from those who are financially able to do so, will help cover those unable to contribute toward this expense. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who are financially able to do so, will help cover for those unable to contribute appeal necessary. An envelope for this purpose was enclosed with your last week's Bulletin.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67
The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 112-3

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whsiper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O God, Thou Faithful God" ..... Karg-Elert

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We thank Thee, O God, for all Thy blessings in creation, for the beauty of earth and sky and sea; for Thy manifold works, and the wisdom with which Thou hast made them all; for the happiness of our earthly life, for peaceful homes and healthful days, for our powers of mind and body, for faithful friends, for the joy of loving and being loved; for the revelation of Thy love, and for newness of life in our Saviour; for the blessings brought to us by Thy holy Church, and for our fellowship with Thee in Christ; we thank Thee, O God.

The Choral Introit: O Holy Savior, Friend unseen,
The faint, the weak on Thee may lean;
Help me, throughout life's varying scene
By faith to cling to Thee.

The Processional Hymn 48 ..... Stuttgart

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm #103, Page 466

The First Lesson: I Samuel 3:1-18

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Mark 10:13-16, 35-44

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Anthem: "Light of the World" ..... Elgar

Light of the world, we know Thy praise the angels and archangels raise, and all the host of heaven; more worthily than our faint hymns, whose jarring sound that glory dims, which God to thee has giv'n. But Thou didst not disdain to take our low estate, or e'en to make the tomb Thy resting place. So Thou might bring into our night the dawn; the dawn of Thine eternal light to shine upon our face. Nor death nor hell nor sin is Lord, But Thou, O Son of God, Thy Word is now our sovereign law. Therefore we thank Thee and pray Thy light may shine unto the perfect day; Thy light may shine on us forever more.

The Sermon: RELEVANTS FOR THE ABUNDANT LIFE—III,
The Other ..... The Rev. Andrew W. Mayer

The Offertory Hymn ~~546~~ (To tune of #561) ..... St. Boniface

Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn ~~549~~ ..... All Saints New

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by the Vestry in memory of Mrs. Emily K. Campbell; and by Jos. Stokes Leeds in memory of his parents and sister.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—This is to let you know that my mother and Sister were helped very much in their understanding of life during their consultation with you recently. Something was kindled in them during that hour which gave us all a real sense that there is something greater than we are at work in our lives. Deep questions were answered for my sister. Thank you and bless you. —Jane Waller (Virginia Beach, Va.)

THE KINDLY YOKE

"For My yoke is easy . . ." Jesus assured the listening crowd, as they rested after the day's work. These people carried crushing loads—the weight of Roman taxes, the heavy demands of their ancient religion, the struggle for existence through drought and famine, the heaviness of their own failures and fears. (Job—"I'm a burden to myself.") Wearied by all that was piled on their backs, they looked up and took notice when He told them that His yoke was easy, and His burden, light.

Ever since the long-gone days of King Rehoboam, people have cried out, "Make the yoke upon us lighter." There are moments when all of us feel that life is too much for us, as if we were being flattened out by the weight of it all. The load is just too heavy, and that's the truth; anyway, we've carried it long enough—so we cry out to God. Then, in a moment of prayerfulness, we hear Jesus assuring us that His yoke is easy, and His burden, light. This is worth looking into.

The Master was promising them—and us!—that He would forever give us the strength to carry what He would put on our backs. For each one of us He has a plan; for each one, a special load He needs to have carried. Perhaps you are weighted down by grief—He needs you to carry your bereavement victoriously, to show others that grief need not be crushing if it is carried in God's strength. As you return to Him trustfully, with hope and prayer, He lifts that load of lonely grief to your own make-up. You accept it, and, little by little, you have from Him the strength to carry it with assurance.

"My yoke is easy . . ." Does that mean that it's as light as a feather? It actually means, "My yoke is kindly", fitted to your back with loving skill and understanding, as Jesus the Carpenter fitted yokes to the back of an ox. Accept it from Him, and find that it is never too much.

In "Prayers from the Ark", Carmen Bernos D. Grasztold gives us "The Prayer of The Tortoise":

A little patience, O God, I'm coming.
One must take nature as she is! It was not I who made her!
I do not mean to criticise this house upon my back—
It has its points—but you must admit, Lord,
It is heavy to carry!
Still, let us hope that this double enclosure,
My shell and my heart,
Will never be quite shut to you.

We wish to express our thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. William Arthur, Hazel L. Bainbridge, Donald S. Brooke, Mrs. Cora M. Brown, Florence M. Brown, Peter V. Decker, Mr. & Mrs. Charles L. Drain, Mary E. Duffy, Mrs. Ann Ewing, Ernest N. Gilbert, E. S. Heins, Mr. & Mrs. G. W. Hicks, Lillian M. Hunter, Mrs. Henrietta Jones, Mrs. C. Leight, B. Merrow, Dorothy Morrison, Mr. & Mrs. Horold Robertson, Mr. & Mrs. R. Seasongood, Mrs. Bessie L. Shaw, Mr. & Mrs. David C. Spaeth, Margaret J. Stanley, Mrs. Walter B. Walker, Thelma M. Weeks, Mrs. Charles H. Willits.

OFFERING

In the boxes of numbered envelopes usually put in the hands of people who pledge money for the work of the Church was a special one marked "For Foreign Missions". A parishioner wrote on his envelope, "I never give to Missions", and put it on the plate along with the regular envelope for that Sunday. When the parish treasurer came upon it sometime later, he took a dollar bill out of his own pocket, put it in the "I-Never-Give-To-Missions" envelope, and mailed it back to the parishioner with the added notation, "We'd better give you something, then; the offering is for the heathen."

We received, among the many prayer requests this past week, one which—condensed to the "meat" asked: "Please pray for the power of God to influence all leaders of peoples in the world to exert themselves in the interest of World Peace."

It surely could help if everyone reading this little publication would include in their daily prayers: "O God, our Father, use Thy Power to make all Thy children to think and act like Thy children."

The Prelude: "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, with gratitude we remember our Christian heritage; others have labored, and we have entered into their labors. We thank Thee for occasions when we may share the treasury of our love and experience with those in need. We rejoice in Thy good gifts, the tender mercies and loving kindness that have attended our ways. With shame we confess our frequent failure. Often we have witheld service we might have given; often we have passed by on the other side; often we have proved faithless. Accept our penitence. Give us new heart for the new day, fresh stimulus for greater fidelity; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: "O God, Have Mercy" (from "St. Paul") .....Mendelssohn

O God, have mercy upon me, and blot out my transgressions according to Thy loving kindness, yea, even for Thy mercy's sake. Deny me not, O cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy Spirit from me, O Lord, a broken heart and a contrite heart is offered before Thee. I will speak of Thy salvation, I will teach transgressors, and sinners shall be converted unto Thee. Then open Thou my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall show forth Thy glorious praise.

ROOM FOR ALL

If you seat yourself in a jet-plane and travel non-stop, it will be only 23 hours before you find yourself on the way home. Thus Stephen Baine has pictured the smallest of our jet-age world.

Less than a century ago. Jules Verne wrote his fanciful tale of Phineas Fogg's amazing trip around the world in 80 days. Only 17 years after that, Nellie Bly circled the globe in 8 days faster than the fictitious Phineas! In 1924 two U.S. Army planes circled the earth in 14 and a half days.

So the world is shrinking at a breath-taking rate, and getting more crowded all the time. In early New England days a man came upon a friend who was preparing to move out of his river-bank log-cabin. Asked why, the man smiled, "I saw some smoke down the river a few days ago— it's getting too crowded!" Only in the 20th century has the world shrunk enough to make a world-war possible. And the shrinking accelerates.

Zechariah in Old Testament days, anticipated this development. He tells (in the "Living Prophecies" modern translation)—"When I looked around me again, I saw a man carrying a yard stick in his hand. "Where are you going?," I asked. "To measure Jerusalem," he said. "I want to see whether it is big enough for all people." Then an angel speaks up, "Go tell this young man that Jerusalem will some day be so full of people that she won't have room for them at all! . . ."

How modern this sounds. Yet Zechariah was not terrified. For the angel continues, "Many will live outside the city walls, with all their many cattle—and yet they will be safe. Fo rthe Lord Himself will be a wall of fire protecting them and all Jerusalem." Then the Lord speaks, "Sing, Jerusalem, and rejoice! For I have come to live among you."

So, very compactly, Zechariah puts the problem—and the answer. When the Lord is welcomed, to dwell among His people in their new "Close togetherness," He—and He alone—can give safety. No longer is it a "nice ideal" to get along with other people—today it is a life-or-death necessity. We must accept the fact that all nations and races are God's children, part of our household, and that our sole safety is to discover and practice the ways of friendliness, of understanding, of compassion. When, under God, we make make it our first business to do this, then, indeed, they will be safe!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—This is to inform you that prayer has been answered in regard to my grandchild, David E. Todd, who had suffered a severe skull fracture. After being at your healing service and having the laying-On-of-hands visualizing him as a healthy, happy, romping little fellow, I returned home to find he was being discharged from the hospital the following week. We are thankful to God for His abundant blessings.
—Elizabeth T. Willard (Lancaster, Pa.)

T E S O

In modern alphabet terms TESO means THEOLOGY EDUCATION SUNDAY OFFERING, now a major source of income for the support of the eleven Episcopal Theological Schools in the United States. By proclamation of the Presiding Bishop this falls this year on January 28th. The leaflet enclosed with this Bulletin is for your information about the work of training future clergy.

The Offering from St. Stephen's Church will be divided between the Cambridge Thelogical School, the Rector's School, and the Philadelphia Divinity School. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

POWER—The Chaplain of the U.S. Senate was returning by air from a Religious Congress in Hawaii when one of the plane's engines went out of commission. A stewardess moved down the aisle reassuring the passengers, but the Chaplain felt that she too needed reassurance. "Nothing can happn to this plane," he told her, "There are eight Bishops aboard."

The girl smiled and said she would relay that comforting news to the captain. She returned in a few minutes and said, "I told the captain, but he said that he would rather have four engines."

AID SECOND—A Girl Scout, who was taking a first-aid test, was asked, "What would you do if your little sister swallowed the key to the house?" "I'd climb in throuh the window," she answered. (Reported by a Bishop)

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY
THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whsiper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Come, Blessed Death" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord Jesus Christ, who art the Eternal Wisdom of the Father, we beseech Thee to assist us with Thy heavenly grace, that we may be blessed in all our work, and above all things may attain the knowledge of Thee, whom to know is life eternal; and that, according to Thy most holy example, we may ever be found going about amongst our fellow men, doing good, healing the sick, and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom of Heaven; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Choral Introit: "O Holy Savior, Friend Unseen"

The Processional Hymn 385 ..... Austria-Haydn

The Response to the Decalogue: #709 ..... Willan

The Anthem: "When Thou Art Near"..... J. S. Bach

When Thou art near I fear no evil; when Thou art near my heart is glad; when Thou art near I feel great joy. Thou art my Guide, my Consolation. Great joy is mine when Thou art near: my Savior, comfort me. Hide not Thy face, look on Thy servant. In pain and sorrow wilt Thou heal me; Lord, hear the voice of my complaint. O Lord, my God, comfort Thy servant. Lord, hear me when I cry to Thee; help me, my God, my Savior. . . . Thou art my life, my strength, my joy.

The Sermon: "BEHIND THE FACADE OF CONSCIENCE,—WHAT?"
THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER

The Offertory Hymn 411 ..... Grace Church

The Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

The Kneeling Hymn 196 ..... Eucharistic Hymn

The Gloria in Excelsis #739 ..... Old Scottish Chant

The Recessional Hymn 487 ..... Ellers

Flowers on our Altar today are provided by the Katherine Kennedy Fund in memory of the Rev. Samuel D. McConnell, one time Rector.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:
—I want to use the word "unbelievable" to describe my inprovement and growth in Christ in coming to your healing services. My first visit to the Altar for the laying-on-of-hands made possible the abandoning a blood diet of over a year's duration. My second visit saw almost complete removal of gastric distress. My third visit made me see that there never has been anything organically wrong with me. My malady is a fear neurosis. Whenever I'm confronted with any new situation I'm overcome with fear and colitis. This condition is slowly subsiding as I enter every situation with the belief that Christ will see me Through. —Judith Nicholas (Levittown, Pa.)

THE WEAPONS OF JESUS

What weapons do we have, to fight the battles of the Spirit? We have the weapons of Jesus, which Jesus passed on to us in His life and in the Sermon on the Mount.

Eight weapons He gave us: Poorness of Spirit (Humble-mindedness); Mourning (Personal knowledge of Suffering); Meekness (Claiming nothing for one's self); Hunger and Thirst For Goodness; Pureness of Heart (Clean, single-minded Purpose); The Merciful Spirit; Peace-Making (Eager, Stubborn Desire for Peace); and Being Persecuted (Willingness to Suffer for Christ, and for People). What a strange Arsenal that seems! But Jesus proved, right in this world of ours, that it is mightier than any other. Those fiery young Disciples watched Him at first with question-marks in their hearts, until they saw Him use those weapons of love to conquer Hate and Death, and then, as their Risen and Triumphant Lord, win His throne in eternity.

They saw Rome set out with sword and chain and torch to wipe out the Christian Faith, to overcome Jesus. But, in three centuries of persecution, the weapons of the world grew dull with use, and, in 312 A.D. the Roman Emperor in desperation put the Cross on the shields and banners of his armies. The weapons of Jesus proved stronger than the weapons of Caesar.

In our century we have seen Jesus' weapons overcome a great Empire. In a swift thirty years, Gandhi taught the people of India to use Jesus' ways so faithfully that they won their freedom from the British Empire. They used nothing but the eight weapons Jesus gave us in the Beatitudes. Because they used Jesus' weapons, they could not be subdued.

Jesus is not an impractical dreamer, as so many luke-warm Church members secretly believe. He received those weapons from the God Who made the universe. They work, not only between nations, and races, but in your family circle—with that difficult teen-ager, or that mixed-up parent at his wits end. They work with that shut-in whose spirit is imprisoned in self-pity, and with that weary nurse who is about to "blow her top" at the sick person.

Jesus knew. His weapons are guaranteed forever. Keep on loving that trying person—sooner or later he cannot resist love. Be "Poor in Spirit", knowing that it is not your clever brain but God's infinite wisdom that has the real answers. Keep on loving that frosty person—and she will respond as a plant responds to the sun.

Be practical—use Jesus' weapons!

We've been asked to give notice of the NEXT MEETING—WORLD DAY OF PRAYER. The date is Tuesday, February 13th at 10 A.M. Church of the Holy Communion, 2111 Sansom Street.

It would be good to have St. Stephen's Church represented.

A Footnote taken from a church bulletin: "A drama in four scenes": 1. Car Salesman: "You're getting a real buy here. Your old car serves as down payment and you have 36 months to pay the rest at 8% interest. Customer: "Where do I sign?"

2. Clerk in the Appliance Store: "We'll give you two years to pay for your new refrigerator. What could be fairer?" Customer: "Where do I sign?"

3. Real Estate Salesman: "Isn't this house a beauty? Just think—30 years to pay. We'll even put the closing costs and insurance in the monthly payments." Customer: "Where do I sign?"

4. Stewardship Caller: "Now about our Church's program. It will need the full support of every member. We would like to invite you to make a pledge for the next year." Church Member: "What—are you crazy? Tie myself down for 52 weeks—No sir, I don't believe in pledging! Times are too uncertain!"

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

WHERE IS THE ENEMY?

In Guerilla Warfare the great question is, "Where is the enemy?" You have to locate him before you can come to grips with him.

In spiritual warfare, also the first first question is, "Where is the enemy?" Is he to be found in the trying circumstances around me; in one specially difficult person who bugs me; in the way my father and mother brought me up; or . . .?

Jesus knew where to locate the enemy. In Matthew 4 we see Him do it. Like warriors deeply versed in guerilla war, He knew that, most often, the enemy is right here—close by, even inside the temple in which I live. God had called Jesus to proclaim the Kingdom and its Good News, so He was facing the question, "How do I proclaim it?"

He found Himself sorely tempted—not tempted to do wrong, but tempted to choose the second-best way, instead of the best. As Ralph Osborne has explained, "Satan subtly presented to Him three tempting possibilities. None of them was obviously evil . . . the third temptation especially is one that we, too, must face. There was so little time for Jesus to fulfill His ministry, and the peoples' needs were vast. It seemed clearly right that His ministry use a "mass approach"; He would have no time for individuals, but must confront as many people as possible in His short time. It seemed so sensible . . . it must be right." But He saw that this was Satan's idea. It would only spread eye-wash, far and wide, and would save no one. God's plan called for meeting people, one by one; channeling God's Love to them, one by one; teaching them God's ways, one by one. So Jesus, in the wilderness located the enemy within Himself, and met him squarely. He rejected the short-cut, eye-wash ways, and founded the Kingdom on one-by-one costly ways.

You, too, may locate the enemy within your own heart if you "Go into the wilderness" this Lent, prayerfully, thoughtfully. We shrink from costly self-giving; from the effort of looking at irritating people through God's understanding eyes. But Jesus opened the costly way of the Cross to us, the kingly way of giving ourselves royally, extravagantly. This is His plan for us, that we live the Cross as He did. But the enemy whispers, within us, "This isn't possible." Maybe not, but it was God's glorious way for His Son, and it led to Life. It is also God's way for all who belong to His Son.

At the threshold of Lent, look within you. Do you find the enemy lurking right there? If you do, then at last you know where the battle is to be fought, and won!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Christian greetings from Chu Lai, Vietnam! I have before me since last year a copy of "A Spiritual Daily Dozen" which had your Church's name on it. It has given me much comfort. I wonder if it would be possible to acquire 25 copies of this card in order that I might share them with our fellowship. In case you are wondering where I got my copy, I'm afraid I cannot help, as I do not recall.—Colley A. Brigham

REMINDER NOTICE: The regular meeting of the Women of St. Stephen's will take place on Thursday, Feb. 15th at 10:45 A.M.

REMINDER NOTICE: St. Stephen's Fellowship Group will have their next meeting next Sunday, Feb. 18th, 1968, after the Church Service.

A Texan was told by his Rector that his eight-year-old son had deposited $50.00 in the collection plate on Sunday. The Texan looked at his Rector and said, "This is wonderful . . . I have been trying to teach him to tithe for years."

MENTAL REST

Mental rest is quite as important as physical rest. There are scores of short-tempered and crochety individuals whose difficulties are certainly not traceable to physical overwork. Their difficulties root themselves, rather, in a mind which is never given a chance to relax, and which naturally and finally rebels.

Begin today giving your mind as well as your body its due share of rest. Go to some place of quietness and beauty, perhaps a Church or a lovely spot in nature, and there empty your mind of all its confusion and cares. If that is impossible, go to your own room, shut yourself in, and make yourself stop thinking and worrying. If even that is beyond your reach, try to gain a few moments of inner peace right where you are. It can be done by turning your thoughts to this: "I'm a child of God: I'm God's child; He is my Father who loves me, cares for me, comforts me."

IF you must whsiper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Lord Jesus Christ, Be Present Now".....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Father of all mercies! God of all comfort! We bring before Thee the record of our lives, stained with the memories of sin and failure. Be patient with us, for if Thou turn Thy face from us, we are undone. Cast us not from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from us. Call us back to the high and holy path, Thou Shepherd of our souls. Place upon us once more Thy blessed yoke; set us face to face with our unaccomplished tasks, and we will prove our penitence by the constancy of our wills in the strength of Thy forgiving grace. Give unto us what Thou commandest, and then command what Thou wilt. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Praise" .....Rowley

To the Master of music and loveliness: Praise, power, dominion forever. To the Lord of the Word of Creation be praise, power, dominion forever. To the Maker of movement, color and light: praise, power, dominion forever. To the Builder, Designer, Creator, . . . To the Theme of all song, inspiration of love: to the Artist of life, to the greatest and least: . . . For He is the greatest upon His high throne, and He was the least as the child of a maiden: Praise, then to Jesus whose mother was Mary, and praise now to Christ who is God in the midst of us. Praise. Lord of all beauty, adoring we come to Thee. Give us Thyself both in Time and Eternity. Lord . . . we come to Thee offering all that we are or can hope to be, Lord of all beauty: Praise, power, dominion forever.

THERE ARE NO STRANGERS

As the little steamer pulled out for the harbor cruise, I stood on the upper deck watching the white-caps on the blue waves and the passing boats. A stranger stood nearby; we got to talking. He mentioned the fact that he was a doctor. "Then you may know my friend, Dr. B., in Philadelphia." "Indeed I do," he replied, "And I knew his sister Doris very well, but I have not seen her for years and years". I laughed, "Just turn around—there she is!" So this stranger turned out to be an old, old, friend —of both of us actually—whom we had not seen for 25 years. So often, in God's world, the "stranger turns out to be a friend. It's more of a miracle than a magician taking a rabbit out of a hat!

We need that miracle today, again and again. We walk in city crowds, among "faceless" people. We read so much about the suffering, hungry millions. We get "used to" their suffering. And that surely is a sin—to shrug off the sufferings of fellow human beings. But HOW do I put concern and caring in place of indifference?

Jesus said, "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me." "My brethren", He said—His brothers and sisters, with the blood of the same Father in their veins. No one of us would see a blood-brother or sister die of starvation, or ache in loneliness, if we could prevent it. Once we see that these suflering people are our kith and kin in the Father's house, we look at them through new eyes. We do for them all that we can, more than we thought we could. When we comfort them, we comfort Him.

Callousness of heart is one of the enemies we must reckon with. We have let our skins get hard, to save us from feeling the pain of mankind. But it is the pain of Jesus Himself we have been turning away from. It is His brthren, our family, who need us so sorely.

Actually, Jesus was saying, "There are no strangers"—No strangers at all in the world where Jesus is Lord. Only in Satan's world of selfishness are there "strangers" from whom people quickly turn away. Hardness of heart is at home in Satan's kingdom. It has no rightful place in the hearts of those who call themselves Christians.

Jesus Christ can transform the stranger into an old friend, a brother—and He will, if we desire it. For a member of our family we will do whatever we can, whatever he needs of us. Only so can we hope to take our place in the eternal Kingdom of God's family.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Some years ago yo prayed for me at the Altar of St. Stephen's Church while I attended the Healing Conference in your Church. I was healed because there has been no return. —Mary-Hyatt Grayston (Los Angeles, Calif.)

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Arthur S. Clark, Mrs. Frances Creedon, Mrs. E. Ramhorst, Dr. & Mrs. Egbert T. Scott, Mrs. William F. Wahl, Miss Catherine G. Carroll.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

This year this important Day will be observed on the first Friday in Lent—MARCH 1st.

Two Services will be held in Center City: At Arch Street Methodist Church, Broad and Arch Streets; and in Old Christ Church, Second Street above Market.

Prayer Vigils will be held from 9:30 A.M. to 12:30 P.M., followed by a service. The Theme: BEAR ONE ANOTHER'S BURDENS.

A THREE DAY MISSION BY EMILY GARDINER NEAL

February 21st, 22nd and 23 are the dates. The place: St. Timothy's Church (Roxborough), Ridge Ave .above Walnut Lane. Services begin on Wednesday at 8 P.M., Thursday and Friday 2 P.M. and 8 P.M. The Church may be reached by PTC "A" & "E" buses. The Rector of St. Timothy's is the Rev. Eugene F. Lefebvre, who has been conducting our Thursday healing services in the Rector's absence.

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP WILL MEET THIS SUNDAY, FEB. 18th, after the morning service, in the Community House. The review of The Life of Christ continues with more miracles and healing in Galilee. Mrs. Price will also show some Postal Folders of California and Arizona. There will be refreshments. EVERYONE IS WELCOME!

Many of St. Stephen's people will remember Dorcas Kurtz who held Prayer Workshops here several times and whose husband, Gail, sang fine baritone solos in connection with O.S.L. Conferences. Mrs. Kurtz returned to our Heavenly Father last week. Please join us in prayers for Gail's spiritual support

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whsiper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Prelude on St. Columba".....Willan

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We thank Thee, O God, for the beauty of Thy Creation, for the wonders of earth and sea and sky. We thank Thee for the homes where love dwells, for the freedom which is ours in our blessed land, for the opportunities which surround us day by day as we work and play and pray and seek to serve our fellow men. Especially do we thank Thee for the revelation of Thyself through Jesus Christ our Lord, in whom we see the love which has surrounded us from birth, accompanies us in our daily labors, heals the wounds inflicted by life, ministers to our growth and character, enriches our joy, and assures us of the life eternal. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Cast Thy Burden Upon The Lord".....Mendelssohn

Cast thy burden upon the Lord; and He shall sustain thee: He never will suffer the righteous to fall; He is at thy right hand. Thy mercy, Lord, is great, and far above the heavens. Let none be made ashamed that wait upon Thee!

The Sermon: "THE SECRET OF A QUIET MIND".....The Rector

The Offertory Hymn 528 .....Hesperus

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn 455 .....St. Peter

THE WAY OF ADVENTURE

"Behold, we are going to Jerusalem." (Luke 18:31) "So, when Peter went up to Jerusalem. . . ." (Acts 11:2) "When they came to Jerusalem, they were welcomed. But . . ."Jerusalem was a place where the Master and His truest friends, went, sooner or later, whether they wanted to or not."

For "Jerusalem" is the place where the enemies of Jesus are met. During His ministry, they were the "Church-stuffed-shirts", who thought that religion was a matter of proper customs and respectable conduct. They hated Jesus because He told men that this was all rubbish; that God's real religion is simply learning to be loving. He showed them how to give themselves in loving obedience to serve God; how to give one's self to one's neighbor in every-day loving-kindness. Peter found the same hostility gathered against him at Jerusalem. Guided in a dream by the wideness of God's mercy, Peter, the Jew, had sat down and eaten supper with newly converted Cornelius, the Roman Centurion. But. back at Jerusalem James and others stubbornly argued that Christians must continue under the ancient Jewish rules. Again, Paul and Barnabas announced to the people at Antioch that God has opened a door of faith to gentile as well as Jew; and those two daring young men were summoned to Jerusalem to explain themselves to the shocked faithful.

But see what Jesus and His men made out of their Jerusalem. Paul and Barnabas defended their wide-hearted Gospel with such confident good will that the old conservatives yielded to their risen Master, as He spoke through those two. Peter, in his turn, told them with serene honesty that he'd simply done what God told him to do, and "who was I to withstand God?" And the opposition folded up. All true Christians who have "gone to Jerusalem" have been able to meet hostility with love, because they could look back to Calvary, where Jesus' going to Jerusalem ended. There they could see One Who, nailed to a Cross, looked down on His tormentors and prayed, "Father, forgive them . . ." Hate could not overcome God's love in Jesus, or in any one of Jesus' men and women since then.

Lent begins on Wednesday—Lent, that Season when we push aside our own wills, and let God have His way with us. We join Him in saying, "Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem"? Will you dare to meet God's enemies in the power of love, that He may have victory in you? It may not be a pleasant road—is was not for Him. "When they came to Jerusalem, they were welcomed, BUT . . .It is the way of adventure, and of His triumph!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Many months ago I wrote and asked that Barbara Brown's name be placed on your Prayer List. She was developing a personality problem because of unemployment. In January she finally got a job that has been an answer to our prayers. She is happy and her health has improved as well as her attitude. Thank you for your prayer help.
—Margaret Grice (Los Angeles, California)

LENT BEGINS THIS WEDNESDAY, February 28th. We hope everyone will tell friends and acquaintances of these fine daily Noon-day services, 12:30 to 12:55 P.M., with outstanding preachers during the entire Lenten period. On Ash Wednesday there will be the Litany Service at 10:30 A.M. The Noon-day preacher will be the Rev. Harry Longley, D.D. For Thursday and Friday, Feb. 29th and March 1st, the Rector will be the preacher. On Saturday we shall have the Rev. John Campbell of St. John's Church, Cynwyd.

The Rector would like to express his utter gratitude to the Rev. Andrew Mayer for his valued ministrations to the Parish of St. Stephen's during the absence of the Rector. To the Rev. Eugene Lebefvre we are grateful, too, for his leadership at the Thursday Healing Services.

MRS. THEODORE BECHTEL, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing of St. Stephen's Church for more than 30 years. and in charge of St. Stephen's Church Tuesday noon-day luncheons, died February 13th and was buried from St. Alban's Church, Roxborough, February 16th. She is mourned, and will be missed by many friends of both churches.

The Prelude: "O Sacred Head Now Wounded"..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, whose mercy is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Thee, we confess with shame our broken pledges. We are troubled by the memory and burden of our offenses. We have done the things we ought not to have done and have left undone the things we ought to have done. We have been silent when we should have spoken, inactive when we should have served, and we have foolishly blundered in speech and act. Stretch out Thy hand of mercy. Speak the word of pardon. Forgive us the broken vow, the unkept promise, the unfulfilled purpose. And strengthen Thou our good resolves, that we may be worthy of our heritage as Thy sons and daughters. We ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

He has returned from Doctor' Hospital in New York where he has been undergoing special treatment for advanced lung and liver trouble and inoperable cancer. He has fully regained his strength and the skeletal X-Rays are clear. God be praised!

LIVE ALL OF YOUR LIFE

A little girl once wrote a letter to her minister, who had become an Army Chaplain and was stationed in a dangerous spot overseas. Out of her affection for him, she ended her letter, "I hope you will live all of your life." That was a wonderful wish—that a friend would keep on truly living, wherever he was, whatever he was doing, whatever dangers were around him. Ten years ago, two good friends, Charles and Eunice Wallace, celebrated their 60th Wedding Anniversary. They are still living each hour of every day. That is my desire for you, that you will live all of your life"; that even the toughest days will be touched with victory and so have joy in them; that there will be enough of peace in them to give quiet confidence; enough of faith to fill each day with courage and adventure.

Experience teaches us that the only sure way to do this is to live very close to God. The turbo-super charger enables an airplane to maintain full power at 30,000 feet, whereas an ordinary plane has lost four-fifths of its power. So the Christian who walks with God, listening and obeying, keeps strong at the stormiest heights of life. Men who have been in great peril have told me they have found this true. Friends, called upon to help someone in deep water, tell me that, after praying, the way opened up, and the friend came through with flying colors. God is stronger than any temptation, any danger. The person who has God in his heart is unconquerable.

When Dr. Paton was translating the New Testament into an Island language, he found great difficulty in finding a native word for "faith." While in his study one day, deep at work on the translation, one of his native teachers came in, hot and exhausted, after a long walk. He threw himself down on the chair, and, wiping his forehead, used a word which meant, "I'm resting my whole weight here." Instantly Dr. Paton had the word he needed for faith." You simply "Rest your whole weight" on God, day after day. Then ,indeed, you will "live all of your life."

LIFE OR DEATH—WHO DECIDES? is the title of an article in the February issue of Christian Herald in which the Rector is quoted at length on the problem of prolonging life in "terminal" illness.

The Rector preached in the Bethany Methodist Church, Somer Point, New Jersey, Sunday evening, February 25th.

We extend a hearty welcome to Bishop Spaugh who will be our Lenten Noon-day preacher, March 4th-8th, and to the Rev. James H. Maxwell, who will be the Saturday speaker.

CONFIRMATION

St. Stephen's will join a number of Churches in our area for Confirmation at Holy Trinity Church, on Sunday, May 19th at 4 P.M.

The Rector will begin his Confirmation Instruction classes on Sunday, March 31st at 10 A.M. and will continue them until the Confirmation date. For those who would like to be members of our parish family we welcome you to these lectures.

REMEMBER—IT'S YOUR WORLD

The editor of a small newspaper showed little concern when a tipster phoned in an accident .It was about a truck that rolled downhill and smashed into a private home.

"Not interested," said the editor. "This kind of thing happens all the time."

"Well, I'm glad you're taking it so calmly," came the rejoiner. "It was your home."

It is only human to react immediately when our person, property or loved one are threatened. At one time, this may have been an adequate response. But today we belong to a world community. What happens in Indonesia ultimately affects Indianapolis.

Wherever you are, the efforts you make to promote good government and better living conditions can have far-reaching effects on a great many people around the globe.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mr. & Mrs. Thomas M. Bennett, Miss Emile L. Fiero, Michael J. Labriola, Catherine Mattson, Mrs. Mabel B. Moore, Mrs. M. Renne.

The Chapel for the Hard of Hearing is having a meat loaf dinner, Saturday, March 9th, 5 to 6:30 P.M. in the Community House, $1.50.

The Motion Picture "Scaramouche" will be shown after the dinner at 8 o'clock.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

9:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 127-8

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whsiper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "When On The Cross The Savior Hung".....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almight y and most holy God, we confess to Thee with humble and contrite hearts, that we have often forgotten Thee and Thy purpose for us. While professing to be Christians, we have neither wholly believed nor followed Christ. Increase our penitence, we pray Thee, and turn our wandering footsteps back into the path whereunto we are called, by the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Introit: O Holy Savior

The Processional Hymn 435 .....Rest

The Venite, page 9; Chant #609 Hymnal

The Psalm, #51, page 403

The First Lesson: I Kings 21:1-22

The Benedictus Es Domine, page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson; St. Mark 10:17-31

The Jubilate Deo, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Surely He Hath Borne Our Griefs" (Messiah).....Handel

Surely He Hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows. He was wounded for our transgressions. He was bruised for our iniquities, the chastisement of our peace was upon Him.

 The Sermon Hymn 360 .....Albano

The Sermon: LETTERS TO JACK-II, THE HEALINGS .....The Rector

The Offertory Anthem:
"And With His Stripes We are Healed" (Messiah) .....Handel

The Doxology and presentation

The Recessional Hymn 517.....St. Matthew

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Cyril Berger in memory of her husband; and by Mrs. Helen LeDent in memory of her husband.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Wilson C. Leithead

AVERAGE TALENTS

A great naturalist Audubon once stored a large number of his wonderful paintings of birds out in his barn, in a long box. Months later, he went out to the barn and found that the rats had gnawed their way into the box. Instead of using them, he had, "buried" them in storage. They were ruined.

Jesus once told a story of three men who worked for a rich landowner. Before he went away on a long trip, he turned over some of his money to these men—five thousand dollars to the ablest of them, two thousand to the next, and one thousand to a man of humbler ability. On his return, he found that the two had traded wisely, and doubled his money; but the third man had been timid and hid it in the ground. Jesus called this man "wicked and slothful" for he had not used his talent; he commended the other two, because they had used theirs.

Perhaps you and I are one-talent people—or so it seems to us. Then let us accept the fact, that we seem to be only "average." The poet Edwin Arlington Robinson once was down-hearted, but he still declared, "I must be content with the jews-harp, bass drum, and let others blow the trumpet." So he went ahead, resolutely, to use his talent. He became one of our great American poets. Jesus pointed out that your talents increase as you use them. It is sin to say, "I can't accomplish anything with so little." Jesus reminds us, whatever you have, use it.

The Christian story is of people who grew, like Peter, for instance, and John. They seemed rather ordinary, at first—but they grew, under God, to be men the world remembers today, many centuries later.

You may seem to have average talent, a jews-harp endowment—then use your jews-harp to make music in the lives of those about you. It's quite possible God has it in His mind to have you playing a trumpet, later on!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—In September, 1967, I put Marion Claycombe's name on your Prayer List. I later wrote you of her improvement. Now, I can say that the leukemia is in complete remission—that she has had a personal committment to Jesus Christ and is sharing and witnessing to others. Our Lord does indeed heal!

—Mrs. J. C. McAllister (Parkersburg, W. Va.)

INVITATION

This is the House of Prayer—
Go in; it is the Christian's House by right.
Find some nook; confess thy sin,
And go forth in Jesus' might.

May St. Stephen's be a place to come in for rest and renewal; but then a place from which to depart into a world where men laugh and cry, where they rejoice and where they die.

The Rector will preach in the Jenkintown Methodist Church on Wednesday, March 13th at 7:45 P.M.

Our Episcopal Chaplain, the Rev. Edward C. McCoy, of the Naval Base and Hospital is in need of help in ministering to the many service men receiving treatment in the hospital. We would like to secure the names and addresses of persons in our parish who, having a spare bedroom, might be able to accommodate persons who come into Philadelphia in an attempt to see somebody either at the Naval Hospital, or at the Naval Base. Such persons usually coming for emergency situations have limited funds so that normal hotel or motel accommodations are ruled out. Obviously accommodations of this "freewill nature" should be as near to the Naval Base as possible, and to public transportation.

We want to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Marie P. Berger, Marion Briscoe, M. Greiner, Mr. & Mrs. Alexander D. Kerr, Mary C. Kutzer, Mrs. John Pratt, Mrs. A. P. Valentine.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Robert C. Batchelder, Rector of St. James Church in Lancaster, Pa., who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher Monday through Friday; and to the Rev. Joseph R. Clair, the Rector of the Church of the Epiphany, West Philadelphia, who will be our Saturday preacher.

CONFIRMATION CLASSES will begin on Sunday, March 31st, at 10 A.M. in the Rector's study. If you want to be a communicant member of this Parish, you should plan to attend this class. Confirmation is an opportunity for instruction in Christian belief and practice, as well as a public affirmation of Christian loyalty.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whsiper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Choral ..... Joseph Jongen

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—God of all power, who knowest the goodness of our intentions and the weakness of our performance, we beseech Thee to strengthen our good purposes. Forbid that we should be satisfied with half measures, with half-finished tasks, with half-won victories. Let our purpose be ribbed with steel. Strengthen us to carry to completion the high endeavors of our hearts. We ask in the name of Him who accepted Gethsemane and shrank not from Calvary, even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Introit: O Holy Savior

The Processional Hymn 65 ..... Meditation

The Venite, page 9; Chant #609 Hymnal

The Psalm 86, page 447

The Anthem: "Thee We Adore, O Savior"..... Palestrina

Thee we adore, O Savior, bless Thee and praise Thee forever; for on the holy Cross Thou hast the world from sin redeemed.

The Sermon Hymn 304 ..... Beecher

The Sermon: "LETTERS TO JACK—III, THE KINGDOM"..... The Rector

The Offertory Anthem: "The Bird of Christ"..... Orvis Ross

Holy, Holy, Holy, Christ upon the Cross: my little nest was near, hidden in the moss. Holy, Holy, Holy, "Come bear, O wee brown bird," Christ spake, and Lo, I lighted upon the Living Word. Holy, Holy, Holy, I heard the mocking scorn: but holy, holy, holy, I sang against a thorn! Holy, Ah! His brow was bloody; holy, holy, all my breast was ruddy. Holy, Holy, Holy, "Christ's bird shalt thou be": Thus said Mary, Virgin, there on Calvary. Holy, Holy, Holy, a wee brown bird am I, but my breast is ruddy, for I saw Christ die.

THOUGHTFULNESS

Winter was coming on, and Paul had left his cloak in Troas, his heavy Winter over-coat, coarse, wool garment without any sleeves, with a hole in the middle for his head to pass through. Paul needed it. So he wrote to Timothy, who was on his way from Ephesus, and asked him to stop and pick it up.

What a blessing it is to have a friend who can be depended on for thoughtfulness! Paul thanked God many a time for "Timothy, my beloved child." Such loving-kindness puts a song in one's heart.

Nineteen centuries have gone by since that day. Yet the same sort of plain kindness cheers the spirits of 20th century people. There is the old lady on the R.F.D.—she has painful arthritis, and it's a longish, up-hill walk from her little home to the R.F.D. box. Many a time she had trudged slowly up to the box, and found that the mail man had not come. Then the new R.F.D. man came. He suggested that she put the little flag up each day after she collected her mail. Then he would turn the flag down the next morning when he put the mail in the box. Now she simply looks out the window—if the flag is down she knows that Henry has come and gone. She only has to go up to the box once. She thanks God for Henry, as Paul did for Timothy.

This kind of thoughtfulness is "special." It comes out of the hearts of those who put themselves in the other person's place, and can imagine what they want or need. It comes from people who watch others with loving attention and see what grieves them, what makes them happy. It comes from those whose ears are alert to pick up "messages" of loneliness, or hope, or dreams. It comes, most often, from people whose lives have been blessed and transformed by the Master of Galilee. He has done so very much for them that they let Him use their lives to bless others in special, simple, little ways.

When you take your time for prayer each morning, you can ask God what special kindness He has for you to do that day. Perhaps you do this already—if you do, you know what a joy it is to be "Timothy"!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I am the woman who spoke to you in Scottsdale, Arizona, and told you that God had healed me of cancer without surgery—through your prayers. I attened a healing service in St. Stephen's Church in November 1959, just before we moved out West. I was very much impressed during your Mission here to learn of the work being done by your "handpicked" prayer group, and am enclosing some request cards for these wonderful people to pray for them.—Emily C. Oakley (Scottsdale, Arizona)

A NEW VETERANS ASSISTANCE CENTER has been created to seek out and help all recently separated veterans. It will offer expedited service on V.A. benefits, and counsel veterans on jobs, education, training, and housing. The address is Wissahickon and Manheim St., Phila., Pa. 19101.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, N. J., on the evenings of March 17th, 18th and 19th.

We extend a hearty welcome to Bishop William Crittenden, of Erie, Penna., who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher the coming week, March 18th-22nd. Also to the Rev. Warren E. Shaw, Chaplain of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, who will be the Saturday preacher, March 23rd.

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will meet this Sunday after the morning service, in the Community House. There will be refreshments and a talk by Mrs. Price. Everyone is welcome!

The Rector will begin his Confirmation Instruction Classes on Sunday, March 31st at 10 A.M., and will continue them until the Confirmation date. For those who would like to be members of our parish family we welcome you to these lectures.

Though I know the answer was from God, and I know the answer was from God, and I have thanked Him, too, I appreciate your ministry as the channel through which He worked.

—Mrs. Mertie Temple (New Lyme, Ohio)

ANCHORHOLD

A Belgian writer once said that life is like the messenger on the way to your door. In his hand is a letter, addressed to you. There is nothing you can do to change the message. It is written. But there is much you can do about the way you receive that message. In like manner, there is nothing you can do to avoid some event in your life tomorrow; some deep hurt, an unexpected success, a crippling illness. But there is much you can do about your attitude. In fact, your attitude decides the "color" of the event, victory or defeat, blessing or nightmare. You can be bitter about the hurt, or you can, like the oyster, make a pearl out of this beautiful intrusion. You can get a swelled head over the success, or you can humbly thank God for giving you the brains to succeed. You can whine over the illness, or let God transform it into a shining victory.

Many people get off on the wrong foot by asking the wrong question of God. They cry out, "Why, God did, this happen to me?" That is a small, self-sympathizing question, and God does not answer it. But other people ask the right question, "Father, what do You want me to make ou of this difficulty, out o fthis joy?" My friend Leona, asked that glorious question when her life became an hour-by-hour battle with agonizing pain; and, just because she asked the right question, she got God's shining answer, He made her stronger than pain, a victorious child of God, a bracing memory for scores of friends.

In the story of "Anchorhold" you find a holy woman to whom hosts of people flocked for help. She was overflowing with joy and gratitude to god for using her life so richly. "Then, when a new by-path was made, which carried the traffic away from her cell by the Church, and left her isolated, no one stopped to see her anymore. She was soon forgotten by the public; so she changed from the searcher of the mysteries of spiritual life to the woman with the glue-pot to whom the children of the village brought their broken toys. She used the weapons of Meekness (claiming nothing for herself) and was so supple in God's hands that she could lay down the career to which He first called her, and take the lowest place." She made of it a glorious an dhappy place of victory.

You will find that, at the beginning of His ministry, Jesus hoped that men would accept Him as their Rescuer from evil and sin and slavery. Then, in the Garden of Gethsemane God gave Him a very difficult answer—a Cross He did not want, wrenched away from teaching the disciples He loved, to die an immediate and shameful death. He met that death with a nal cross into the memorable Sign of God's undying love. Even He could not change the time and place of His death; but with God's grace and God's weapons, He could change the dying so that still, today, men see the greatness of God!

The Rector will preach in Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, March 26th, 27th, and 28th at the Lenten Noonday services. He will give a lecture on Wednesday evening at the Henry Clay Frick Auditorium under the auspices of the Association for Research and Enlightenment.

The Rector will preach in the Chester Bethel Methodist Church in Wilmington, Delaware, on Sunday evening, March 31st.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, D. D. who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher the coming week, March 25—30, inclusive. Dr. Aulenbach has served as the Rector of Christ Church and St. Michael's Germantown, for the past thirty years.

CONFIRMATION LECTURES

The Rector will begin his Confirmation Lectures on Sunday, March 31st at 10 A.M. in his study. The subjects will be the Christian Faith, The Episcopal Church, The Prayer Book, and the Sacraments. Those eligible to attend the Classes are: (1) Those intending to be confirmed; (2) Those who wan to know more about the Church before they make a final decision about confirmation; and (3) Those who have already been confirmed and would like to have a "Refresher Course."

The Women of the Southwark Deanery of which St. Stephen's is a part, will have their Corporate Communion Service on March 25th at 10 A.M. in Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square. Hot Cross Buns and coffee will be served afterwards. All are welcome.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Charlotte Miller Bishop, M. Elizabeth Emmons, Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, Mildred B. Richardson, Mrs. Rachel M. Semon, Edith O. Taylor, Mrs. Lois Thomson.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whsiper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Passion Chorale" ..... J. Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord of the great sacrifice, restrain our eagerness for the things that are seen. Thy Cross is our rebuke. Increase our spending for the things eternal. Lord of the sinless life, our hope is to become like Thee. Fulfill our hearts in service, that our hope be not in vain. Lord of the holiest joy—the joy of boundless giving—teach us Thy grace of losing, that our joy may indeed be full. The world counteth all things lost if it gain not the thing it may reckon. Help us to count all things but loss, to win Thee, the wealth unmeasured. Amen.

The Choral Introit.

The Processional Hymn 72 ..... Batty

The Venite, page 9; Chant #609 Hymnal

The Psalm

The First Lesson: Genesis 22:1-14

The Benedictus Es Domine, page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. John 10:1-16

The Jubilate Deo, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Passion Choral" ..... J. S. Bach

O sacred Head, now wounded, with grief and shame weighed down; now scornfully surrounded with thorns, Thine only crown; O sacred Head, what glory, what bliss till now was Thine! Yet, though despised and gory, I joy to call Thee mine. What language shall I borrow to thank Thee, dearest Friend, for this Thy dying sorrow, Thy pity without end? O make me Thine forever; and should I fainting be, Lord, let me never, never out live my love to Thee. Amen.

The Sermon Hymn 70 ..... Petra

The Sermon: LETTERS TO JACK—V, FORGIVENESS ..... The Rector

The Offertory Anthem: "At Thy Glorious Death and Passion"
(The Stabat Mater) ..... Dvorak

By Thy Glorious Death and Passion, saving me in wondrous fashion, Savior, turn my heart to Thee . . . Thou, O Christ, art my Salvation, hear and heed my invocation, let Thy mercy light on me.

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn 74 ..... St. Cross

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Constance Bevins and Mrs. Charles Wells in memory of Mary S. Eaton and Charles Wells.

Our Chief Usher this Morning is Mr. Frederick Schmid

5:30 P.M. Evening Prayer and Sermon: Mr. R. Douglas Cole will preach.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House

KEEP IT RUNNING

Some people find prayer unrewarding, and give it up. Others likewise find prayer difficult, but they stumble onward, praying imperfectly. Which is right?

Rabbi Herschel tells us a story of a small Jewish town, far off the main roads of the land. It has a hospital, a law court, and the necessary municiple institutions, and it had all sorts of craftsmen except one—there was no watchmaker. In the course of the years many of the clocks became so annoying inaccurate that their owners just let them run down, and gave no further thought to them. Others, however, wound their clocks, day after day, though they knew they were inaccurate. One day the news spread through the town that a watchmaker had arrived, and everyone rushed to him with their clocks. But the only ones he could repair were those that had been kept running. The abandoned clocks had grown too rustry.

So it is with praying—keep it running—your way of prayer—like mine, may often be off the mark, ineffective, disappointing. But it does keep me more instep with God. And it does not solve the problem to quit. In that Jewish village there were undoubtedly people who did what they could to keep their clocks as dependable as possiblbe. They adjust them a bit, and they put in oil. They referred to their almanacs for the exact time of sunset and sunrise, and set their clocks by it. So they kept them reasonably useful. In addition, by keeping them running they prevented their being damaged by rust. They were practical enough to keep them running.

You can do as they did. No doubt you have discovered that when you persistently pray to God asking Him to give you what you most want, nothing happens. Or, when you pray with resentment within your heart, the outcome is zero. On the other hand, when you pray and have the loving Spirit of God within you asking Him to make you easier to live with—the results are often breath-taking, almost a miracle. God gives you new powers, new strength. You find it worthwhile to keep on praying in as intelligent and Christ-like way as possible.

The richest prayer-resource for the Christian is the Lord's Prayer which contains Jesus' key secrets of effective praying. Study it most thoughtfully; and practice it eagerly. Day by day you will be learning to pry more as the master did, and you will find God pouring His treasures into your life.

It can be very exciting to make a new start in prayer!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—We brought our Mongoloid grandson, Douglas W. Coley, to you some five years ago. The doctors said he would never walk, talk or be toilet trained or help himself. He does all these things and learned how to play with toys, how to say the alphabet and count, and read words. He is very perceptive, compassionate and intelligent. Your continued prayers have worked wonders for Doug. Please continue them.

—Mrs. Sterritt Fuller (Mareago, Ohio)

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

Have you responded to the Annual Appeal in January for the support of our Theological Schools?

The size of the Rector's School in Cambridge, Massachusetts, has doubled since the end of World War II, from 67 students in 1947 to 133 in 1967. In the past ten years applications have doubled. The School presently operates at capacity enrollment. Instruction costs have risen from $145,700 in 1957-58 to $300,000 in 1967-68. The faculty has grown from twelve to seventeen. The average professor's salary has increased 60%. The cost of field work is eight times greater than it was ten years ago.

THE RECTOR'S CONFIRMATION CLASSES meet Sunday mornings at 10 A.M. in his study. Although these classes are designed primarily for those persons who wish to be convrmed, they are also open without obligation to all those who want to learn about the life and faith of the Episcopal Church.

The Rector will preach in the Chester Bethel Methodist Church in Wilmington on Sunday evening, March 31st, and at the Zion Lutheran Church, Front and Fisher Sts. on Wednesday, April 3rd at 8 P.M.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Chester Porteus, Rector of Christ Church, Quincy, Mass., who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher Monday through Friday, April 1-5. Also to the Rev. Dunham Taylor, D.D., Church of the Good Shepherd, Germantown, Phila., who will be the Saturday preacher, April 6th.

Prelude: "Chorale in A Minor".....Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, whose love is so gracious and tender that it passeth understanding, we bow before Thee in gratitude at the remembrance of Thy mercies. We thank Thee for health and vigor, quietness and music, beauty and sunshine, and the bounty of nature. We thank Thee for lovely experiences which enrich our days and gladden our lives. We thank Thee for faith and hope and courage by which we overcome life's handicaps and through which we rise above our broken hopes. We pray in the name of our Great Redeemer, our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

The Processional Hymn 62 .....St. Theodulph

The Response to the Decalogue #709 .....Willan

The Anthem—"The Palms" .....Jean Faure

O'er all the way green palms and blossoms gay are strewn this day, in festal preparation. Where Jesus comes to wipe our tears away; e'en now the throng to welcome Him prepare. His word goes forth, and people by its might once more regain freedom from degredation. Humanity doth give to each his right, while those in darkness find restored the Light. Sing and rejoice, O blest Jerusalem, of all thy sons sing the emancipation. Through boundless love, the Christ of Bethlehem brings faith and hope to thee forevermore. Join all, and sing, His name declare. Let every voice resound with acclamation. Hosanna, praise to the Lord! Bless Him who cometh to bring us salvation.

PUNCTUATION MARKS

Here is a portion of the account of Jesus' entry into Jerusalem in the Gospel according to Mark: "And those who went before and those who followed cried out, "Hosanna! Blessed be He who comes in the name of the Lord! Blessed be the Kingdom of our father David that is coming! Hosanna in the highest!" Halford E. Luccock is right in reminding us to notice the punctuation. The revised standard version uses exclamation points. When you think about it, this would seem to be the only possible punctuation for such an event and such a life. A question mark can hardly do for an affirmation, and both the event and the life are in fact a Great Affirmation. A period cannot serve the purpose for it marks an end, and again both the event and the life are alive and continuing even today. It is right that here we encounter strong and virile exclamation points.

This raises a question. How shall our lives be marked? Is our response to be forever in the shape of a question mark? To be sure, if we mean that we should retain the gift of intellectual curiosity there can be no dispute. A mark of a great life is to ask the right questions of life and one's self. Yet, there is a distinction between the questing spirit and the spirit paralyzed by suspicion and doubt. It would seem that the mature man is the man in movement intellectually and spiritually from the question mark to the exclamation point. Again, is our response to be forever punctuated by a period? If so, we run into the danger of dogma and know the chill of frozen finality. The mind is closed. The window is shuttered. The heart is hardened. There is nothing more to be known, and nothing more to be said. Period.

It would seem to me that the Christian life is the one that finds the form of exclamation point. It is a proclamation. It is affirmation. It is a thrilling experience. It does not always bend with the wind until it is no more than a crippled question mark. Nor does it sit tight and snug like a period. It stand up straight and tall. It exclaims something. The exclamation is the Gospel, Good News of God. This is why the account of Palm Sunday must be so punctuated. And this is why your life and mine must bear a similar mark.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —It has been two weeks since I saw you about a problem of guilt, and I am still enjoying the freedom and joy which I felt as I drove home from Philadelphia. I thought to myself then that perhaps my feelings were just an emotional reaction. In spite of that lack of faith, the feelings have continued.

I want to thank you and tell you what a difference it has made in my life. I had become very introspective, withdrawn from people, afraid to give or receive love, and felt unworthy of even participating in Church. I had been to confession once before. Even though the priest counselled me, he did not have the service of absolution or laying-on-of-hands, and I could not really seem to grasp God's forgiveness. It happened for me, I believe, through the service with you. The experience has deepened my committment to Christ as a Person. It is no longer just a committment to Christian principles. Many thanks for your help.

—B. K. (Ringoes, N. J.)

REUNION OF CONFIRMATION CLASSES

Those who have been presented for Confirmation by the Rector of St. Stephen's Church are being asked to meet with their Confirmation Classes at the Maundy Thursday Service at 8 P.M.

TO KEEP IN MIND—ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The Annual Congregational Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 21st, 1968 at about 12:15 P.M., after morning service.

"Members of the Corporation who shall be qualified to vote at any election for Vestrymen and upon all questions which may come before the meeting; shall be all Lay, Baptised, Confirmed persons of the age of 21 years and upwards, who shall have been worshippers in this Church as their usual place of worship for at least one year, and who shall appear by the books of the Corporation to have contributed towards the current expenses of the Corporation during each of the two successive years immediately preceding such election or meeting, not less then five dollars ($5.00)"

Twelve Vestrymen will be elected at this meeting to serve for a term of one year. Following the election a light luncheon will be served. It will be greatly appreciated by the ladies preparing the luncheon if all who plan to attend will let us know by calling the office.

11:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whsiper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Christ Lay In The Bonds of Death" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—On this glad day of Resurrection, O Lord, we would not have hearts that are cold or lips that are dumb. We rejoice in the splender of the unfolding Spring. The earth awakens to beauty and light. Bird and beast, tree and flower, and all Thy works glorify Thee. Open Thou the lips of our worship, that we may worthily show forth Thy praise. Stir our hearts with gladness, and grant our souls a visitation of the dayspring from on high. We praise Thee for the victory that this day commemorates. We thank Thee for the joy that it awakens, and the assurance that it gives. We know that right shall prevail over wrong, and life shall triumph over death. Confirm us in the invincible faith that good shall conquer at least, and every Winter turn to Spring. Amen.

The Processional Hymn 85 ..... Easter Hymn

The Hallelujah Chorus (The Messiah) ..... Handel

The Kyrie, Hymnal #709 ..... William

The Anthem: Chorus VI, The German Requiem ..... Brahms

Here on earth have we no continuing place, howbeit, we seek one to come. Lo, I unfold unto you a mystery. We shall not all sleep when He cometh. We shall all be changed . . . in a moment, in the twinkeling of an eye, at the sound of the trumpet. For the trumpet shall sound and the dead shall be raised incorruptible. Then, what of old was written the same shall be brought to pass. For death shall be swallowed in victory! Grave, where is thy triumph? Death, O where is thy sting?

The Sermon: "EASTER MUST BE NOW" ..... The Rector

The Offertory Hymn 91 ..... Victory

The Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... William

The Kneeling Hymn 89 ..... Saltzburg

The Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scottish Chant

The Recessional Hymn 94 ..... St. Kevin

The Easter decorations are provided by special funds set aside for the purpose: Flowers on the East Window are in memory of the Magee Family; Flowers on the Atmore Window are in memory of Craig Atmore.

Flowers on the Altar on Maundy Thursday were in memory of James Carrigan, for many years Verger of St. Stephen's

GOD'S GREAT AFFIRMATION

Something there is in the human soul that hungers for Easter. We are as dust, and yet within our dust there is desire. We are as pilgrims and strangers upon the earth, yet in the midst of our temporal life there is a yearning for the eternal life. Henry Francis Lyte's hymn speaks to our condition:

Change and decay all around I see:
O Thou Who changest not, abide with me.

In the daily round, we know for ourselves the truth of the thought traditional in Welsh literature, "The sun rises when morning comes, the mist rises from the meadow, the dew rises from the clover; but Oh, when will the heart arise?"

Easter comes as God's Great Affirmation in response to the hungers of the heart and the yearnings of the soul, It is an answer to the mystery of time, the problem of pain, the shadow of suffering, the darkness of death. It sets human life in the framework of new dimensions, and it gives to human existence a new depth. Take from the Christian religion Easter morn, and there is little left but a new ethic. But let the meaning of Easter morn remain within our faith, and there emerges from it the greatest of all gifts—A New Life!

I bid you to confront this fact about our faith, and may you ponder it well. The Christian meaning of Easter becomes increasingly not so much an elective as a required course of our faith. An Unknown Soldier, killed in World War I, saw this clearly.

"Once set this hunger for eternity
To gnaw my heartstrings through, if death ends all?
If death ends all, then evil must be good,
Wrong must be right, and beauty ugliness.
God is a Judas who betrays His Son,
And with a kiss, damns all the world to hell—
If Christ rose not again."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Several months ago I wrote regarding my niece, Jennifer Kuehnle, a retarded baby. The doctor's reports are most encouraging. The improvement is rapid and she will be normal. We are grateful to God and to you and your Prayer Group.

—Alvan Rodin (York, Penna.)

CONFIRMATION

St. Stephen's will join a number of Churches in our area for Confirmation at Holy Trinity Church, on Sunday, May 19th at 4 P.M.

The Rector's Confirmation Instruction Classes are held Sundays at 10 A.M., and will continue until the Confirmation date. For those who would like to be members of our parish family we welcome you to these lectures.

MORE THAN EVER St. Stephen's Church needs your generous Offering, to maintain our work and to support the work of Christ beyond the parish. MORE THAN EVER all of us need to learn the joy of giving! The Easter Offering Envelopes were with last week's Bulletin.

TO KEEP IN MIND—ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The Annual Congregational Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 21st, 1968 at about 12:15 P.M., after morning service.

"Members of the Corporation who shall be qualified to vote at any election for Vestrymen and upon all questions which may come before the meeting; shall be all Lay, Baptised, Confirmed persons of the age of 21 years and upwards, who shall have been worshippers in this Church as their usual place of worship for at least one year, and who shall appear by the books of the Corporation to have contributed towards the current expenses of the Corporation during each of the two successive years immediately preceding such election or meeting, not less then five dollars ($5.00)"

Twelve Vestrymen will be elected at this meeting to serve for a term of one year. Following the election a light luncheon will be served. It will be greatly appreciated by the ladies preparing the luncheon if all who plan to attend will let us know by calling the office.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Frances F. Bailey, Albert R. Brooks, Miss Hebe Bulley, Louise Castello, Sara Elizabeth Hart, Mrs. Charles R. Harvey, Elsie Mae Harvey, Mrs. A. M. Laufer, Mrs. Jane S. MacLeod, Mrs. Elvina Pearce, Edward J. Van Dyke.

The Prelude: "Psalm XIX"..... Marcello

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord, I believe in Thee, help Thou my unbelief; I love Thee, though not with a perfect heart as I should; I long for Thee, yet not with my whole mind. Accept my faith, my love, my longing to know and serve Thee, my trust in Thy power to keep me. What is cold do Thou kindle; what is lacking do Thou make up. I wait Thy blessing. My prayer is in the name of Jesus Christ, my Lord. Amen.

THE LOOM OF YOUR LIFE

Each individual is much like a loom. Over the years a pattern of character is formed, and it is that pattern that determines the deeds that flow from his life. A small-town man is apt to thing small-town thoughts. A devoted mother usually thinks in terms of her children's welfare. A selfish person generally thinks in terms of his own comfort. Their actions follow the pattern of their character.

But, when God is invited to enter into the picture, our patterns are enlarged. The warm colors of love and understanding are added. When Philip invited Nathaniel to come and meet Jesus of Nazareth, Nathaniel reported, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth, that small town back in the hills?" Philip smiled, I think, and replied, "Come and see." He came, and saw. God was working fully, through Jesus.

One such life was Father Emyard, superior of the Fathers of the Holy Sacrament, in the Val-de-Grace quarter of Paris. Into the Monastery came a young man, torn by grief over the death of his sister, who was a young nun. It would not have been surprising if Father Emyard had followed the natural pattern of a superior—and settled down to make the best possible monk out of this grieving young man. But the good Father was very sensitive to God, and he wondered what God wanted of this novice's life. A great burst of sorrow may not be a true "calling" to be a monk, he thought. He noted marked artistic talents in him, especially for sculpture. So he arranged for a studio, and requested the novice monk to sculpture his bust. While this saintly man was posing, he talked gently with the young man, and persuaded him to return to the world, to fullfill his artistic destiny there. So it was that Auguste Rodin began his memorable career—because God helped a holy man to look beyond the walls of his Monastery, and see something greater. As a result we have such mighty statues as "The Thinker", "The Hand of God", "The Kiss", "The Prodigal Son". We are the richer because Father Emyard let God expand the pattern of his mind, until he was able to think God's thoughts after Him. No man or woman need be imprisoned in the smallness of an old and puny pattern of life.

Quietly, expectantly, you can turn over the loom of your life to God; let Him expand its dimensions, and set up new patterns. In the small place where you live, your life will be weaving some of the mighty works of God.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —Seven weeks ago we submitted the name of Betty Wydman of Golden, Colorado, for healing of "Terminal" cancer. The cancer was at the base of the brain and inoperable. Death was a few days away, memory failed, food or liquids could not be taken and her weight fell to 80 pounds. To the doctors' amazement, Betty can now sit up, feed herself, and remember past events. We praise God and urge your continued prayers. —Robert W. McKinney (Scottsdale, Arizona)

The Rector dedicated a Holy Communion Corporal and Large Veil on Easter Day, presented by Mr. Raymond Winter, in memory of Elizabeth Heath Winter.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 21st at 12:30 P.M. Twelve Vestrymen will be elected to serve for a term of one year.

Mrs. Keller and her helpers will serve a hot luncheon and they will appreciate it if you will contact the office to say that you expect to be present.

HERE'S A THOUGHT

What we withhold from others is withheld from us. What we give to others comes to us. Living is giving. Our good is within us, and we must give it to share in it.

Food is important—but even more important to the shape you're in is your mental and emotional diet. Keep it filled with the vitamins of love, faith, joy, and forgiveness.

What makes us tired isn't the work we've done—it's the pesky worry-laden, hashed-over project we've left undone.

Even with eternity in His pocket, God lives only now. (He is not the God of the dead—either past or future—but the God of the living present!)

The Rector dedicated two Chancel Hymnals on Easter Day, given in memory of Elizabeth Heath Winter by Florence and Elwood Wilson and the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Thorne Philips, Jr.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, teach us Thy will for our lives. Help us to understand our place in the Divine Plan. Give us a deepened sense of personal responsibility. May we see that a task awaits our hands that no other can fulfill; that if we are silent, a chord in the music will fail. Grant, O Lord, that with renewed faith in Thee and fresh confidence in ourselves we may leave this sanctuary eager to do Thy will. We offer our prayer in Christ's name. Amen.

The Recessional Hymn 554 .....Lancashire

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. John Spear and Mr. Fred Schmid in memory of their mother, Clara Schmid.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. David L. German, Sr.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer and Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN! Daylight Saving Time goes into effect sometime or other while most of us are sleeping, Saturday night, April 27th—SO, PLEASE BE SURE TO SET YOUR CLOCKS AND WATCHES AHEAD ONE HOUR before retiring on Saturday night, so you'll get to service on time Sunday morning.

COLD CEREAL

Do you know that choice comic—"Peanuts"? You should. On a recent Sunday, Charlie Brown is depicted pouring milk on his dry cereal, when the telephone rings. It is a friend who wants to chat, and at some length. You see Charlie getting restless, looking anxiously at the breakfast on the table, and listening to his friend with increasing absent-mindedness, fretting more and more, and suddenly he "blows his stack" with, "My cold cereal is getting soggy!" The friend looks altogether disgusted with Charlie Brown. So the conversation ends on a sour note.

Charlie Brown is a sincere, blundering, struggling, lovable, exasperating person—just like us. It's not that you and I and Charlie are bad, or nasty, or stupid. Rather it is that we are so interested in ourselves, our hurts and our success, that we don't give our eager attention to the hurts and successes of our neighbor. We are afraid that our cold cereal is getting soggy!

This all-too-common human condition is curable, fortunately. We can open the way to our caring by remembering how good God has been to us, already—the long-time friends He has given us, the provision others have made for our living, the lift we have been given to getting a job, the fantastic beauty of God's stars and clouds and flowers, the treasureland of books, the miracle of the telephone which enables us to talk with distant friends, the doors that friends have opened for us. Greater still, we recall His goodness in sending Jesus Christ among men—that we might glimpse what God is like, and know His love for us. With God in our hearts, we are stronger than loneliness, or despair, or resentment.

With God in our hearts, we can even forget that our dry cereal is getting soggy. We can become absorbed in the more important hurts of a friend, and how we can give him new courage. After all, this friend has shown confidence in us, by turning to us. It is our privilege to let God think, and speak, and love through us.

So many people just want someone to listen to them. They don't want advice, or pearls of wisdom. They simply want a true friend whose heart is alive to their aches and their hopes, and is willing to share them. It may well be that they turn to you because they have caught a glimpse of a more-than-Love in you, and a touch of more-than-human understanding, a living bit of the patience of God, a measure of the healing power that was in Jesus.

So be glad, and listen to your friend. He is important. The cold cereal can wait.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Judge Martin, the "terminal" cancer patient I put on your Prayer List last August is now hale and hearty! He got his shoes on and I expect he will be outside enjoying the sun soon. This you can call a miracle.—Nancy Hilfiker (Madison, Wisconsin)

Prayer is the Christian's emergency candle, always within easy reach, requiring no outside machinery to keep it in order, only needing the match of faith and courage to light it.

HOLIDAY HOUSE

A benefit for the Girls' Friendly Holiday House in Cape May will be held in St. Stephen's Community House on Saturday, May 11th at 1 P.M. Cards and Games will be featured. The cost is $1.00.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 174-5

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Andante" (Grande Piece Symphonique).....Cesar Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We thank Thee, O God, for the beauty of Thy creation, for the wonders of earth and sea and sky. We thank Thee for the homes where love dwells, for the freedom which is ours in our blessed land, for the opportunities which surround us day by day as we work and play and seek to serve our fellow men. Especially do we thank Thee for the revelation of Thyself through Jesus Christ our Lord, in whom we see the love which has surrounded us from birth, accompanies us in our daily labors, heals the wounds inflicted by life, ministers to our growth and character, enriches our joy, and assures us of the life eternal. We thank Thee, our Heavenly Father. Amen.

AGREEABLE IDEAS

James Boswell writes in his London Journal on December 11th, 1762, that he is "Laying up agreeable ideas to feast upon in recollection." A worthy undertaking! It suggests an enterprise that could well engage all of us. Come to think of it, this is exactly what you and I are doing whether we are aware of it or not. The only question before us is just how "agreeable" are the ideas that we shall "feast upon in recollection."

In this, as in many areas of life, we shall reap what we have sown. If the seeds are sound and the earth is rich and receptive, the harvest will be good and bountiful. This is why it is so very important that what we gather and place in the storehouse of memory is "agreeable". Things that are not "agreeable" will bring us nothing more than remorse and regret. This is not a happy harvest. Those ideas and experiences stored securely in memory which are "agreeable" will in time bring us rewards in great measure.

This idea leads our thinking toward some practical questions. We are the best fed people on earth. Are we feeding the mind with equal care, with thoughts that are wholesome and nourishing? We are diet-conscious people moving from one food-fad to another. Do we do the same thing with our minds? If so, it is a pity. The best nutritionists insist that a well-balanced diet exercised with discipline is the wise way to use food for the body. Similar counsel would seem to be wise for the nourishment of the mind. If it is followed, surely memory will be able to feast on "agreeable" things.

We all live in three tenses—past, present and future. The past conditions the present, the present forms the future. The three tenses are inseparably inter-related. What we do and think now becomes memory. This memory either haunts us or helps us, at this present moment and in the future. This brings us back again to James Boswell's observation that he is "Laying up agreeable ideas to feast upon in recollection." I hope you are doing this.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —Gloria Horey, of Mesa, Arizona, for whom we sent in a prayer card, has had an operation on her feet and legs, and now is able to stand a few seconds at a time. Her doctor said that he would not have operated had she not had such a strong faith. For 14 years she was unable to even turn in bed by herself, due to arthritis; then also the wasting of her body by too heavy doses of cortisone. While you prayed for her Gloria had a vision that she would walk again, and for the first time in 14 years she turned by herself in bed. Your prayers were being said for her through these trying times of excruciating pain after her operations, and I know greatly helped her. Gloria is 41 years old, and it now seems she will have many years ahead in which to be a witness for God. —Helen Utter (Scottsdale, Arizona)

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will meet on the 2nd Sunday this month, May 12th after the morning service, in the Community House. All are welcome. Refreshments served. The Review of the Life of Christ continues.

The Presiding Bishop, the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, will speak at the Spring Diocesan Presentation Service of the United Thank Offering on May 15th at 10:30 A.M. in the Chapel of the Valley Forge Military Academy in Wayne.

CONFIRMATION

Confirmation is the completion of one's Baptism; it is the "receiving of the Gift of the Holy Spirit through the laying-on-of-hands by the Bishop", after the example of the Apostles of the New Testament times; it is part of the "Doctrine, Discipline and Worship" of our part of the Church; it is our re-affirming the vows we made or which were made for us at our Baptism; it is our public acceptance of Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior; for adults it casts no reflections on any prior confirmations in another part of the Church, but is an act of witness of their intention to accept the Discipline of our part of the Church; in Confirmation we become "full-fledged" members of the Church.

St. Stephen's Confirmation Class will join a number of other parishes in the Confirmation Service to be held in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Rittenhouse Square, on Sunday, May 19th at 4 P.M. The Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, D.D., will preside at this service and Confirm the Class.

GUIDEPOSTS

A recent editorial in the Wall Street Journal makes this observation about the present college generation: "We have lately had some experience with young folk of college age and we've been impressed with the makings of the next generation. Indeed, one of the things that has impressed us is that much of their familiar rebellion is part of a restless search for guides to live by." I'm bound to say that my own experience with college students confirms this observation.

The editorial writer then proceeds to point to the root cause of restlessness and rebellion. He declares, "The effects of a generation of permissiveness are still being felt . . . as for adults, we suspect that in every age there have been only a few to raise up standards, to abide by them and to seek to pass them on." Surely this is the problem. If the home is a vacuum religious convictions do not exist, can we explain if our young adults dismiss the values of religious belief? If adultery is increasingly acceptable in a society, should we be surprised if standards are lowered in youth behavior? If material values become the end and all of human existence, are we justified in protesting the priority that youth places on economic security?

To be sure, young adults develop their own inner standards. From the moment of birth they are involved in the process of becoming persons. This demands a continuing release of outer restraint. The ultimate goal of personal growth is a maximum achievement of individual freedom. However, we who are older have a keen responsibility to raise up standards and to live by them. If we do not do this we are putting youth on the highways of living with no road markers, maps, and no guidelines.

If you have a concern about the younger generation, I confess I do not share it with you. I would tell you where my real concern lies. We have scorned absolutism and embraced pragmatism. What is right is what works, regardless of the intrinsic moral issue involved. This climate of thought created by an adult society is not wholesome. We need to use with new clarity the honorable words: "right", and "wrong", and not be apologetic in using them. If young adults are restless it is because we have failed to give them guideposts by which they can direct their lives. It is as simple as that.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Christ Presbyterian Church, Canton, Ohio, Sunday evening through Tuesday, May 5th—7th, inclusive.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING of the women of the Church is a threefold gift of prayer, money and joyful service. This cannot be stressed too often. The offering is given spontaneously with a sense of deep thanksgiving for God's presence in our lives and for His many gifts to us. There is no particular time when the Blue Box is used, but surely each one of us is conscious every day of being grateful to God. As each gift of money is put into the United Thank Offering box, a prayer is said.

These prayers are of tremendous force in spreading His Kingdom on earth. Through the U.T.O. the women of the Church put their thankfulness into action. Keep your Blue Box in plain sight and use it often.

St Stephen's Spring In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering will be held on Sunday, May 5th at the 11 o'clock service. Please bring your offering in the enclosed Blue Envelope so that it may be placed on the Altar. If you are unable to be present, mail it to:

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, Custodian
St. Stephen's Church
19 So. 10th Street
Phila., Penna. 19107

The Diocesan Presentation Service will be held on Wednesday, May 15th at 10:30 a.m. at the Valley Forge Military Academy in Wayne. Tickets may be had in Women's Office, Church House. Bus ride from Church House is $1.00. Luncheon, following service, $2.50. The Presiding Bishop, the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, will give the address.

CONFIRMATION

St. Stephen's will join a number of Churches in our area for Confirmation at Holy Trinity Church, on Sunday, May 19th at 4 P.M.

The Rector's Confirmation Instruction Classes are held Sundays at 10 A.M., and will continue until the Confirmation date. For those who would like to be members of our parish family we welcome you to these lectures.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first — St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ — and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

9:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 175-6

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditations upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Prelude to 'The Prodigal Son'" .....Debussy

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, help us to lift our thoughts, if it be but a little way, out of the dust and smoke of life's endless battle. Let us forget for an hour our trivial cares and paltry hopes, and see all things, even the love and joy of this world, in the light of Thine eternal calm; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Introit 216 Aurelia

The Processional Hymn 220 .....Toulon

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm 96, Page 459

The First Lesson: Ezekiel 37:1-14

The Benedictus Es Domine, page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 24:36-49

The Jubilate Deo, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise".....Thiman

Immortal, invisible, God only wise, in light inaccessible hid from our eyes, most blessed, most glorious, the Ancient of Days, Almighty, Victorious, Thy great name we praise. Unresting, un-hasting, and silent as light, nor wanting nor wasting, Thou rulest in might; Thy justice like mountains high soaring above Thy clouds, which are fountains of goodness and love. To all life Thou givest, to both great and small; in all life Thou livest, the true life of all; we blossom and flourish, like leaves on the tree, then wither and perish; but naught changeth Thee. Great Father of glory, pure Father of light, Thine angels adore Thee, all veiling their sight; all laud we would render: O help us to see 'tis only the splendor of light hideth Thee.

The Sermon: "DANIEL IN THE LION'S DEN".....The Rector

The Offertory Hymn 449 574 Holley .....Olivet

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn 542 519 Ebenezer .....Duke Street

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Miss Nadia Watson in memory of her parents, Mr. & Mrs. Fred Watson and by Edna and Evelyn O'Rear and Clara Lewis in memory of Arnot Lewis.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. James O. Lyman

5:30 P.M.—Holy Communion & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House

CONSEQUENCES

The question before many of us is not whether we believe in God, rather it is the nature of God in whom we do believe. This is the crucial issue. You see belief in God as an abstraction is little more than a harmless intellectual exercise. It has few consequences. Is there anything earth-shaking or life-changing in thinking about God as the Absolute Mind, the Ultimate Reality, or the Eternal Other? Hardly! Religion makes slight impact on a person's life if God is limited to a mathematical equation or a chemical formula.

This calls to mind an observation made by C. S. Lewis in his autobiography "Surpise By Joy." Here it is, "This was a religion that costs nothing. We could talk religiously about the Absolute: but there was no danger of Its doing anything about us. It was "there"; safely and immovably "there". It would never come "here", never (to be blunt) make a nuisance of Itself . . . there was nothing to fear; better still, nothing to obey."

As over against the nebulous kind of Nothing God, the Christian Religion declares that Jesus Christ has revealed the nature of God. In fact, Jesus Christ makes this bold statement; "I and the Father are One. The Father is in Me, and I in Him . . . He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father . . . the words that I speak unto you I speak not of Myself: but the Father that dwelleth in Me." I wonder if we have really come to terms with this issue. Have you, really? Think it over. And when you have, tell me what difference it has made in your life.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —The Healing Mission in St. Barnabas, Scottsdale, Arizona, in February was the beginning of a new life for us. Not only has it brought relief from physical suffering, but it has literally "renewed a right spirit within us". It was all but impossible for my husband to walk to the Altar, but with two people to help him he was able to do it. There has been steady improvement since. We are grateful for this evidence of physical help, but even more than that is the new realization of God's love and mercy. Old resentments, hurts and animosities have been exposed to this new light and are losing their power to sicken the body. We thank you for your prayers, and the prayers of those devoted people who spend many hours in this wonderful service—Mrs. John E. Riker (Sun City, Arizona)

The Prelude: "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Strengthen our hearts, O Lord, that we may rise to our full stature as Thy faithful sons and daughters. Make us brave. Give us courage—courage to think clearly about the meaning of life, even though understanding means bidding farewell to cherished illusions; courage to blaze the way for new truth, even though acceptance shatters the pleasant little world of make-believe; courage to love the right, even though that love means sacrifice and service and ceaseless longing; courage to fight the wrong, even though battle means wounds and weariness and heartache. So fill us with Thy Spirit, O Lord, that we may be more than conquerors through Him who loved us, and gave Himself for us, even Thy Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it comes from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: "Let All The World" ..... Robert Baker
Let all the world in every corner sing, My God and King! The heav'ns are not too high, His praise may thither fly! The earth is not too low, His praises there may grow. The Church with psalm must shout; no door can keep them out! But above all, the heart must bear the longest part.

PUBLISH THE GOSPEL

Some time ago I heard a lecture by Dr. Oswald J. Smith of Toronto, Canada. He had a startling message on "Publish The Gospel." I was so impressed that I wish to share the highlights of his message.

Dr. Smith said that it is not the preaching of Martin Luther that brought the Protestant Reformation, but his writing. Luther wrote over 100 books, and then translated the Bible into the language of his people. His pen was mightier than his voice, and he accomplished more by his writing than his preaching.

Today, according to Dr. Smith, three million souls learn to read and write each week. One of the greatest miracles of our day is the increasing literacy. He feels that this is the first generation which could be evangelized by the written page.

Last year Russia produced two pieces of literature for every man, woman and child on the face of the earth. Most of it was aimed to produce converts to Communism or proclaim the Communist way of life. The son of the late Mahatma Ghandi told Dr. Smith, "The Missionaries taught us to read, but the Communists are giving us the books.

Here we seem to be failing. Last year 60,000 different books of various subjects and titles were written in Russia; 24,000 in Japan; 19,000 in England; 18,000 in India; and our country ranked fifth with 12,000. Much of it was trashy in content and nature.

In addition, Russia translated 5,000 writings, we translated 800. Many feel that Russia, more than U.S., sees the value of the printed page. They are using the printed page to set us up for co-existence which will lead, hopefully for them, to world conquest without war. This they do not want. They want a bloodless revolution. With this we can see some of the writings in the U.S. leading to strife and violence right here. The pen is mightier than the sword and can sway the minds of men in a powerful way.

Dr. Smith related that Jehovah's Witnesses have the largest printing press in the world, turning out 84 million pieces of literature a year. They had larger crowds in Yankee Stadium than Billy Graham, and the largest mass baptism in the history of the world. One day in Yankee Stadium 7,136 converts were baptized. All of these 7,136 said they were influenced directly or indirectly by the printed page distributed by Jehovah's Witnesses.

Last year the Churches of America invested one billion dollars in new construction, in brick, stone an mortar. The speaker said that to give away $20 a minute, until he had given a billion dollars away, would require him dropping $20 bills over the pulpit at the rate of one a minute for the next 95 years.

At the same time we have invested little in the printed page in the battle for the minds and souls of men. Yet in this hour of crisis, the Gospel must be published. (See Mark 13:10). Religious and Gospel books are paper missionaries. Our lives are the richer and more complete because on the printed page we can read of men like George Muller, Brother Andrew, Peter Marshall, and Billy Graham. We grow in spiritual depth as we read of prayer, healing, Christian love, the guidance of God, and the work of the Holy Spirit. Now is the time for the Gospel, and the living reality of the power and the presence of Christ to be published to all men.

THE RENEWED MAN

According to scientific prognostication, man may soon be able to explore the dark side of the moon. But man's dark side is still basically unexplored. We know more about treating the physical man than ever before; yet our need of hospital beds is greater than ever. Why This Inconsistency? Is there something very basic about ourselves which has eluded us? Do we know who we are? Do we know where we are going?

The late scientist, Priest and Philosopher, Teilhard de Chardin, examines the future of humanity in his Phenomenon of Man. Looking at man from without he notes that many scientists despair of the future; predict a gradual running down of the universel point out that in energy exchanges something is always lost—a process referred to as "entrophy." De Chardin invites us to study with equal interest that vast realm of the man within. In the process of evolution, as the physical world about us becomes more complex in its ascent toward man, simple consciousness and later reflective consciousness assumes an ever greater role. Man's physical nature bows before its New Master—this growing state of Awarness. The renewed man sips of the water that becomes a refreshing spring of creativity in the very center of his Being.

The Rector dedicated a Fair Linen Credence Cover last Sunday, presented by Mr. Raymond Winter in memory of his wife, Elizabeth Heath Winter.

We wish to thank these additional contributors to the United Thank Offering: Mrs. Frances F. Bailey, Mrs. Edward J. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hanson, Mrs. Madeline Keller, Mary Louise Seltzer, Mrs. A. P. Valentine. There were several envelopes without name.

The Prelude: "Hark! A Voice Saith, All Is Mortal" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord God, out of the mystery we have come. Across this little landscape of our life we wend our way. We come to Thee in utter sincerity, as eager questing spirits, that in this holy hour come revelation may be given. Make radiant the darkness, kindle our hearts with a flame of love, send us forth into the future in confidence and hope; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: "The Lord Is My Shepherd" ..... Thomas Matthews
The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

FEED EACH OTHER

Fights are costly—struggles between Capital and Labor, between two factions in a town or a Church, between two people. War—across the ocean, within the four walls where one lives—is certainly an expensive and wasteful way in which to try to settle a problem. Jesus had Divine common sense when He bade His followers to care for each other, to have a deep concern for the other's needs, to "love thy neighbor as thyself." As Patrick Henry pointed out, "We must hang together, or we shall hang separately."

There is a legend I'd like to share with you again and again—of a good man who died and went to heaven. On his arrival, he asked if he might go down for a brief visit to hell, just to see what it was like. Permission was granted, and a guide went with him. On their arrival, the guide took him to hell's dining-room, and the good man was amazed to find a great banquet-table loaded with food fit for a king. Then the people came in, thin as skeletons, shreiking with an agonizing hunger as they saw the tempting food. Each had a long fork strapped to his right arm, and each plunged his fork into the roast beef and struggled to put it into his mouth. But the long fork was strapped so tightly to his whole arm, that he could not bend it at the elbow, and he could not get a morsel into his mouth. They were dismissed from the table, and went away, sobbing.

The good man had now had enough of hell, so he asked to be taken back to heaven. The guide had him there swiftly; and they went immediately to heaven's dining-room. There the good man saw a banquet-table identical with the one in hell, loaded with the same delectable food. And the citizens of heaven, as they strolled into the hall, had exactly the same forks strapped to their arms. They were healthy, well-fed, vigorous people, and were joking at the table together. The visitor was mystified, but his guide said, "wait and see." When the heavenly host was seated, suddenly each turned and faced his neighbor, speared a bit of food with his fork, and fed it to his neighbor. And the guide said, "you see, here we feed each other."

Hell is simply that place where people think only of themselves. Heaven is any place where each thinks of his neighbor and cares for him. God grant that it may be said of your home, your town, your Church, your world, "we feed each other."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I am thrilled to report that Marilyn Sisson, for whom your Prayer Fellowship has been praying, has been miraculously healed. We wish to thank you for your "high voltage" prayer efforts. They were surely heard and answered. May God bless you. —Mrs. Roger Lewis (La Junta, Colorado)

THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER

The Rev. Massey H. Shepherd, Jr., one of the liturgical scholars of the Church, has made the following statement about the Prayer Book:

"We have entered a period of unforseen length when we shall be experimenting with new and revised forms of common worship. But the Book of Common Prayer will remain as the standard of our faith and the model of our worship throughout this period. Without it we would lose "our chart and compass" in the renewal of our liturgical life. There will not be a 'New Prayer Book' for many years, and even then, the New Prayer Book will be but a revised edition of the present one."

A faithful worker in and for St. Stephen's Church, Mr. Douglas Cole contributes the following:

NOONTIDE SERVICE AT ST. STEPHEN'S

Words of comfort to impart,
Ease unto an aching heart;
Rest, and time to think and pray,
From the turmoil of the day.
Ills, in new perspective viewed;
Go thou forth from here renewed

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Arioso" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, Thou lover of mankind, in whose hand is the life of every living creature, we lift our hearts to Thee in grateful devotion. Grant that this day may be free from inner discord. Help us to rise above storms of passion and murmurs of self-will. Strengthen us to subdue our wayward inpulses. Grant that our better selves shall take control. Guide us so to order our lives that this may be a day of unclouded harmony; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOLLOW ME

The world usually judges people by their position among men—how high they have climbed, where they are. The world says: "He is a very successful business man;" "He has the best farm around here;" "She has a terrific reputation as a nurse;" "She is the most popular woman in town." But Jesus looks at it differently. He says, "He is becoming a more useful business man;" "He is always learning better ways for farming the land God entrusted to him;" "She is growing to be a more vaulable nurse because she is learning to keep My Healing Presence in her heart;" "Her capacity for loving people is growing so fast that her friends are a host!" Jesus judges people, not by where they are, but by the direction in which they are going. Some of the most "successful" people rank low with Him, for they have stopped growing in character; they have grown content with what they are. As the Negro red-cap said, "No, don't get into that coach, for it aint hitched to anything that is going anywhere."

Jesus says to those who wish to be His friends, "Follow Me." In other words, go always in My direction along the road in which My Spirit leads you." He does not care especially whether the world considers you a success, He cares about whether you are headed. Someone has said that a saint is a sinner who, when he falls down, gets up in God's direction. There is deep comfort, and much hope, in that truth. Jesus knows that we are going to fall flat on our faces sometimes; but, when we do, He expects us to listen for His reassuring voice bidding, "Follow Me."

In a group of skaters there was a small boy who kept tumbling to the ice so often that his older brother shouted, "You'll be black and blue from head to foot—you're too little to learn to skate. Why don't you give up, for now, and watch the others?" The little boy was still crying, but he shouted back, indignantly, "I didn't get these skates to give up on; I got them to learn with."

We can be like that little boy. We have our faith to 'learn with," our Master to beckon us on. Which way are you headed? "Follow Me."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Praise God, I am much improved! When I visited the doctor last week he was astounished at my improved condition. For the first time in over a year, he was able to get a blood pressure reading from my right arm. When I told him about seeing you and attending the healing service at St. Stephen's, he just shook his head. Many thanks for seeing me that Thursday. It was the most profitable trip of my life!

—Marguerite Cordice (Hollis, Long Island, N.Y.)

The Rector will give the Invocation at the Annual Flag Day celebration at Independence Square on Friday, June 14th, at 8 P.M.

HEALING MISSION

On the Sunday mornings in July and August the Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Stephen's Church at 11 A.M. The Mission, of course, is for all—not just for the sick! Here is a special opportunity for realizing the power of God in your, life. Begin now to make your prayers in preparation for the Mission, and come to the services and join with many others who will kneel at the Altar Rail to talk with God about their problems. The Mission is a demonstration of the Gospel in Action. The Public Is Cordially Invited.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mabel Allington, Frances F. Bailey, Rita J. Clark, E. E. Hunter, Harriette Kimmig.

MEDITATION

All that we need comes from the Spirit. There is no good apart from the Spirit—no power, no peace, no harmony, no beauty, no life, no health. Indeed; we have no life, no consciousness, apart from God. Whatever good we do is simply the Father working in us. Whatever good comes to us is always from our One Spiritual Source. Not only are we dependent upon God for everything, but in God are infinite resources.

UNDER AUTHORITY

The Roman Army officer must have been a rare man. In a day when servants were cheap, he went to a lot of trouble to seek out the Master, and implore Him to heal his servant. Jesus said that He would glady come and make the servant well. But the Centurion protested that he was not worthy of so great an honor. Jesus could just say the word, and that would be enough. With keen understanding of authority, he said, "For I also am a man under authority . . ." As if to say, "When I give orders, they are obeyed because, back of me is the authority of the Roman emperor. I am a man under authority; and I know, back of You is a powerful Authority. Because of Him who stands back of You, You can just say the word, and Your word will be obeyed."

Down through the long ages, Christians have been marked as "men under authority." They have lived and worked under the command of God, and in obeying His will, they have been undergirded by the infinite power of God operating in them. No wonder that, again and again, they have changed the world. The weakness of dictators, a Napoleon, a Hitler, a Stalin—is that they have no greater power back of them. In time their limited human powers fade, unreplenished by inner resources. If Christian people today will make it their business to live under God's authority, they can overcome pagan Communism, as early Christianity overcame the mighty Roman Empire.

Why should we take orders from God? Jesus described Himself as a Shepherd and ourselves, his sheep. Looking sadly at Jerusalem, He wept, saying how gladly He would have gathered men unto Him as a hen gathers her chicks. Sheep and chickens run a close race for the prize of stupidity and general incompetence . . . We cannot be trusted to do what is best . . .As far as I can see, there is so much to be done about our helplessness except to recognize it, and to give thanks to God that we have a Good Shepherd.

The President of the United States once appointed to the United Nations General Assembly Mrs. Edith Sampson, a brilliant Negro lawyer. Throughout her remarkable career, before handling any case, she has always said a silent prayer, "God, here I am again. Direct my thinking—put words in my mouth, not that I should win, but that justice should prevail." And looking forward to her task in the Assembly, she said, "My job will be tough . . . but God will direct me, and tell me how I can make my contribution to peace." I think that the Russian delegates watched that woman. If they were alert, they noticed in her a power greater than the Politburo. Pagans are always baffled before the power of God coming through one who lives under the authority of Almighty God!

We wish to express our thanks to these U.T.O. Contributors: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bachrle, Mrs. Frances F. Bailey, Mrs. Marie P. Berger, Helen L. Bradley, Olga B. Carlile, Clara R. Clark, Viola De Castello, Will Coffee, Elsie Dahl, S. G. Gibb, Mrs. H. J. Hauger, Mrs. Henrietta Jones, Mildred W. Leach, Frances Tinsley Kalich, Ruth G. Leithead, Jane MacLeod, Charles A. Meckling, Elmer Newkirk, Edward Sutton, William Charles, Mr. & Mrs. Godshall, Mrs. Christine Leight, Elizabeth Hawley, Mrs. Francis Spratt, Mrs. James Lewis, Gladys Given, Ethel Marshall, Francis Beecher, Bertha Tillotson, Beatrice Merrow, Florence Schuh, Mrs. Emily Weber, Mrs. Louise Price, Gertrude Bergen, Dora Kronmaier, Dorothy Morrison.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —I am sure you will be happy as I am about the improvement in my physical condition. Your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for me for several weeks. I was to have surgery to correct a severe ulcer in my stomach. I can now report vast improvement in my condition, and surgery is not necessary. I am so grateful to our Lord and to the good people who are praying for me.—Floyd E. Wenster (Fullerton, Calif.)

The Rector and Mrs. Price have a new grandchild, born on May 16th. His name is Morgan Wynne Van Dyke Murray.

The Rector installed the new Diocesan Officers of the Girl's Friendly Society in St. Stephen's Church on Saturday, May 25th.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Variations On A Theme by Handel" ..... Guilmant

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Father, day by day we look to Thee for the help Thou dost bestow. In times of temptation, uphold us by Thy strength. In times of fear and loneliness, give us Thy power and the sense of Thy companionship. In times of doubt and uncertainty, give us Thy light and Thy guidance. Grant that nothing may shake our confidence in Thy love or cause us to doubt the final triumph of Thy purposes for all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Introit

The Processional Hymn 143 ..... National Hymn

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm #119:14, 15, Page 497

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Jubilate Deo, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

The Anthem: "Unfold, Ye Portals Everlasting" ..... Gounod

With welcome to receive Him ascending on high! Behold the King of Glory! He mounts up through the sky, back to the heavenly mansions hasting. Unfold, for lo, the King comes nigh. But who is He, the King of Glory? He who death overcame, the Lord in battle mighty. Of hosts He is the Lord; of angels and of powers: the King of Glory is the King of saints.

The Sermon: "THE GOSPEL OF THE NEW AGE" ..... THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn 261 ..... Tidings

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn 355 ..... Miles Lane

Flowers on our Altar today are provided by the Katherine Kennedy Fund in memory of Charles Beck and Walter James Coulter.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. John L. Pintavalle

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I want to thank all of you for praying for me last month. My shoulder was frozen and orthopedic surgery was the doctor's verdict; but, praiise be to God. His answered prayer is the final verdict, and I don't have to have the surgery after all. It can be done with daily therapy at home over a period of time. Enough of the calcium had been broken down through divine intervention to change the verdict within four days. Praise God, and thanks to your prayer warriors.

OUR NATION'S GREATNESS

Sometimes we speak of the greatness of our Democracy, and I believe we have good reason to do so. But if we speak with pride (as if we frail children of dust have produced the greatness)—then we are wrong!

Doctor Emrich, in "Earth Might Be Fair" once pointed to the Source of our greatness. He looked back to the days that followed the American Revolution, when our forefathers gathered to frame a new government. Humanly speaking the outlook was black—patriots were exhausted from a seven-year war; and there was little enthusiasm for the new nation-to-be. The forces of division were rampant. What could a handful of men do? But these leaders did not put their faith in the cleverness of man. They remembered that they were children of the Most High; and they framed their government on that heroic faith.

Out of that faith came our freedom of worship, and the right to a job. Dr. Emrich points out, "If it is a man's duty to worship God, then he has the right to do so, and no State may demand of him the worship due to God alone. If it is his duty under God to develop his talents by work, then he has the right to work. There is in man, when he lives this eternal life with God, an inner stronghold of freedom which no earthly power may assault. His rights are written in the stars." In the same way, freedom of speech and freedom of the press stem from our belief that we are the children of God. For, since you are God's child, you have the right to speak what He puts in your heart. It is your parentage alone which gives you importance. Because He is your Father, you are entitled to the rights of a free Democracy.

The Psalmist looked up to the majesty of the night sky and knew that he was only "a little two-legged creature beneath the awful splendor of the heavens." "What is man that Thou are mindful of him?" He asked in true humility. And the New Testament gives us the answer, that we are "the heirs of God;" that we are worth noticing in the universe only because we are the offspring of God. It is not that we deserve the consideration of the Almighty. Rather, we receive His loving aid as "grace" because we are His own children, and because He is a great and merciful Father. As we approach Memorial Day, we naturally think with hope of the greatness of our Nation. We can preserve and increase that greatness only if we walk very humbly with our God.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Richmond Virginia, Sunday evening through Tuesday, May 26th—28th, in St. Mark's Church, Centenary Methodist Church and Second Presbyterian Church.

THE CHURCH FLAG

The Rector will dedicate a new Church Flag at the 11 O'Clock services on May 26th. This Flag is presented by Mr. Raymond Winter, in memory of his wife, Elizabeth Heath Winter.

The Foundation of the Church Flag is the Christian Flag, the banner of Constantine, a white field on which is superimposed a red cross with arms extending to all edges. This is a symbol of the universality of the Church of Christ which is to spread to the very edges of the whole world. In the upper left are nine cross-crosslets in silver on a blue ground. The colors are red for scarifice, white for purity of the Christian religion, Madonna blue representing the human nature of our Lord inherited from His Virgin Mother. The nine cross-crosslets, representing the nine original Dioceses of General Convention held in 1789, are arranged in the form of a St. Andrew's Cross because the first Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, Bishop Seabury of Connecticut, was consecrated in Scotland. The cross-crosslet is the symbol of the propagating nature of the Church.

THE ANNUAL RECTORY COOK-OUT LUNCHEON—for the Women of St. Stephen's, Morning and Afternoon Branches, will be held on Saturday, June 1st; in case of rain, on the following Saturday. The 11:42 A.M. train on the Manayunk Line of the P.R.R. will be met at the Cynwyd Station. Or, you may use the Route 44 Ardmore bus from Market Street, to Montgomery Ave., Cynwyd. Walk North Levering Mill Road 3 blocks to Lodges Lane, to Number 121.

"IN-LIEU-OF-FLOWERS"

During the past few years an increasing number of families have designated St. Stephen's Church or the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing to receive contributions in memory of loved ones who have passed on. It was suggested that these contributions and the contributors receive an acknowledgement of their gifts. These contributions are placed in a Memorial Fund, and to honor these persons being remembered St. Stephen's Church has placed a Memorial Plaque on the North wall of the Church. Thus far eight persons names have been inscribed.

Mr. Charles U. Shellenberger was confirmed last Sunday at the services held in Holy Trinity Church.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Antiphon IV" ..... Marcel Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Grant unto us, Almighty God, the peace that passeth understanding, that we, amid the storms and troubles of this our life, may rest in Thee, knowing that all things are in Thee, not beneath Thine eye only, but under Thy care, governed by Thy will, guarded by Thy love, so that with a quiet heart we may see the storms of life, the cloud and the thick darkness, ever rejoicing to know that the darkness and the light are both alike to Thee. Guide, guard and govern us even to the end that none of us may fail to lay hold upon the immortal life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Introit

The Processional Hymn 382 ..... Tallis Ordinal

The Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: "O All Ye Nations" ..... Heinrich Schutz

O all ye nations, praise the Lord; O praise the Lord all ye people. Praise ye Jehovah in His strengh; all that hath life and breath, now praise Jehovah. God's loving kindness unto us is great and merciful, with heart and with voice in Him rejoice; for His Truth endureth ever more, Sing Praises! Alleluia! Praise ye the Lord.

The Sermon: THE GOSPEL FOR THE NEW AGE ..... THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn 410 ..... Martyrdom

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn 479 ..... Hyfrfydol

HIS INSTRUMENTS

An ordinary paint brush in the hands of Michaelangelo did wonders of beauty, because the paint brush responded to the will of a great painter. A plain man in the hands of God can do greater things still—because he responds to the will of the Almighty.

Jesus showed wonders humanity can do, when it is surrendered to God's wishes. He was so yielded to God's pleasure that God could work through Him, freely and wondrously. "I and My Father are One," Jesus said—just as a paint brush and the painter are one. Jesus taught us to be so surrendered to God that He can use us as His instruments.

Our Nation has sometimes been led, at great hours, by men who followed this teaching of Jesus. As Abraham Lincoln faced the mighty task of President, he felt the overwhelming magnitude of the task. Knowing his own human limits, he turned to the Source of all wisdom. In his farewell to his friends in Springfield, Illinois, he said, "Without the assistance of that Divine Being, . . . I cannot succeed. With that Assistance, I cannot fail." As the Presidential train neared Washington, Lincoln prayed that he might be "a humble instrument in the hands of The Almighty."

Again we find ourselves in great and perilous days. The dangers and the opportunities are so tremendous that we cannot fail to be humble, as Lincoln was. We know, deep in our hearts, that we small humans are not equal to this testing. Only under God can we meet the demands of the hour. We need to pray for a President who will lead this Nation as an instrument sensitive to the promptings of the God who made all mankind. We must each seek divine guidance that our leaders may be humble and have the teachable spirit of Lincoln.

For this is no time to try to get God to do our wills. A delegation of clergymen once waited on Lincoln, and their spokesman expressed the hope that "the Lord is on our side." Lincoln quickly replied, "I'm not at all concerned about that, for I know that the Lord is always on the side of the right. But it is my constant anxiety and prayer that I and this Nation should be on the Lord's side."

This must be our concern—to offer ourselves to God, to be used by Him, that He may have His way on earth. If we, the American people, will make it our first business to serve Him, and if we can lift up a President who will be God's servant—then the American people can be a great and glorious blessiing to our troubled world.

ORDER OF ST. LUKE CONFERENCE

5,527 people attended the various sessions of the four day International Conference on the Church's Ministry of Healing held in St. Stephen's Church September 8th through the 11th.

31 Denominations were represented; clergy and laymen came from 29 States, and six from overseas countries: Australia, Nigeria, Ireland, India, England and Canada. There were 70 Clergymen present. There were 18 speakers and 34 addresses. 45 new members were inducted into the Order. Some 1500 persons enjoyed the Social Hour Periods in the Community House in the afternoons of Conference days.

Words are inadequate to express our appreciation to Mrs. Madeline Keller who supervised all the activity in the Community House, and to her many volunteers for their untiring efforts. Our devoted Verger, Mr. Clifton Johnson and his wife prepared and cooked the fine dinner, served on Tuesday evening, which was enjoyed by some 200 persons. Miss Hazel Bainbridge did a magnificent and flawless job in managing the ushers, offerings, healing and communion services.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Four weeks ago you generously gave me some individual counseling. You prayed for me, with your hands on my ears. I felt, if you would just hold them there long enough, all the terrible reverberations and head noises would go away. You gave me several pamphlets as a help to rid myself of this crippling disease. I used them before meals, as an empty stomach seems more conducive to deep concentration. This was coupled with the 24 hour prayers of your group. Well, it is the same old story to you—every day brought me closer to becoming a while person. At this moment, 28 days later, I can say I am well. It was such a marvelous feeling, during the four weeks that my name was on the the Prayer List; to think that some other human being was actually praying for me. Many times I found myself saying, "Can it really be true?"

A PATTERN OF BEAUTY

"It was a very wise doctor who once said, Most people think that all we have to know is what disease the patient has. Often it is more important to know what patient has the disease. "How right he was! Two patients come into a tuberculosis sanatorium, each has the same excellent chance of recovery from an early case. One settles down, with courage and faith, to take a good cure, and in 18 months returns to his home and family, to earn his living and take care of his loved ones. The other sulks and fumes, and breaks the hospital rules; and does not recover. With these two people, and hosts of others, it did not make so much difference what disease the patient had. It made the difference between life and death, what patient had the disease.

Thomas Mann, the famous author, was discussing the effect of illness upon the career of a writer. He did not think that just being sick makes or breaks the writer, but that, in a person of courage and talent, illness can stimulate and enrich that career—"it depends on who is sick." When a sick man lets the sickness stir him to deeper dependence on God, or a more self-forgetful service of others, then you get a Robert Louis Stevenson or a Doctor Trudeau.

It is fashionable to account for success or failure by circumstances. "So-and-so succeeded because he got the breaks." "I lost out because luck was against me." But the fact is that a man or woman of faith can take even misfortune, and let God make something great out of it. It can take long months of illness in a hospital, and make a new character out of it. The fact is that Jesus took the ugly, disgraceful Cross, and made a sign of victory out of it. Paul cries joyfully, in the face of the worst life can do to us, "We are more than conquerors through Him that loved us." If we will let Him, God can even take our mistakes and our crosses and weave them into a pattern of beauty.

A Persian was telling how they make beautiful carpets in his country. The carpet-to-be is hung vertically on a frame, and little boys, sitting on planks at various levels, put in the colors from the wrong side. The artist stands on the right side of the carpet, shouting directions to the boys, telling them what colors to use, and where. The boys obey, not seeing the pattern at all. Sometimes they get tired or heedless, and make a mistake. Often the artist does not make the boy remove the wrong color. If he is a really great artist, he weaves the mistake into the pattern, and it is lost in the beautiful design.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks to the prayers of your group my memory is much improved and my crippled feet and asthma are much improved. The large calcium deposit in the heart valve of Louis J. Simon is being absorbed and his open heart surgery has been cancelled.

—Carolyn M. Polacek (Phoenix, Arizona)

Miss Elena Lynch, R.N., who has been on vacation from her 8 months volunteer work in Burrswood, England, will show slides of this wonderful Healing Centre founded by the famous Dorothy Kerin, in St. Stephen's Community House following the morning service, on Sunday, September 15th. All Are Welcome!

The Rector dedicated an Altar Cruet on Sunday September 1st, presented by Joan Paulis in memory of Gertrude Langton.

ON SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 15th—2:30 P.M. the Deaf of Delaware Valley (Philadelphia, Chester, Wilmington and Trenton) will meet for a Service of Holy Communion in St. Stephen's Church. Beginning October 20th the Deaf Congregation of All Soul's Church, Philadelphia, which is being sold, will have weekly services in St. Stephen's Church on Sundays at 2:30 P.M.

This work will come under the ministry of the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling who for many years has ministered to the Hard of Hearing of St. Stephen's Church.

It is interesting to note that All Soul's Church For Deaf began in St. Stephen's Church in 1859 and for many years had Church services here for the deaf. And that the first Deaf Priest to be ordained to the Priesthood was ordained here in St. Stephen's Church by the Rt. Rev. William Bacon Stevens, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE Rev. Edward P. Leckie, Associate Warden, Canada: "Divine Healing—A Biblical Panorama."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Cantabile ..... Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, we assemble in the name that is above every name, to offer Thee our heart's devotion. We thank Thee for this quiet hour in this hallowed place. Here the pressure of life is lifted. Here the shallow desires of earth are stilled. Here the deep hunger of our hearts is satisfied. Bless us this hour. Reach our souls with Thy Spirit. Grant that our familiarity with the outward symbol may not dim our eyes to its splendor. May Thy Word be a Light to our path, and Eternal life to our souls; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Anthem: "All People That On Earth Do Dwell".....Vaughan-Williams

All people that on earth do dwell, sing to the Lord with cheerful voice; Him serve with fear, His praise forth tell; come ye before Him and rejoice . . . Know that the Lord is God indeed; without our aid He did us make: we are His folk. He doth us feed, and for His sheep He doth us take . . . O enter then His gates with praise, approach with joy His courts into; praise, laud and bless His name always, for it is seemly so to do . . . For why? The Lord our God is good, His mercy is forever sure; His truth at all times firmly stood, and shall from age to age endure. Amen.

The Sermon: "DIVINE HEALING—
A BIBLICAL PANORAMA"..... Rev. Edward P. Leckie,

CANCER

A person who is unhappy is more likely to develop cancer than one who is leading a happy, satisfactory life. Internal balance is health and internal unbalance is sickness. These bodily functions are controlled by glands that are influenced by mental health.

—Dr. Clarence Cook Little
Director of the Roscoe B. Jackson
Memorial Laboratory for Cancer
Research at Bar Harbor, Maine.

DOCTOR AND PATIENT

Macbeth: How does your patient, Doctor?
Doctor: Not so sick, my lord, as she is troubled with thick-coming fancies that keep her from her rest.
Macbeth: Cure her of that. Canst thou not minister to mind diseas'd, pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow, raze out the written troubles of the brain, and with some sweet oblivious antidote cleanse the stuff'd bosom of that perilous stuff which weighs upon the heart?
Doctor: Therein the patient must minister to himself.

—Macbeth (V, 3)

How often today are we, as physicians, leaving our patient to "minister to himself?" Is it enough to prescribe a pill to alleviate physical pain, a tranquilizer to suppress mental or emotional suffering, or suggest a cocktail before dinner with the thought that it might mask the uneasiness of spiritual emptiness? Rather, shouldn't we be aiding our patients by helping them to understand the message of their illnesses?

It is easy to feel smug and satisfied after having made a diagnosis of a difficult case. Example: After much study and many expensive tests, I reach a conclusion, missed by several other doctors, that J.D. is suffering from aplastic anemia. I then inform him with the added comment that I sincerely regret that the causes for this disease, unfortunately, are unknown. There is little I can do for him! Transfusions might possibly give him temporary relief of symptoms; or they might be of no use whatever. Up to this point I would say I have actually done more for myself than for my patient. I have given my ego considerable satisfaction by arriving at a conclusion which certain other doctors failed to reach. But haven't I been more concerned with the illness than with the person it masks? Does my duty to the patient stop here? Should I make an attempt to reach the "person" who is lost behind the facade of an increasingly threatening disease? Dare I search for this "person", cowering in the depths, to ascertain that "which weighs upon the heart?"

We know so well that the actual duration of a so-called "incurable" illness varies greatly with patients. Some illnesses run a fast course; the patient is dead in a few days after the diagnosis is first made. Others will linger on far beyond any prognosticated life-expectancy, some even outliving the doctor. Questions that might properly be considered by the physician or clergyman at a time like this might include: Does J.D. have a strong self-image? Is he influenced, primarily, by the thoughts of others? Does J.D. have something or someone for whom to live or does life at this point seem to hold nothing for him? What can I do to increase his hope? Is my own faith in life such that some of it can infuse his soul and break the rigid hold of his illness?

This approach means a readiness to spend considerable time and patience with the ill person. It means accepting him or her without judgment . . . At times it may even mean the difference between recovery and death.

—Dr. Evarts G. Loomis, M.D.

THE CRITERIA OF EMOTIONAL MATURITY

HAVING the ability to deal constructively with reality. HAVING the capacity to adapt to change. HAVING a relative freedom from symptoms that are produced by tensions and anxieties. HAVING the capacity to find more satisfaction in giving than receiving. HAVING the capacity to relate to other people in a consistent manner with mutual satisfaction and helpfulness. HAVING the capacity to sublimate, to direct one's instinctive hostile energy into creative and constructive outlets. HAVING the capacity to love.

—William C. Menninger, M.D.

The Prelude: "My Heart Is Filled With Longing" ..... Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Holy Spirit of God, abide with us; inspire all our thoughts; pervade our imaginations; suggest all our decisions; order all our doings. Be with us in our silence and in our speech, in our haste and in our leisure, in company and solitude, in the freshness of the morning and in the weariness of the evening; and give us grace at all times humbly to rejoice in Thy mysterious companionship; through Jesus Christ our Lord. THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—This is to report to you the complete healing of a malignancy of Louise Shanks. On June 6th she went into the hospital for another set of diagnostic tests. These tests indicated negative on the cancer, and the general condition of her blood better than it has ever been. As you recall, I wrote to you in May after hospital tests had revealed its recurrence. She was operated on two years ago for the cancer which was in her liver and intestine. She has had no treatments since that time. We thank you and all your helpers from the bottom of our hearts.—Carolyn L. Shaffer (Murrysville, Penna.)

THANKFUL PEOPLE ARE HAPPY PEOPLE. An ancient mystic said this. "On the contrary the happy people are not always the thankful ones!" Dr. John Gayner Banks, Founder of the Order of St. Luke, used to say frequently, "Keep your life open to the invasion of joy!" So, to have happiness, one of the great aids to health, keep your life open to the invasion of joy, and have as your motto, "The thankful people are the happy people."

—Excerpts from "Sharing".

TRY YOUR WINGS

Another day Birnie Warfield was preaching to a Camps Farthest Out meeting on the great text, "As an eagle stirreth up her nest. . . ." He leaned on both arms across the pulpit:

"Let's talk about that. It is said that the eagle builds its nest as wide as five feet, lays about 4 or 5 eggs. She builds the nest high on the highest peak she can find. She builds it of rocks and twigs and thorns, and then she lines it with the soft down fur from birds and little animals.

"Then when the little eagles are hatched, the mother eagle feeds them and keeps them comfortable. But when she thinks they should fly, she gets in and flaps her wings." Birnie's arms waved through the air. "Yes, she does. She gets in and flaps, and the little eagles don't know what's coming over them. They begin to cry and scream, 'my mother's flapping me!' "

An easy grin spread over his face. "And if they don't get out and fly, each day she takes a little of the down and the fur from nest. Then when the little eagle backs up, he gets pierced by the thorn and he screams and he hollers. But each day she takes out more and more, and then when there's only thorns she gets in there with her wings and stirs them up and they jump out. The mother makes them get out and use their wings.

"I get a little uneasy when things are going too easy with me, when things are soft. I know God's going to stir my nest. And I thank Him for every stir He's given me."

His hands clapped a rhythm. "God's not mean. You and I are destined to become His sons. And all sons of God have wings. When you try your wings, God is always watching. He'll not let you fall."

He stepped to the middle where his arms would be free to move. "When the mother eagle takes the young out, she takes two at a time, and drops them to see if they can fly. They do it very awkwardly. If they get too fast she swoops down and picks them up on her wings—and she repeats and repeats."

He leaned forward and balanced himself with his hands on his knees. "How many times has God taken you and me out on His wings and let us down? When we begin to pummel and begin to scream (like the little eagles, we scream and holler), just about that time the wings of God come up under. . . ." He moved his arms from the floor and the sleeve of his robe formed a wing. "God's trying to tell you and me, we gotta use our wings. The thing is, we got wings. Don't let no one tell you we don't! You got them, deep down inside. And you gotta keep saying, "I can fly, I can fly!"

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers, whose contributions came in just too late to be acknowledged in our June 30th issue: Frances F. Bailey, Mary E. Schearer, Mr. & Mrs. Charles U. Shellenberger.

SPREAD ABROAD THE THIRTEENTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE ORDER OF ST. LUKE—which begins next Sunday, September 8th. Bishops, Clergymen, Doctors and Laymen will bring helpful messages on the Church's Ministry of Healing. The Rev. Edward P. Leckie, Associate Warden, of Canada, will preach at the 11 O'clock Service: "DIVINE HEALING—A BIBLICAL PANORAMA".

At the evening session, 7:30 P.M. addresses by three noted speakers on various aspects of the Healing Ministry.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday: Noonday brief preaching service; afternoon session at 2:30; evening session at 7:30.

We need the help of members of the congregation to serve as ushers.

Miss Elena Lynch, R.N., who has been on vacation from her 8 months volunteer work in Burrswood, England, will show slides of this wonderful Healing Centre founded by the famous Dorothy Kerin, in St. Stephen's Community House following the morning service, on Sunday, September 15th. All Are Welcome!

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America,
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Ye Sweet Retreat" ..... Wm. Boyce

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty God, in Thee is our only hope. Increase in our own, and in every nation, the spirit of truth and justice; peace and godly love. Turn the hearts of all men unto Thee, and so hasten the blessed time when the kingdoms of the world shall become the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ; in whose name we offer these petitions, even the same Christ Jesus, Thy Son our Lord. Amen.

The Introit

The Processional Hymn 309 ..... Creation

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm 146, Page 522

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: I Corinthians 13

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it comes from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: God Is My Shepherd (Paraphrase, 23rd Psalm) ..... Dvorak

The Sermon: "REPENT" ..... THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn 536 ..... Old 124th

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn 519 ..... Ebenezer

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Arthur C. Comby, to the glory of God and in loving memory of his parents, Clara A. and Edward T. Comby.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. David L. German, Sr.

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer and Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—In the past month I asked for further prayers by your dedicated Prayer Fellowship. I have tried to follow consistently your suggestion of three times a day at various intervals withdrawing to my own room and quietly listening for God's guidance or for prayer. The blessing of this small discipline is beyond belief. I thank you with all my grateful heart for "The Healing of So-Called Nervous Disorders"—which has followed me for 18 years! I have carefully studied your paper books and find them a constant blessing. I love your "Healing of Nervous Disorders." From page 11 on, I use it several times a day, to lift my heart and mind to God: and it has never failed me. My deepest gratitude to you for writing so clearly and so wisely. I do thank your blessed Prayer Group for their help these past three months. They are unique in the entire Church. May God bless and sustain them in doing Christ's work for His children.—Vivian MacFarlane (St. Paul, Minn.)

TRUST IN GOD

We human beings certainly get black feelings about this world of ours. In the old legend of Ulysses, Circe changed his followers into animals, and then promised that she would change them back again if Ulysses could persuade them that they would be better off as men. Ulysses thought that this would be quite easy, but he found that no one of them was willing to exchange the simple, happy animal state and resume the misery of a human being. That dreary legend sounds like the people of today who moan, "I hate to think of my children growing up to face the years ahead!"

Surely one cannot answer these disheartened people with "blue bird of happiness talk." We cannot close our eyes and deny the tumult and agony and evil at large in the world around us. But we can point out that so many of these miseries have grown out of half-hearted Christianity, out of paganism which has crept into our lives. When a child of God forgets his parentage, he is apt to descend to the level of a beast.

We can also assure them that, when we have trusted God, our lives have never become a nightmare. We have faced tragedy and trusted God to see us through it—and have always come out into the light again. We have faced the end of a blind alley, trusted God, and found a door opening into new life. The experience of God-trusting people, all down the ages, has been that He leads them faithfully through every wilderness, night and day. The apostles of every generation rejoice to find that evil spirits are subject to the power of God within them. Those who entrust themselves to the goodness of God live among miracles.

A friend of mine woke in the night once to hear his small son, Peter, calling him. He got up and went into his room and turned on the light; and there Peter was, with all the bed clothes off him, looking very cold. But the small boy was sound asleep. My friend tucked him in and went back to bed. In the morning Peter said, "You know, Daddy, I woke up in the night, and was cold, because all the bed clothes were off. So I called you." My friend said, "Yes, you did, Peter—but, when I got there, quickly, you were already asleep again." "Oh yes, Daddy," replied Peter, "I went to sleep right away. I knew you'd come." He trusted his father. Those who trust our Eternal Father find the same answering love, without fail!

The Rector will attend the Pocono Mountain Methodist Preaching Mission and preach and conduct a healing service on July 14th at 8 P.M. in the Canadensis United Methodist Church.

The Rector will conduct a Seminar on Christian Healing at the Kirkridge Retreat Center in Bangor, Penna. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 15th—17th.

The Rector will preach at the Community Vesper Service in Cape May, New Jersey, on July 28th at 7 P.M.

Miss Nadia Watson will be a leader in Creative Art and Writing at the Camp Farthest Out Conference at Wesley College, Dover, Delaware July 21st—27th, inclusive.

Have you made your annual contribution to the Phila. Council of Churches?

I hope all parishioners will have a time of rest and relaxation during the Summer. May the Lord bless you all!

Faithfully, your Rector—Alfred W. Price

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Air in D" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and everlasting God, the Source of our life, the Strength of our pilgrimage, and the Goal of our journey; stir our spirits by Thy Spirit, that we may worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. Make us sensitive to Thy presence. Often we have forgotten Thee and turned aside from Thy ways. Touch our lips with the live coal from off the Altar; open our ears to the assurance of pardon; and kindle our hearts with eagerness to go forth as Thy messengers, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Choral Introit ..... Kedron

Come, let us to the Lord our God
with contrite hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave
the desolate to mourn.

His voice commands the tempest forth and stills the stormy wave;
And though His arm be strong to smite,
'tis also strong to save.

The Processional Hymn 484 ..... Truro

The Response to the Decalogue, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: "Lord, Make Me An Instrument Of Thy Peace" .. David Stanley York

Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace. Where there is hatred, let me sow love, where there is doubt, faith. Where there is despair, Hope. Where there is darkness, Light. Where there is sadness, let me sow joy. O divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled, as to console, to be understood, as to understand, to be loved, as to love; For it is in giving that we receive; it is in pardoning that we are pardoned; and it is in dying that we are born . . . born to eternal life.

The Sermon: DOES LIFE MAKE SENSE? ..... The Rector
The Offertory Hymn 374 ..... Holley
The Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan
The Kneeling Hymn 205 ..... Oblation
The Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scottish Chant
The Recessional Hymn 487 ..... Ellers

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. & Mrs. Charles K. Hay to the Glory of God and in loving memory of parents, Mr. & Mrs. John W. Huxley.

LET ME IN

There is a story of a man who was entirely careless of spiritual things. He died and went to hell. He was much missed by his friends on earth. His business manager went down to the gates of hell to see if there was any chance of bringing him back. But, though he pleaded for the gates to be opened, the iron bars never yielded. His cricket captain went also and asked Satan to let him out just for the remainder of the season. But there was no response. His minister went also, and argued, "He was not altogether bad. Let him have another chance. Let him out just once." Many other friends of his went also and pleaded with Satan, saying, "Let him out! Let him out! Let him out!" But, when his mother came, she spoke no word of release. Quietly, with a strange catch of voice, she said to Satan, "Let me in." And immediately the great doors swung open. For love goes down to the gates of hell and there redeems the damned.

This is what God, in Christ did for us. God did not remain afar off as He sought to get rebellious mankind off the hook of our sin. He loves us too much for that. Somehow we must be transformed from our self-centered, "I want what I want, right now." And this must happen from within ourselves if it is to be real. So He came into our life here on earth, and lived with us, and offered Himself to us. What did we do? We crucified Him. And we still do. But, there on the Cross, He goes on loving us. That is more than we can resist—the Love that is not angered when we wound and reject Him but keeps on, eternally loving us. That is too much for us to push away, once we really see it. Humbly, gratefully, we surrender, and find that heaven where Love is King.

He expects us to let His great Love loose through us, each day. So many people never read the Good News in the Bible—we may be the only Bible they ever meet. God expects us to be so filled with Him that men may see His Mighty Love in us. He expects that, even when they hurt us and push us away, we shall keep on loving them. We must ask God to let us into their hell of selfishness, and live lovingly with them here, deeply involved in their heavy-laden hell of selfishness, and live lovingly with them there, deeply involved in their heavy-laden lives. If we do this resolutely, there is a glorious chance that they may open their hearts to be redeemed, changed and made new, and brought into that heaven where Love is triumphant.

Inflation has reached our Altar Memorial Flowers and the price of five dollars must now be increased to ten dollars. We have the following dates open to new donors: October 27th and December 15th. Please notify Miss Beatrice Van Sciver.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing at the Cathedral in Garden City, Long Island, New York, Sunday evening through Tuesday, October 6th-8th.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —This comes from the rude and stubborn female who pestered you at length one hot August Sunday. It seemed to be the end of my emotional control and yet I had to go on in the present situation. Your healing prayer turned the tide and I have, in God's grace, been able to continue. Thank you for help in time of need.

—Lillian L. Smith (Camden, N.J.)

Malcolm Diamond of Princeton's Department of Religion, participant in the Peace Movement, is increasingly alarmed by the excesses of its extremists: "Many members of the peace movement begin with detestation of injustice. They then transfer this passion to the specific problems of international affairs in a way that polarizes the issues. They maintain that peace is good; therefore, those in the peace movement are good. It follows that those outside it are evil. In the familiar patterns of fanaticism they then use prophetic invection bombarding the opposition with absolute judgments. Political discourse becomes increasingly difficult as one party reaches for epithets like 'Nazi' and the other for 'Communist'!"

"I wonder if it isn't time for us to reflect upon the 8th and 9th verses of the 4th Chapter of Genesis. Remember that, after Cain slew his brother, the Lord said to Cain 'Where is Abel, your brother?' Cain replied 'I know not. Am I my brother's keeper?' The answer is YES. Each of us is his brother's keeper and in the eyes of God all of us are brothers. We dare not be indifferent to our brothers' needs, whether these needs be material, spiritual, or just plain communication."—General H. K. Johnson, Chief of Staff, U.S. Army.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, have mercy on all ignorant souls, and instruct them; on all deluded minds, and enlighten them. Have mercy on all broken hearts, and heal them; all struggling with temptation, and rescuse them; all that are fallen from Thee, and raise them; all that stand with Thee, and confirm them. O blessed Jesus, who didst shed Thy blood for us all, shed Thy Holy Spirit on all, and heal them; for Thy pity's sake. Amen.

The Choral Introit: O Holy Savior, Friend unseen,
The faint, the weak on Thee may lean;
Help me, throughout life's varying scene
By faith to cling to Thee.

The Processional Hymn 309 ..... Creation

The Venite, page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm 140, Page 516

The First Lesson: Daniel 5:1-9, 13-30

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 12:13-21

The Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Anthem: "When Thou Art Near" ..... J. S. Bach

When Thou art near I fear no evil, my heart is glad; when Thou art near I feel great joy. Thou art my guide, my consolation. Great joy is mine when Thou art near: my Savior, comfort me. Hide not Thy face, look on Thy servant. In pain and sorrow wilt Thou heal me; Lord hear the voice of my complaint. O Lord my God, comfort Thy servant. Lord, hear me when I cry to Thee; help me, my God, my Savior. Thou art my guide, my Savior, O hear me when I call to Thee. Thou art my life, my strength, my joy.

The Sermon: "THE TALENTS" ..... The Rector

The Offertory Hymn 400 ..... Graefenberg

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn 542 ..... Duke Street

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. & Mrs. Hugo Hansen to the Glory of God and in loving memory of their parents.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I wrote you some time ago for prayer for my nephew, Leroy Hamby, who was a patient in a mental hospital. He is now sound and well, and is back to school making good grades. I cannot find words to express my appreciation for all the prayers you have sent up for him.

—Pauline Hamby (Dahlonega, Georgia)

REMOVED

Perhaps you never knew that your middle name is "Moses." No? But I think that you will find that it is!

Pharoah saw that the people of Israel were having a population explosion. They were increasing so fast that he was afraid that they would rise and overcome the Egyptians. So he ordered the Egyptian mid-wives to drown every Jewish boy-baby, and only let the girls live. There came a day when one Jewish mother had a baby boy she thought was so wonderful and sturdy that she hid him for three months. Then, when she could no longer conceal him safely, she made a little basket for him, and put it where Pharoah's daughter was accustomed to come down to the river to bathe. Pharoah's daughter was so taken that she had him cared for by a Hebrew woman (the baby's own mother!). Then, one day, when he had grown up, Pharoah's daughter adopted him as her own son, and she named him "Moses," which means "Removed," for, she said, "I have removed him from the river."

As you look back over life do you not find many places where the love of God (through some human being) "removed" you from a hopeless situation, and lifted you into life? Some unexpected, powerful aid took hold of you, and rescued you from your trouble. Most of us can trace this rescuing hand right through our lives. This is what is called "Grace"—the wondrous love of God who comes to our aid when we have nowhere else to turn, even when we do not deserve it. I recall so many of those moments in my own life, with humble gratitude.

It was Paul who passed on to us this exciting truth of God's grace. He had yearned so deeply to get rid of his handicap, the "thorn in the flesh" which caused him so much embarrassment. But God left "the thorn" in his life to remind Paul of his human helplessness without God, his urgent and constant need of God's strength. Paul finally had the sense to accept God's decision, and found that God always gave him courage to endure the handicap triumphantly. It was in helplessness that Paul discovered God's grace—"My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Later on, as we read in Galatians, he was finally healed of this informity.

How many experiences you can recall, when God came into your helplessness, and lifted you out of despair into confident hope—because you trusted the wonder of His love. Out of your own life you know what Paul was talking about—the miracle of being "removed"!

Isn't it glorious to have "Moses" for your middle name!

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Olga B. Carlile, Eleanor Chapman, Mrs. Grace Hetherington, Mrs. Kathryn Ash Neild, Mrs. A. P. Valentine.

ON THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3rd, The Chapel For The Hard of Hearing will have their 30th Annual Autumn Bazaar in the Community House. Luncheon will be served from 12 Noon to 2 P.M. A baked ham dinner will be served from 5:30 P.M. to 7 P.M. Many useful items will be on sale. There will be bargains galore! So Come to the Bazaar if you can. Enjoy lunch or dinner—buy something for yourself or for someone else. (The Baked Ham Dinner—$1.75.).

POINT OF VIEW

What they think when little Oswald starts to school for the first time:

His mother: "Just think! My liittle darling is almost grown up!"

His father: "I hope he makes a full-back!

His older sister: "That means I've got to walk to school with him and can't go with the kids."

His teacher: "I hope he's smarter than he looks."

His neighbor: "What a relief! Now we can have peace for a few hours a day."

His dog: "Yo-o-o-o-w-l-l-l!"

"Dear God, I read your book and I like it. I would like to write a book with the same kind of stories. Where did you get your ideas?" Mark, in the book More Children's Letters to God.

The Rector will speak to the Manor High School of the Devereaux Foundation in Devon on Sunday evening.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America,
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Order of Service begins on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 214-5

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Air" ..... Flor Peters

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, give unto us the spirit of true and sincere worship as we draw near to Thee in this holy place, that we may be delivered from all coldness of heart and wandering of mind. Bless to us the ministry of Thy servants, and grant that we may all worthily show forth Thy praise, humbly learn Thy Word, and render our thanks for all Thy mercies to us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Choral Introit:

Come, let us to the Lord our God with hearts return;

Our God is gracious, nor will leave the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn 599 ..... Vigiles Et Sancti

The Venite, page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm 68:1-20, page 419

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 2:41-52

The Jubilate Deo, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,

None other hope in heaven or earth or sea;

None other hiding place from guilt and shame,

None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "O Be Joyful In The Lord ..... Ainsle Cox

O be joyful in the Lord all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness, and come before His presence with a song. Be ye sure that the Lord He is God; it is He that hath made us and not we ourselves; we are His people and the sheep of His pasture. O go your way into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise; be thankful unto Him and speak good of His name. For the Lord is gracious, His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endureth from generation to generation.

The Sermon: "THE DIVINITY OF CHRIST" ..... The Rector

The Offertory Hymn 572 ..... Maryton

GOD'S WAY

If you should take a trip to Chichicastenango in Guatemala, you will find there a most interesting monument. At the top of a wooden mountain you would come upon a primitive stone idol, perhaps five thousand years old. You would discover, at its base, fresh offerings of strewn flower petals and pine needles, and a fire smoldering on a crude Altar. The people still worship that old idol. And, carved out of the same stone, standing right against the idol you would find the Cross of Christ!

Those Mayan people of Guatemala are very much like the Greeks whom St. Paul visited. On the famous hill of Athens, Paul found many altars to many gods; and then, just for luck, one to "an unknown God." Down the long years hosts of people have bowed their heads in worship to several gods at the same time, being too lazy-hearted to surrender themselves, heart and soul, to the Maker of the Universe.

As old Elijah put it, "How long wilt ye halt between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow Him." That challenge was needed by the Greeks; it is needed by the Mayans; it is certainly needed by us. We worship God, but we also build in our hearts an altar to the power of money. There is a Cross of self-sacrifice in our hearts, but right close to it, an idol of selfishness. We say, "I believe in God's Way of Love, but of course I have got to look out for myself." Sometimes the old idol towers up higher than our belief in God.

We live in a tragic world. One reason that it is so tragic is our split loyalty, our half-hearted trust in Almighty God. We believe in God, BUT we are not often willing to seek His will, and obey it. We believe in His Way of Love, BUT we depend on force, armed might. In as perilous a world as ours, we had best quit this double-worship. We had best stake our whole future on God, who is truly Almighty. And so I propose a very simple, every day habit—for us to ask ourselves again and again, "Is this God's Way?" Ask ourselves which path ahead is His Way; and then take it. "How long will ye halt between two opinions?

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—A little over eleven years ago I brought an infant to your healing service who was terribly ill. We were living in New York at the time and I read of your service in a Lenten Guidepost article. Today, although small for his age, he is well, and a child with the most loving personality.—Mrs. Barbara Sobran (Old Greenwich, Conn.)

The Rector will preach at St. Paul's Church, Morris Plains, N. J. on October 18th (St. Luke's Day).

NIGERIA-BIAFRA RELIEF

The Church World Service and our "Presiding Bishop's Fund" are appealing for three million dollars for the immediate relief of the millions of people who are the victims of the serious conflict going on over there. A new and vigorous attempt is being made to mount a continuous and effective air-lift which can move supplies from suitably equipped points to distribution centers in needy areas. Some aid has already arrived and the first medical-nursing team is on its way. The Goal for our Diocese is $8,500. Please use the enclosed envelope and bring it or send it in to St. Stephen's Church.

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will begin their Fall meeting next Sunday after the morning service, in the Community House. All are welcome. Refreshments will be served. A Bible talk will be given by Mrs. Price.

Next Sunday we are inviting the Doctors and Nurses of our neighborhood hospitals and Nursing Schools to the 11 O'Clock service to celebrate St. Luke's Day. St. Luke is the Patron Saint of Medicine. Please invite your family doctor to join with us. Invitation Cards are available in the vestibule of the Church.

"No organization can be effective unless it has high morale. There cannot be high morale unless there is discipline fairly administered to all alike. In a democratic society we could not have the freedom we love unless we had also the Constitution, the Common Law, the police and the courts—in short, the discipline—to protect our freedoms."—Edgar Romig.

MEDICINE AND RELIGION

The faith of the individual patient is a vital factor in total health. It is not a matter of whether we agree or disagree or accept this particular type or degree of faith. The patient has faith and we must treat the patient within the realm of his faith."

These words appear in a pamphlet published by the American Medical Association's Department of Medicine and Religion. They point up a medical fact of life—man cannot be divided neatly into segments and treated successfully in segments. His hungers . . . his fears . . . his weaknesses . . . physical or mental, overflow onto the whole man and affect his total health.

Recognizing this, physicians and clergymen are working together today with a degree of mutual regard that is dissolving communication barriers between scientists and theologians

At the national and local level, in medical school seminars and medical society meetings, in the pre-dawn quiet of hospital corridors, ministers and physicians are helping each other help patients.

THE MEANING OF LIFE

Dr. Victor Frankl, a member of the Medical Faculty of the University of Vienna, in an address made in 1958 has this to say about the meaning of life:

"In my opinion," said Dr. Frankl, "man is dominated neither by the will-to-pleasure (Freud) nor by the will-to-power (Adler), but by what I call the will-to-meaning; that is to say, his deep-seated striving and struggle for a higher and ultimate meaning to his existence. This is his misson in life—his unique task." He then went on to describe his experiences as a prisoner in a concentration camp during the Second World War! Everyone in the camp was suffering; at one time he thought he himself was dying. In reference to that experience he said, "While the concern of most in the camp was: 'will we survive the camp? For if not, all this suffering makes no sense'; the question for me was, 'Has all this suffering, this dying around us, a meaning? For if not, there is no sense to surviving.' "

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —Please accept my heart-felt thanks for Matthew Rich. He was born with a congenital heart malformation. A hole in his heart was healed during the healing service on September 10th. Only time will tell whether his heart has been completely healed. (There was a transposition of valves). Thanks be to God!—Roberta L. Anderson (Warren, Conn.)

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will have the first meeting of the year on Sunday, October 20th following the morning service, in the Community House. Cider and donuts will be served. Mrs. Price will continue the review of the Life of our Lord. All are Welcome.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing Sunday evening, October 20th, through Tuesday, at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Chambersburg, Penna. While there he will give an address and dedication prayer for the proposed Retreat and Healing Center, Emmaus Acres, at St. Thomas, Penna.

WELCOME TO DOCTORS AND NURSES

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith, and need of fuller cooperation between doctors and clergy in the study and performace of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors and nurses in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Chorale in A Minor"..... Cesar Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and eternal God, whose sons and daughters we are, we beseech Thee to awaken us to a new sense of our mission as Thy children. Help us to live under the compulsion of high imperatives. Strengthen us to follow closely the steps of Him who went about doing good. Use us as Thy messengers to any one who are troubled. Show us how to give strengthening companionship to the lonely and discouraged. Teach us gentle words of healing for those in pain and grief. Guide us to give wise counsel to the wayward and tempted. In all our dealings with distressed humanity keep us faithful to the spirit of Christ, who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister. In His name, Amen.

The Choral Introit:

Come, let us to the Lord with contrite hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn 285 ..... Leoni

SHORT OF LOVE

Do you sometimes shudder, lest you run out of love at Christmastime?

Dr. Frank Laubach, a young missionary in the Philippines, experienced complete failure in drawing the people to Jesus Christ. In agony of soul, he asked God what was the matter with him, and the answer came back, "You do not love these people, Frank." "I know that, God," he said. "They are so dirty; their habits repulse me. I don't love them but I can't do anything about it."

Then came the secret that eventually turned a failure into a world-renowned figure, and the great ambassador of literacy for God: "let me love them, through you, Frank." Instead of avoiding their priests, he went to meet them—asked them about their faith, made friends with them, letting God love them through him. Frank Laubach discovered their great need, which was to learn to read and write. Through God's power of love, he found how to teach literacy swiftly, to many people. So Normal Elliott tells the story: Not fiction, but what happened in a man who found himself short of love.

As Christmas approaches, we shall do well if we remember Jesus' promise, "I'm with you always, even unto the end of the world." God knows that our powers are limited. So He left us the assurance that, if we invite Him, now, He will enter into our thinking, our hoping, our loving. He will freshen our thinking to remember what one special loved one most wants. He will quicken our inner hopes so that we find new confidence in celebrating the birthday of God's Son. He will pour His gift of love into our hearts so He can bless all that need blessing, through us.

Because He has promised this, we can be bold to claim it—to take Him at His word. "There are things we cannot do on the human plane, as long as we rule ourselves. Only when God controls and reigns within us, are some things possible," like a Christmas overflowing with love!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —I'd like to give you a report on a "graduate" of your Prayer List. About six years ago our son, Robert, was having difficulty adjusting to his handicap of epilepsy. Needless to say we were having troubles ourselves. Last Sunday Bob was married in our Church. But for your prayers this could not have been possible. May God continue to bless you and your Prayer Fellowship. With our deepest gratitude—Mrs. R. Ellis (Akron, Ohio)

MESSAGE FROM THE RECTOR

I urge you to attend Church on Sunday, November 24th at the 11 o'clock Service. In a sense, it is against a firmly held principle that I do this. I do not believe that a minister should plead with people to attend Church, nor do I believe that he should scold them when they do not attend Church. To do the first lacks a certain sense of dignity, to do the other serves no useful purpose. Many of my colleagues in the ministry evidently do not agree with me on this principle. Without exception they confront the fact of a nation-wide decline in Church attendance. Some express a feeling of personal hurt and injured feelings. Others reveal an unconcealed bitterness bordering on downright anger. Still others seek refuge in the rationalization that they must be preaching the Gospel with power and purity—telling their people how it really is—and since the people are unable to accept the truth, they stay away. How tempted we all are to twist truth to serve our ego-saving purposes!

The plain truth is that in a time when Church attendance generally is showing a marked decline, we are just about holding even. We have made no exciting gain nor have we endured any notable loss. During the past 25 years we have lost by death an average of 27 members per year, and until recent years we have been able to find 27 persons to fill in the gap. To be able to just "hold our own" is cause for neither congratulations nor complacency. It simply provides a base from which we move ahead. That movement forward will not be prompted by pleading or prodding on my part. You are a mature people, not to be treated as children. Only your conscience and sense of personal commitment to the Church can motivate you, and certainly not anything I can say or do.

I make an exception on Sunday, November 24th. This is Pledge Sunday, when we place our Pledge Cards in the Chest of Joash. Come and pledge your support to the Church for 1969. Every member who is present and pledges enables us to "get our house in order" more promptly. In consideration of others and out of a desire to cooperate with your Church in a most helpful way—come to Church next Sunday, and make Pledge Sunday a great day for the future of St. Stephen's Church.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Trinity Church, Rock Island, Illinois, Sunday evening, Nov. 17th through Tuesday, Nov. 19th.

St. Stephen's Fellowship Group will have their regular 3rd Sunday meeting in the Community House following the morning service. Refreshments and a Bible talk by Mrs. Price is the order of business. All are welcome—both men and women.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Song of Peace"..... Langlais

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, we assemble in Thy name, the name that is above every name, to offer Thee our heart's devotion. We thank Thee for this quiet hour in this hallowed place. Here the pressure of life is lifted. Here the shallow desires of earth are stilled. Here the deep hunger of our hearts is satisfied. Bless us this hour. Reach our souls with Thy Spirit. Grant that our familiarity with the outward symbol may not close our hearts to the inflow of Thy power, and that the limitations in the human medium through which Thy Word is spoken may not dim our eyes to its splendor. May Thy Word be a Light to our path and eternal life to our souls, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea;
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Praise"

To the Master of Music and loveliness: Praise, power, dominion for ever. To the Lord of the Word of Creation be praise, power, dominion for ever. To the Maker of movement, color and light: Praise, power and dominion for ever. To the Builder, Designer, Creator . . . to the Theme of all song, Inspiration of love: To the Artist of Life, to the great and least: For He is the greatest upon His high throne, and He was the least as the child of a maiden: Praise then, to Jesus whose mother was Mary, and praise now to Christ who is God in the midst of us. Praise. Lord of all beauty, adoring, we come to Thee: Give us Thyself both in time and eternity . . . We come to Thee offering all that we are or can hope to be, Lord of all beauty—Praise, Power, Dominion for ever.

The Sermon: "THE AGE OF UNBELIEF".....The Rector

KEY TO EVERY SITUATION

Charles L. Allen writes of a man who put his keys into one of his shoes each night when he goes to bed. The next morning, that is the last thing he puts on. He takes out those keys, holds them in his hand, and says something like this: "Lord, this day I will come to certain doors that are locked, but I shall use these keys to open those doors. And may I remember today that there is a key to every situation, a solution to every problem. May I never surrender to one of life's locked doors; instead, may I use the keys of the key-ring of prayer until I find the right key to the door to be opened."

In order to pray victoriously we must remember one thing—God, being infinitely and wholly loving, can only give us what is needful and precious to us. No good father can give hurtfully or, give trashy gifts to his children. It is not in God's nature to give anything but the best.

Several times Jesus promised that God will answer our prayers; will give us the key that opens the door of our problem. He expects that we will pray as He has taught us in the Lord's prayer. We are always to pray, saying, "We" or "us" or "Our"—always to include the needs and the welfare of others. Our prayer must be in a forgiving spirit. Our prayer must begin humbly, gratefully bowing before God with ready obedience. Our prayer must be in tune with the coming of the Kingdom among men. We are able to pray in that spirit. Jesus would not have commended us to do so unless it were possible. And all that is required for us is the willingness to pray in that loving, humble, grateful spirit. And we can be willing—in fact, we'd better be, if we want to find the glory of answered prayer!

After all, there is a key to every situation—God's key. Even to the situation in which you find yourself this minute. Before we can pray victoriously, we have to be very quiet, and remember what God is like—like Jesus. Then we need to ask Him for His key, H I S KEY, His answer to our need, for His answer is always the best, even though it may call for some changes in us!

Before He can answer my prayer to reconcile my friend and me, I will have to give up my self-righteousness, my attention to my friend's mistakes; and look at my own. We can establish contact with God only if we are in tune with Him, just as I can only listen to a concert broadcast from the Metropolitan Opera Company when I tune in on the right wave-length. Once I've tuned in Jesus' wave-length in prayer, and approach God humbly and gratefully, and obediently, then I find the exciting adventure of answered prayer.

THERE IS A KEY TO EVERY SITUATION!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —I want to thank you and the Prayer Fellowship for praying for me during my illness. To know you were holding me up before God was an inspiration to me. I read prayerfully the very helpful prayers you sent me and it all worked out beautifully in my behalf. I am up and out again, thank God!—Rev. W. C. Stewart (New Smyrna Beach, Florida)

The Rector will lead a Prayer and Worship Day at Denbigh Conference Center in Radnor on Friday, November 15th, from 10 A.M. to 2:30 P.M. for the Episcopal Churchwomen.

The Diocesan Fall In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering will be held in Christ Church, 2nd Street above Market on Tuesday, November 19th at 8 P.M. There will be a dinner, cost $2.00, at 6:30 P.M. Tickets are necessary.

A NEW COMMANDMENT: Question (On a written test); What is the Fifth Commandment?—Answer: "Humor thy father and thy mother."

The Prelude: "O World, I Must Now Leave Thee"..... J. Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, cleanse our spiritual vision. Open our eyes to the glory of the life of consecration. Let light fall upon our pathway. Help us to see more clearly the radiance of Him who is the Light of the world, and in His light may we see light. Invade our hearts with Thy quietness. Calm our restlessness. Help us to put our trust in Thee, Grant us the peace of mind that steadies and comforts in every time of need. Lift our burden of carefulness. Set us free from anxiety. Deliver us from the fret of hard circumstance and uphold us with Thy free Spirit. In the name of our loving Lord and Savior. Amen.

The Choral Introit:

Come, let us to the Lord with contrite hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn 472 ..... Pilgrims

The Response to the Decalogue, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place"..... J. Brahms

How lovely is Thy dwelling place, O Lord of Hosts. For my soul, it longeth, yea, fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God. O blest are they that dwell within Thy house; they praise Thy name ever more! How lovely is Thy dwelling place.

The Sermon: "THE COMMUNION OF SAINTS"..... THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn 397

The Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

The Kneeling Hymn 208 ..... Penitentia

The Gloria in Excelsis, #739 ..... Old Scottish Chant

The Recessional Hymn 126 ..... Sarum

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. A. Wilson Ross, to the glory of God and in loving memory of her mother, C. Grace Ruhl Armstrong; and by Mr. J. S. Leeds, in loving memory of parents and sister.

STAY WITH IT

Have you noticed that there are times when one of the participants in the Bible story is nameless? This is the case in the account of the Walk to Emmaus—two are mentioned, but only one name is given. Once, when reading that passage, I imagined myself to be the unnamed one, and the whole experience quivered with new meaning for me. This happened another time with the book of Nehemiah. I did not seem to be reading about an experience so much as living through it. The story was not something remote by race, region or time, but so close that I could translate it in terms of my own life. Perhaps it was because of the quality in Nehemiah which defied the years; perhaps because I had arrived at a point in my own life where I had to hold fast to something in which I believed, and no matter what happened—hold. Nehemiah had had to do just that. Remember?

When he heard of the distressing condition of the walls of Jerusalem he "sat down and wept"; but he did not remain that way. He turned to God in prayer and soon after "did what God put in his heart to do." He went to Jerusalem to rebuild the walls, with a small group of followers who were to grow in number and ardor. They worked at night, maintaining a watch as they worked; but the danger that beset them was not to life so much as to intent. They were assailed with taunts and mockery; trickery was resorted to lure Nehemiah from the task and his leadership. He had one reply, "I'm doing a great work and cannot come down." When the story finally comes to a conclusion, it is with the words of Nehemiah: "So we built the wall . . . for the joy of the Lord is your strength." (Nehemiah, Chapter 1 through 8). In my own situation, I saw as I took counsel with God, that I would have to stand for and on what I believed to be the right course of action. Outward besetments could not defeat me if inner dismay did not deter me. I could say, too, "I am doing a great work, and I cannot come down." I could no more look down than I could look to the right or to the left. Having taken a stand, there was but one thing to do—Stay With It; And when the time came to move there could be only one direction to go, and it would be forward.

It is strengthening to identify one's self with a character who has travailed and so to share more meaningfully in his triumph; and the strength aids in one's own predicament. Seen with the perspective of time how at times God prepared different people for their work and helped them to accomplish it, enables us to look into our own lives and glimpse the forces that may be at work preparing us for the work we can do.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

Sunday, November 3rd the United Thank Offering will be received at the morning service. The Diocesan Fall In-Gathering will be held in Christ Church, 2nd Street above Market on Tuesday, November 19th at 8 P.M. There will be a dinner, cost $2.00, at 6:30 P.M. Tickets necessary.

NOTABLE QUOTATIONS:—An individual gospel without a social gospel is a soul without a body. And a social gospel without an individual gospel is a body without a soul. One is a ghost and the other is a corpse—you can take your choice.—E. Stanley Jones.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I wrote to you a month ago for prayers for my granddaughter for self confidence, and to open a door of employment to her. She is now employed in a nice office. Thank you for helping: it is so kind of all of your Prayer Fellowship to help us reach our heavenly Father through your prayers—Eleanor Tiedeman (Pittsburgh, Penna.)

PARABLE

When asked to name his favorite Bible story, a small boy replied, "The one where everybody loafs and fishes."—A Parish Paper.

REMNANT

Overhead on a city street: "We're going to be living in a better neighborhood soon."

"So are we."

"Oh, are you moving away from here, too?"

"No we're staying."

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 145 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Ein' feste Burg".....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Father, we remember before Thee the blessings that companion us on our pathway. We lift our hearts in gratitude for sunny skies and delightful days, for worthy tasks that engage our fingers and high hopes that fill our minds, for the fellowship of good neighbors and the love of dear ones far away, for the contentments of today and the expectations of tomorrow, and for all the joys that gladden our lives. Lift from our minds any burden of anxiety. May we remember that Thy compassions fail not. Help us to know that all things work together for good to them that love Thee. And grant us Thy peace. Amen.

The Choral Introit:
Come, let us to the Lord with contrite hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn 276 .....Nun Danket

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. John 9:1-38

The Jubilate Deo, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:
None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea;
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Laudate Dominum"—from Vesperae solennes de confessore, K. 339 .....Mozart
Sing praise to God above all ye nations, praise Him ye people, all ye souls on earth. For He hath shown His kindness toward us, His love and merciful kindness, and the truth of God lasteth forever, lasteth for all eternity. Praise to the Father and Son also, and the Holy Spirit, as it was then and will ever be, both now and always through the centuries everlasting. Amen.

YOUR GIFT TO GOD

There is a Hindu proverb that says "The thirsty person goes to the well, and not the well to the thirsty person." This may often be true of our approach to a reading of the Bible. Many of its songs and moving passages and wonderful stories have long been a part of our thinking, through early memorization or oft-hearing. Always it is there, on shelf or near-by table, as a resource; but, as living waters to quench thirst, it is not fully appreciated unless one learns what thirst is.

The inner question that comes to us all, and often repeatedly—who am I? Why am I here? What is my work? Is a form of thirst. The search for identity, for an understanding of one's place in the world, is aided as awareness comes that no one belongs to the human family alone; or to a single segment of society, but to that larger family where God is the Father and all mankind are brothers and sisters. This relationship is comforting, as well as humbling. It takes humility to see a sure and certain place for one's self in the vastness of God's plan, but humility is a powerful word, related to the Latin "humus" ground, and if anything organic is to grow it can grow only from the ground up. A tree roots in the ground and reaches up to fulfill its destiny; a human being roots himself in God's plan and moves on from there. Reading the Bible with newly searching eyes, its stories come alive as we find others—great people or plain, learned or simple—who in discovering their relationship with God discover an inheritance that is not subject to change or depreciation but can only become more meaningful. "You are no longer a slave, but a son," Paul tells the Galatians, and so tells us, "and if a son, then an heir."

The waters are there to quench the thirst for identity. Seeing ourselves as children of the Father, we place ourselves totally in His care and become willing to do His work wherever He may place us with whatever tools He has equipped us. The words, "Life is God's gift to you," find their completion in the words, "What you do with your life is your gift to God."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —I am grateful to you for the wonderful prayers, which resulted in great progress which I have made. Each day the improvement is noticeable in my hand, foot and leg. My friends think it is marvelous, the improvement I have made in walking. May I have another month of prayer help?—Frances Richards (Ashland, Alabama)

The Rector will conduct a Healing Service in St. Luke's Church, Woodstown, N.J. on Sunday at 7:30 P.M., and in Grace Church, Plainfield, N.J. on Tuesday at 8 P.M.

St. Stephen's Fall In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering will be held on Sunday, November 3rd at the 11 o'clock service. Please bring your offering in the enclosed blue envelope so that it may be placed on the Altar. This offering of praise and prayer is an expression of all thankfulness for the many blessings, both large and small, which are God's gifts to us day by day.

Won't you take part in this splendid venture? It is tremendously important.

Friday, November 1st is All Saints' Day. The celebration of the Holy Communion and the reading of the names of those who have passed into life eternal from our parish since last All Saints' Day will be held at 12:30 P.M.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Frances F. Bailey, Miss Elizabeth B. Bowne, William Coffee, Gladys Given, Regina McComb, E. H. Hamilton, E. D. Ponton, Nicholas L. Todd, Mary Louise Wood, Miss Edith Lillian Wyatt.

NIGERIAN-BIAFRAN RELIEF

Supplementing funds from our Milk Can to the generous response to the Nigerian-Biafran Appeal, St. Stephen's has been able to contribute $500.00 to the starving children of Biafra, Africa. Food and supplies are now being continuously airlifted into Biafra.

WAIT ON THE LORD

What a difference between Thanksgiving Day in 1621 and in 1968! The first American Thanksgiving followed a savage Winter of cold and suffering and hunger. Our Thanksgiving, this year, comes to most Americans richly provided for in regard to food and comfort. The early Puritans had been thankful for survival, to be sure. We present-day Americans are thankful for our plenty. But something bigger and deeper lies back of it on Thanksgiving Day.

Ralph Sockman reminds us of the Psalmist's bidding, "Wait on the Lord, be of good courage, and He shall strengthen thee." "He was thinking of something more than success, or self-made prosperity. He was counselling a courage rooted in soil deeper than his own subconscious mind. He was saying that when we wait on the Lord, God strengthens our hearts with the feeling that He believes in us, and that begets belief in ourselves. Those Pilgrim Fathers felt that God had His eye on them, that God believed in them. That is what made them believe in themselves and their cause. That helped to make them brave." That was enough to make their hearts overflow with thankfulness!

Our circumstances may be very different from those of the Puritans, but our gratitude must rise to the same cause; on something more precious than our pleasant prosperity. It must spring out of the sense that God has His eye on us, expects much of us, and will sustain us if we respond to Him. He has given to us, His chillren, the great task of sharing all we have. We can each of us begin this sharing right where we are, with what we have.

You could be writing a Thanksgiving note to some humble loved one, saying, "How I thank God for you, over the years." You might be inviting someone to share your Thanksgiving dinner—someone who would be surprised. You could be telephoning your loving greetings to someone newly alone this Thanksgiving . . .

It is sure cause for giving thanks, that God is depending on you to spread His loving assurance. "Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and He shall strengthen thee!"

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 24th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by Pledges the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1969. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their Pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this Card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the Annual Re-Dedication and Pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

We have a few Bulletin subscribers whom we want to thank: Mrs. Eloise P. Hutt, Mrs. Elvira Pearce, A. Wilson Ross, Mrs. G. Byron Woolley, Mrs. R. L. Polkinhorn.

HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICE

On Thanksgiving Day, November 28th, at 11 A.M.—Music by the Choir and Sermon by the Rector.

The Thanksgiving Altar will be decorated, not with flowers, but with breads of various national cultures represented in the Melting Pot of Philadelphia:

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America,
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt. sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service begins on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 106-7

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "How Brightly Beams the Morning Star"..... Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Father, day by day we look to Thee for the help Thou dost bestow. In times of temptation, uphold us by Thy strength. In times of fear and loneliness, give us Thy power and the sense of Thy companionship. In times of doubt and uncertainty, give us Thy light and Thy guidance. Grant that nothing may shake our confidence in Thy Love, or cause us to doubt the final triumph of Thy purposes for all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Choral Introit

The Processional Hymn 46 ..... Morning Star

The Response to the Decalogue #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: "How Brightly Beams the Morning Star"..... Robert Elmore
How brightly beams the Morning Star! What sudden radiance from afar doth glad us with its shining! Brightness of God that breaks our night, and fills the darkened souls with light, who long for truth were pining! Jesus! Holy, holy, yet most lowly, draw Thou near us. Great Immanuel, come and hear us.

The Sermon: "ALL OUR KNOWLEDGE BRINGS US NEARER TO OUR IGNORANCE".....THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER
(Acknowledgement is made with thanks to Abingdon Press for permission to use as Sermon Topics the following from their profound publication "Man The Believer," by Samuel H. Miller.)

The Offertory Hymn 49 ..... Valour

The Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

The Kneeling Hymn 205 ..... Oblation

The Gloria in Excelsis, #739 ..... Old Scottish Chant

The Recessional Hymn 289 ..... St. Anne

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling to the glory of God and in loving memory of his parents.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. C. Ellis Westervelt.

KEEPING WALKING

"Rise and walk. . . . Walk while ye have the light. . . . Let us walk honestly, as in the day. . . . Walk in the Spirit. . . . Walk in love. . . ." All through the New Testament, especially, we are bidden to walk.

It's easy to sit and wonder, and fuss—but that is not the faith that has been passed down to us. "Walk in newness of life," Paul bade the Romans, who needed help in getting started. Dr. Jowett once told a fable of the young bear cub which was puzzled to know how to walk. "Shall I," he asked the old she-bear; "shall I move my right foot first, or my left, or my two front paws together, or the hind ones, or all four at once, or how?" In reply the old she-bear growled, "Leave off thinking, and walk." We can get so hot and bothered that we become paralyzed by the apparent difficulties. The bear club discovered that walking is not too difficult, once he began. God has put into young bears, and into growing Christians, the ability to move ahead. But we do have to get up and start!

With young animals the day comes when the parents push them out and make them get going. They have no choice. But God handles His human children differently —He nudges them and leaves it up to them whether they will respond. We can choose between the deadliness of sitting, and the adventure of launching out into living. But He has taught us—through His Son and through Paul—that we'd better get out of the debating stage and get moving. "How on earth can I help so-and-so, who is sick?" I ask. And God answers. "Walk (or start writing that letter) . . . and God will tell you what to say and do."

Some of you cannot go far beyond a bed or a wheel-chair, but your prayers and your thoughts can range far and wide. Your body may be anchored, but your spirit walks out into the world and its needs. Your spirit refuses to sit still and die. So you light the way for us who love you.

A friend and I were sharing our common lot in sometimes having "dry times" when life feels drab, and God seems far-off. She smiled and said, "We just have to keep walking, don't we!" That's it, and, by God's grace, we can!

THE REV. ROGER PICKERING

Serving the deaf in the Episcopal Diocese of California, will become Missionary to the Deaf in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, beginning Jan. 1st, 1969.

Mr. Pickering, his wife and two children, will arrive in Philadelphia about the first of the year. His work will be centered in St. Stephen's Church, and he will conduct his first service, a Celebration of the Holy Communion on Sunday, January 5th at 2:30 P.M., the Eve of the Feast Day of the Epiphany; the sixth Anniversary of his Ordination to the Priesthood. Mr. Pickering will relieve the Rev. G. C. Meckling as Missionary to All Souls' Church for the Deaf. St. Stephen's Church welcomes the Pickering Family.

All Souls' Church is being sold and its congregation is now centered in St. Stephen's Church. All Souls' Church began in St. Stephen's in 1859, and services for the Deaf were held here for many years. The first deaf priest to be ordained to the priesthood was ordained here by the late Rt. Rev. William Bacon Stephens, Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —I should like to express my thanks to your Prayer Group for the healing prayers for my daughter's seeded warts which needed X-ray treatments. Soon after Susan was entered for prayers the bottom of her foot was completely clear. The X-ray was not needed. A true healing. Thank you.—Mrs. Clendening (Philadelphia, Pa.)

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscriptions to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. At the present time we mail out about 680 every week. They go to individuals and families of people who live in 18 of our States, and a few go to Canada. It goes not only to members, but also to shut-ins and people who value the weekly message. Due to the necessity of mailing almost half of them each week by first class mail, the weekly cost figure is in the neighborhood of $70.00 Our receipts for the year 1968, reported by the Parish Treasurer, came to a total of $998.00, toward expenses of the weekly Bulletin; this is far less than total expenses.

If every family would give $2.50 per year, the cost would be met. Of course a great many on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so a generous check or two from those who are financially able to do so, will help cover those unable to contribute toward this expense. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising cost of printing and mailing make this special appeal necessary. Please use the enclosed envelope for your contribution.

LOVE IS GOD IN ACTION

When we think of power, we are apt to think in terms of the atomic bomb, with its awesome explosive might. Yet Starr Daily, after long years of crime, testifies to "A power that resides in the hearts of men, which is greater than any power ever to be discovered in the realm of natural science." He writes:

"I was robbing the safe in the home of a priest. He surprised me in the act. From a stairway above me I heard his unexpected voice, 'What are you doing there, child?' I wheeled my flash-light and gun on him. He was in a night robe, and unarmed. Stand where you are, I commanded sharply. "I've got you covered." "I mean you no harm." His voice had a rare accent of friendliness and honor in it. Slowly he began descending the steps. "Stop, or I'll drop you!" I commanded him. With superb assurance he came on, reached the bottom, and walked leisurely over to a light switch and pressed the button. Turning to me, he said, "Put down your gun, my child. I only want to talk with you a little while."

So he put down his gun, and the priest invited him to share a snack of cold meat—during which the priest talked to him about God, a God who is the everlasting Friend of Man: who loves us with a mighty compassion and says to us, "Neither do I condemn thee". When Starr Daily walked out of the priest's house into the night, he had no worry that this man would telephone the police. But he was wondering what was the strange new power that had made him act so differently, so unlike a hardened thief. Little by little he began to see that the priest that cared about him, unafraid of the gun in Starr Daily's hand, had been concerned for him in a special, strange way that got under his skin, and made him want to be different. He began to see that God was at work through this priest; that "Love is God in action." In the years that followed, Starr Daily was transformed into an instrument for the Love of God, all across America and beyond.

There is no limit to God's power. If we let His Love work freely within us, we can be changed at the heart of our lives, to live as a child of God, in joy and freedom. If we let His Love work freely through us, He can accomplish quiet wonders of new courage and strength in the lives of those who need it.

Just let Him do it!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —Our little boy, Grant, who was born with only half a heart, is still living a normal, active life. He is very strong and active and he revels in his strength; and he enjoys every minute of his life. He is a happy little boy of 2½ years now, and is the delight of our lives. The heart specialist told us last month he feels Grant will now live. He had always said a child with half a heart could only be a vegetable, if he lived. Our boy is living proof of the miracle of your prayers brought about in St. John's Church, North Vancouver. The Vicar at our Church asked me to tell in my own words about how you prayed for Grant, and how the child was dying, and was given up as a hopeless case; until after our meeting with you, and our continued praise and thanksgiving to God, when we saw the miracle of God's healing. Last Sunday, instead of the sermon, I told Grant's life story at 9:30 and 11 A.M. People in the congregation were deeply moved. Faith in God can overcome all burdens and obstacles.—Mrs. Barbara Hughes (Vancouver, B.C.)

PRAYER EVANGELISTS

We now have 135 men and women in St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship. They are our Prayer Evangelists. They are committed to a Prayer activity which is a disciplined devotional work that goes on 'round the clock—24 hours of continuous prayers daily for persons in need of God's healing; body, mind and soul. Each person is thus lifted up in prayer 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks. Chronic cases are renewed for longer periods.

During the years 1968—20,587 persons requested our prayers; people from all over the world. We are grateful to these Intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Why do we pray for others if God is no "respector of persons", and His Good Will toward all men is impartial? Because the degree to which His power enters a given life varies with the disposition of the person for it. Prayer is a principal means of opening one's self to the power and love of God that is already there—in the depths of reality. He is always ready to guide, to bless, to make whole, to enrich, to comfort and to heal; such barriers as there are to His coming in us are not in Him, but in each of us. "Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I shall come in. . . ."

In Intercession we help to release His power and grace into the lives of others. We do not beg and beseech God to help and heal these needy persons, but pray that their capacity will be increased to receive God's healing, wisdom and guidance.

We want to express our thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Frances F. Bailey, Mrs. N. Greer Barrett, Mrs. Edward J. Cooke, John W. Glassey, Edith Hanson, Mabel Meek, Mary E. Schearer, Mrs. Gertrude J. Steele, Mrs. Charles Stein, Mrs. Lois Thomson, Eleanora Valentine.

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt. sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service begins on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 111-112

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Cortege and Litany" ..... Marcel Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord our God, prepare us to worship Thee aright. Touch our lips with joyous gratitude, that the words of our prayer and praise may be acceptable unto Thee. Invade our hearts with new reverence and responsiveness, that even the silence may be filled with messages from Thee. Give us renewed confidence in Thy fatherly goodness, that we may remember that we are Thy sons and daughters; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Choral Introit:

Saw you never, in the twilight, when the sun had left the skies;
Up in heav'n the clear stars shining thru the gloom, like silver eyes?
So of old the wise men, watching, saw a little stranger star,
And they knew the King was given, and they followed it from far.

The Processional Hymn 329 ..... Frankfort

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

Psalm #96, Page 459

The First Lesson: Exodus 3:1-15

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Mark 9:2-13

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Anthem: "O God, Have Mercy" ..... Mendelssohn

O God, have mercy upon me, and blot out my transgressions according to Thy loving kindness, yea, even for Thy mercy's sake. Deny me not. O cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy Spirit from me, O Lord. Lord, a broken heart, and a contrite heart is offer'd before Thee. O Lord, have mercy . . . I will speak of Thy salvation, I will teach transgressors, and sinners shall be converted unto thee. Then, open Thou my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall show forth Thy glorious praise.

The Sermon: "THE QUESTION THAT WILL NOT GO AWAY" .....
REV. ANDREW W. MAYER

The Offertory Hymn 268 ..... St. Patrick

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn 30 ..... The First Nowell

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Grace Hetherington to the glory of God and in loving memory of her husband, Harry Hetherington.

THE FACE OF DANGER

There are moments when life seems to jump at you savagely. What does our faith give us as defense against those moments?

Charles Allen tells how a young intern was making his rounds in a large ward filled with "battle-fatigue" patients—young soldiers emotionally upset by battle field shocks, some of them to a point of violence. Suddenly one of them jumped out of bed, grabbed the young doctor by the throat and shouted, "You are my enemy. You are trying to kill me, so I'm going to kill you." The intern knew that this man was normally twice as strong as he was, and now he had the strength of a maniac. The hands were powerful, and the soldier's face was wild and angry. Instead of fighting, the doctor completely relaxed. He looked the man straight in the eye, and quietly said, "The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want." The man looked back at him. His eyes began to focus. "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil." A look of sanity began to come back into the young man's face, and the grip of those strong hands began to slacken. Slowly, deliberately, the doctor repeated the twenty-third Psalm, until he concluded, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever." The soldier was quiet now; so the doctor took him by the arm and said, "Come on, now, let's go back to bed." The savage anger had vanished in the face of one who was secure in God.

This does not mean that the man who stays his mind on God will always be safe in the face of danger. Jesus Christ faced His enemies in the power of God, and was crucified. But hate did not overcome love in His heart—love had the victory.

So, when life seems to attack you most fiercely, it is possible to meet it with steadfast faith in God, relaxed in Him. Sometimes the outcome will be a happy victory—as with last week's burglar and Priest, or this week's doctor and patient. We like that kind of victory best, of course. But at other times it may be a suffering victory—as on Calvary, where hate keeps on attacking love; or in the long illness, where pain and weakness continue; or in loneliness that came suddenly upon you.

I know some of you are winning joyous victories. I know others who are gloriously on your way to suffering victories. I hear both of you saying, "The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: —Just a wee note to say a heartfelt "thank you" for your most valued prayers. Our wonderful Lord and Savior has restored me from a nervous breakdown, and renewed me in His wonderful joy.

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

FREE FROM ARROGANCE

The Pharisee is always a dangerous citizen—he thinks he is better than other men; and that false idea often leads to trouble. Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, Headmaster of Philips-Andover Academy, once spoke vividly of the peril of this arrogance, this fancied superiority; and he pointed out that some of our men in the armed services have showed that this dangerous attitude can be overcome. He told the following story:

It happened in a small town somewhere in Georgia. The bus was about to start. The driver took his seat but, before starting, he turned around, looked all the passengers over, and shouted: "The Sergeant must sit in the rear." (In the section reserved for Negroes.) All of us turned our heads. There, in the middle of the bus, sitting side by side, were two Sergeants—a white and a Negro. The white Sergeant, who was sitting nearest the aisle, went back and took his seat among the colored people. He was tall and handsome, with quite a few ribbons on his chest. The Negro Sergeant didn't move. He, too, had been overseas, as his ribbons indicated. "The Sergeant must sit in the rear!" The bus driver shouted again. The white Sergeant, whose eyes were closed, as if he were sleeping, opened his eyes and shouted, "I'm in the rear now!" "I'm not talking to you!" the driver yelled. The white Sergeant was getting angry, "Then what do you want?" "The colored Sergeant must sit in the rear." The black boy rose, went back and took his seat by the side of his white comrade. Still the driver was not satisfied. "The white Sergeant must sit in front," he commanded. No answer. The bus driver left his seat, pressed impatiently through the crowded aisle—"Hey, you Sergeant, sit in front!" No answer. The bus driver shouted his command again, "Come in front now!" At last the white Sergeant spoke, "Why?" "Why?" "Don't you know you're in the South?" "Want to teach me geography?" the white boy shot back. "I know where I am. And I've been in more places than you would care to know, and I sit here because I like it here. It's a free country, isn't it? Let's go. We're getting late." The bus driver blushed scarlet, and stammered, "Will you sit in front—yes or no?" "No!" flashed back the answer, "and better get going, I don't want to miss my train." The driver left the bus, and came back with an M.P., but when the M.P. found he was being asked to order a white boy to sit with white people, he shook his head, and went off. The driver looked very much puzzled. Then with an angry curse, he stepped into the bus, sat down, and pressed the starter. The two Sergeants looked at each other, and smiled.

Jesus condemned the Pharisee who fancied himself better than the publican. Jesus condemns every one of us who enjoys fancying himself superior to some of his fellow men. If we wish to call ourselves Christians, we had best pay more attention to Jesus. If we do, we might have a world freed from arrogance; and, thus, freed from war!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Words cannot begin to express my sincere thanks for the prayers of your Fellowship on behalf of my family, friends and myself. I am now back to work as a radio announcer and I am working with renewed zest in the power of His name. Thank you so much again for letting God speak through you to my family and friends. You will all continue to be in our prayers with the knowledge that "In Him we live and move and have our being."

—Joe Van Poppel (Hamilton, Canada)

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Arioso" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal God, we pray for our country. Grant us to see it, not through our own, but through Thine eyes. Keep us ever mindful that Thou art the Father of all mankind, that Thou dost entertain no favorites, but dost love all nations, kindreds and peoples. Forgive us the sins that have brought us to this hour. Purge us of our stubborn pride, and write the law of Thy will in our hearts with the finger of understanding love. Let there be within us compassion for the suffering of all men: in the name of Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Choral Introit:

The Processional Hymn 282 ..... Lauda Anima

The Response to the Decalogue #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: Immortal Love, Forever Full ..... William V. Wallace

Immortal love, forever full, forever flowing free, forever shared, forever whole, a never-ebbing sea! We may not climb the heav'nly steeps to bring the Lord Christ down; in vain we search the lowest deeps, for Him no depths can drown. But warm, sweet, tender, even yet a present help is He; and faith has still its Olivet, and love its Galilee. The healing of His seamless dress is by our beds of pain, we touch Him in life's throng and press, and we are whole again. Through Him the first fond prayers are said, our lips of childhood frame; the last low whispers of our dead are burdened with His name. O Lord and Master of us all! What e'er our name or sign, we own Thy sway, we hear Thy call, we test our lives by Thine.

The Sermon: "A PIECE OF BREAD" ..... REV. ANDREW MAYER

The Offertory Hymn 574 ..... Holley

The Sanctus—#711 ..... Willan

The Kneeling Hymn 435 ..... Rest

The Gloria in Excelsis, #739 ..... Old Ssottish Chant

The Recessional Hymn 487 ..... Ellers

JESUS ALWAYS STOPPED

A visit some time ago to New York reminded me of the Columbia University professor, and of his passion always to go as quickly as possible. He met a visitor from India, far down-town, and together they got into a subway train. At the next stop the professor shouted through the subway din, "We change here for an express, so that we can save eight minutes." The man from India replied, "And what will we do with the eight minutes?" There was no answer, because there was no purpose in the professor's haste.

Old Isaiah once said, "He that believeth shall not make haste." The wise people who believed deeply in God, do not have to hurry feverishly. They know that God takes His time—in His world you cannot speed up a field of wheat, the growing-up of a child, or the forming of a true friendship. There are a few things that can be forced by hot-house methods; but the more precious treasures of life take time and care and patient tending. If you trust God, you are willing to work and wait, and you will be rewarded. If you trust God, you do not have to make haste.

Furthermore, the person who goes at a moderate pace is less apt to miss golden opportunities. Look through the record of the Master's life, and you may be surprised to find how often He stopped on the way because someone needed Him. As He and His friends walked through a little town on their way to their destination, a woman would pluck Him by the elbow, or a blind man call from the crowd, or children struggled to catch His attention. And Jesus always stopped. The person who needed Him was more important, He thought, than His getting to Jericho at precisely six o'clock; and God would take care of it if they were a bit late arriving. God cares more about people than of slavish punctuality. Along the road of your life He has put many a glorious opportunity to give someone a lift, to say the right word when it is needed, to pass on your faith, or, more often, for just plain friendship. If you go quietly, trusting in God, you will see those opportunities, and take them. As Robert Frost wrote:

"When a friend calls to me from the road;
And slows his horse to a meaning walk,
I don't stand still and look around
On the hills I haven't hoed,
And shout from where I am, 'What is it?'
No, not as there is time to talk
I thrust my hoe into the mellow ground,
Blade-end up and five feet tall,
And plod; I go up to the stone wall
For a friendly visit."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks once more for your prayers for my little son, Grant, who is now 21 months old. He was given three months to live. He is running around and full of life and energy, and a very happy child. Please ask your Prayer group to give thanks for the health and strength of the Heart Baby, Grant Hughes.

DEFINITIONS:—"Conservative"—One who believes in conservation of the experience of the past and present, and is seeking better and more satisfactory ways of doing things. True conservatism is expressed in this saying: "Hold fast to that which is good: change only for the better."—"Equality"—There is no such thing as actual equality, for everyone is superior to someone else in certain matters and inferior in others. We are, however, equal in God's Love for us; and the government should, insofar as possible, extend equal protection to all its citizens. It is impossible, however, for any government to force all its citizens into one pattern of equality, for each person is different from all others.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America,
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE REV. ANDREW W. MAYER

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor".....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, who are the rock upon whom men build their lives in strength and beauty, we pray for Thy blessing to rest upon those who yearn for inner security. We remember those who look with dismay upon the changing values of a changing world, whose inner foundations have crumbled beneath the storm, who are victims of spiritual unrest. Turn their eyes to the hills from whence cometh their help. Be Thou the confidence of their hearts, the hidden spring whence their souls are fed. May they learn with glad assurance that Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Choral Introit:

The Psalm, 45, Page 396

The First Lesson: I Sam. 17; V. 17

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page II; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Matt. 10:32-39

The Jubilate Deo — 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Anthem: "The Lord Is My Shepherd".....Thomas Matthews

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul; He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; For Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me, they comfort me, — they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me — all the days of my life; and I will dwell, I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever, forever.

A BUCKETFUL

Do you sometimes hesitate to give? It may be a gift of your money that is asked for, or some of your time and talent. Your impulse may be to consider your resources too slender to make any difference. You almost shrug your shoulders "with so little to give."

But that is not Jesus' viewpoint. One day, "As He was sitting opposite the treasury of the temple, Jesus watched the multitude throwing coins into the treasury, the many rich with their many offerings; and there was one poor widow, came and put in two mites, which makes a farthing (less than a cent). Thereupon He called His disciples to Him, and said to them, 'Believe Me, this poor widow has put in more than all the others who have put offerings into the treasury. The others gave out of what they could spare; she, with so little to give, put in all that she had, her whole livelihood.'"

Jesus spotlights the quality of a gift, rather than the quantity. He commended the widow-woman because her gratitude to God overflowed with such extravagance. She understood God's heart enough to know that He would value her gift, small as it seemed to her. After all, we can give only out of what we have. If we are Jesus Christ's men and women, we can give joyfully. What catches His attention is the quality of our living, and of our giving — our determination to do all that we possibly can.

Lillian Dixon, pushing back into the mountain regions of inland Formosa, discovered dozens and dozens of cases of tuberculosis. There were no hospitals available save for the wealthy. So "Lil" talked to the authorities, to find out what she might do about this. "The problem is as big as the sea," she was told. "Anything you could do would be like taking out only a bucket-ful." "But, because I am a Christian," she replied, "I must take out my bucket-ful." And, because she is a Christian, sufferers from tuberculosis are being healed there, today.

It's exciting to remember that the "so little" I have to give is very precious to God.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: — Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price: — Thank you for another miracle. My father, Garfield J. Tanssig, aged 86 of St. Louis, Mo. is now going down to the office every day. I came to your Church in Philadelphia in October for the laying on of hands in behalf of my father, who was in a depressed state neither eating or drinking. The last of October he started back to work, after 10 months absence during which he thought he would die. Thank you and thank God!

"I like the Quiet Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Thou loving and tender Father in heaven, we confess before Thee, in deep sorrow, how hard and unsympathizing are our hearts; how often we have sinned against our neighbours by want of compassion and tenderness; how often we have felt no true pity for their trials and sorrows, and have neglected to comfort, help, and visit them. O Father, forgive this heavy sin and make us more truly Christlike in our compassion.

The Choral Introit:

Built on a rock the church doth stand, Even when steeples are falling;
Crumbled have spires in every land, Bells still are chiming and calling;
Calling the young and old to rest, Calling the souls of men distressed,
Longing for life everlasting.

PRAY IN HIS SPIRIT

Sometimes we are puzzled by Jesus' saying, "Ask and ye shall receive; seek, and ye shall find." It sounds as if He is promising to give us anything we ask for. We know that that cannot be so, and we read, in the Epistle of James, "Ye ask and receive not, because ye ask amiss."

Studdert Kennedy, one of the great chaplains in World War I, once wrote, "I remember once in the line, when we were being shelled heavily, I stood beside an enormous sergeant who was a great friend of mine; on the other side of me somewhere was a chap who had lost his nerve and was whining, prayers for protection: 'O God, keep me safe, O God, save me!' The sergeant was looking after his men, shouting warnings to us, and swearing steadily all the time. This fellow's prayers were getting on our nerves, and at last the sergeant turned to me and said, 'That chap's saying his prayers, isn't he?' I said, 'No, he isn't, sergeant; that's not prayer, sergeant, it's wind!'"

Studdert Kennedy went on to explain that when Christ said, "Whatsoever ye ask in My name, I will do it for you." He did not mean that tacking His name onto a prayer made sure of your getting what you wanted, like a penny-in-the-slot machine. "Praying in Christ's name means praying in Christ's spirit; praying as He prayed." In the Bible passage you have read today, Jesus says, "If you abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ye may ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you." That makes it very clear indeed. The great War Chaplain concluded, "My friend the Sergeant was nearer to real prayer although he was swearing . . . He had some of Christ's Spirit, because he had forgotten himself. He was putting his job first, his pals next, and himself last; and that is the Spirit of Christ."

Do you face the crisis that makes you afraid? The Master promised that He would give you what you ask, IF you pray in His Spirit, If you abide in Him. So there is a glorious answer — ask Him for His victory in you; for strength to endure pain and difficulty; His love working through you in power. Ask Him for help for those around you, in the same boat with you. Such praying is in His Spirit. He can answer it, and He will!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—It has been somewhat over a year ago that I first wrote you about Dorothy Edynean, the wife of a professor in the Theological Seminary who had been considered by the doctors to be in the terminal stage of a malignancy. Mrs. Edynean has known that such healings do occur. She was open to all our faith could do for her. We wish you could see her now for she is the picture of health. Since early in the year she has been running her home and caring for her family of seven which includes her husband's blind, aged father. This month she will be teaching one of the large adult classes of our Church. Her doctor still does not believe it. I just want you to know that we are grateful for your understanding and guidance of her and those of us who were praying for her.

DEFINITIONS: — "Love" — A deep concern for the welfare and best interest of another person; which motivates one to self-sacrificial actions for the sake of the beloved.

DEFINITIONS: — "Extremist" — One who believes that his notions of what is right should be forced on other people. He refuses to respect the freedom of other people, and refuses to accept the possibility that other people may be right and he may be even slightly in error. He sometimes thinks he has a divine command to impose his will on other people. Examples of extremism include: (1) The notion of papal infallibility; (2) Negro militants and black power leaders; (3) White supremacists, Ku Klux Klan, etc.; (4) Student rebels and agitators; (5) Hippies, yippies, and the like; (6) Communists, and those who echo communist propaganda; those who advocate surrender to communist domination in the name of "peace"; (7) Extreme rightists, including those who advocate a return to pre-1929 capitalism, segregation, isolationism, or the elimination of Social Security and most forms of government welfare activities.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the Quiet Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Aria" ..... Flor Peeters

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Gracious Father, we humbly beseech Thee for Thy whole Church throughout the world. Fill it with all truth, and in all truth with all peace. Where it is corrupt, purify it; where it is in error, direct it; where it is supersitious, cleanse it; where anything is amiss, reform it; where it is right, strength and confirm it; where it is in want, furnish it; where it is divided and rent asunder, heal the breaches thereof, through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

The Choral Introit:

Built on a rock the church doth stand, Even when steeples are falling;
Crumbled have spires in every land, Bells still are chiming and calling;
Calling the young and old to rest, Calling the souls of men distressed,
Longing for life everlasting.

The Processional Hymn #302 ..... Mentzer

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm, III, Page 482

The Second Lesson: Luke 18:10-14

The Jubilate Deo — 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea;
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "The Lord Will Not Suffer" ..... J. S. Bach

The anthem text is from Psalm CXXI. The words are on page 502 in the Book of Common Prayer.

The Sermon: "THE LIFE OF PAUL—I-CONVERSION" ..... THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn #519 ..... Ton-Y-Botel

The Doxology and Presentation

BE STILL AND KNOW

At the beginning of Lent we can get a clue from God as to His way of working. There are moments when He works violently, with noise and bluster in the hurricane and thunder storms (see I Kings 19:1-12). But, for the most part, He works very quietly — in the changes of the Seasons, the coming of the dawn, the flowering and fruiting of nature, the "still small voice."

This is worth noting, for we are so apt to think that Lent needs to be a busy Season, when I throw myself into intense effort and struggle and hurry to be transformed into what God desires. When I stop and listen to Him, He reminds me that we are not bidden to strain and to struggle — rather, "to be still, and know that I am God."

Bryan Green tells a lovely fable about the ocean: "The sea, it is imagined, was one day feeling discontented. Disillusioned, it hated living at its low sea level when above it were drifting some lovely little white clouds, scudding along before the wind. The sea grumbled to itself, "I don't see why I should be living down here at this low level. Why can't I live higher up, up where the clouds are?" And so, in its discontent and anger, the sea began to lash itself into fierce high waves, flinging the foam of its spray high up into the air, yet always it fell down again to its low level of living. Then, one day, the sun smiled down on the sea, and said kindly: "You want to live on a higher level? Then don't fret yourself, strain, and struggle. Lie still, and look up." So the sea lay still, very still, and looked up. A warm wind arose, and the sun came down and carried some of the water up into heaven, and presently there were seen some fresh white clouds moving over head. If we desire to live on a high level of Christian life, it is useless to strain and struggle, and strive to reach heaven. Our business is to lie still and to look up to Christ, and then His Spirit will lift us up, enabling us to live a fuller, and better Christian life."

Jesus lived a rich, strenuous life, each day filled to the brim with people. But His secret was that His strength came from God. He saw to it, that each day, He took time to lie still and to look up to His Father and receive what He needed. In these Lenten days we can take a leaf from His book, and learn to "be still, and know I am God."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I asked you to pray for my daughter who was mentally ill and so nervous that she was confined to a wheel chair. She also had a bad heart which keeps her from walking very far. Today she walked all the way to the shopping area and back. God is really the Healer of our bodies.

—Mrs. Helen Jones (Norristown, Pa.)

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: C. W. Banden, Mrs. Ann Ewing, Mrs. Stuart Hambler, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Hanson, Miss Ann A. Hantz, Mrs. Lillie O. F. Henning, Mrs. Edith Oliver, Anne Ringrove and Ann Snow.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rt. Rev. Herbert Spaugh, LL.D., Bishop of the Moravian Church, Charlotte, N. C. who is our Lenten Noonday preacher, Feb. 24-28 inc. and also to the Rev. Benjamin Apleroad, Chaplain of the Episcopal Hospital, who will be our Saturday preacher.

The Rector will preach in the Bethany Methodist Church, Somers Point, N. J. on Sunday evening, Feb. 23 and will speak to the Church Club on Wednesday noon.

THOUGHTS

Fulfillment in life is not to be found in circumstances, but in doing the will of God.

You can get so relevant to the world that you become irrelevant to the Gospel.

It's hard to believe, not because it's hard to understand, but because it's hard to obey.

Until the next issue we leave you with these words: "Nothing lies beyond the reach of prayer except that which lies outside the will of God."

"I like the Quiet Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "My Heart is Filled with Longing" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Eternal Father, we thank Thee for this quiet hour in this hallowed place. Here the pressure of life is lifted. Here the shallow desires of earth are stilled. Here the deep hunger of our hearts is satisfied. Bless to us this hour. Reach our souls with Thy Spirit. Grant that our familiarity with the outward symbol may not close our hearts to the inflow of Thy power, and that limitations in the human medium through which Thy word is spoken may not dim our eyes to its splendor. May Thy word be a light to our path and eternal life to our souls, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

The Choral Introit:
Come, let us to the Lord with contrite hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn #344 ..... Deus Tuorum Militum

The Response to the Decalouge, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: "God So Loved The World" ..... Stainer
God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

The Sermon: "THE LIFE OF PAUL—II-SITUATIONAL THEOLOGY"
THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn #483 ..... Consolation

The Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willian

The Kneeling Hymn #189 ..... Unde Et Memores

The Gloria in Excelsis, #739 ..... Old Scottish Chant

The Recessional Hymn #59 ..... St. Flavian

SELF-SACRIFICE

Lent has an ancient tradition of self-sacrifice—"giving up"—something. It might be candy or smoking. Some cut down their TV viewing to what is really worth seeing. Others turn from theatre-going or movies to spending the evening with friends who are lonely or troubled. Why do those who "profess and call themselves Christians" practice such lenteen sacrifices?

Certainly not just to punish ourselves, and be able to handle lent, "saying, what a good boy am I!" That can be dreadfully "pious" and objectionable. Rather, this self-sacrifice, can be our attempt to share in the sufferings for Christ. As He suffered for us in the forty days in the wilderness; as He went through the agony of the Cross; as His heart aches today over our stumbling—so we aim to share in His pain, willing to be His faithful soldiers, and servants unto our lives end. We are willing, thus to suffer to accomplish His purposes on earth.

The famous musical Trapp family, after World War II, organized the superb relief work in Austria—clothing, food, needles, thread, foodstuffs . . . They called on people for sacrifice, and they gave a good reason to people "to give up something." They quoted St. Ambrose, one of the greatest men of the 4th Century, who, in time of famine, said, "if you know that anybody is hungry or sick, and you have any means at all, and do not help, then you will have the responsibility of each one who dies, and for each little child who might be harmed and crippled for life." Let us also remember that other word, "as long as you did it to one of these my least brethren, you did it to me."

The Trapp family went on tour with their glorious musical comedy to stir people to come to the aid of the hard-pressed, shivering, starving Austrians. And everywhere, people responded, it jilted them to think that they might be responsible for unnecessary suffering and death.

Each of us has money and time we spend as we chose. It may be a modest amount, or a large one. In this great season of lent, we can take special care that it be spent as Christ spent Himself, for the deep and urgent needs of people everywhere. What a joy can be this costly spending which is full of the love of God! What could be better, at Easter, than to know that He has been at work in your spending of time and money—feeding, healing, and comforting those in need! (contributed by Dr. Price)

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—My sincere thanks to you and your group for prayers on behalf of my son, Stephen. The thyroid condition with goiter disappeared and he no longer has to take thyroxin and iodine. I am very thankful for this. "Thank you" is inadequate for the work you and your faithful people are doing on behalf of others.

SUFFER TO THE GLORY OF GOD

It is often surprising how God can use our difficulties — make a glory out of the experiences we least welcome. He is likely to be teaching us something when we least expect it!

Bryan Green tells how, one day, his aunt, hurrying to catch a train at Paddington station. "Arriving there on time she found the barrier gates slammed in her face. Out loud she ejaculated, "never mind. Praise the Lord!" On returning for the next train, the ticket collector said, "excuse me, Madam. Ma'am what was that you said when I slammed the door in your face half-an-hour ago?" "I don't remember," she replied. "It sounded strange to me." Did you say something like "Praise the Lord"? My aunt paused a moment and then answered, "Yes, I expect I did. I do praise Him. I am sure that it is quite alright that I missed the train, and that God has some purpose for me through it." To her surprise, the ticket collector asked, "would you mind missing another train, because I would like to speak to you after this one has gone?" So she missed another train, and he told her his story, the story of a marriage breaking up, of his longing for help, and before she had caught her train, she had helped him to put his faith in Christ, and later, to put his marriage right."

You see, if someone sees you lose a train, and then you behave most cheerfully instead of with some grumpy complaining, the observer is apt to be interested. He wants to know how you got that way. If your life is suddenly shattered by loss, made painful by physical suffering, burdened by an old handicap of body or spirit — then the people around you notice. If they see God working in you, to victory, they want your secret. Then you can share with them the truth that "All things work together for good to them that love God."

No one likes rough going. Yet Jesus turned his face toward Jerusalem, for he knew that, only through costly triumph over the enemies of God, could he save mankind from self-destruction.

During this Lent, friend, you may decide to turn your face toward Jerusalem, and be willing to suffer too for the Glory of God. Then, like your Lord, you will draw others to intrust themselves to His leading, His care.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—This testimony is long overdue. Several years ago I called on you in great distress. I had been taking anti-depressants and tranquilizers for three years with little effect. I attended the healing services whenever I could get in on time from my job in Wayne. Attending these services and reading the kind of literature you have available I came to a new understanding and gradually the panic stopped — about a year since the last one. The healing services still seem important; they cement the link to the eternal. Thank you more than I can say.

—Helen Olsen (Rosemont, Pa.)

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Jane S. Macleod and Mrs. Margaret G. Trim.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Robert C. Batchelder, Rector of St. James Church, Lancaster, Penna. who will be our Lenten noonday preacher, Monday through Friday and to the Rev. Milton S. Leber, Rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Germantown, who will be our Saturday speaker.

The Rector will preach at the Church of the Brethren, 8707 W. Cheltenham, on Sunday evening, March 9th, and to the Churchwoman's Club, 1919 Walnut Street on Tuesday evening, March 11th.

One of the most important, of the many special appeals each year, is that of Theological Education. This appeal comes each year on January 25th. Please return your offering envelope promptly as the need is urgent — the education of the future rectors of St. Stephen's Church.

THE HEALING MOMENT

Sit relaxed, clear your mind, remove the bite out of your feelings, be calm and think: The Lord is my shepherd, who heals my brokenness, restores me from anxiety, fear, malice and indifference, who offers me positive joy. I now accept His healing gifts; now I am made whole.

BULLETIN

Enclosed is a contribution towards the Bulletin subscription. I look forward to receiving these bulletins every week. It is the best mail that comes to my house. After I read it carefully, and pray with it, I save them. I plan to place them in my loose leaf book so that I can refer to them often. (Rita Catalano)

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America,
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT

SUNDAY, MARCH 16th, 1969

THE REV. ALFRED W. PRICE, D.D., RECTOR

THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing

THE REV. ROGER PICKERING, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service begins on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 130-131

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the Quiet Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O Man, Bewail Thy Grevious Fall" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Holy Spirit of God, abide with us, inspire all our thoughts, pervade our imaginations; suggest all our decisions; order all our doings. Be with us in our silence and in our speech, in our haste and in our leisure, in company and in solitude, in the freshness of the morning and in the weariness of the evening; and give us grace at all times humbly to rejoice in Thy mysterious companionship; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Choral Introit:

Come, let us to the Lord with contrite hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn #58 ..... Langran

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm, 81, Page 442

The First Lesson: 2 Sam. 18:V-5

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: Luke 15:V-11

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea;
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "Surely He Hath Borne Our Griefs" ..... G. F. Handel

Surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows! He was wounded for our transgressions; He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him. And with His stripes we are healed.

The Sermon: "THE LIFE OF PAUL—IV-JUSTIFICATION BY FAITH"
THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn #337 ..... Hamburg (#219)

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn #446 ..... Passion Chorale

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Miss Sarah Winn in loving memory of her parents and sister.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Dr. Elmer S. Carll.

ABUNDANT LIFE

Just as the American Continent has become known for its vast abundance, so has the Christian faith become known—"I am come that they may have life, and that they may have it abundantly."

Look back and remember St. Francis of Assisi, Grenfeld of Labrador, Schweitzer of Africa. These are lives overflowing mightily with compassion, men of adventuring hearts. Look around you, among those you know and love, and you will find yourself thanking God especially for those in whom the Spirit of Jesus lives. We know this abundant life, for our lives have been blessed with it. Yet, as Lent continues, we may find ourselves in short supply. We may not have the abundance which should be ours.

Stanley Jones points out that "some of us are living too close to our margins. We are just getting by. When someone asked the little girl how she came to fall out of bed, she replied, "I slept too close to the place I got in." Many of us have tumbles because we have so very little margin. A bit of pressure and we are pushed over into defeat. Most of us can go the first mile, but it is the second mile that counts . . ."

Lent is a special season when we can devout ourselves to seeking what God wants to give us—this abundant life within. For these weeks we can be like the boxer who goes into training to fill his body with new strength and endurance for the next fight. So we shall be making it our chief business to let God renew the help of our inner spirits. I know a business man who is carrying a prayer in his wallet. Half a dozen times a day he takes it out, and quietly prays it, and finds God's Presence right in the midst of the days' work. Others will be giving themselves the treat of reading a modern translation of the Bible, out of which God speaks of them in todays work. Some will follow a devotional hour period on the radio each day; or go to a week-day worship service in church. The possibilities are inviting—you can make a definite, simple plan for your lent!

May your Lent be rewarding—new life, more abundantly!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Some eight years ago, after you held healing services in Toronto, Canada, I obtained your pamphlets; Meditations and Exercises for Healing. At that time I was suffering from a nervous breakdown. By following these exercises, by the faithful prayers of your group and by putting my problems into God's hands and fully trusting Him for healing, I received a great blessing and a most noticeable improvement in my health.

—Miss M. Walker (Weston, Ontario)

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Elizabeth B. Bellmeyer, Mrs. Charlotta M. Bishop, Miss Katharine N. Bradford, Mrs. Diane Buckalew, Miss Rita Catalano, Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Dillmore, Mrs. P. Donald Mackes, Beulah McNeill, Mrs. Vivian H. Weekes and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shellenberger.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Chester A. Porteus, Rector of Christ Church, Quincy, Massachusetts who will be our Lenten Monday preacher, Monday through Friday and to the Rev. John C. Kolb, Rector of Holy Apostles, Penn Wynne, who will be our Saturday preacher.

THE HEALING MOMENT

Rest quietly, remove self-pity from your feelings and thought, let the thought "I am abundant in God's Love." Send out love to those whom you have not been loving, bless those whom you feel have hurt you. Be positive and joyful for a moment of wholeness and thank God for it.

The Rev. Roger Pickering will have services of Holy Communion on Wednesday, March 19th at 11 A.M.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY

THE REV. HARRY LONGLEY, D.D.

"I like the Quiet Church before the service begins."—Emerson

The Prelude: "Meditation" ..... Leo Sowerby

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord our God, we lift our faces to Thee. We turn from the busy concerns that engage our minds, from the trivial pleasures that fill the passing moment, from the pressing cares that burden our days. And we come to this quiet sanctuary at this holy hour. Subdue the clamor of our hearts, soften every alien note, and grant that in this hour of worship we may hear Thy voice and learn Thy will, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

LUXURY OF JUDGING

One of the oldest, most poisonous luxuries of humanity is that of judging others. Why was it that Jesus commanded us, "to judge not . . ."? Leslie Whetherhead tells two unforgettable stories of judging.

A young girl was enjoying a luxury cruise with her friends. The Chef was the most original man. Every night at dinner the ice cream pudding would be in some new form. One night it was a model of the ship itself; another night it would be like a statue, and so forth. One night it was very ordinary, and the spoiled girl complained to the captain that the Chef was getting slack. She did not know that a radio message had reached the Chef that his wife was very sick, and that on the night when the ice cream was so ordinary, she had died. We do not know what is in a person's heart when we judge. God does. Judge not!

There was a teacher in the north of England who, without asking if there were an explanation, caned every boy who was late. Having beaten one little fellow who had never been late before, the teacher learned that the boy had been to a coal mine to try to get news of his brother after an explosion. The brother was brought up to the pit-head, dead; and, having identified him, the lad went to school, and was late—and was caned! It is perilous to condemn.

Lent should be the perfect time to give up the luxury of judging, when we remember that human beings even judged Jesus, and condemned Him to death. We still judge Him, sometimes, as we think that He is not "practical." If our human judging can miss the mark that far, we'd best give up all judging, and leave it to God!

It's wonderful to see how healing it is when we by-pass judging, and instead, love people just as they are! During the Billy Graham crusade in England, a woman was converted, and began to live a new life; she had been a nagging wife, condemning her husband because he sometimes got home very late at night (perhaps because he was not eager to get back to her!), and for other failings. Then two days after, her him at the door with open arms, ready to forgive anything. Two days before she prayed; and read the Bible; and paced the floor. When he did come home she met him at the door with open arms, ready to forgive anything. Two days before she would have met him with curses and accusations. He had run out of gas and had to walk many miles home. How glad she was that she had not judged him! Her receiving him, loving him as he was, changed him into a new man; and a loving husband.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—A note of thanks to you and the Prayer Fellowship for my recovery from what the doctors thought was a recurrence of cancer in the chest area. Now it is clear and all symptoms gone. My thanks to God and to you and the prayer group.

—Marie B. Stamar (Yardley, Pa.)

THE HEALING MOMENT

Center down in stillness, release your feelings and be free from them. Think how glorious living is, how miraculous and magnificent in reality. Accept life's basic joy in being alive and be healed by being unified with Life as God celebrates it. Read Psalm 81.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

It is no secret that higher education has become a financial nightmare. The colleges and universities are subsidized by government grants and scholarships, and those that are not subsidized expect shortly to go out of existence. The seminaries receive not one cent from our Church—this is usually a startling discovery—nothing from the government obviously, and they produce alumni whose salaries prevent them from being large givers. Our seminaries depend upon your interest and generosity, both as parishes and as concerned individuals.

Once a year we have an opportunity to contribute to the support of our seminaries. Special envelopes were sent to all our membership over a month ago. Have you returned yours? There is still time.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, D.D., who will be the Lenten noonday preacher, Monday through Saturday, March 24-29 inc.

The Rector will speak at the annual Brotherhood of St. Andrew Service at Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh on Saturday morning, March 22nd. He will preach at the Church of the Ascension, Pittsburgh on Sunday, March 23, and preach and conduct healing services at Trinity Cathedral at noontime, Monday through Friday. He will speak in the University of Pittsburgh on Tuesday evening.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Harry Longley, D.D., who will take the Sunday morning services at St. Stephen's Church, March 23rd.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Rev. Carl S. Berninger, Miss Margaret E. Heggan, Miss Edna C. Hunter and Mr. Elmer Newkirk, Jr.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America.
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

PALM SUNDAY

SUNDAY, MARCH 30th, 1969

THE REV. ALFRED W. PRICE, D.D., RECTOR
THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
THE REV. ROGER PICKERING, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service begins on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 134-5-6-7

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

THE REV. HARRY LONGLEY, D.D.

"I like the Quiet Church before the service begins."—Emerson

The Prelude: "Meditation" "Cantabile" ..... Leo Sowerby

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord our God, we lift our faces to Thee. We turn from the busy concerns that engage our minds, from the trivial pleasures that fill the passing moment, from the pressing cares that burden our days. And we come to this quiet sanctuary at this holy hour. Subdue the clamor of our hearts, soften every alien note, and grant that in this hour of worship we may hear Thy voice and learn Thy will, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Introit

The Processional Hymn 62 ..... St. Theodulph

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm 146, Page 522

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11, Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Mark II:1-2

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea;
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Sermon Hymn 75 ..... Passion Chorale

The Sermon: THE LIFE OF PAUL. V—THE FORGIVING CHRIST

THE RECTOR

The Anthem: "The Palms" ..... Jean Faure

The Doxology and Presentation of the Colors

The Recessional Hymn 64.....Winchester New

The Palm, Altar Decorations are provided by special funds in memory of James Carrigan, long time Verger of St. Stephen's Church; and by Mrs. Constance Bevins and Mrs. Charles Wells in memory of Mary S. Eaton and Charles O. Wells.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—My sister gave my name several weeks ago to go on your list of intercessory prayer. To say it has helped me with the aid of your book on "Nervous Disorders" would be the understatement of the year. I could never have believed it possible. I have gone to church as far back as I can remember and did my daily prayers. I realize now I just didn't pray in the right way. My thanks to all of you for what you have done for me.

—Ruth Parr (Canton, Ohio)

GOOD OUT OF EVIL

As we come to Holy Week, we may wonder what is the mysterious power of the Cross. A Hindu scholar once gave a clue to it as he wrote, "There is in Christianity a doctrine which I believe is peculiar to that religion. The doctrine that God can take what is bad, and bring good out of it."

Through the Cross, we see the transforming power of God. Calvary looked like the black defeat of all that is high and holy; looked like the dismal end of the golden dream of God's Kingdom on earth; looked like the finish of the Matchless Christ. It looked so dark that even the faithful disciples took to their heals. Yet, out of the dark stuff of Calvary, God fashioned a Triumph — love defeating hate, faith overcoming doubt, life rising out of death. So, ever since that day, Christian men have been able to say to suffering people, "If God could make something so glorious out of the first Calvary, surely He can make something out of your lesser Calvary, if you will let him." One day a man and I looked at a small silver cross together; and he was deciding whether he would let God make something out of his Calvary of broken dreams and broken health. God can take what is bad, and bring good out of it.

For it is Love on the Cross that redeems, and cannot be killed or defeated. At long last love is always stronger than hate — even though it may take months, or years, or even centuries. In the long run, love wins against all odds. Out on the Pirate Coast the Arabs resisted Christianity for nearly fifty years, though the medical missionaries worked among them faithfully and with skill. Then one day Paul Harrison saved a small Arab girl's life by the gift of a vein from his own arm, after the girl's own father had refused to make the sacrifice himself. With a new vein, she recovered. That simple, courageous act of sacrifice opened the eyes of the Arabs to what the Cross means. Love incarnate was too strong for them, and swept aside their resistance. They began to walk straight into the Kingdom of God, until, soon, there were forty Christians, where, for nearly half-a-century, there had been none.

God can take any person, any situation, and bring out great and glorious good. All that is required is someone with the Spirit of the Cross in his heart. That "Someone" could be you.

SERVICES IN HOLY WEEK

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Christ Lay In The Bonds of Death" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, not only at the Easter season, but every day, may our hearts be bright with the undimmed light that shines through the centuries from the open tomb, out of which the Master came forth in newness of life. Let no redeemed child of God live in darkness, or gloom, or sin; but may all who are called by Thy names, keep themselves in the glorious light of Thy love, for Jesus' sake. Amen.

The Introit

The Processional Hymn 85 ..... Easter Hymn

The Hallelujah Chorus (The Messiah) ..... Handel

The Kyrie, Hymnal #709 ..... William

The Anthem: Chorus VI, The German Requiem ..... Brahms
Here on earth have we no continuing place, howbeit, we seek one to come. Lo, I unfold unto you a mystery. We shall not all sleep when He cometh. We shall all be changed . . . in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the sound of the trumpet. For the trumpet shall sound and the dead shall be raised incorruptible. Then, what of old was written the same shall be brought to pass. For death shall be swallowed in victory! Grave, where is thy triumph? Death, O where is thy sting?

DEATH AND LIFE

Peter Marshall once looked at death through the eyes of two caterpillars:

"People whose vision of death is earthbound remind me of the caterpillar crawling along the warm earth imagining that heaven for him will be an endless row of cabbages.

"Then one day a second caterpillar with a more philosophical turn of mind would say to his friend: 'You know, I believe that some day you and I will no longer have to crawl along the ground, but might even fly over that fence. What is more, we will not be puncturing cabbage leaves with our neat little holes and stuffing ourselves full of greenstuff, but we might be sipping dew and living on honey.'

"His friend, fastening on him incredulous beady eyes, might reply, 'I knew this night-life would get you.'

Or, solicitously he might say, 'Poor old chap, you have been working too hard lately. You've cracked under the strain.'

"And when the time comes for him to 'die', his caterpillar friends gather around — and extol his virtues:

'He was a connoisseur of cabbage. He was a good old caterpillar — now this is the end.'

And so he is buried in a shroud — a chrysalis shroud that spins upon the twig, a shriveled, dry grave.

"And yet, by and by, on a summer morning,
the grave bursts open,
the chrysalis breaks, and out of it emerges a moist, trembling lovely thing that hoists into the fragrant air delicate sails of beauty . . . . the butterfly takes off . . . . to sip the dew and taste the succulent honey . . .

"We know that he goes to sleep a caterpillar and wakes up a butterfly."

Jesus assured us that we are the children of God, with something within us that can live forever; something of Him who promised, "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." We have known His love and care in this world — we can trust ourselves to Him in the world beyond. Easter is TRUE! Happy Easter!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—My grateful thanks for your prayers during the past month. I am pleased to report a great improvement in my problems of headaches, and feel better than I have for a year or more. When I realize that your Consecrated group was praying for me daily around the clock—for a person living more than 2000 miles away, and whom none of the group knew, I was very much uplifted by this wonderful devotion.
—Mrs. Jessie Pearman (Los Gatos, Calif.)

THE HEALING MOMENT

Center down in stillness, release your feelings and be free from them. Think how glorious living is, how miraculous and magnificent in reality. Accept life's basic joy in being alive and be healed by being unified with life as God celebrates it.
—Read Psalm 81 Exultate Deo

More Than Ever St. Stephen's Church needs your generous Offering, to maintain our work and support the work of Christ beyond the parish. More Than Ever all of us need to learn the joy of giving! The Easter Offering Envelopes were mailed with last week's Bulletin.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 13th, 1969 at 12:30 P.M.

Twelve Vestrymen will be elected to serve for a term of one year.

Mrs. Keller and her helpers will serve a hot luncheon and they will appreciate it if you will contact the office to say that you expect to be present.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Constance Bevins, Mrs. Evelyn I. Clark, Mrs. F. E. Griner, Mr. Michael J. LaBriola, Mrs. John Ludlow, Mrs. Zelda F. Rawlins, Mrs. Clara Robinson, Mrs. Florence Schuh and Miss Margaret Tappen.

MUSIC OF A GROWING FAITH

On Easter Day anything seems possible. God has overcome death. He has done the impossible. But with Easter behind us, it is too easy to settle back into the old ruts. We start to say, "That isn't possible."

One day in Washington, Stanley Jones was meeting with a group of men in prayer. He told them that later that day, he had a very difficult assignment. He had to see someone he did not want to see at all; and there was no getting out of it. A friend smiled quietly, recalling an inscription he had once seen on a tombstone: "She hath done what she couldn't." So Stanley Jones went to his assignment, saying to himself, "I will do what I can't." And he did!

That is why, in the heart of every adventuring Christian, there is music — the music of a growing faith that sets one to marching forward resolutely. Again and again we face what we cannot do — we simply do not have what it takes. Yet God seems to be telling us to do that impossible task. Then we remember that Jesus promised to be with us, for always — His Spirit in our hearts; ready to act in us. So we can do the impossible. We can let Him act in us; we can make ourselves available for His will to use us. You yourself, who are hearing these words, will remember times when you did the seemingly impossible, because you said, "Yes" to God, and let Him go to work through you. With God all things are possible.

Emerson once observed, "I like my poems best because I did not write them." An artist becomes filled with the beauty God has created, and lets the Divine Creative Spirit loose in painting the picture, in writing the words. It's an exciting life, making oneself available to God. Often it's uncomfortable, and more strenuous than we would have chosen. But it puts the Glory in life — glory of the small share in doing the impossible.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—In the year 1951, I was striken with cancer of the salivary glands. I was sent to Memorial Center on 68th Street, New York. My condition was serious. My sister read an article in the "Pathfinder" magazine which is now non-existent about Spiritual Therapy in Philadelphia. My sister wrote to you for prayer in my behalf. We promptly received a reply. My doctors told me that a higher Power had brought about my recovery. Today, I am 62 years old and in very good health. To you devout Christians I'm grateful for your prayers and faith. Now I'm coming to ask you for your prayers for a dear friend . . . .

—Mrs. Emily C. Spangler (Bozoo, W. Va.)

THE HEALING MOMENT

I now, completely, fully, with no reservations forgive, release and restore my relationships with others. I will not imprison anyone or myself. I give up my claim to be resentful. In Christ's Love I clothe all others in peace.

Read Psalm 103, Verses 6-12.

The Rector will speak to the Women's Association of the Lansdowne Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, April 16 at 8 P.M.

The Rector addressed the Baptist Ministers Conference at 17th and Sansom Streets on Monday, April 7th.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 13th, 1969 at 12:30 P.M.

Twelve Vestrymen will be elected to serve for a term of one year.

Mrs. Keller and her helpers will serve a luncheon and they will appreciate it if you will contact the office to say that you expect to be present.

CONFIRMATION

The Confirmation service for our area will be held on Sunday, April 20th at 4 P.M. at Saint Clement's Church, 20th and Cherry Streets. The Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, D.D., will be the Confirming Bishop.

Confirmation Instruction class is held in the Rector's study at 10 A.M. on Sundays.

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION CLASS
WHO IS INVITED?

You are! Especially if you have caught yourself saying to yourself:

"I think I might be interested in becoming an Episcopalian."

"I feel awfully rusty about my Christian beliefs."

"I have a friend I want to expose to the Episcopal Church."

"The new theology has me confused: I need a refresher course."

"I was confirmed when I was twelve and I don't remember a thing from those classes."

"I do wonder what the Episcopal Church stands for?"

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

2nd SUNDAY AFTER EASTER

SUNDAY, APRIL 20th, 1969

THE REV. ALFRED W. PRICE, D.D., RECTOR
THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
THE REV. ROGER PICKERING, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service begins on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 171-172

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Prelude on "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" .....Willan

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Gracious God, our heavenly Father, in whom is the fullness of light and love and power, give us grace to worship Thee in spirit and in truth. Lift us to spiritual heights, that we may worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. And grant that when we descend to the common ways of the world we may be so illumined by Thy light, so moved by Thy love, and so strengthened by Thy power that we shall be serene and confident and victorious. We ask in Christ's name.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Wilson C. Leithead.

2:30 P.M. — Service for the Deaf, Rev. Roger Pickering

5:30 P.M. — Evening Prayer and Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling

6:30 P.M. — Social Hour in the Parish House

The Fellowship Group will meet after the 11 A.M. service in the Community House on April 20, 1969.

The last events and teachings of Jesus before Holy Week will be continued and explained in the Review of the Life of Christ.

Coffee and donuts will be served.

GOD'S TREASURE

Gay Talese, the journalist, once visited Floyd Patterson, when he was training for a fight. He found Patterson so sensitive about the possibility of losing that, before each fight, he carries into his dressing-room an attache-case filled with disguises. Then if he does lose, he has a chance to slip away without being recognized.

We all dislike failing. The burning question, however, is to know what real failure is. For a Patterson, it is losing the fight. For a businessman, it may be small returns from his business; for a housewife, few friends, when she craves many; for a teen-ager, not enough dates.

But what is "failure" to you who want to be a Christian? Since our job in life is to love God, and love people, then we fail when we put self first, and God second; when we put self first, and another person second. Judas failed when he betrayed Jesus for thirty silver pieces. Peter failed when he denied Him, to save his own skin. We fail when we meet a friend, forget their recent loss of a loved one, and never speak of it. We fail when we get absorbed in self so that an encouraging letter never gets written; when urgent human needs go unheeded. Failure, for us, is letting down God, letting down people.

For we have been given a treasure — Jesus Christ, the Light of the world. For us, "success" is letting Him so live in our hearts that something of His compassion shines out in what we do. It may be saying, "I'd love to" to someone asking for help. It may be putting aside something you planned to do, in order to listen to someone unburdening their heart. At the end of a service of worship in which a well-known preacher had poured out his heart and soul, someone asked, "And what did you think of him?" "To tell the truth, I did not think of him. All through the service, I kept thinking of his Master." That preacher "succeeded"!

God puts His treasure in us, His earth and vessels. What He cares about is whether we pour the treasure into the lives of others. He forgives us, as He forgave Peter. Peter accepted the forgiveness, and spent the rest of his life sharing the treasure.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—This letter is in regard to Robin Scott Barnes, the little boy with degenerative brain disease that you prayed for in your study, March 3. Although a skeptic about prayer healing, I attended your healing services during the month of February while Robin was undergoing tests at Broad Street Hospital, because I was in a state of desperation. I had not been able to sleep for months without resorting to alcohol or sedatives. I also had a painful cervical neuritis. It was during the laying-on-of-hands at the second service that I experienced a tingling sensation through my hands and arms. There followed a sense of peace and well being such that I had never before experienced. Within the next few days my cervical neuritis no longer bothered me and I was able to sleep soundly without the use of medication. It was that same day that Robin, always a poor eater, and who since his hospitalization had barely eaten a thing, began to have a ravenous appetite, especially for protein foods. I continued to attend the healing services and each time gained strength for myself and began to see improvement in Robin. He began to walk again (he had temporarily lost partial control of his legs after the pneumoencephalalogram) and he began to blow a whistle, a feat which I had been trying to get him to do for a whole year. Robin continues to improve, seems alert and is much more responsive to his therapy program than before. He is making more sounds but still does not have speech. Please continue the prayers for him.

—Joan Barnes (Falls Church, Virginia)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the First United Presbyterian Church, Middletown, Ohio, Sunday evening through Tuesday, April 20-22nd.

The final session of the Rector's Confirmation Instruction Class will be held at 10 o'clock and the Confirmation service will be held in St. Clement's Church, 20th and Cherry Streets at 4 P.M., April 20th.

THE HEALING MOMENT

God is at my right hand as power; on my lips as truth; in my eyes as beauty; in my heart as compassion, in my hands as helpfulness. I am made whole and strong in God. Read Psalm 16.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Frank C. and Janann Baker, Miss Helen T. Bradley, Miss Barbara F. Faraday, Helen K. Glendhill and Mrs. Ella Rice.

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude:

Three Choral Preludes: ..... J. S. Bach

a. "Our Father Who Art In Heaven"
b. "Jesu, Joy of Man's Deserving"
c. "Lord Jesus Christ, Be Present Now"

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, give unto us the spirit of true and sincere worship as we draw near to Thee in this holy place, that we may be delivered from all coldness of heart and wanderings of mind. Bless to us the ministry of thy servants, and grant that we may all worthily show forth thy praise, humbly learn thy word, and render our thanks for all thy mercies to us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: "In Faith I Calmly Rest" ..... J. S. Bach

In faith I calmly rest, and put my trust in God, Although oft sore opprest — With anxious care and dread; His friendship my reward, In Him my joy I find; He keep-eth watch and ward — O'er me and — o'er my house. Therefore, I thank my God, And joy to do His will; I know, whate'er be fall, His love doth lead me still. So, like a little child Who clasps his father's hand, Serene I take my way, In faith untroubled stand.

The Sermon: "THE BABY" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 276 ..... Nun Danket

Doxology: Presentation of Colors

Recessional Hymn 551 ..... Ein Feste Burg

The Postlude: "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" ..... J. S. Bach

MORAL REVOLUTION

A valued friend has called my attention to a feature article in one of our magazines. The article reports on the moral revolution which is going on in our society. You may find it shocking. At best you should find it sobering. The writer has done an eclectic piece of work and those of us who are involved in counselling are bound to admit that we find nothing new reported. We have been aware and concerned for sometime. It is now time for thoughtful and responsible persons to share our awareness and concern.

A moral revolution has plunged us into a sickening heap of rubbish because we have been busy uprooting former standards. We have adopted the theme of a popular show of years past — "anything goes!" A glance at the news stands and a visit to our palaces of entertainment prove the point. Anything goes — and we have gone just about as far as it is possible to go. As John Killinger writes "In the Failure of Theology and Modern Literature," "the literary 'photographers' were enthusiastically arranging their own scenes. Setting up their cameras in the kitchen or bathroom, they left the dirty dishes in the sink, even added a few more for good measure, strewed amongst a collection of moldy garbage and cigarette butts on the floor, and arranged a couple of cadavers in a suggestive position somewhere in the side ground with a mangy cat eating on them." I submit that this describes accurately the cesspool school of literature in our time. It may be that we once had a magnolia-scented literature in times past. This hardly justifies the skunk cabbage style of the present.

I expect a reaction to the extremes that are now evident. The present atmosphere has caused a nausea that will lead finally to revulsion. Man has a climbing instinct. He will not forever remain mired in mud. He wants clear light and clean air. One lonely sentence in the magazine article gives a glimpse of things to come, "the young seem to be earnestly trying to construct their own code, and re-discovering for themselves some of the older verities." Surely, "one of the older verities" is God. We have tried to write Him out of the plot of human existence. The results are apparent. Human personality has been robbed of its dignity. In the long run I believe the essential idealism of youth will recover what our generation has lost.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to express to you and the Prayer Fellowship my gratitude for your prayers offered in behalf of my son-in-law Joseph Scatch. He had a severe case of hepatitis and the doctors had told him he would have to be flat on his back at least three months, maybe longer. But to use your expression this "Prayer Power" really works and I am happy to say that in just about a month he is back at work and has been given a report that there is no sign of hepatitis.

—Elizabeth M. Earle (Decatur, Georgia)

The Rector will preach in Trinity Lutheran Church, Bangor, Pa. on Sunday evening, April 27th and conduct an all day Healing Retreat at the Church of the Holy Communion, 20th Street and Sixth Avenue, New York City on Saturday, May 3rd.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING is rapidly becoming the offering of the people — not the women only. Although the U. T. O. was invented by the women of the Church, it has now been decided to include men as participants — in thankfulness for the women, if for nothing else. The Blue Box can easily be used by men, and it is admirably designed to receive paper money as well as silver. The Blue Box, if you keep it in sight, will remind you of a tangible and practical way in which you can give thanks to God for the blessings of each day.

Our Parish In-Gathering will take place on Sunday, May 4th at 11 o'clock. Offering envelopes are enclosed in this Bulletin.

The Diocesan In-Gathering will be held on Wednesday, May 14th at 10:30 a.m. at the Valley Forge Military Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. David L. German, III extend an invitation to the congregation to a reception and refreshments on the second floor of the Community House following the Ministration of Holy Baptism of their second daughter, Senta Cosima German.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN! Daylight Saving Time goes into effect sometime or other while most of us are sleeping. Saturday night, April 26th — SO, PLEASE BE SURE TO SET YOUR CLOCKS AND WATCHES AHEAD ONE HOUR before retiring on Saturday night, so you'll get to service on time Sunday morning.

11:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Adagio" ..... Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and most humble God, we confess to Thee with humble and contrite hearts, that we have often forgotten Thee and Thy purpose for us. While professing to be Christians, we have neither wholly believed nor followed Christ. Increase our penitence, we pray Thee, and turn our wandering footsteps back into the path whereunto we are called, by the same Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Choral Introit ..... Kedron

The Processional Hymn 344 ..... Deus Tuorum Militum

The Response to the Decalogue 708 ..... Healey Willan

The Anthem: "Cast Thy Burden Upon The Lord" ..... Mendelssohn
Cast thy burden upon the Lord; and He shall sustain thee: He never will suffer the righteous to fall; He is at thy right hand. Thy mercy, Lord, is great, and far above the heavens. Let none be made ashamed that wait upon Thee!

The Sermon: "BIRDS OF A FEATHER" ..... THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn 416 ..... Beatitudo

The Sanctus 711 ..... Willan

The Kneeling Hymn 205 ..... Oblation

REVELATION AND REVOLUTION

Sometimes a child's innocent misuse of a word can reveal an important truth. T. R. Glover, the English scholar, quoted with delight the saying of the child who remarked that the New Testament ended with Revolutions. Of course, he meant to say that the last book in the Bible is Revelation. Yet, is it not true that the child quite innocently came upon a truth about the Christian religion? It is indeed a Revelation. Here is the revelation of the nature of God to man. But here is also a faith that ends with Revolutions. I would go so far as to say that if Revelation does not end with Revolutions our religion has lost its power.

There is a revolution in man's thinking. He no longer sees himself as an earth-bound and time-limited creature, an animal-like thing. He recognizes himself as a child of God. He looks upon his fellowmen as the children of God. He becomes color-blind, and beneath the varying pigments of the skin he sees souls that are precious in the eyes of God. He leaps over the barriers of creed and custom and finds that all men are brothers. He comes to see that anything that offends the dignity of any other human being is wrong. He considers mankind as one family living upon a small speck of a world moving together toward a common destiny in God's scheme of things.

There is a revolution in man's spirit. He recognizes that when he has hated he has been wrong, and when he has loved he has been right. He sees that to be selfish is to be sinful, and to be generous is to be good. He acknowledges that kindness is more satisfying than cruelty. The thoughtful word is more constructive than the bitter criticism. The act of mercy is better than the deed of revenge.

There is a revolution in a man's behaviour. The grasping hand is replaced by the giving spirit. The self-centered life steps aside and there is a desire to serve others. The world is not limited by one's own backyard but is marked only by the limits of human imagination. Children are a precious charge more than a burdensome cargo. Worship is not a ritualistic routine but an outpouring of the soul in humble thankfulness to God. The church is not just another worthy institution but the very Body of Christ living in the world to serve the purpose of God.

The Christian religion is a Revelation if the revelation ever breaks through it is bound to end in Revolutions. It ends in the only revolution that is ever worthwhile, the revolution that can begin in your heart and mine.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—It was at the Cathedral in Garden City, Long Island on October 6, 1968 my husband and I had the laying-on-of hands. Our prayers and yours were answered for my sister-in-law who was mentally ill in a hospital. She came out of her silent world before Christmas and was dismissed from the hospital without the usual shock treatment. Glory be to God! She seems wonderful today and is a living testimony of your marvelous work — Prayer.

—Florence C. Eisnor (Garden City, N. Y.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. John's Church, Elizabeth, N. J., Sunday evening, May 4th through Tuesday, May 6th.

THE HEALING MOMENT

Today I shall live like an exclamation mark as I announce myself, alive to all the life there is. I am healed of mediocrity, half-life and I bless all about me.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

The offering of gratitude to be received this morning enables us to give to the larger work of the Church extending beyond this parish and throughout the world. The U. T. O. helps to pay 80% of the salaries of women missionaries. It builds and equips churches, schools, hospitals and helps with the salaries of teachers, doctors, nurses and special workers. It produces much needed equipment from books to typewriters, tools and sewing machines. The U. T. O. is a positive way of contributing to the work of the church by providing for the pressing needs of others, whether it be in Montana, Alaska, Puerto Rico, the Philippines, India or Africa.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Phyllis McKinney, Mrs. Rachel M. Semon, Mrs. C. Stilwell, and Dorothy Ziegler.

The Rector will participate with two Medical Doctors in a Forum on Spiritual Healing on Thursday, May 8th at 7 P.M. in Jefferson Medical College in the Locust Street Building.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Cantabile" ..... Cesar Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Thou, who are the light of the world, the desire of all nations, and the shepherd of our souls; let Thy light shine in the darkness, that all the ends of the earth may see the salvation of our God; by the lifting up of Thy cross gather the peoples to Thine obedience, so that there may be one flock, one shepherd, one holy kingdom of righteousness and peace, one God and Father of us all, above all, and through all, and in all. Amen.

The Introit

The Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: "O Be Joyful In The Lord" ..... Ainslee Cox

O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands, and come before His presence with a song. Serve the Lord with gladness and come before His presence with a song. Know ye that the Lord He is God: He hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are His people, and the sheep of His pasture. O go your way into His gates with thanksgiving. O go your way into His courts with praise! Be thankful unto Him and speak good of His name.

EVERYDAY PRAYING

Many people maintain a sort of bowing-acquaintance with God, as if that were sufficient. But Jesus taught us plainly that we are like the branches of a grapevine—and those branches depend on the vine for everything. Without a firm, unbroken joining to the main trunk, the branches can produce nothing. Jesus left no doubt about that—"Without Me, ye can do nothing."

A famous athlete, Gil Dodds, writes that he discovered the truth of Jesus' statement through the successes and failures in his running. He tells the story of Gunder Hagg, one of the greatest runners of all time, who always prayed before every race. "During one meet, in which Hagg, Bill Hulse, and I were to run the mile. I asked Gunder with friendly interest what he prayed for." "Gil," he said, "I was praying for all of us—you, Hulse, and myself." "Didn't you pray that you'd win?" I asked. He shook his head. "I just prayed that each one of us would do his best." The perfect answer from a great champion.

Doesn't that give you some ideas about your everyday praying? First, the urgent need of praying before every test of temper, or brains, or courage or love. Always pray—only with God's companionship can you meet the test with your full powers. And, instead of praying for "success," pray that you will be at your very best. That is all He asks of you.

Gil Dodds speaks of one season when, after a long series of victories, he suddenly lost several races in succession. He comments, "These defeats taught me one of the most important lessons I have ever learned . . . I had forgotten the Lord and was running for Gil Dodds . . . I can never do my best without a proper mental attitude, and this proper attitude depends on humility toward God. If you run the race of life for your own glory, you will run badly." You know that, from experience; that your one source of unfailing strength and wisdom is God Himself. If you make it your habit to depend on Him as the branch depends on the main vine, then your life will constantly grow, producing rich results.

As you keep close to God, your life will be pruned, cut back, like the vine. You will suffer. But you will suffer as He did, so that your living will serve others richly. As Ugo Bassi said, in his "Sermon in the Hospital":

> "Measure thy life by loss instead of gain, not by the wine drunk, but the wine poured forth, For love's strength standeth in love's sacrifice; And whoso suffers most has most to give."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Last week I went to my eye specialist. He is astonished at my progress. He was sure I would lose my eye and he cannot understand. I asked him would you believe in a miracle? I do and for all your prayers I am truly grateful.

—Eloise Blake (Rochester, N. Y.)

THE HEALING MOMENT

Sit relaxed, clear your mind, remove the bite out of your feelings, be calm and think: The Lord is my shepherd, who heals my brokenness, restores me from anxiety, fear, malice, and indifference, who offers me positive joy. I now accept His healing gifts; now I am made whole.

The Rector will address the Presbytery of Philadelphia on Tuesday, May 13th at the Chestnut Hill Presbyterian Church.

The Diocesan In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering will take place in the Chapel of the Valley Forge Military Academy on Wednesday, May 14th at 10:30 A.M. Dinner Tickets must be obtained in advance.

CONFIRMATION

The Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, D.D., Sunday, April 20th at 4 P.M. at St. Clement's Church, 20th and Cherry Streets.

"Ye Shall Have Power After That The Holy Spirit Is Come Unto You."

Shirley A. Morley, M.D. Robert R. Morley, M.D.
Marguerite S. Farmer

The Women of St. Stephen's and the Fellowship Group will attend the service of the Chinese Christian Church following our morning service on May 11th, and eat at the new Chinese Restaurant afterwards. The final meeting of the Women will be Thursday, May 15th at 10:30 A.M. followed by a luncheon. All are welcome.

Our sincere thanks to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. M. A. Sunter and Mrs. Newbold Ely.

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "God's Time is Best" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Most merciful Father, we have done little to forward thy Kingdom in this world, to foster the brotherhood of man, and to establish love as the law of life. We have allowed self to blind us, pains to embitter us. We have forgotten that whatsoever is done to one of the least of thy children is done unto thee. Pardon our shortcomings; forgive our neglect; give us a pure heart intent on pleasing thee. Help us in all our seeking to seek first thy kingdom and thy righteousness. And make us come, as came thy Son Jesus Christ, not to be ministered unto, but to minister. All which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

SOMETHING SPECIAL

God never intended us to hang our heads, saying to ourselves, "I'm no good." On the contrary, He intended us to remember that we are His children, members of God's own family. We are to "love our neighbor as ourselves," holding our heads high with self respect. In the parable of the talents, Jesus speaks of the "particular ability" of each human being. He has given each of us something special; we can be thankful, and make use of it, to the glory of God.

Father Keller tells of a second-grade class asked to write on the subject "My Face." One little boy wrote so well about his face that his paper appeared in newspapers all over the country:

"My face has two brown eyes. It has a nose and 2 checks. And 2 ears and a mouth.

"I like my face. I am glad that my face is just like it is.

"It is not bad. It is not good, but just right."

You have a unique responsibility. There are several people to whom you make a big difference every day: the members of your household, the people where you work, those who specially love you. What you think and what you do makes a big difference in their happiness and peace of mind. You are very important to them. So you cannot let yourself be ruled by your feelings. You cannot act grumpy or sarcastic or sad, just because you happen to feel that way. Nor can you lift yourself by your own bootstraps, or just make yourself cheerful and whistle a merry tune.

What you can do is to turn yourself over to the Father who make you, saying to Him, "Act in me, I pray — speak through me in love and understanding; smile through me in compassion; laugh in me, with your joy." Many of you know this. You know that He uses you as far as you are willing for Him to do so! And He is glad to use you, not in some far-away place — but right where you are this moment.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Dear Dr. Price: Last September I came to your healing service but came too late for the 12:30 P.M. service. I was in such pain I could not stand to stay until the 5:30 P.M. service, but a kind lady there went in to speak to you. I'll always be very grateful that you immediately came out and prayed for me. After your prayers, I was able to walk to Gimbels for lunch and stayed for the second service. Believe me before that lying down was about all I could do. Not long after that the pain left and I'm living again. What a blessing to be able to ride, sit, bend, play, garden and do my own housework again. I thank God and you everyday for such happiness. Believe me I am most thankful to be off pain killing drugs.

—Mrs. Charles Kemp (Medford, N. J.)

THE HEALING MOMENT

God creates life in me and through me now. God is my health, clarity of thought, honesty of work, rightness of feeling. I accept God's creative energies and live today in peace, love, service and joy.

SCHOOLBOY HOWLERS

"In Christianity a man is allowed to have only one wife. This is sometimes called monotony."

"Science is material, religion is immaterial."

"A volcano is a mountain with a hole in the top of it. If you look down through the hole, you can see the creator smoking."

"Churches are supported by the tribulations of the members."

"Whenever David played to Saul the latter kept a javelin handy."

We wish to thank Bulletin subscriber: Dr. E. T. Scott.

We have received letters from the Phila. Divinity School and the Cambridge Theological School thanking our congregation for our contribution of $250.00 to each school for educating men to exercise leadership in the Church.

The daughter of Marie Pintavalle Tracy will be baptized during the eleven o'clock service.

The Fellowship Group will hold its last meeting on Sunday, May 18th, in the Community House, after the morning service. The Story of the Life of Christ will be brought up to Maundy Thursday. Refreshments. All Welcome.

A member of our Boy Scout Troop #2, Douglas Kail, will receive the Good Citizenship Award from the Union League on May 19th and be a guest of the United States Navy.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

WHIT-SUNDAY

SUNDAY, MAY 25th, 1969

THE REV. ALFRED W. PRICE, D.D., RECTOR
THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
THE REV. ROGER PICKERING, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service begins on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel on Pages 180-1

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O Holy Spirit of God" ..... J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Holy Spirit of God, abide with us; inspire all our thoughts; suggest all our decisions; order all our decisions; order all our doings. Be with us in our silence and in our speech, in our haste and in our leisure, in company and in solitude, in the freshness of the morning and in the weariness of the evening; and give us grace at all time humbly to rejoice in Thy mysterious companionship; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
The Introit
The Processional Hymn 600 ..... Darwell
The Venite, Page 9; Chant 609, Hymnal
The Psalm #119:5 Page 492
The First Lesson: Joel 2:28-32
The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal
The Second Lesson: St. John 3:1-16
The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal
The Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: "Ye Are Now Sorrowful" ..... Brahms

Ye are now sorrowful, Howbeit, ye shall again behold me, and your heart shall be joyful, and your joy no man taketh from you. Yea, I will comfort you, as one whom his own mother comforteth. Look upon me; ye know that for a little time labor and sorrow were mine, but at the last I have found comfort. . . . Ye shall again behold me.

The Sermon: "PENTECOST" ..... THE RECTOR
The Offertory Hymn 379 ..... Capetown
The Doxology and Presentation of Colors
The Recessional Hymn 376 ..... Down Ampney

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Kennedy Fund in memory of Charles Beck; and Mrs. A. Wilson Ross in memory of her husband.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Dr. Elmer S. Carll.

ON THE BELIEVING SIDE

Troubles pile up. There is sickness. Adversity strikes the pocketbook. The horizon looks like more bad weather. Impulsively the person says, "I haven't any faith any more." Is that true?

Hannah Whittall Smith deals swiftly and surgically with this "I have no faith." She writes, "Suppose you should begin tomorrow with the notion in your head that you could not trust anybody, because you had no faith. When you sat down to breakfast, you would say, "I cannot eat anything on this table, for I have no faith, and I cannot believe that the cook has not put poison in the coffee; or that the butcher has not sent home diseased or unhealthy meat; "so you would go starving away. When you went out to your daily avocations, you would say, "I cannot ride in the railway train, for I have no faith, and therefore I cannot trust the engineer, nor the conductor, nor the builders of the carriages, nor the managers of the road." And you would be compelled to walk everywhere, and would grow unutterably weary in the effort, besides being unable to reach the places you could have reached in the train."

Each day is a procession of acts of faith: the invalid opens her eyes with confidence in those who care for her; the storekeeper has faith in you when he lets you charge your purchases. The household trusts the mother to keep on cooking and sweeping, even though she may be weary and half-sick; the parents trust the schoolteacher with the care of their children. We cannot make a move without exercising faith in human beings. Actually, we do not attempt a day without trust in them.

Hannah Smith continues, ". . . if this want of faith in your fellowmen would be so dreadful, and such utter folly, what must it be when you tell God that you have no power to trust Him, nor believe His word . . . that it is a great trial, but that you cannot help it, "for you have no faith" . . . I, for my part, have such absolute confidence in the Holy Spirit . . . that I dare to say to every one of you that you can believe now, at this very moment; and that if you do not, it is not the Holy Spirit's fault, but your own. Put your will, then, on the believing side. Say, "Lord, I believe — I do believe."

There it is — put your will on the believing side. Certainly, if you can so trust other people who are as imperfect as yourself, you can have faith in God! Put your will on the believing side — and keep it there.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Dear Dr. Price: May I thank God and your Prayer and Fellowship for a miracle! What four psychiatrists, two social workers, my husband who is a teacher and has had psychology and well qualified to handle children, my own college credits in psychology, have all failed to do in nine months, your group did in three or four weeks by prayer. The boy was defiant, defensive, secretive, argumentative, nasty, brooding, unhappy and sullen. He is now talking sensibly. He obeys and more, asks what he can do. The actual hell we had been living in has turned into a happy and stimulating family unit. It is only definable as a miracle.

—Mrs. Dolores Szurszewski (Pittsburgh, Pa.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Methodist Church of Chevy Chase, Maryland, Sunday evening through Tuesday, May 25-27.

Our sincere thanks to Bulletin contributor Mrs. Elvira Pearce.

TOTAL COMMITMENT

Do you feel so tired that you can't drag yourself out of bed?
Are you worried about money, and making ends meet?
Are you depressed and dogged by a sense of failure?
Try getting up half an hour earlier and listening to God!
Try tithing — you'll be surprised.
Try prayer — not asking for health, money, or success — but just putting yourself in the stream of God's love and His will for you!

When we are tired and sick, it is often because we are sick and tired of ourselves. God is not tired! As we open our hearts, we experience the living joy of an eternal love. This calls for our response in total commitment.

Mrs. Ruth G. Leithead, our Parish Custodian for the United Thank Offering reports that 60 contributors to the Spring Ingathering gave $251.50. This was presented at the Diocesan Ingathering Service at Valley Forge Military Academy Chapel on May 14.

THE HEALING MOMENT

I live today in the power of God and of Life. I have the eternal to live for and to live with. Therefore, I do not complain, groan and moan about myself and living. I will get up out of my dull mood and live all my life starting now.

MORE THAN YOU ARE

One of the finest teachers of our city was chosen to help the children of immigrants who did not know the life or the language of our United States. She became to many students their ideal of what a person could and should be. When one of the boys was leaving her tutorage and he was a particularly lively personality, she said to him. "Be as good as I think you are." Years later, the boy, then a man, said, "You will never know how many times I was tempted to do wrong, and resisted the temptation. I heard you saying to me, 'Be as good as I think you are'."

For every Christian Jesus says, "Be as good as I think you are." Margueritte Bro wrote a book, "More Than You Are." E. Stanley Jones expressed it this way, "Nobodies Become Somebodies." Jesus put it in His own words. "Ye are the salt of the earth. Ye are the light of the world. Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father who is in Heaven." What might it not do for all Christians if, when tempted not to be their best, they heard Jesus' words, "Be as good as I think You are."

Jesus also revealed what God thinks we are to be if we seek Him in obedience with our whole hearts. "Be ye perfect, even as your Father in Heaven is perfect." This amazing statement, however, coincides with the Bible's words that God made His children in His own image. Way back in the beginning of our Bible, in the seventeenth chapter of Genesis, it says, "The Lord appeared to Abram and said unto him, 'I am the Almighty God, walk before me, and be thou perfect'." In Psalm 47 David says, "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright for there is posterity for the man of Peace." Paul in his letter to the Colossians refers to Epaphras, "a servant of Christ, always laboring fervently for you in prayer that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God."

Can it be that God plans to expand our minds and souls eventually unto perfection? It is too good not to be true. Therefore, let us say often to ourselves, "Be as good as Jesus thinks you are;" "Be as good as God, who created you, knows you are."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Dear Dr. Price: Some time ago I asked for prayers for my daughter-in-law, Carol Flower, who was having a problem with her hand. Your prayers were answered immediately and she has had no further trouble. This past week I had a lump appear on my neck and after careful examination two doctors had me all set for surgery next Tuesday. A friend wrote you for prayers. Yesterday the doctor cancelled my appointment with the surgeon. I have been so conscious of the flow of power and so thankful for the healing that has come to me. I know it will be used as a wonderful testimony to many.

—Addie Flower (North Syracuse, N. Y.)

The Rector will participate in a Healing Conference in Toronto, Canada, June 1st - 3rd inclusive.

The combined groups of the Fellowship and the Women of St. Stephen's are invited to an outdoor picnic in the Rectory yard on Saturday, June 7th. The Manayunk Branch of the Penn-Central train leaving at 11:06 A.M. will be met at the Cynwyd Station. The Rectory is located at 121 Lodge's Lane, Cynwyd.

THE HEALING MOMENT

I affirm God's action as my life in the Divine Spirit I am made whole. I draw from the Eternal resource, peace, harmony, understanding and strength for today's living.

Keep silence, friend, for some have come to cast their care on God today, and some to praise from thankful hearts, and some, "Thy Kingdom Come" to pray. Keep silence, let Him speak anew to every heart—perhaps to you.

WHITSUNDAY OFFERING

A Festival Evensong Service will be held on Trinity Sunday, June 1st, at 4 P.M. at Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square for the ingathering of the Diocesan Whitsunday Offerings, a celebration of and thanksgiving for these gifts. Bishop DeWitt will preach the sermon and all the churches in the Diocese will take part. The procession of Clergy will start from St. Mark's Church, 1625 Locust and move up Locust Street, across Rittenhouse Square, and into Holy Trinity Church. Everyone is invited.

DAILY AFFIRMATION:—Today I realize I am alive in God's Power. I shall have the strength I need to meet all problems in a happy and creative spirit.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

2nd SUNDAY JUNE — 1st SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

THE REV. ALFRED W. PRICE, D.D., RECTOR
THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
THE REV. ROGER PICKERING, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service begins on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the ministers, your fellow worshipers, and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Prelude in "C" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord our God, we lift our faces to Thee. We turn from the busy concerns that engage our minds, from the trivial pleasures that fill the passing moment, from the pressing cares that burden our days. And we come to this quiet sanctuary at this holy hour. Subdue the clamor of our hearts, soften every alien note, and grant that in this hour of worship we may hear Thy voice and learn Thy will, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Processional Hymn 301 ..... St. Denio

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm #39, Page 389

The First Lesson: 2 Kings 4:8-17

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 14:12-24

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name,
None other Hope in heaven or earth or sea.
None other Hiding Place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: Hear Ye, Israel! (Elijah) ..... Mendelssohn

Hear ye, Israel! hear what the Lord speaketh: "Oh, hadst thou heeded my commandments!" Who hath believed our report, To whom is the arm of the Lord revealed, Thus saith the Lord, the Redeemer of Israel and his Holy One, to him oppressed by tyrants; thus saith the Lord: "I am He that comforteth; be not afraid, for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee! Say, who art thou? that thou art afraid of a man that shall die; and forgettest the Lord, the Lord thy Maker who hast stretched for the heavens, and laid the earth's foundations.

The Sermon: "THE LETTER TO PHILEMON" ..... THE RECTOR

The Offertory Hymn 572 ..... Maryton

The Doxology, Presentation of the Colors, Closing Prayer, Benediction

HATE IS POWERFUL

One of the most terrific problems we face is the power of hate. We are constantly being reminded in our TV news reports of the brutality of war on the other side of the world, and of riots here at home. Our men at the fighting fronts have seen terrible things done to their comrades, and it is only natural that they should hate the men who have done these barbarous things. In our own cities, within our land, we have been deeply stirred with hatred, against harmful, hateful people, some with white skins, and some with black. It is only natural that we should feel that way. But we cannot stop there. There are many things that are natural, that are not right! To allow hate to breed unchecked in our hearts means that we are willing to have the seeds of future wars and violence take root in us. This is direct disobedience of the Master, who plainly commanded us to love all men, including our enemies. What can we do about this hatred which keeps rising up in us? What can we do to build the foundations of the world's peace?

Out in the Pacific, towards the end of World War II, an American warship took some wounded Japanese prisoners aboard. A rather startling thing happened—one of the American medical officers took charge of the care of these wounded Japanese. Much to the indignation of some of his fellow officers, he took the same conscientious care of them as he did of our own wounded. In the ward-room, officers criticized him angrily; some said it would be better to leave the Japs below decks without any care, and let them die as they had let our men die. Finally one of them sounded off with scorching words of scorn over the decent treatment of the wounded enemy prisoners. The doctor waited until the hot-mouthed officer stopped; and asked, "Are you through," "Yes." "Did you go to Mass last Sunday," "Yes." "Did you go to confession beforehand," "Yes." "And you belong to a Christian Church," "Yes." "Then," said the doctor, with a ring of steel in his voice, "You're a d----- hypocrite." The wardroom grew tense, as the doctor continued:

"Let me tell you what I mean. When we went to war, we said a lot about Four Freedoms, and about playing the game according to the rules of decency. I propose that we keep on playing the game according to those rules even if the other fellow doesn't. What is more—there are some good Japs down there, among the bad ones. And when the Japanese war-lords have been liquidated, and little Ishi goes back to Japan, he is going to say, "Those war-lords of ours lied to us. They told us that all Americans are beasts. But when I was wounded, I was treated decently aboard an American warship, and given such good care that I got well." I'm going right on taking good care of little Ishi and the rest. Has anyone anything to say?" The ward-room was silent.

Hate is powerful. But love is more powerful still. Love alone can overcome raging hate in men's hearts. Love alone—God's strong love—can bring peace in the cities of America, and between us and other lands.

DAILY AFFIRMATION:—God's Spirit enters into my life to create wholeness in my body, in my thoughts, in my feelings and actions. In God's spirit I live intelligently, maturely, joyfully.

THE HEALING MOMENT

I enter into the Spirit of this day which is given me to live in. I let God's Peace work through me, His Power strengthen me, His Love flavor all I am and do this day.
Read I Corinthians 2:4

St. Stephen's Vestrymen and their wives, and all our Staff members are invited to a luncheon with the Rev. Roger Pickering and his staff on Sunday, June 22nd at 12:30 P.M. in the Community House.

The Hard of Hearing Chapel through its Custodian, Mrs. Margaret J. Stanley, gave $56.00 to the Diocesan Ingathering of the United Thank Offering at Valley Forge Military Academy on May 14th. The offering came from 19 contributors.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Dear Dr. Price: I have always wanted to write you to tell you how lovely, how meaningful, how special your healing services are, and how much they have done for my faith. Your healing services cured me of a terrible anxiety—caused affliction—attacks of rapid heart beat, nausea, vomiting, chills and fainting. This affliction plagued me for seven years, several times a week. I was hospitalized four times and underwent numerous tests and sought treatment from many specialists. St. Stephen's means a great deal to me and to many other people I know who have not yet had the chance to write and tell you. I pray that God will continue to strengthen you in your work.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Prelude to the Prodigal Son" ..... Debussy

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and everlasting God, the Source of our life, the Strength of our pilgrimage, and the Goal of our journey, stir our spirits by Thy Spirit, that we may worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. Make us sensitive to thy presence. Often we have forgotten Thee and turned aside from Thy ways. Touch our lips with the live coal from the altar; open our ears to the assurance of pardon; and kindle our hearts with eagerness to go forth as Thy messengers, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

My Spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it come from Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: "O God, Have Mercy." ..... Psalm 51

O God, have mercy upon me, and blot out my transgressions according to thy lovingkindness, yea, even for Thy mercy's sake. Deny me not, O cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy spirit from me, O Lord. Lord, a broken heart, and a contrite heart is offer'd Thee. I will speak of Thy salvation, I will teach transgressors, and sinners shall be converted unto Thee. Then open Thou my lips, O Lord, and my mouth shall show forth Thy glorious praise.

HE WHO LOSES HIS LIFE

So many people walk about in life, dead on their feet. Self-centered and self-satisfied, they have long since ceased being "alive" to those around them; stopped responding to the unspoken longings of those who live in the same home; deaf and blind to the pain and travail of the world.

But true Christians have discovered that as soon as they surrender their lives to Christ, and enlist in His Cause, they "come alive." They rise out of their old dead self, and begin to live the most zestful, radiant life this world has ever known. Committed to Christ, they find strength where there had been weakness; hope, where there had been despair.

Margaret Lee Runbeck tells the true story of this present world resurrection. A young mother with her four-year-old girl, was fleeing from Hitler's army as they sped across France. Like all other refugees, her one idea was to get herself and her little girl across the Spanish border to safety. But the frontier guards were stubborn — no refugees could pass. So that night the young mother prayed as she had never prayed before. The next day a man came to her room saying, "I'm a guide from the underground. In the dark of the moon I lead parties of refugees over the mountains and down into Spain. It is a long and difficult trail, but God will help." That night when the town was asleep, the young woman and her daughter set out for the meeting-place, up on a mountain trail. The little girl was soon tired. The mother had to carry her, and she was panting with exhaustion when they joined the company of refugees. The leader bade them to trust God in this desperate attempt. Young men volunteered to carry the small girl — as they toiled higher and higher on the steep trail, the strain began to tell. Finally the oldest and frailest man gave a groan and said, "I can't go on," and sank to the ground. "Don't mind me. Leave me here to die. Save yourselves." The leader stood over him, stern and yet compassionate, saying, "You're not dead yet. We must all help each other. Whatever strength you have belongs to all of us. With your last ounce of strength help us to carry the lady's child, until you die." Three times on that dreadful expedition three different old men gave up. And each time the God-guided leader insisted that the exhausted old man use his last drop of energy to carry the child. When the morning light appeared, they were passing the border safely to Spain. Everyone of the party was there, alive and well! The three old men had found resurrection in "losing" their lives for the sake of the little child. "He who loses his life for my sake shall find it!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Dear Dr. Price: About three weeks ago I requested prayers of healing for Elizabeth Hix who was suffering a nervous breakdown and for myself whose eyesight is in jeopardy. Miss Hix has recovered and my eyesight has stabilized to some degree. As older people we know we shall not regain the vigor we once knew but hope that, with God's help, we shall be able to end our lives independently and with dignity.

—Katharine Hopper (Marietta, Ohio)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Church of the Brethren, Weyers Cave, Virginia, Sunday night through Tuesday, June 15-17th inclusive.

DAILY AFFIRMATION:

O Lord, in Thee I put my trust.
I trust the Goodness of Living,
The Power of Love to create
Understanding and Peace in all
My undertakings today.

THE HEALING MOMENT

This is a moment of quiet for me. I relax physically and mentally. I surround those I love, those I work with, those who give me trouble, those I do not understand, with love. I have no resentments, malice or ill will. Christ held others in this spirit so I now hold them and bless them all.

Gallup Poll

Here is an arresting statistic. In 1948, 68 percent of Americans believed in life after death, according to a poll taken at that time. Twenty years later, that percentage has risen to 73 percent.

Asked whether they believe in God, 2 percent of the Americans answered no, 98 percent answered yes.

How right or how wrong are those theologians and religious leaders who say that if the Church is to be relevant, and appeal to the masses, and survive the acids of modernity, she must demythologize, desupernaturalize, humanize, and secularize the Gospel? If these Gallup Poll figures are anywhere near correct, it would seem that the man in the street has a much firmer faith in God and belief in immortality than have some of his pastors and masters who are so concerned about making the Gospel palatable to him.

NO WOUND, NO PEARL!

"And the twelve gates were twelve pearls." Every gate a pearl! Every entrance into the heavenly life is through a pearl. What is a pearl? A wound is made in a shell. A grain of sand, perhaps, gets imbedded in the wound. Then all the resources of repair are rushed to the place where the breach has been made. When the breach has been closed, and the process of repair is complete a pearl is found closing the wound. The break calls forth unsuspected resources of the shell, and a beauty appears that is not otherwise brought out. . . . A pearl is a healed wound. No wound, no pearl!

Misfortune can be transformed into blessing, hurts changed into pearls of precious value. Even a grievous handicap may become a life-saving power. Nydia, the blind flower-girl in "The Last Days of Pompeii" did not become bitter about her blindness; nor had she sulked and stayed at home. She had gone about the business of living and had earned her living as best she could. Then came the awful days of the eruption of Vesuvius, with "the doomed city as dark as midnight beneath a thick pall of smoke and falling ashes; the terror-stricken inhabitants rush blindly to and fro, and lose themselves in the awful blackness. But Nydia does not get lost. Because of her cross of blindness, she had learned to find her way by touch and hearing, and now she can go straight to rescue the life of the one she loves best. By learning to walk swiftly and surely in the dark, she has made of her handicap a treasure and a rock of a Man. "No wound, no pearl!"—Out of life's buffetings may come our richest godsend in the dark hour.

"Every gate a pearl!" Every misfortune, every failure, every loss, may be so transformed. God has the power to transform all "misfortunes" into godsends. So Jesus transformed the cross from a criminals' badge of shame into the sign of the love of God. Often it takes a wound to transform a denying Peter into a fearless rewards.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Dear Dr. Price: Early in March you were kind enough to let me come in and visit you on the spur of the moment about my son Tom. His problem is glomerulo-nephritis. After I talked with you a test was run that previously had been away above normal and it had returned to within normal limits. This happened within several days after you said his name was to be placed on the prayer list of St. Stephen's. I believe the prayers of you and your group are responsible for the normal results of the recent test. Thank you and your group for this.
—John K. Walters (San Antonio, Texas)

Mrs. Nicholas Colonna in memory of Nicholas B. Colonna.
17—Mrs. Fanny Sackett in memory of Matilda Maulsby.
Susan C. Thackara in memory of mother Mabel Thackara.
24—Ellinger Fund in memory of Catherine Hussey Lewis.
31—Kathryn Kennedy Fund in memory of Rev. Samuel McConnell and Rev. Carl Grammer.

We wish to thank Bulletin subscribers: Mr. and Mrs. David L. German, III.

THE HEALING MOMENT

Take a deep breath physically, mentally and emotionally; push out all thoughts and feelings you do not want around. Then think for a minute:

As skies are caught in a drop of dew, as the sun reflects off the shining windows, so I catch Infinity in myself and I live wholly in what is everlasting. Read Psalm 90.

MANIFESTO BY MR. FORMAN

The Rector of St. Stephen's Church considers the manifesto of the National Black Economic Development Conference a crude insult and vile effort to blackmail the churches and synagogues. The demands and tactics of the spokesmen of the new black organization are objectionable on both moral and practical grounds.

The Episcopal Church has been asked to provide $60 million as its share of the 500 million demanded by the NBEDC as "reparations" in exploiting blacks. The demand along with a request for a complete listing of Episcopal assets in the United States and 60% of the income of those assets was presented to our Presiding Bishop.

During the years 1967 and 1968 the Episcopal Church gave $9 million dollars to Negro Banks and other economic agencies and is now giving 20% of its national budget for economic aid to our colored brethren and will continue its broad and comprehensive program of human rights.

We see no reason why we should stop our activity in the field of human rights, supporting reputable black organizations, and give our support to this disruptive group represented by Mr. Forman.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

JUNE 29th, 1969 — 4th SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

The Rev. Alfred W. Price, D.D., Rector
The Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
The Rev. Roger Pickering, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the service speak to the Lord; during the service let the Lord speak to you; after the service speak to one another.

THE INNER SPIRIT

There was once a man who was interested in cock-fighting. He spent a long time getting together a band of the cleverest, fiercest fighting cocks he could find. Finally, one night he put them all into a big hamper, loaded the hamper onto the back of his truck, and set off for the cock-fights. He was looking forward jubilantly to an evening of victories. When he arrived at the cock-fights, he opened his hamper; and, to his horror, he found half the fighting cocks dead, and the other half wounded and dying. They had been fighting each other.

Sadly he shook his head, sighing, "I should have thought that they would have known that they were all on the same side!" He had fixed all the outer circumstances for them to make them winners; given them the best living quarters and feed; had spent hours in training them, but all that went for nothing, because they were still eager to murder any other bird in sight, even one of their own band. Their owner found out that it is the spirit within that counts most of all.

Jesus taught that truth to men when He said, "The Kingdom of God is within you." It is not the outer circumstances that make the difference. It is what people do with those circumstances. I was in a home one day where a yard-stick lay in the hall-way. One child came along the hall, kicked the yard-stick to one side. Another followed and picked it up. The circumstances were the same for both children, but the spirit within them was different. It made a difference.

Jesus told people about ten men, sick with leprosy, whom he healed one day under the clear Galilean sky. Later in the day, far down the road, He saw a little cloud of dust, and one of the ten came back to thank the Healer. The other nine, when they found that they were healed, did not bother to return. The same miracle had happened to all ten—it was the inner spirit that was different. That inner spirit made a difference to Jesus!

It's urgent, then, that we give our attention to what is in our hearts. It makes a difference to other people, a great difference. And it makes a difference to Jesus.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Dear Dr. Price: In April I wrote requesting to be placed on the prayer chain due to a kidney ailment then diagnosed as incurable and probably fatal. Your letter acknowledging receipt of my prayer request arrived just several minutes before we left for my appointment with Dr. Lee in Pittsburgh. Throughout the entire afternoon, I felt anxiety through God's strength and your group holding me up in prayer. I underwent a cystoscope in the office without benefit of anesthesia and with no pain. The dropped kidney was discovered on examination hardly out of line and I can now lead a normal life instead of an inactive one. This is overwhelming evidence of God's healing power in response to your prayers.
—Eleanor S. Koontz (New Kensington, Pa.)

The Rector will preach at the summer Boardwalk Service at Ocean City, N. J. on Sunday, July 20th at 7:30 P.M.

The Rector will participate in a Prayer Seminar in Springfield, Missouri, August 11th - 14th inclusive.

The Rector will conduct the usual Healing Mission in St. Stephen's Church during July and August at 11 o'clock.

This will be the last Bulletin until September 7th.

The 14th Annual International Conference of the Order of St. Luke will be held in St. Stephen's Church, September 7th - 10th inclusive.

We wish to thank Bulletin Subscriber: Mrs. Ada S. Harley.

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Toccata and Fugue in D Minor .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and Eternal God, whose sons and daughters we are, we beseech Thee to awaken us to a new sense of our mission as Thy children. Help us to live under the compulsion of high imperatives. Strengthen us to follow closely in the steps of Him who went about doing good. Use us as Thy messengers to any who are troubled. Show us how to give strengthening companionship to the lonely and discouraged. Teach us gentle words of healing for those in pain and grief. Guide us to give wise counsel to the wayward and tempted. In all our dealings with distressed humanity keep us faithful to the Spirit of Christ, who came, not to be ministered unto, but to minister. Amen.

"Jesus Christ, Healer of Men."

HEALING THE WHOLE MAN

A World Seminar on Healing the Whole Man was held at the Unity School in Lee Summit, Missouri, in 1967. Three workshops included about 35 men and women representing the fields of medicine, psychiatry, science, clergy and various denominations, osteopathy, and chiropractic. A few of the views expressed are as follows:

Chemistry Professor: I am the inner core of reality that flows out of me. This inner core even flows through my voice. And, through intermingling none of us in this room will ever be quite the same again.

Professor of Comparative Religion: I feel that fragmentation is dangerous. I think we need a whole new nomenclature, new terms. We have our new ecumenicity, but it is still divided.

Former Broadway Producer: Man is born in a precarious position; a sort of dichotomy where he has a finite dimension but can comprehend infinity beyond his own finiteness.

Minister: The "hippie" is hurting. Life is a series of junctions down the road. Can the hippie get back to the junction where he must have turned off?

Chiropractor: All healing comes from within and is "divine."

Physician: I feel there can always be a spiritual lesson involved in the healing process if the patient is ready.

Catholic Sister: I think God is in everything. We identify ourselves with and look for the Christ in our patients.

SERMON ON THE MOUNT

There is a book I would recommend by a psychiatrist, Dr. James T. Fisher, bearing the intriguing title, "A Few Buttons Missing." I quote "If you were to take the sum total of all the authoritative articles ever written by the most qualified of psychologists and psychiatrists on the subject of mental hygiene; if you were to take the whole of the meat and none of the parsley; and if you were to have these unadulterated bits of pure scientific knowledge concisely expressed by the most capable of living poets, you would have an awkward and incomplete summation of the Sermon on the Mount."

AN EYEOPENER

In the first quarter of 1969 sponsors spent the following on TV commercials:

Anacin tablets	$4,619,500
Alka-Seltzer	3,993,400
Bayer Aspirin	3,110,500
Bufferin	2,929,500

This report shows that four firms spent a total of over fourteen million dollars advertising their products. Can you imagine the amount the consumers must have paid for these products, and remember there are dozens of similar products on the market highly advertised and extensively used. What is behind it all? Are Americans driving themselves until they are becoming nervous wrecks and drug addicts? Is it not time to draw a line somewhere or some how?

HIS ONE MISTAKE

He brushed his teeth twice a day — with a nationally advertised tooth paste.
The doctors examined him twice a year.
He wore his rubbers when it rained.
He slept with the windows open.
He stuck to a diet with plenty of fresh vegetables.
He relinquished his tonsils and traded in several worn-out glands.
He golfed — but never more than 18 holes at a time.
He got at least eight hours sleep every night.
He never smoked, drank nor lost his temper.
He did his "daily dozen" daily.
He was all set to live to be a hundred.

The funeral will be held Wednesday. He's survived by 18 specialists, four health institutions, six gymnasiums and numerous manufacturers of health foods and antibiotics.

HE FORGOT GOD, lived as if this world was all, and neglected his ETERNAL welfare, and is now with those who say, "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not SAVED." (Jeremiah 8:20).

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

2nd SUNDAY SEPTEMBER — 15th SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

SEPTEMBER 14th, 1969

The Rev. Alfred W. Price, D.D., Rector
The Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
The Rev. Roger Pickering, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the Service speak to the Lord; during the Service let the Lord speak to you; after the Service speak to each other.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 210, 211

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the Service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE REV. LEWIS MACLACLAN OF ENGLAND

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Antiphons" .....Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty God, we lift our eyes to wider horizons. We bring to Thee the weary, seeking rest; the troubled, seeking peace; and the sinner, seeking life. Remember in mercy those in whom the vision of the good life has faded. Renew their faith in Thee and in themselves. Give them a fresh heart for new days. Guide clumsy fingers so that from the common threads of everyday they shall weave tapestries of enduring loveliness. Beyond these broken prayers we bring the longings and aspirations too deep for words. Receive these unspoken yearnings. Give us quiet confidence. Bid our souls find serenity in Thee. We offer our prayer in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Processional Hymn 346 .....St. Elizabeth

The Venite, Prayer Book, page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm 72, page 426

The First Lesson: I Kings 3:v.5

The Benedictus Es Domine, Prayer Book, page 11; Chant #626 Hymnal

The Second Lesson: St. Matthew 10:2-16

The Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book, page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other Lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other hiding, place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: Bless The Lord, O My Soul .....Ivanoff

Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me bless His Holy Name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits. He is full of compassion and mercy, long suffering and great in goodness. He will not always chide, nor keep His wrath forever. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me bless His Holy Name.

The Sermon: "THE GOSPEL OF HOPE" .....The Rector

A MOVING BICYCLE

Carlyle once wrote, "Doubt of any sort cannot be removed except by action." We try other ways first. We sit and stew and mourn, and our doubts get stubborner. We try to "escape" by reading a thriller, or watching one on TV; but we find our doubt waiting for us at the end. We retreat into bed and discover that, while we remain sadly stationary, our doubts and fears grow. What to do about it?

Sam Shoemaker gave us some valuable clues: "Nothing much will happen while you remain on dead center — get off dead center and follow the line of the best light you have. Do the obvious right thing, and then God can lead you to the inspired thing. Get in motion. You can't guide a bicycle leaning against a wall — you can only guide a bicycle that is in motion. God cannot guide a person that always stands still, paralyzed by doubt and misgiving. Better step out and make a mistake, and really get in motion — then God can get you to correct the mistake."

It is a comfort to remember that Jesus kept Doubting Thomas in the company of His disciples. His faith was wobbly. He wouldn't believe the others when they told him they had seen Jesus alive, risen from the dead — vowed he would not believe unless it was proved to him. Eight days later, Jesus stood before him, showed him the print of the nails and the wound in His side. Thomas looked, and did not hesitate; swiftly he reached out his hand — he acted, and overcame his doubt.

I find help in remembering that God can guide and help us only if we are "a moving bicycle." A shut-in becomes a moving bicycle when she reaches for paper and pen and writes a letter of compassion to some suffering friend. A husband becomes a moving bicycle when he becomes so concerned for his wife that he remembers something difficult she asked him to do, and sets about doing it, with joy.

Wonder of wonders, as soon as one begins to act in God's spirit of loving-kindness, and caring, our doubts shrink, and God is there.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

Dear Dr. Price:

This is to inform you that I received healing two weeks ago at your Summer Healing Service. I had a heart condition, shortness of breath and terrific pain in the chest and back. Praise the Lord no more shortness of breath or pains. After the service that Sunday I walked to the 15th Street to get the subway and not an ache or a pain and I could hardly believe it. Your service is just what so many people need with all the stresses of life. You can feel the presence of the Holy Spirit as soon as you enter the church.

(Helen B. Cubet, Philadelphia, Pa.)

Recently, I have been re-reading Bishop Sherrill's autobiography, AMONG FRIENDS. On the occasion of being awarded an honorary degree from, and at, the University of Edinburgh, Bishop Sherrill quoted President Lowell of Harvard as saying, "What makes this institution such a treasury of knowledge and wisdom is that the freshmen bring so much and the seniors take out so little!"

LIFE'S PLAN

We do not have to plan our life. It is already planned for us. This may be a cause of stumbling to beginners, but when we become more advanced, we realize that God has a wonderful plan concerning our life, and that the best thing we can do is to fall in with it. Obviously there can be no harmony until we do. We have not to perfect our life; we have only to allow God's perfect plan to be carried out, in every action of our life.

MEDITATION

Doing the Will of God is a glorious and beautiful experience. It is not the negative thing generally represented. We do not have to bow to God's Will so much as to Rise to it, to Enjoy it, to Rejoice in it, to Live it.

Our thanks to Bulletin subscribers: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bennett, Mr. John A. Bull and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kerr.

THE TRIUMPH OF TRUST

One of the glories of the Christian Faith is the way that God saw Jesus through. In Gethsemane Jesus had prayed to find out what God wanted Him to do; and God led him to the Cross, and apparent failure. But on Easter Day, Gods' purpose became clear. Only through the cross could God reveal His full love to Mankind. Only through the victory of Easter could God show the sure triumph of trust in Him. In our day, one of our greatest needs is childlike, unwavering trust in God and His promises.

There is a story of a father and two children who went swimming at Atlantic City late in the autumn. The water was very chilly, and no one else was in swimming, and the children were both small — Mary was nine and George was seven. But they had learned to swim almost as soon as they had learned to walk, and they were little water-dogs. After a good swim they all began to feel cold, and started for the shore. But they discovered that a strong off-shore current had set in, and they were not making any progress toward the beach. So the father swam over to Mary, and said, "Mary, I am going to swim ashore with George, and then I'l come back for you. You must paddle enough to keep yourself afloat; turn over on your back and float if you get tired; and I'll be back. You are a good swimmer, Mary, and you can do it." Then the father took George to tow and got him back to the beach. He took time for a few long breaths, and then dove in and fought his way back to the breakers to where he had left Mary. But she was nowhere to be seen. He swam frantically about looking for her, but there was no tousled head to be seen. Finally, he swam ashore, and asked for help. Soon there were twenty boats looking for her as dusk fell — looking for a small bobbing head among the waves. After two hours, as they had begun to lose hope, they found Mary, a mile and a half off-shore, just keeping afloat. A great strong man leaned over to the little girl, and said, "Mary, I couldn't have done that — how did you do it?" She opened her eyes and answered quietly, "My father told me that I could — so I knew that I could."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

Dear Dr. Price:—I would like to thank you and the Intercessory Prayer Fellowship for the wonderful results obtained for my father, Michael Daley, who was suffering from acute anxiety along with physical ailments over the past year. He has taken a new interest in himself and looks ahead instead of dwelling on his death.

Catherine Daley (Pittsburgh, Pa.)

AFFIRMATION FOR THE WEEK:

Perfect Love Casts Out Fear.
I am one with the Power
Of God's love which casts out
All Fears about myself and
All that pertains to me.

Fear is the enemy of man. But fear is a mental attitude and as such can be converted into something else . . . Fear adds to a negative approach to living. It subtracts from the energy that makes a person whole. It divides the mind and makes coherent thought impossible. It multiplies until it becomes panic.

Whereas Faith adds energy to living and stimulates positive attitudes. It takes out doubt and it divides fear and panic and conquers them. Faith is an act of saying YES to the Divine Principle we know as Love and which we know as the very energy of God, Reality.

O God:

Come as the fire and burn
Come as the wind and cleanse,
Come as a light and reveal.
Convince, convert, consecrate,
Until we are wholly thine. Amen

ORDER OF ST. LUKE CONFERENCE

5,174 people attended the various sessions of the four day International Conference on the Church's Ministry of Healing held in St. Stephen's Church, September 7-10 inclusive.

30 Denominations were represented; clergy and laymen came from 27 states including Alaska, and five from overseas countries: Sweden, South Africa, England, Canada and Nova Scotia. Some 1500 persons enjoyed the Social Hour Periods in the Community House in the late afternoons.

Words are inadequate to express our appreciation to Madeline Keller, Clifton Johnson and Hazel Bainbridge and their many volunteers for their untiring efforts.

The Rector conducted a healing mission in the Cathedral at Garden City, Long Island, Sept. 14-16 and gave a lecture in Carnegie Endowment Center, New York on Wednesday evening, Sept. 17. He will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. John's Church, Passaic, N.J. Sept. 22-24 included.

Our thanks to Bulletin subscriber: The Rev. Harvey E. Buck.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:- Lord of the great sacrifice, restrain our eagerness for the things that are seen. Thy cross is our rebuke. Increase our spending for the things eternal. Lord of the sinless life, our hope is to become like Thee. Fulfill our hearts in service, that our hope be not in vain. Lord of the holiest joy—the joy of boundless giving—teach us Thy grace of losing, that our joy may indeed be full. The world counteth all things lost if it gain not the things it may reckon. Help us to count all things but loss, to win, Thee, the wealth unmeasured.

LET GO AND LET GOD

Every human being goes through rebellious times when he wants to do as he pleases and have his own way. In those times he resists God, fights against the need of "abiding in the vine."

John Masefield, in his great story-poem of "The Everlasting Mercy" tells of the drunkard, Saul Kane, who struggled so hard to keep clear of God. One day in the saloon a woman found him trying to make friends with her boy, and she was so afraid of such a sorry companion for her son that she blazed out in fearful, scorching anger against Saul Kane. When she was at last through, Saul said to himself, "I've often heard religious ranters, and put them down as windy canters. But this old woman makes me see the harm I done by being me." That same day he was rude to a Quaker woman who came into the saloon to tell men about Christ, and she spoke out to the stubborn drunkard about the Christ he was denying, finishing with, "He waits until you knock."

Saul Kane grew sick of having his own way — he could not hold out against Christ any longer. Through the weeks that had passed, he had kept sight of the Everlasting Mercy of God — the God who waits until we come home to Him; the God who lets us put Him on a hard Cross and torture His mighty heart with our hard-fisted, self-willed lives; and, all the time, in His endless mercy, He keeps on loving us. Saul Kane could not keep on resisting a God like that — he let go, and let God in at last. No longer was his ardent prayer, "my will be done" but "Thy will . . . . ." And he poured out his heart in joy and freedom at last, saying,

"I did not think; I did not strive;
The deep peace burnt me alive;
The bolted door had broken in,
I knew that I had done with sin.
I knew that Christ had given me birth to brother all the souls on earth;
And every bird, and every beast should share the crumbs broke at the feast.
O Glory, of the lighted mind — how dead I've been, how dumb, how blind!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:- Dr. Price: Last February I asked your prayers for my recovery from depressive periods which I had been suffering from for a number of years. This letter is to thank you for your prayerful support and to tell you that through your prayers I have now been free from those depressive bouts for quite a while. This summer I traveled to the west coast and had the happiest, most refreshing holiday I have had in my whole life. Truly through your prayers to God that I am now enjoying good health and life has its fullest meaning for me now. I will continue to pray for your group and thank God for His wonderful and amazing love.

Violet Naylor (St. Catherines, Canada)

Daily Affirmation

What moods and attitudes I live by return to me to live with.
So I manifest love to others, peace amid contentions; joy amid discouragement; understanding amid conflicts.

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will start, again, immediately after morning service, on the 2nd Sunday (instead of the 3rd Sunday — on October 12th, in the Community House. It will be the same in November, meeting on the 2nd Sunday, the 9th. All are welcome: refreshments will be served. The Review of the Life of Christ, by Mrs. Price, will continue with the events on Maunday Thursday.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Wesley United Methodist Church, Dover, Delaware, Sunday evening September 28 through Tuesday, September 30.

Our thanks to Bulletin subscribers: The Rev. Harvey E. Buck, Miss Mary C. Stevens, Mary E. Schearer, Miss Elizabeth B. Bowne and Mr. Walter S. Bullock.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
Metropolitan Christian Council of Philadelphia;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

18th SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY
OCTOBER 5th, 1969

The Rev. Alfred W. Price, D.D., Rector
The Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
The Rev. Roger Pickering, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the Service speak to the Lord; during the Service let the Lord speak to you; after the Service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 214, 215

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the Service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers and the world.

11:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Air in D" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:- Bless us today, O Father, with the realization of Thy presence. As we meet in humble paths of service, grant us that consciousness of Thy challenge to each of our lives, which shall redeem any labor from seeming trivial, and so change for the tragedy and chaos of the world without Thee, into a prolonged field of honor. Amen.

The Choral Introit ..... Kedron

Come, let us to the Lord our God
with contrite hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave
the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn 484 ..... Truro

The Response to the Decalogue, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: "Jesu, Word Of God Incarnate" ..... Mozart

Jesu, Word of God incarnate, of the Virgin Mary born; on the Cross Thy sacred Body, for us men with nails was torn. Cleanse us by the Blood and Water streaming from Thy pierced side. Feed us with Thy Body broken, now and in death's agony.

The Sermon: Jeremiah ..... The Rector

The Offertory Hymn 498 ..... Gardiner

The Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan

The Kneeling Hymn 205 ..... Oblation

The Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 ..... Old Scottish Chant

The Recessional Hymn 487 ..... Ellers

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by the Sinnamon Fund to the glory of God and in memory of Dr. and Mrs. George Sinnamon.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Dr. Elmer S. Carll.

A NEW MOVE

Charles Allen tells the story of a painting which shows the devil at a chessboard with a young man. The devil has just made his move and the young man's queen is checkmated. On his face is defeat and despair. One day Paul Murphy, the great chess genius, went to the picture gallery and was immediately fascinated by this painting. Carefully he studied the positions on the board. Suddenly his face lighted up, and he shouted to the young man in the painting, "You still have a move — don't give up; You still have a move'!"

The younger son in the Parable of Jesus had a similar experience. He went off on a big lark, for a lot of partying and gaiety. Before long his gay adventure began to turn grim, and he ran out of money. What next? He, could go to work. All he could find was a pigherder's job — he, a Jew, feeding and caring for pigs; and a Jew is not supposed to have anything to do with pigs. The work was not paid well enough to feed him decently, so he was hungry as well as lonely and disheartened. Then he came to his senses, began to think and to pray. Suddenly, into his dark thought came a new idea — he could swallow his pride, and go home to his father. In his heart a power greater than his own was saying. "Don't give up; you still have a move." He went home. His radiant father welcomed him with joy and gave him a place in the family once more.

You may know what it is to be trapped in a situation where you seem to have no way out. Then you come to yourself — you remember that God is still there; and He has promised to continue to be with us, even to the end of the world. Suddenly your heart cries out with joy — you still have a move.

So you make your new move — and turn yourself back into the loving care of Him who loves you. Your aches and your pains may continue but the difficulties become manageable, joy becomes more frequent a companion. Deep in your heart, you know that the game is not over; that, with God, you will always have another move. Halleluija!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:- Dear Dr. Price: I want to tell you and your prayer group of the healing that is taking place in my husband, Sam. Last November while on a hunting trip in Maine, he fell from a blind and was paralyzed from his neck down. Supported by your prayers, he is now able to move both arms and with an adapter can feed himself. We are now beginning to see some control of the legs, spasmic movements, and a burning sensation in the hips which we pray can be read as feeling returning to those muscles. Please continue to pray for Sam.

Mrs. Ann Zakorre (Scotch Plains, N.J.)

AFFIRMATION

Creative religion begins in the realization of the Eternal Spirit, God within one's life and affairs. The Lord (Spirit) Giver of Life, is present now with each person ready to manifest abundant Life, Peace, Happiness. He is present in all relational experience: all experience is of relationships. As you treat others you do so to yourself.

As we live in the here and now, God being always present, we have everything needful for a full life of creative, joyful experience. So we affirm, God Is and know we are in and of Eternal love, peace and power.

WIDOW'S MITE

Dear Dr. Price: I stopped in St. Stephen's for a few moments early this afternoon. While in the sanctuary, I saw an elderly, apparently poor lady enter the vestibule. She paused only to place a pack of pencils in the offering plate at the rear, then left. A 29c pack of pencils — the window's mite? I was moved in a way I haven't been for some time. That offering was a rich one.

Sincerely, A Friend

WHERE IS YOUR CHURCH MEMBERSHIP?

The freedom of religion which we celebrate depends upon a mature sense of personal responsibility, Where is your church membership? The vitality of the Christian Church, in a free society, comes from those who support the church through membership and participation in the life of the church. If you are not an active member of a church, we sincerely invite you to give thoughtful and prayerful consideration to joining our church. If this is your desire, will you please so indicate on the Memo cards in the pews or telephone the Church Office. We hope you will accept this invitation to church membership.

Our thanks to Bulletin subscriber Mrs. Wray E. Dudley.

ADVENTURE INTO THE UNKNOWN

Jesus led His friends into adventures. He still does. He has never had any use for trudging along in old ways simply because they were safe and certain. The time came in His brief ministry when He turned toward Jerusalem willing to die if it were necessary; not knowing just what did await Him in that ancient city. So He took the path into the unknown. His friends and relatives thought He was mad!

Today is the anniversary of the discovery of the western world. Christopher Columbus could easily have trudged along a safe path. Son of a weaver, he had followed his father's vocation. But this content was disturbed by rumors of undiscovered lands. So he took to the sea, setting sail from Spain in August, 1492, with a frightened crew who did not relish the idea of sailing over the horizon rim. Most people thought he was crazy.

Each of us has opportunity to venture into the unknown. Deep within us struggle two desires — the first, the old human liking for familiar paths; the other, a childs' eagerness for exploration. Both desires have their rightful place in God's plan, for there must be those who stay home and tend shop or home while another launches forth. God also expects every adventurer to spend part of his life in the familiar paths.

One thing is sure — the way of Jesus always leads us into adventure, sooner or later. After all, why did they crucify Jesus? Simply because He challenged old and cherished ways, including ancient strict rules of cooking and eating and fellowship. Now Jesus declared that these ancient rules were outgrown; and bade men follow Him into rich new areas of life and mercy and loving-kindness.

People may say that you are "cracked" if you courageously practice the gentle compassion Jesus taught and love unlovely people, or trust God through thick and thin. When they show scorn of your "Jesus-ways," just remember that you are in the very best company. They called your Master and Saviour a crazy devil; and many an adventurer, like Christopher Columbus. Howard Thurman has clearly pictured that the adventurer is the really practical man.

"It is madness to sail a sea that has never been sailed before,
To look for a land, the existence of which is a question.
If Columbus had reflected thus, he could never have weighed anchor,
But with this madness he discovered a new world."

The Diocesan Convention will be held at the Valley Forge Military Academy on Friday and Saturday, October 17th and 18th. The delegates from St. Stephen's are Mr. David German III, Dr. Elmer Carll and Mr. Fred Schmid. The alternates are Mr. James Lyman, Mr. John Pintavalle and David German, Jr., Esquire.

THE FELLOWSHIP GROUP will start, again, immediately after morning service, on the 2nd Sunday (instead of the 3rd Sunday) on October 12th, in the Community House. It wil be the same in November, meeting on the 2nd Sunday the 9th. All are welcome: refreshments will be served. The Review of the Life of Christ, by Mrs. Price, will continue with the events on Maunday Thursday.

There will be a Vestry meeting immediately following the 11 A.M. Service on Sunday, October the 12th.

None other Lamb, none other name,
None other hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other hiding place from guilt and shame,
None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "The Lord Is My Shepherd" .....Thomas Matthews

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

HONEST WORK

The family had gathered together for their evening Bible reading. Young Suren had read the sixth chapter of St. Matthew. His father asked him to re-read the 26th verse, which said, "Behold the fowls of the air . . . yet your heavenly Father feedeth them." (Even if they do not sow or reap.) "Son, what do you think of that verse?" Suren replied, "Dad, if God took care of us in the manner He takes care of the birds, you wouldn't have to work any more." "You are wrong, son," he said. "God gives the birds their food, but He doesn't throw it into their nests. If the birds did not work for their food, they'd die of starvation. I hope you'll never expect things to drop into your lap. Birds don't."

Of late I have watched birds more carefully—the enormous work a robin puts into tugging worms out of the ground; the swift flight of the tiny hummingbird, drawing honey out of flower after flower; the patient wearisome waiting of the blue heron before he can catch his supper. Birds toil for their food — nothing comes to them on a platter.

Young Suren must have listened to his fathers' interpretation of that verse from Matthew. For, at the age of tweny-three, he escaped from Russia, and came to this country with six words of English in his vocabulary, and $3.65 in his pocket. Most of all he wanted to be a doctor. He worked his way through college, learning English as he went; and through medical school, becoming an eminent surgeon. God provided brains and health for Suren Babington, and he used them. So it is that God provides for each one of us. He gives us the tools, and leaves it to us to use them, and to keep them sharp.

Nor was anything handed to Jesus Himself, on a platter. God gave Him a strong body, and He used it in the carpenter shop. God gave Him an able brain which was richly educated by His mother, and then in the synagogue school at Nazareth. "So the child grew and waxed strong in Spirit." When He was only twelve years old, and was at Jerusalem with his parents, He sought out the learned doctors in the temple, "listening to them and asking them questions; and all who heard Him were amazed at His understanding and his answers." At the age of twelve He was pushing out to new horizons, so eager to learn from these learned teachers that He completely forgot the time, forgot to go along and rejoin His family, so that Mary and Joseph had to come looking for Him. He was working, and working hard, to master the truth about God and men.

He teaches us that God's plan is honest work, whole hearted work — nothing pushed at us as on a platter!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:

Dear Dr. Price:—Early in July I wrote asking for prayers for my friend, Nan Sumerville who was suffering from impaired vision in one eye. She is now very much improved. I also asked for prayers for Isabel Stinger suffering from a severe extensive case of shingles. She is entirely cured. My family joins me in grateful appreciation.

Isabel D. Newman (Philadelphia)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Broadway Methodist Church, Indianapolis, Indiana Sunday evening October 19 through Tuesday, October 21.

The Diocesean Episcopal Church Women are planning a "Go-See" of All Soul's Church for the Deaf on October 22. The Service is here at 11 A.M. with a bag lunch following in the Community House. Coffee and dessert will be provided. All women are cordially invited. Reservations for lunch can be made through the Diocesean ECW office. LO 7-6650. All Souls is a diocesan mission given a home by St. Stephen's Parish.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

Again we look forward to St. Stephen's United Thank Offering ingathering with the hope that all of us have been expressing our thanks to God with our hearts and our gifts. It will be presented on Sunday, October 26, 1969 at the eleven o'clock service. Bring your offering in the enclosed blue envelope so that it may be presented at the Altar.

The U.T.O. enables us to give to the larger work of the church extending beyond this parish and throughout the world. It helps to pay 80% of the salaries of women missionaries. It builds and equips churches, schools, hospitals and helps with the salaries of teachers, doctors, nurses and special workers. It produces much needed equipment from books to typewriters, tools and sewing machines. The United Thank Offerings is a positive way of contributing to the work of the church by providing for the pressing needs of others, whether it be in Montana, Alaska, Puerto Rico, the Philippines, India or Africa.

Our thanks to Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Katherine Neild and Mrs. Clara Robinson.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
Metropolitan Christian Council of Philadelphia;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the Service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers and the world.

11:00—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Adagio" ..... Cesar Frank

THE SILENT MEDITATION:-O God, teach us Thy will for our lives. Help us to understand our place in the divine plan. Give us a deepened sense of personal responsibility. May we see that a task awaits our hands that no other can fulfill; that if we are silent, a chord in the music will fail. Grant, O Lord, that with renewed faith in Thee and fresh confidence in ourselves we may leave this sanctuary eager to do Thy will. We offer our prayer in Christ's name.

The Choral Introit ..... Kedron

GOD IS THE HERO

This coming Saturday will be All Saints' Day — that golden day when we look back over the year, and give thanks to God for those who let Him shine through their lives. They were like stained glass windows letting the Light shine through them richly, memorably.

These beloved people probably never dreamed that they would be called saints, by anybody. Yet we kept getting glimpses of their Lord, through them. They spent themselves extravagantly on other people, keeping their homes as open as their hearts, and making no fuss over the labor involved in their hospitality. They remembered birthdays and anniversaries with a choice card and a word of love. They came with flowers or jelly, or a gay plant, when we were sick. Or, when they were shut in, they telephoned to us, and stirred us to laughter and a desire to sing God's praises; or sent along a picture they had drawn.

Some of them were humble, down-to-earth, earthy, with enough of His loving spirit in them so that we knew, without doubt, that they were walking in His footsteps, with very few words about it, and we knew that He would recognize them as His friends, now and hereafter. Others held frequent communion with their Lord, in their hearts, through all their waking hours. His name came naturally to their lips, as the Friend-above-all-friends; and they witnessed to His power to overcome the enemy within them, and make them new. Some of them were probably one-star saints; and others may have been five-star saints, but they had one quality in common.

Katherine Marshall, in writing her husbands' biography, came to a point where she was just plain stuck. She wasn't telling the living story of Peter Marshall. After deep thought and prayer, she "saw immediately what was wrong . . . The hero of the biography had to be God — not Peter Marshall . . . What Peter Marshall alone had done was not important; what God had done through him (a man with faults, like the rest of us was very important. Jesus Christ would have to tower up as the central figure of the book . . . I saw that the life of no human being has lasting significance apart from his relationship with God."

Our saints had this in common — the hero in their lives was God.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

Dear Dr. Price: This is a report on Ronald Dominoski who is being treated for nephritis. Nine months ago the doctors had no hope for him. His improvement is truly remarkable. His protein loss remains at zero. Thanks for your prayers.

Mrs. R. E. Whitacre (Aberdeen, Washington)

The Rector will speak to the Episcopal Women of the Church of the Good Samaritan, Paoli on Tuesday, October 28.

DAILY AFFIRMATION:

It is quiet in these moments as I realize the Divine Life all about me and within me. In this moment I shall live today. I abide in God.

When you realize that God, Ultimate Reality, Divine Mind, or whatever title may be used, is not static but Dynamic; not a mere concept but Creativity; not a formula but a Force; not a pious Hope; but The Reality — when this is realized you go one step more and realize that you are within God, and that your life is not static treading through the years, that you are important as a being, that you are not a puppet but an energy conscious of itself. All this means you are alive and gloriously, joyously and thankfully human, — The Divine's greatest miracle!

UNITED THANK OFFERING

The U.T.O. is rapidly becoming the offering of the people — not the women only — of this Diocese. There are now more than 10,000 who use the U.T.O. regularly as an outward and visible sign of thanks to God.

St. Stephen's U.T.O. will be presented on Sunday, October 26.

Our thanks to Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Sally Goodauvage and Mary Louise Wood.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

Dear Dr. Price: I have been intending to write to you again for many weeks to share our wonderful news concerning our 13 year old daughter, Marie Stevens, for whom your prayer group prayed about a year and a half ago. At that time I called you personally to relate the diagnosis of inoperable brain tumor. Nothing could be done medically or surgically. Marie was placed on large dosage of steroids which was expected by the neurosurgeons to be the only treatment, simply to reduce the edema. You and your group along with many others prayed with us and for us. At that time we were prepared for Marie's death, possibly in two months. We committed her, her doctors and ourselves into the care of God. You spoke with me over the phone in terms of our imagining Jesus placing His finger on the place where the tumor was growing and saying "Peace, be still." Marie was quite crippled on her left side. Her eyesight was poor. Her kidneys were beginning to malfunction. By February, another brain scan and examination revealed great progress with no indication of activity. The surgeon was amazed calling it "incredible." Marie continued steadily and August of this year, upon returning for another brain scan and examination, the brain scan was completely normal, indicating full flow of blood throughout the entire brain. Marie is now in the eighth grade. She is very normal and healthy physically and emotionally. We know that God has wrought a miracle and that you and your prayer group have shared in it. May He continue to bless you.

Arthur W. Stevens (Turner Center, Maine)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Anne's Parish, Annapolis, Md. Sunday evening, November 2 through Tuesday, November 4th.

PRAYERS FROM THE ARK

There is a great variety in praying. We are reminded of this in "Prayers from the Ark," by Carmen de Gasztold.

Here, for instance, is the prayer of the Cock —

"Do not forget, Lord, It is I who make the sun rise.
I am your servant, but, with the dignity of my calling,
I need some glitter and ostentation . . .
I am your servant, only . . . do not forget, Lord,
I make the sun rise."

I always blush when I read that prayer, for I remember myself praying as if the sun would not rise in the morning if I were not there; like the rooster on top of the dung-hill crowing with such serious self-importance. Jesus did not say, "When you pray, pray like the Cock."

Then there is the prayer of the Mouse:

"I am so little and gray, dear God, how can you keep me in mind?
Always spied upon, always chased.
Nobody ever gives me anything, And I nibble meagerly at life.
Why do they reproach me with being a mouse?
Who made me but You? I only ask to stay hidden.
Given me my hunger's pittance
Safe from the claws of that devil with green eyes."

Surely, I should not pray fearfully like the little Mouse, but sometimes I do, when I forget the greatness of God's love. Instead I blow up the bigness of some dark happening, until I cry out to God, "How can you keep me in mind?" This is a very human prayer, but not a sinful prayer like the Cocks. For this prayer remembers that God does keep us in mind, and feels wonder that He can! Jesus did not teach us to pray, "deliver us," as the Mouse does.

Lastly, there is the prayer of the Tortoise, that slow old turtle:

"A little patience, O God, I am coming.
One must take nature as she is! It is not I who made her!
I do not mean to criticize this house on my back —
It has its points — but you must admit, Lord, It is heavy to carry!
Still, let us hope that this double enclosure, My shell and my heart,
Will never be quite shut to you."

There are moments when I pray like the Tortoise, humble, gratefully, and lovingly, inviting His residence within me. Jesus did teach us when we pray, to say, "Thy Kingdom come" — reign as King in my heart.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
Metropolitan Christian Council of Philadelphia;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

23rd SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY
SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1969

THE REV. ALFRED W. PRICE, D.D., RECTOR
THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
THE REV. ROGER PICKERING, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the Service speak to the Lord; during the Service let the Lord speak to you; after the Service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 222, 223

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the Service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Adagio" ..... Barber

THE SILENT MEDITATION:-Our Father, who has set a restlessness in our hearts, and made us all seekers after that which we can never fully find; forbid us to be satisfied with what we make of life. Draw us from base content, and set our eyes on far-off goals. Keep us at tasks too hard for us, that we may be driven to thee for strength. Deliver us from fretfulness and self-pity; make us sure of the goal we cannot see, and of the hidden good in the world. Open our eyes to simple beauty all around us. and our hearts to the loveliness men hide from us because we do not try enough to understand them. Save us from ourselves, and show us a vision of a world made new. May thy Spirit of peace and illumination so enlighten our minds that all life shall glow with new meaning and new purpose; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Choral Introit ..... Kedron

Come, let us to the Lord our God
with contrite hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave
the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn 308 ..... Monkland

The Venite, Page 9; Chant #609, Hymnal

The Psalm #46, page 397

The First Lesson: Job 1:1-21

The Benedictus Es Domine, Page 11; Chant #626, Hymnal

The Second Lesson: II Corinthians 11:18-30

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

None other lamb, none other name, none other Hope in heaven or earth or sea,
None other Hiding Place from guilt and shame, None beside Thee.

The Anthem: "O, Divine Redeemer!" ..... Gounod

Ah! turn me not away, receive me, tho' unworthy! Hear Thou my cry, behold, Lord, my distress! Answer me from Thy throne, - haste Thee, Lord, to mine aid, - Thy pity show in my deep anguish! Let not the sword of vengeance smite me, tho' righteous thine anger, O Lord! Shield me in danger, O regard me! On Thee, Lord, alone will I call. — O, divine Redeemer! I pray Thee, grant me pardon, and remember not my sins! Forgive me, O, divine Redeemer! Night gathers round my soul; fearful I cry to Thee; Come to mine aid, O Lord! Haste Thee, Lord, haste to help me! Hear my cry. Save me, Lord, in Thy mercy; hear my cry, save, in the day of retribution from Death shield Thou me, O my God! O, divine Redeemer, have mercy! Help me my Savior!

The Sermon: "JEREMIAH" ..... The Rector

The Offertory Hymn: 334 ..... Penitence

The Doxology, Presentation of the Colors

The Recessional Hymn 425 ..... Rochelle

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Katherine Kennedy Fund in memory of her mother Blanche Virginia Hershey Kennedy.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Wilson C. Leithead.

THE THORN IN YOUR LIFE

Paul had a weakness, even as you and I! This troubled him so much that he called it a "thorn in the flesh." He did not like it at all — it harassed him so much that three times he implored God to free him of the painful handicap. Paul never tells us exactly what it was. But he makes it very plain how sharp a trial it was.

Suddenly, however, we find him recognizing the valuable part that thorn was playing in his life. Fourteen years before, he had had a shining dream, which seemed to open the door into heaven and fill his life with power. He became a powerful achieving person — yes, and a little conceited! He began to think, "I'm really quite a success!" His attention began to center on himself, instead of God. So, he explains, "There was given me a thorn in the flesh . . . to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure," lest he should be too elated over his own accomplishments. Throughout the rest of his amazing career, this weakness buffeted Paul, knocked him about, reminding him that only through God's power could he live victoriously. That thorn in the flesh kept driving him back to God's infinite might. "Therefore I glory in my infirmities" — and accepted them only because they kept him grounded in the love of God. A Christian must move through weakness into strength.

You have your thorn in the flesh. It may be physical, like polio, making your body limp through your days. Or it may be spiritual like a besetting anxiety or fear, making your spirit limp. Whatever it may be, accept it as the weakness which drives you back to God. For, if you do, your thorn may become your chief glory, the mark upon you that turns men's eyes toward God. It can become part of the pattern of God's love in your character, that thorn, reminding people that God can make any weakness into a channel of His boundless compassion. Your thorn can become the crowning beauty of your life, if you will let God do this for you.

In Robinson's fascinating book, "The Cardinal" the old rabbi tells this parable: "There was once a king who owned a wonderful diamond. He was proud of his jewel, but one day by accident it was deeply scratched. The king called in gem-cutters to repair the stone — yet, try as they might, they could not polish away the scratch. At last there appeared in that kingdom an artist of surpassing genius. With skill and patience he carved a beautiful rose on the part of the stone that was flawed. And by his cunning art, he contrived to make the deepest part of the scratch the roses' stem." So a wounding thorn in the flesh can be transformed into your Chief glory!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

Dear Dr. Price:- I do not know how to thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for upholding us with your prayers. Sam, my son, who had morbid fears is now full of life and cheerful. My wife, Lily, is very much better and very energetic. I am certainly glad that I have been able to contact you.

Stanley Padman (Nibong Tebal, P.W. West Malaysia)

LOYALTY SUNDAY

We live in a sophisticated community. One of my dictionaries offers this definition: "Sophisticated . . . altered from, deprived of, primitive simplicity or naturalness." Another dictionary suggests: "Sophisticated . . . highly complicated, refined, subtilized . . . worldly-wise through experience." With these definitions in mind, I think my original statement is accurate within the bounds of a general truth: We live in sophisticated community.

And yet within these terms strangely enough, we have deliberately chosen to present the financial needs of our church in a most unsophisticated way. The approach has been simple, natural and uncomplicated. There has been no use of elaborate charts or graphs. There has been no distribution of expensive promotional materials. The Rector will preach a sermon on the subject of Church support next Sunday, Nov. 16 and we will be given the opportunity to place our pledge cards in the Chest of Joash. We count on your continued generosity to take care of the needs of St. Stephen's Church so that we can move into the year ahead from a position of strength. Come to Church, and make Pledge Sunday a great day for the future of St. Stephen's Church.

The Church Women's Club, 1919 Walnut St. will have a Veterans' Day Luncheon and Bazaar on November 11th from 11:30 am to 6 pm. Church Farm School products will be featured.

The Diocesan Ingathering of the United Thank Offering will take place in Christ Church, 2nd above Market on Sunday, Nov. 16 at 3 pm. Bishop Sterling will be the speaker.

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: "Air" ..... Flor Peters

THE SILENT MEDITATION:-We thank Thee, o God, for all Thy blessings in creation, for the beauty of earth and sea and sky, for Thy manifold works, wisdom with which Thou hast made them all; for the happiness of our and the earthly life, for peaceful homes and healthful days, for our powers of mind and body, for faithful friends, for the joy of loving and being loved; for the revelation of Thy love and for newness of life in our Saviour, for the blessings brought to us by Thy holy church, and for our fellowship with Thee in Christ; we thank Thee, O God.

The Choral Introit:

Come, let us to the Lord our God with hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave the desolate to mourn.

FOR THEIR SAKE

Nels Ferri tells of a day when he spoke angrily to his twelve year old son. A distinguished bishop from Sweden was coming, and the dusty old family Dodge needed to be cleaned up, the youngster's efforts had only made it look worse, so Dr. Ferri exploded with exasperation. The whole family came to his aid, and he was able to meet the bishop in a reasonably respectable car. In the small hours of the following night, however, he awoke with a need to pray. His first words were, "Father, forgive me for being so angry with my son, and help me never again to say harsh words to any member of my family, for Thy sake, for Thy sake!" Out of the stillness of the night came the clear rebuke, "Not for my sake, son, I don't need it; but for their sake."

It is too easy to forget what God is like, what He wants of us, Who He is. Certainly, He is not a proud, puffed-up king on a jewelled throne, forever wanting His subjects to wait on Him, and do Him favors, Rather, God is the mighty-hearted father of all mankind, and His deepest desire is that we minister to the deep human needs around us. He needs such ministering people, channels of His compassion — as a cable that receives the electric current and carries it to a room and lights the place up. So Jesus, supping with His disciples on His last evening on earth, prayed for them — "For their sakes I consecrated myself." Jesus pleased His Father, surely, because He gave His love, His understanding, His courage to that little company. But remember that it was for their sakes (and for our sakes) that He lived and died.

So you will find yourself saying the words that Jesus used. You will suddenly become freshly aware of those whom God has given you, those for whom you make a difference. You may be feeling weary, heavily loaded — then you remember these people, and, with your whole heart, you will declare, "for their sakes I consecrate myself."

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT AT SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 16th, LOYALTY SUNDAY

November 16th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by Pledges, the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the church in 1970. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their Pledges themselves in church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this Card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the Annual Re-Dedication and Pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member in it.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:

Dear Dr. Price:-I wish to report with thanksgiving and rejoicing for the touch of of God during a very successful open heart surgery of Havalyn Hartrampf, age 10. Her speedy recovery has been miraculous. She is now swimming every day and is a very active healthy child. In deep humility and great joy we thank you and all the kind intercessors.

Mrs. Carl R. Hartrampf (Atlanta, Georgia)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Williamsport, Penna., Sunday evening through Tuesday, November 16-18th inclusive.

BISHOPS' VISITATION

On Sunday, November 23rd at 11:00 o'clock, the Rt. Rev. Robert DeWitt, D.D. will visit St. Stephen's Church. Since the Bishop's traditional visits to the parishes in our Diocese for Confirmation have been replaced by regional services, with several parishes taking part, this gives him more time for longer visits within the individual parishes. This second visit by Bishop DeWitt to St. Stephen's will include preaching at the 11 a.m. Worship Services and meeting with the Vestry of St. Stephen's following the service. I hope every parishioner will be on hand for this service.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS

Each year St. Stephen's Church donates baskets, or the equivalent, to those who are unable to give their families the fullness of Christmas cheer with which others are blessed. Will you help with your generosity? Please use the special Christmas Dinners envelope.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude "Song of Peace" ..... Langlais

THE SILENT MEDITATION:-O God, with gratitude we remember our Christian heritage; others have labored, and we have entered into their labors. We thank Thee for occasions when we may share the treasury of our love and experience with those in need. We rejoice in Thy good gifts, the tender mercies and loving kindness that have attended our ways. With shame we confess our frequent failure. Often we have withheld service we might have given; often we have passed by on the other side; often we have proved faithless. Accept our penitence. Give us new heart for the new day, fresh stimulus for greater fidelity, through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

SING FOR JOY OF HEART

The prophet Isaiah declares that you can recognize the servants of God because they rejoice and "sing for joy of heart." It is not just a "happening," therefore, that our Thanksgiving Day was first celebrated in 1621. After a winter of starvation and dire suffering, the Pilgrims had planted and gathered in a great harvest. So they set a day for thanking God for His goodness — they were people of faith. In spite of the grim, nightmarish winter behind them, they were joyful. They knew that God can take a stern situation and transform it into a joyous one.

George Gordon, the famous New England preacher, discovered this once in a transatlantic voyage. When he boarded the steamer in Liverpool for home, he found in his room, "the worst looking human being he had ever set eyes on," a small and ugly man who reminded Dr. Gordon of a criminal. Knowing that he would have to be in the room with him for nine days and nights, he went to the purser and told him that he had a hundred dollars which he would like to deposit with him. Even this did not put Dr. Gordon's anxieties to rest. He asked if the purser knew his roommate. "Indeed I do—He has just been here on a similar errand and with feelings similar to yours." For many a year Dr. Gordon remembered this experience with a joyful chuckle. He laughed at himself, remembering how he had impressed his roommate. They became good friends on the voyage. If we desire it God can take unpleasant circumstances, and change them into delights.

When Thanksgiving Day dawns, you will be singing for joy over something, because you are a Christian. You may be thanking Him for glorious memories of days that are gone, which left treasures in your heart. You will also, I am sure, be thanking Him for present victories and glories even in this day of tumult and confusion. Thanks be to God who giveth us the mastery over fear, and wilfulness and pain! In all our doubts and uncertainties, He gives us real and deep-down reasons to rejoice. We can, and we do, "sing for joy of heart!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

Dear Dr. Price:-I want to thank you all for praying for me when I wrote three months ago. My spinal trouble was healed within two weeks. I have also seen an improvement in those in the Nursing Home whose names I gave. Helen who had a stroke can walk. Ella who had cerebral palsy all her life can talk better and has taken two steps. Dicky, Sam and Steven all have improved.

Earl W. Stewart (Norwich, N.Y.)

HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICE

On Thanksgiving Day, Novemeber 27th, at 11:00 A.M. — Music by the Choir and Sermon by the Rector.

The Thanksgiving Altar will be decorated, not with flowers, but with breads of the various national cultures represented by the Melting Pot of Philadelphia:

Weisbrodt, Baltic Rye, Swedish Spice, Russian Potato Rye, Berlin Pumpernickel, Soldiers Komimisbrot, Jewish Hallah, Romanish Marble, French Sour Rye, Danish whole Grain Pumpernickel, Belgian Fine, Pure Weszenkeim, Schawaebisches Bouembread, Bavarian Hutzelbread, Finish Dark Rye, Ukranish Moon Stuten, Chinese Fortune Cookies, Holland Forest Honey Bread, Italian Gessini (breadsticks), Japanese Rice Wafers, Norwegian Flat Bread, etc., etc.

The congregation is invited to the Altar Rail at the closing of the service to receive a package containing a sample of the breads to take home.

THANK YOU!

The work and worship of St. Stephen's is supported by income from endowments, by subscriptions and pledges and by the constant contributions of all those who avail themselves of the many privileges of the church. Members of St. Stephen's congregation make regular yearly subscriptions. Visitors to the Sunday Services put their offerings in the rear of the church. Hundreds of people come to the church each week. It is encouraging to know the almost universal self-respect of all these people. No one plans to take something for nothing whether the contribution is large or small, everyone does his share. One feels like saying thank you, but he doubts that it is quite in order even to say "thank you."

The Rector will conduct a Healing Service in Trinity Cathedral, Newark, N.J. on Sunday afternoon, November 23 at 4:30 p.m. At a supper meeting at 6:30 p.m. he will address 400 volunteer visitors to Newark hospitals and institutions.

BISHOP'S VISITATION

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rt. Rev. Robert DeWitt, D.D. upon his visit to our Parish. Since the Bishops' traditional visits to the parishes in our Diocese for Confirmation have been replaced by regional services, with several parishes taking part, this gives him more time for longer visits within the individual parishes. Bishop DeWitt will preach at the 11:00 o'clock service and meet with the Vestry following the service.

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, the Parish Custodian of the United Thank Offering, reports that 50 contributors gave $231.45 towards the Fall Ingathering.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107
Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 146 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
Metropolitan Christian Council of Philadelphia;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it and is safe." Prov. 18:10.

This Church is erected on the site where Benjamin Franklin flew his famous kite.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. Repeat the name and nature of sickness. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Intercessory prayer (praying for others) penetrates the hearts that we cannot open, shields those whom we cannot guard, teaches where we cannot speak, comforts where our hearts have no power to soothe, follows our best beloved through the trials and perplexities of the day, lifting off their blindness with an unseen hand.

1st SUNDAY IN ADVENT

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 30th, 1969

THE REV. ALFRED W. PRICE, D.D., RECTOR
THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D., Minister to the Hard of Hearing
THE REV. ROGER PICKERING, Minister to the Deaf

Be thoughtful, be silent, be reverent; for this is the house of God. Before the Service speak to the Lord; during the Service let the Lord speak to you; after the Service speak to one another.

9:00 A.M.—HOLY COMMUNION

The Order of Service is to be found on Page 67

The Collect, Epistle and Gospel, on Pages 90, 91, 92

10:45 A.M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the Service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers and the world.

11:00 A.M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Come, Saviour of the Gentiles, Come" .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:-O Lord Jesus Christ, who art the eternal Wisdom of the Father, we beseech Thee to assist us with Thy heavenly grace, that we may be blessed in all our work, and above all things may attain the knowledge of Thee, whom to know is life eternal; and that, according to Thy most holy example, we may ever be found going about amongst our fellow men, doing good, healing the sick, and preaching the gospel of the Kingdom of Heaven; through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

The Choral Introit:

Come, let us to the Lord our God with hearts return;
Our God is gracious, nor will leave the desolate to mourn.

The Processional Hymn #1 .....Stuttgart

The Second Lesson: St. Luke 1:57-80

The Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #645, Hymnal

The Period of Silent Meditation:

My spirit longs for Thee within my troubled breast,
Though I unworthy be of so divine a Guest;
Of so divine a Guest unworthy though I be,
Yet has my heart no rest, unless it comes from Thee. Amen

The Anthem: "The Last Words of David" .....Randall Thompson

He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. And he shall be as the lights in the morning, when the sun riseth, even a morning without clouds; as the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain. Alleluia! Amen.

The Sermon: THE GREATEST OF THESE IS LOVE .....The Rector

The Offertory Hymn #5 .....Saint Thomas

The Doxology and Presentation

The Recessional Hymn #4 .....Greenland

FIX YOUR ATTENTION ON THE STAR

This is the first Sunday in Advent—that season when we look ahead and see a star shining over Bethlehem. We remember the Saviour who came to live and die for us, and, suddenly, we feel dirty. We remember our sins, our hurtfulness to others. Impulsively we resolve to attack those sins, to do battle with them. But that is not the way to overcome them.

Normal Elliott tells of a friend of his wife who likes to ride a bicycle. Someone warned him that, down a certain hill, there was a tree that he had to avoid. So he made a habit of keeping his eyes on that tree. After he had hit it several times, he decided that he had better change his tactics. "He discovered that the way to miss a tree was to pick another target and keep his eyes on it. When he did that, the tree seemed to take care of itself."

It's the same with sin. If an alcoholic starts home from work on payday, saying to himself, "I must stop at the saloon for a drink," and keeps saying it, sure enough the thought of the drink draws him into the saloon. But, if he says to himself, "I must go straight home to my wife, so that I can put my pay envelope safely into her hand," and he pictures the happy smile on her face, his chance of success is excellent. What gets your attention gets to you.

So, as Advent begins, we are going to face our nasty little sins, and our perilous big ones, and ask for God's forgiveness. And then we are going to fix our attention on the Star, on the Good News of His love. For he promises that if we will trust Him, and walk with Him, He will make us new, and strong in His strength. He will fill us with His clean, warm loving kindness to overflow into the lives of others. We are to keep our eyes on Him, and put our confidence on Him as our guide. Anything can happen, then! As someone once wrote:

Fear knocked at the door.
Faith answered.
There was no one there.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:

Dear Dr. Price:-The Holy Spirit has told me to write to you about a healing which took place in me some eight years ago in your church. I am English and been in the U.S.A. for only a few months. A chest surgeon had told me for the second time that I had T.B. in the left lung. I had surgery on my lung two years before. I was a Christian but knew little about God's healing power. I attended one of your healing services and knew I had been healed. When I returned to the doctor and he said he couldn't explain it but there wasn't a sign of T.B. on my lungs.

In His Name, Diana Size (Watford, England)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in First Presbyterian Church, Manitowoc, Wisconsin, Sunday evening, November 30 — December 2nd inclusive.

HUGO HANSON

Our beloved friend and former Vestryman and valued member of St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship, Hugo Hanson, has been reborn into newness of LIFE . . . life Eternal with his Blessed Creator and Lord, whom he loved and served so devotedly. His loving spirit joined the Heavenly Hosts and we know there was great rejoicing.

What can the world produce to match Christian character? What answer to the mystery of life can equal that presented by Christian character? What hope have we except Christian character?

"And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, "Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them." Rev. 14:13.

Our thanks to Bulletin subscribers Mrs. John C. Braun and Mr. David C. Spaeth.

GOD WITH US

Mankind has worshipped gods so mighty and far away, that they were no help. They had worshipped other gods so low-down and crude that they were a drag, to pull men down. But the day came when Isaiah prophesied the coming of a God who would be called "Emmanuel" which means "God with us." The Gospel of Matthew records the birth of that down-to-earth God.

You may remember Martin Luther King's telling of an elderly Negro called Mother Pollard, who took a loyal part in the Montgomery bus strike. After she had walked for several weeks, she was asked if she was tired, and she answered gloriously, "My feet is tired, but my soul is rested." Martin Luther King tells a story of her at a later date. He was addressing a meeting after a gruesome week which included being arrested, and also receiving angry, threatening telephone calls, and massive difficulties. He tried to speak with courage and strength, but inwardly he was depressed and fear-stricken. After the meeting, Mother Pollard said to him, "Something is wrong with you. You didn't talk strong tonight." Trying to hide his fear, he protested that he was all right. She continued, "Now you can't fool me. I know something is wrong. Is it that we ain't doing things to please you? Or is it that white folks is bothering you?" Before he could respond she looked directly at him and said, "I done told you that we is with you all the way" Then her face beamed radiantly and she said in words of quiet certainty, "but even if we ain't with you, God's gonna take care of you." Mother Pollard worshipped a very present God, and helped Martin Luther King to remember God's new name, "Emmanuel."

This is great news. This is a companioning God, one who promises to be with us even to the end of the world. He will be with us in strength, when our strength runs low. He will be with us in courage, when our courage has ebbed. He will be with us in joy, when our joy has grown faint. All He asks of us is that we be going in His direction, on His business.

"And they shall call His name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us!" In God's with-us-ness lies the wonder of Christmas.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:

Dear Dr. Price:-Last June I wrote you about Dorothy Lock in Dade City, Florida who had cancer. The doctors gave her three months to live. Through your group intercessions to Almighty God, Dorothy is up and about with strong faith and tremendous courage. Also my son-in-law, Pascal Covice is teaching each day at his professional duties and again I thank you and your prayer group for his miraculous healing. Most gratefully and thankfully.

Juliette B. Fortescue (Nashua., N.H.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, N.J. December 7 - 9 inclusive.

The Fellowship Group will meet on Sunday, December 14th after morning service, in the Community House. A film-strip of the last days of Our Lord's earthly life will be shown. Coffee and cookies will be served. All welcome.

All Souls Mission will make Christmas wreaths for the Church and Community House as part of their Social Saturday evening, December 13th. To do this greens are needed. Can you contribute some branches of evergreens or make a contribution for buying some? It will be very much appreciated and help to bring Christmas cheer and beauty into our celebration of this Holy season.

Our thanks to Bulletin subscribers Mrs. Sarah Smeltzer and Winifred Douglas.

Mrs. Margaret J. Stanley, custodian of United Thank Offering of the Chapel of the Hard of Hearing wants to thank all who contributed toward the Fall Ingathering.

GOD IS LIKE THAT

Again and again in the Old Testament, men cry out to God, asking, "Why hidest Thou Thyself?" (Psalm 10:1) Isaiah laments, "Verily Thou art a God that hidest thyself." Repeatedly those who long to know what He is like, refer to Him as "the hiding God."

No wonder, for "shape" of God is confused in the Old Testament. The early pen-pictures of Him are often of a harsh God of war, who can even take pleasure in having the little boys and girls of Israel's enemies broken and mangled — "blessed be the man who will catch up thy children, and dash them against the rocks!" On the other hand, other passages picture God as full of compassion, and tenderness, and love. No wonder men cried out, "Why does God hide His face from His children?" In our own day, Stanley Jones tells of the little boy who stood before the picture of his absent father, and then turned to his mother and wistfully said, "I wish that father would step out of the picture."

It is the great good news of Christmas that God did step out of the picture and become real flesh — and — blood, in the person of Jesus Christ — He became Emmanuel, "God with us." In His living and in His dying we get the clue as to what God is like. God is like Jesus. In Him we know as much about God as a small human being can grasp. God is like Jesus, feeding the hungry people in the crowd; healing the crippled man; bidding John and His mother, Mary to take care of each other when He is gone. He is like Jesus denouncing the Scribes and Pharisees for their "religion" which burdened people, rather than giving them a lift. God is loving — and His love has steel in it as Jesus' love did. God is like Jesus. so we can depend on Him to forgive our sins, and to strengthen us where we need strength to do what He needs done.

What is more, we can even see God, in the flesh, as men did of old. When a friend knows that you are "down" and writes or telephones you with warm concern — you know what God is like. God is like that, like the caring of your friend, channeling His strength into your weakness.

So God came out of the picture, out of hiding into the clear, where He can be seen, and known, and loved, and served. Miracle of Miracles, it might even be, this Christmas, that God will show Himself in simple, loving deeds of yours: Through your patience, your continuing faith in someone close to you. Someone else may see a bit of God through you — Hallelujah!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

Dear Dr. Price:-I attended last Thursdays' Service, my first attendance at a healing service. For 27 years I have labored with migraine headaches, taking strong medicine to get through the days. The day I came to Philadelphia, I left home with an intense headache. Normally, that would indicate an inability to be very alert, and in too much pain to make venturing out worthwhile. When approaching the Altar, I knew God would heal me. I felt the pain leave me and such a wonderful peace envelope me. I am free of this hindrance, utterly free. There has been no indication of it and I marvel at this new experience. What a blessing. I intend to return. God bless you all.

Margaret P. White (Woodbury, N.J.)

St. Stephen's Fellowship Group will have its regular meeting following the Morning Service, December 14th in the Community House. A film-strip of the last days of our Lord's earthly life will be shown. Coffee and cookies will be served. All welcome.

Our prayers of thanksgiving go up for the Rev. Andrew Mayer who celebrates his 39th Anniversary of his ordination on December 20th. Mr. Mayer was ordained in St. Stephen's Church.

PLEDGES FOR 1970

On Sunday, November 23rd members of the Parish presented their Pledge Cards for the support of the Ministry of St. Stephen's Church in 1970. Any others who would like to share in this Ministry will find Pledge Cards in the vestibule and in the pews. Every indication of willingness to share in the work of this Parish is greatly appreciated. Members of the Parish who have not yet returned their Pledge Cards are asked to do so as soon as possible.

Christmas Services are as follows: Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, 10:30 P.M. Christmas Day: 9:00 A.M. and 11:00 A.M. Special Music by the Choir. Sermon by the Rector.

THE SISTER OF THE ANGELS

One day last fall the telephone rang. It was a friend who owns a bookshop, whom I had visited the day before, looking for a Christmas book. He had searched earnestly and found nothing. But now he had discovered one. "I sent you away empty-handed," he said, "so now I'll drop this book in the mail for you." So, while autumn still blazed crimson in the hills the Christmas spirit was already at work. Those with Christmas in their hearts always see to it that you have something in your hands.

The book was Elizabeth Goudge's "The Sister of the Angels" (in paperback). I read it with joy. In it you come to know a little company of people, living in the shadow of a great cathedral, who conspired together to celebrate the birthday of Jesus Christ. There is Nicolas the gifted painter, just out of prison where he had served time for forgery. There is Ferranti, the author, a helter-skelter man, who somehow saw something much greater than forgery in Nicholas. And there is eleven year old Henrietta, who came to love Nicholas and to believe in him with all her heart. There is grandfather, the white-haired and dignified canon, who enters the Christmas conspiracy with joy. Before the forgery episode, Nicholas had painted across the west wall the Last Judgment. Now the loving conspiracy gives him a new commission. "The east wall was finished. Pictured upon it in form so gracious and color so lovely that they took the breath away was the First Coming. Here was no judge in splendor, no demons and terrified sinners such as covered the other walls and the roof; only a child and his mother, shepherds and gentle beasts."

Hugh Anthony, Henrietta's small brother, looks at the First Coming with mounting excitement. "Why, is the Angel Gabriel only a little girl?" he asked. "Look again, and you'll see," said Ferranti. "Why," said Hugh Anthony, "it's Henrietta!" He begins to see that Christmas is simply people, now and here, each playing their part so that Jesus can come again. He paused. "And the the young shepherd is you, and St. Joseph is Grandfather." What Hugh Anthony did not know was that Nicholas the painter had become a new man in Christ!

"Let us now go even unto Bethlehem," and take the parts God gives us in His coming!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

The Anthem "Thou Child Divine" .....Robert Elmore

Thou Child divine, Immanuel, welcome into Thy humble manger. With heartfelt joy Thy birth we hail and greet with song the heav'nly stranger. Our doubts and fears and sadness are turned to joy and gladness. Hosanna! Hosanna! Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord.

GRACE SUFFICIENT

Many a man, many a woman, will look into the year 1970 with misgiving. Even in this fair land of ours, we shall find a heaviness in our hearts. There will be concern for loved ones in the armed services; concern for what is taking place among the nations;; concern for what may develop in our land. There is no blinking at the fact that the weather forecast will include some very stormy weather.

Leslie Weatherhead points out that God does not guarantee, even to his true saints on earth, protection from suffering and painful experiences. He writes, "Come, then, from the atmosphere of the Old Testament where you find the argument, "If I trust in God, He will keep me safe," into the atmosphere of the New Testament, where God's own Son is not safe, but where the calamity, that happened to Him was woven at last into the fabric of divine purpose, too big and too splendid and too glorious for the compass of our minds. After all, which sounds the deeper note in religion, "You will be safe if you trust," or "God is counting on you to trust Him, no matter what happens, for nothing can finally defeat Him. Nothing can happen to you that cannot be woven into His plans?"

God does not promise safety, but He does promise that He can make something glorious out of the sternest chapters in our lives. James Muller, a teacher of men, a professor of mine, and a stalwart spirit, found that he had cancer of the liver, inoperable. A friend dropped in to see him, saying something like this. "Jamie, you've done a lot of living. How much of it do you have left?" Jamie smiled, and quietly observed, "That depends partly on the liver." A man who can smile in the face of death is letting God weave his suffering into His plans. He remembers God's assurance — "My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness."

Even in rough years God has a wonderful way of providing sheer joy for His children on earth — you can be sure of many a joy like that in 1970. It may be a fresh, shining reason for pride in a son or daughter, or a new friend who understands and cares about you or a book that serves as a sudden window into heaven. God's hands are full of blessings, even in times of tumult, to those who trust Him. In fair weather and foul, He keeps assuring us, "My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW

Dear Dr. Price:- From time to time I have come to the Thursday healing services. I have no idea what countless number of people have come to them over the years. I think perhaps even you do not know that. But you must feel it a benediction on your work to know what the services have meant to so many people either for physical help or for spiritual sustenance.

Esther R. Roth (Phila.)

The Rector will be away for the next five weeks in Florida on vacation. He will conduct Missions of Christian Healing in St. Petersburg, Deland, Miami Beach, West Palm Beach, Kissimmee' and Maitland.

The Rev. Andrew W. Mayer will be in charge of the Sunday and Weekday Services, and the Rev. Eugene Lefebre will conduct the Thursday Healing Services.
